McGOVERN MATCH OFF
WILL NOT MEET JORDAN BEFORE THE NATIONAL CLUB IN ENGLAND
ALL NEGOTIATIONS ARE OFF

The Little Fighter Was Offered Enticing Inducements to Go Abroad, but He Didn't Care to Make the Trip—Kid McCoy Gives Up the Wall Street Idea, and Purchases a Saloon on Broadway.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Jerry McGovern will not meet Ben Jordan on Derby night at the National Sporting club, London. This decision was reached when Dr. Ordway, the American representative of the club, received a cable dispatch from Matchmaker Bettinson calling all negotiations off.

About a month ago the club offered McGovern enticing inducements to go abroad and meet Jordan. Knowing that Terry would be a great drawing card, owing to the fact that he defeated Pedlar Palmer so quickly, he was to receive exceptionally large expense money. McGovern, however, refused to go across, and the club came to the conclusion that further dickerings would be useless. It is doubtful whether Terry will ever get a chance to box at the club again.

It is proposed to get a good American pugilist to appear at the club on Derby night in place of Terry. An attempt will be made to have the winner of the Erne-Gans fight face Johnny Hughes, the English lightweight champion, in a fifteen-round battle. Should this be impossible, Jack O'Brien, the local 123-pounder, will be asked to take the trip.

KID MCCOY'S LATEST.
He Has Purchased a Saloon in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—"Kid" McCoy has done as they all do. He has bought a saloon. The "place" he has taken is known as the "Mirror Cafe," Fortieth street and Broadway.

"The deal has just been consummated," said the "Kid" yesterday afternoon. "I didn't cut in until after I knew that a fight between myself and Sharkey was a remote possibility. I purpose to invest $10,000 in the venture, and it's up to the doctors and others to make the place the handsomest of its kind on Broadway. I will give my personal attention to it, but Julian Shachno, who has been my friend for a great many years, will attend to the details."

"I don't know much about liquor, as I have not had time to give much attention to the task of sampling the various brands on sale on Broadway, but there will be no bad stuff sold at my place. I purpose to pay good money for the liquors handed out at my establishment, and I will have experts to look after my interests in this respect. They might find in a bad brand of wine or whisky on me, but I don't think they could fool Shachno."

"Have I given up the idea of becoming a Wall street broker? Well, I should say yes. Game is too fierce for me. I also figured on establishing a gymnasium, but there's no money in it."

For Wireless Steering.
An English invention for steering any craft, whether submerged or otherwise, by means of an ether-wave on the wireless telegraph principle, has been perfected. In naval war it is expected to make the torpedo boat almost invulnerable. In this respect it will equal the great American invention, the Hostetler's Stomach Bitters—which never fails to cure constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria, and all ailments. Every one needs it and all druggists sell it.

FIFTIETH OF AN INCH.
Most, President Zimmermann Says, That Cut of Ice Could Lower Lake.

The suit begun by Gen. J. B. Sanborn and other White Bear property owners against the People's Ice company, asking for damages and for an injunction to prevent the defendant from cutting the White Bear lake, President B. Zimmermann, of the Ice company, declares is absurd. He said yesterday: "I have no doubt that the water comes in from underground springs faster than I can remove it. The company only figured on taking about 15,000 tons out of the lake. A square acre of ice a foot thick will yield about 100 tons. At tonight's rate of melting, 15,000 acres it can be readily figured out that under any circumstances the water in the lake would be lowered only about two one-hundredths of an inch."

WHAT MARCH SHOULD BE.
Observer Lyons' Deductions From Figures for a "Normal" March.

From statistics of the local weather office, covering a period of twenty-nine years, Local Observer Lyons has prepared the following summary of normal weather conditions for the month of March: The mean or normal temperature is 27 degrees, the monthly means ranging from 18 to 35 in 1888. Both men are training hard for the go, and each is confident of getting the decision. The bout is for a $50 purse and a side bet of $50 each. The bout will be called promptly at 10 o'clock.

MRS. ANNIE MATZKA DIES ON HER WAY TO A DAKOTA HAVEN
With Her Daughter, She Has Come All the Way From Germany, but Death Overtook Her Here Before Reaching Her Destination.

After traveling thousands of miles from Germany to a new home in this country, Mrs. Annie L. Matzka died suddenly in the Union depot in this city yesterday shortly after alighting from a "Soo" train that brought her and her daughter here at noon. Leaning heavily upon her daughter's arm, the old woman walked feebly through the depot and started to ascend the stairs to the emigrant room. Half way up the stairs she stumbled and sank unconscious. She was assisted to a couch while City Physician Richelson was quickly summoned by Patrolman Andy Call, but before the physician arrived Mrs. Matzka had ceased to breathe. Death was due to heart disease.

