BISHOP MAY MOVE HOME

METHODIST DIOCESAN RESIDENCE MAY BE BROUGHT TO THIS CITY.

PRESENT HOME IS MORTGAGED

When the Episcopal Residence was Located, It Was on Certain Conditions, Which Are Not Fulfilled.

A movement is on foot among St. Paul Methodists to secure the removal of the Episcopal residence from Minneapolis where it has been located for upward of a dozen years, to this city.

When the bishop, during the term of Bishop Foss, located in the sister city, it was on condition that the Methodists of Minneapolis should provide the residence, and in this basis the Episcopal residence was established in the spacious grounds on Nicollet avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, opposite the home of A. Hartley, who was a prominent and influential Methodist.

The property, however, is heavily mortgaged, and besides facing imminent foreclosure, it suffers also from the disadvantages that the structure is quite old and the encroachments of the business district are making it less desirable for the purpose for which it is used, although it is convenient to the Wesley and Hennepin avenue churches of the denomination.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID.

MRS. B. A. SKILDAM DIES AT THE CLARENDON HOTEL.

Made desperate doubtless by illness, Mrs. B. A. Skildam, of Bode, Ia., a guest at the Clarendon hotel, ended her life yesterday morning by drinking an ounce of carbolic acid. The deed was evidently deliberate, as Mrs. Skildam left a note requesting that her relatives be communicated with. Though she must have suffered severely from the violent poison, death resulted quickly, and what she had done was not known until her dead body was found shortly after 9 o'clock. The woman had taken the poison but a short time before the suicide was discovered.

Little is known of Mrs. Skildam in this city. She came here to receive medical treatment, and as she was a cripple it is believed dependence upon her physical condition led to her rash act. The woman registered at the Clarendon hotel Feb. 22, giving her home as Des Moines, Ia., but from letters found in her room it is evident that she lived at Bode, Ia., which is also the home of her relatives. Mrs. Skildam mingled little with other guests at the hotel, and remained most of the time in her room. She did not take her meals in the dining room, because she had an artificial leg, and it was thought that she was a stranger. Each day, however, she made a trip to the office of Dr. Boeckmann, who was treating her.

When a bell boy took her breakfast to the room yesterday morning, there was no response to the knock at the door. Proprietor Clark was notified, and when the door was found locked the bell boy climbed over the transom. Mrs. Skildam was found lying on the floor dead. When Deputy Coroner L. A. Nelson searched the room he found an empty bottle that had contained the poison. On a table was a brief communication left by Mrs. Skildam, stating that her father was Thore Christenson, of Bode, Ia., Deputy Coroner Nelson communicated with Mr. Christenson, who asked that the body be sent to Bode.

Mrs. Skildam was forty-five years of age, and evidently well supplied with money. In conversation she was apparently cheerful, though of quiet demeanor. She never said anything to those about the hotel to lead to the suspicion that she intended to commit suicide. The body will be taken to Bode, Ia.

FIRE STAMPEDES HORSES

THEY ARE TURNED LOOSE FROM A BURNING BOX CAR.

A car load of horses was stampeded and turned loose at the Minnesota Transfer early yesterday morning by the burning of the stock car in which they were being transported. The fire caught fire from a spark from an engine and the loose straw about the floor was burning fiercely when the railroad men discovered the danger. The car was at once broken open and the horses were found stampeding. The animals were slightly scorched. All of the horses galloped out of the yard and only a few of them have been found.

TOLD BY TINGLE.

Scope and Objects of Philadelphia Commercial Museum.

"What the Philadelphia Commercial Museum is doing" was the subject of E. W. S. Tingle's address before the Commercial club yesterday evening. The museum employs 18 men and is gathering information in relation to the markets of the world.

"It is divided into three parts, one of which is a museum of raw materials, one of other countries for the information of those who desire to purchase the same and manufacturing. Another contains a collection of the products of the various other nations with which our manufacturers must compete. The gathering of these samples last year cost $70,000. A third part is a bureau of information of the state of trade in general and in particular lines all over the world.

"For the purpose of getting this information, Tingle has his own agents traveling over the world, and also correspondents in all important points. Through them credit ratings can be furnished on any foreign merchant or agent."

HAD LIQUOR AND MONEY.

But Martin Underdahl Lay in the Street to Freeze.

If the police had not taken Martin Underdahl in charge last evening he might have frozen to death, or at least have been robbed of $200 found in his possession. Underdahl was discovered lying in a drunken stupor in an alley near the union depot. He was already benumbed by the cold and needed vigorous treatment when taken to the station to bring him around. In his pocket was found $200 in currency. His other possessions were a bottle of alcohol and a bottle of beer. He is charged with drunkenness.