Through an interpreter, Lizzie Matzka, the daughter, a girl twenty years of age, told the story of her mother's and her own travels. They had left home in Schleswig, Germany, to go to the home of a friend, Charles Zregelmann, a farmer near Hankinson, N. D., and all went well until after mother and daughter left Montreal, Canada. On the train Mrs. Matzka complained of not feeling well, but she was not believed to be seriously ill. She was able to walk when she got here, but her feeble vitality was exhausted soon after.

Coroner Nelson viewed the body and decided an inquest unnecessary. At the request of the daughter Undertaker Nagel took charge of the remains and will today ship the body to Hankinson, N. D., where the funeral will take place. Mrs. Matzka was sixty-six years of age. Her daughter is the only surviving member of the family.

KITTSON ESTATE TAXES.
Application for Payment Made by Certain of the Heirs.

Judge Bazille yesterday in probate court took under advisement the matter of the application of certain of the heirs of Norman W. Kittson for the payment of estate taxes on the property. The contest on the application was between the children of the late commodore by his first wife and the children by the second wife. It appears that Commodore Kittson made a will leaving the homestead to his wife originally, but she having died in the meantime he provided that the property should go to the five children by the second wife, and the executor, and that the appraised value in the probate court as to the remaining six. Furthermore it was provided that the amount so inherited should be deducted from the amount coming to the five children and be paid over to the other heirs, this constituting a lien against all of the property in the hands of the executor.

To the Construction of a Livery Barn on St. Peter Street.

A resolution permitting John Klein to reconstruct the building at 441 and 443 St. Peter street for use as a livery barn was killed at a meeting of the assembly committee on street yesterday afternoon. Objections were filed by property owners representing 335 feet of improved property in the block and Emil Geist, Val H. Rothschild and Aid. A son of Mr. Klein said if it was legal the stable would remain at the location and he would not object to the help could keep it there. The resolution increasing the pay of police sergeants from $72.50 to $75 per month was referred to Chief Getchell for a report as to the salaries paid in other cities and the relative work done by patrolmen and sergeants. RAIDED A TOBACCONIST.
Burglars Worked a Third Street Store—Four Suspects Arrested.

Burglars of considerable daring successfully accomplished a bold robbery at the store of H. Steinmetz & Co., cigar and tobacco dealers, at East Third street, Sunday night, when property valued at $100 was stolen and carried off in a wagon. The burglars got into the store by cutting through a door from a vacant building through a door from a vacant building. From information gained by the police it is evident that the robbery was the result of well laid plans, and it is believed that something must have gone amiss with the burglars, or else much more property would have been stolen. A search was made of a vacant store where the burglars could have easily appropriated it. When the robbery was discovered yesterday morning it was at first thought that the robbery was effected through the hole in the door was obscured by boxes. Later the hole in the door was discovered. Entering the vacant building the burglars had been able to work on the second floor without fear of detection, and being unable to force the door open, simply cut away enough of it to afford an entrance. They confined their operations to the second floor of the store, where the firm keeps its surplus stock and many articles used as prizes. They rummaged through everything, but helped themselves to a few articles of greatest value, evidently intending to return for a second load. Among the property stolen were three graphophones, a number of record cylinders, several dozen pipes, six pairs of fur gloves, twenty-five pounds of tobacco, seven rugs, a lot of fishing tackle and a box of chewing gum.

Detective Christian was detailed on the case and during the day arrested four young men on the charge of committing the robbery. The prisoners are Larry Dunsworth, M. Conley, Thomas O'Malley and Frank Lamm. Detective Christian learned where several pairs of the gloves, corresponding to those that were stolen, were left as security for a wagon, which it is alleged some of the accused hired Sunday night.

All the cases on yesterday's calendar in the United States circuit court were continued until next Monday owing to the fact that Judge Lochren was a pall-bearer yesterday at the funeral of the late Col. King, of Minneapolis. Among the cases set was that of Russell Sage against the village of Pepin to recover on bonds.

The next regular term of the court will open at Minneapolis, March 8, and one of the cases on the calendar is that of Frank Nye against the Western Union Telegraph company, an action brought to recover $50,000 for damages sustained through an alleged fraudulent telegram transmitted through the agency of the defendant.