PERFECT MAN RARE.

Average Man Falls Short, Mrs. Mabel Conklin Says.

There were twice as many men as there were women in the audience at the Central Presbyterian church last evening when Mrs. Mabel L. Conklin delivered the ninth in her series of lectures on social purity. Her subject was "The Perfect Man." The lecturer, in a vigorous address, forced upon her hearers the not cheerful conviction that between the perfect man and the average man there lies a wide hiatus. Most of the things mentioned by Mrs. Conklin last evening were things the perfect man would not do. The small details, the occasional glass, the pipe and cigar, were severely scored, for, so the speaker said, they would gradually undermine the moral as well as the physical constitution, and have a greater effect. Religious, temperate and truthful, with a sound mind and sound body, ambitious, alert, and always charitable, was the perfect man. Every young man should start out in his career with such an ideal before him, and if his efforts were sincere, Mrs. Conklin saw no reason why his ideal should not be attained.

This evening Mrs. Conklin will speak at the Atlantic Congregational church on "The Greatest Sin of the Age."

NOW IN PROBATE COURT

ESTATE OF THE LATE BISHOP MAHLON N. GILBERT.

Application was made in the probate court yesterday for letters of administration in the estate of the late Bishop M. N. Gilbert. The application was made by W. H. # AFTER SAYLOR'S SCHEME

BLUE EARTH COUNTY TAXPAYERS ENLIST GEN. POPE.

Gen. E. M. Pope, public examiner, returned last evening from Mankato, where he offered his testimony in the case of the taxpayers against the county to restrain the commissioners from paying out of the county revenue fund compensation for the experts who have been employed to ferret out untaxed property.

The agreement between the commissioners and H. S. Saylor provides that 50 per cent of the gross receipts of the money collected would be apportioned to the state, town and a dozen other funds, while the revenue fund, which would be charged with all the cost, would get little or nothing.

LOCKUPS NOT LUXURIOUS.

Many in Minnesota Are Hardly Even Habitual.

Secretary Jackson, of the state board of corrections and charities, has received returns from health officers of 330 towns looking up the lockups. The returns show that the lockups are hardly even habitual. The oldest lock-up now in use is at Blooming Prairie, Steele county, being built thirty years ago. Eight towns built lock-ups last year, Adams, Bemidji, Excelsior, Elk River, Kellogg, Kennedy, McIntosh and Madelia.

The old indictment referred to by Mr. Jackson in his recent bulletin that "Minnesota is a state in a year in her lock-ups" holds good now. The latest cremation was at Lake City. Under the existing law it is necessary for towns figuring on the construction of lock-ups to submit the plans to the state board of corrections and charities for approval before they can become "official" lock-ups.

Five out of ten lock-ups in Minnesota can be called even good ones, and the exceptions are those most recently built. Many lock-ups are one-room affairs, with no ventilation as to either size or grade of criminals, and being constructed of wood, and in a great many cases old, are very inflammable and dangerous to life, as well as being unsatisfactory in other respects.

The plans adopted by the state board of corrections and charities require the building to be fire proof, and it must have at least two exits. The reports of health officers, in addition to the general line of questions asked in the form, add information that is supplementary, such as "unit for use in a 'classified' manner," "nothing needed except more cleanliness."

CONCERT BY GODOWSKY.

It Will Be Given at People's Church Friday Night.

Leopold Godowsky, the Russian pianist, who takes the place of Joseph in the fourth concert of the Schubert club series, will appear at the People's church Friday evening, March 23, and will be assisted by Lewis Shaver, the baritone. It is the first appearance of Godowsky in St. Paul, where his compositions have been played by many music students for several years. As the pianist's work is unrivaled, and yet it is held to be one of his most admired traits that he never overforces his instrument. He has a repertoire that is simply enormous, including, as it does, practically all the great piano literature.

Mr. Shaver is an acknowledged artist of the first rank, whose beautiful voice and fine method add charm to any programme.

TIE DOES NOT COUNT.

Assistant Attorney General Somerby yesterday untangled a knotty problem submitted by the village officials of Hewitt, Minn. At the recent town election there was a tie vote on the license question. The town heretofore has been dry. Mr. Somerby holds that the tie vote is no election, and the vote against license of a year ago holds until the next election.

BONDGARD'S FRIENDS SETTLE.

Proposition to Be Made to Commissioners Next Week.

It is understood that a relative has offered to pay $4,000 and the bondsman $2,000, which will settle for Mr. Bondgard's entire indebtedness to the county.

PEOPLE'S PARTY WILL HOLD ITS STATE CONVENTION TO CHOOSE DELEGATES TO SIOUX FALLS CONVENTION

Anti-Heatwole Movement Seems to Be Gaining Force as It Gains Publicity—Other Political News.

The state central committee of the Populist party convened yesterday afternoon at the Excelsior hotel and adjourned on May 2 the date for holding a state convention for the purpose of electing forty-six delegates to the national convention at Sioux Falls, May 9. The convention will be held in Minneapolis, and one delegate will be allowed for every 250 votes cast for S. M. Owen in 1894, and one delegate-at-large, from each county.

The date of the convention to put in nomination a state ticket will be decided upon at a meeting of the state central committee that will be held May 1, the day before the delegate convention. The executive committee was empowered to secure a hall in Minneapolis in which to hold the gathering on May 2. It was decided to call county conventions for April 25.

A sentiment existed in favor of allowing each congressional convention to elect its own delegates to the national convention, but the majority favored a mass convention, which was decided upon after considerable discussion.

The following were present: V. E. Lawson, Fred Haskins, W. A. Horchkins, Z. H. Austin, J. M. Bowler, W. R. Hodges, H. Clarke, E. S. Reishus, F. W. Stacey, H. P. Borge, Frank Warner, John Burns.

There was more or less gossip in and about the Movement. Day yesterday regarding the Heatwole congressional ticket. As to the opposition strength, three counties are regarded as solid for Heatwole, and the balance of the county are regarded as split. There is a binding agreement for these counties to stand firm and make the fight, regardless of the result. The Heatwole ticket is less of a matter of fighting against Joel at Northfield. This is the same, they say, as if Heatwole were to run himself. That Heatwole has lost much on account of his fight against Census Director Merriman is also claimed, but the special point is that Heatwole is being disgraced by the part of Heatwole's condition of the personal benefits of a substantial kind. The third district man is said to have received Merriman's hands when, in former campaigns, there was something in the said hands to dispense.

But the chief loss on the Merriman score is said to be the Bixby influence, which the anti-Heatwole candidate is forming. As to the Red Wing matter, a Republican, it is said that this will not openly make an anti fight for the present. But it will help the anti cause in a quiet way. Approval of the Heatwole long-standing feud between Bixby and Frank Wilson is said to be complete, and the hatchet has been buried forever. And, it is said, the Heatwole candidate is positively stated that Mr. Wilson had satisfactory assurances that he should have Goodhue county before this agreement to the anti-Heatwole candidate was made. As in the same connection, it is said that Donald Green, of Fairbault, is now out and anti-Heatwole, and will be in the field, and some of Mr. Wilson's friends declare that Wilson is sure of his support.

Heatwole is held to stand offensively against McKimley, and his refusal to fight in Minnesota, but organized under the president's face that no admission in this respect can ignore or excuse. "Heatwole might as well have spit in McKimley's face" was the way one of the anti is put it.

The anti now fear some play by which Heatwole will avoid their punishment, which may be by going into the gubernatorial race, or by gracefully retiring from the race.

Whether or not Fletcher is to have the same thing to meet in the Hennepin district, as to slapping the adman had set, he has a new trouble in the boom of Bergstrom for secretary of state. This is now being traced directly to Fletcher and his work in the Hennepin district. The opposition thought they had the Bergstrom ambition done for, and imagine their dismay to see the 11th ward members of the Hennepin district now threatening in its absorption of Bergstrom. This is said to have been accomplished by the influence short of that of "Uncle Loren," and it is added that there is proof that Senator Nelson has taken a hand to help Israel out. This feeling is liable to cut a big figure as the progress. Your Uncle Loren will have a report that the Senator, Nelson, forces, and make it very clear that the report is not well founded, or it will cut seriously into Your Uncle Loren's chances.

COST OF NATIONAL PARK.

Gen. Andrews Says It Will Be Less Than Many Think.

Gen. C. C. Andrews, state forest fire warden, says:

"There have been so many exaggerated estimates of the cost of the proposed national park that I would like to see it more generally understood. The area of the proposed park is 215,438 acres of land, which leaves 48,750 acres to be paid for. Of this latter 100,000 acres in round numbers, the state owns 25,000 acres of merchantable pine lands. By 'pine lands' is meant, according to the interior department, the status of Indian treaties and public land laws, lands that are valuable for the merchantable standing timber of the state, whether or not bearing jack or scrub pine or other sorts of timber or no timber, are to be considered as 'merchantable pine lands' under the existing treaty with the Indians, as 'agricultural lands' and when proclaimed as open to settlement under the act of March 3, 1877, are to be paid for by actual settlers under the homestead law conditions as to residence and cultivation. Although the greater part of these lands technically designated 'agricultural lands' are not desirable for farming and would not be taken up for cultivation for many years, if ever, yet in any way negotiable with the Indians, the government naturally would have to pay for it at least $25 an acre. It will be conceded that this is a large price for the status of land, there are millions of acres of land in Northern Minnesota which have been open to homestead settlement for many years, and that are still vacant, and that a railroad company sold similar land to the state for a fair valuation of the 100,000 acres of land. The estimates of the 'pine lands' in the proposed park have not been published, and the commissioner of the general land office shows that 291,348 acres of Chippewa pine lands have been estimated and valued at $1,774,728, at $3 per thousand feet. This is at the rate of $6 (actually $5.99) per acre. Since then the average price of standing pine in Minnesota has risen to $4 per thousand feet (board measure), which would make the pine lands worth $8 an acre. Accordingly, a fair valuation of the 100,000 acres of lands in the proposed park would be $800,000, to which add the value of the so-called 'merchantable pine lands' at $1,275,000, to which add the value of the park. To make it surely ample, let us say in round numbers that the value of the park is $2,075,000, which is the price for the park."

ABOUT CITY POLITICIANS.

The delay in the announcement of the appointments to the board of public works and the part played by Mayor Kiefer has stirred up the politicians greatly. The mayor, however, does not appear to mind this, and yesterday afternoon said he was not able to fix the exact date when the appointments would be announced. He said he had not made up his mind, and as there were many applicants, it was but just that he consider the appointments before making them. At a recent meeting of the board of public works a bill was approved for 1,000 head and it was noticed that the names of the board had been printed in large type on top of the sheets. From this it was inferred that the present members, Messrs. Sandell and Kiefer, would be reappointed, and some one else would be appointed to the printing job hoping to set the mayor to say something. His honor, however, naively replied that it would be an easy matter to use a little rubber stamp in case the retiring members should not be reappointed, and left the seeker for inside information as much to the good.

The appointment of the members of Nick Pottinger from the presidency of the board has little if any political significance. When Pottinger and Ames were appointed a year ago it was understood that each should have the honor of the convention, and the election of Ames yesterday was the carrying out of the agreement.

Attorney for the Game and Fish Commission Advises That Construction of the Spring Shooting Law.

Executive Agent Beutner yesterday held a conference with Stan J. Donnelly, attorney for the state game and fish commission, regarding the new law prohibiting spring shooting of aquatic fowl.

As a result of the interview, Mr. Donnelly gave a formal written opinion in which he advised the commission to enforce the law despite the apparent discrepancy in its construction. The first part of section 10 prohibits the killing of ducks between Jan 1 and Sept. 1, and follows up making the sale of fowl illegal between Jan. 1 and April 15. The legislature clearly intended to prohibit the killing and sale of ducks during the entire breeding season, but as the bill was hurried through the legislature near the close of the session, the conflict of dates is supposed to have been a mistake of the enrolling clerk. However this may be, Mr. Donnelly in his opinion believes that the state can properly enforce the law, even if it is not made illegal to sell game after April 15. The law prohibits the killing of the game and any one who sells a party to the destruction of the game which is prohibited.

The prohibition city committee will meet at the office of Dr. C. E. Magraw this evening for the purpose of organizing an anti-Heatwole ticket. The candidates named for places on the city ticket, the candidate of the party for mayor two years ago polled 507 votes.

The many friends of Ferdinand Novotny, of the firm of Mumm & Novotny, have finally prevailed on him to come out for the nomination for mayor on the ticket of the ward. Mr. Novotny is a resident of the Fifth ward, a member of the Musicians and Printers' unions and is backed by the labor unions, commission men and grocers. He will open headquarters next week and stay to the finish.

Neils Larson, at present holding the position of street commissioner for the Tenth and Eleventh wards, is likely to be the nominee for alderman in the Tenth ward on the Republican ticket. D. W. Haskins and E. Weber are the other prominent candidates on the Republican side. L. J. Dobner is said to have led for the Democratic nomination.

D. F. Polk, of the Tenth ward, states that the announcement of his candidacy for city treasurer on the Republican ticket was unauthorized. A Republican party ticket was formed under the leadership of Polk's candidacy yesterday, said the delegation would not be solid for Polk, but that he might get the two delegates from his own precinct.

RINGER WINS AGAIN.

Famous Barn Case Decided by Judge Hine Yesterday.

After more or less litigation extending over a period of more than a year, D. W. Ringer has won out in the fight over the location of his barn, and has yesterday acquitted of violating the building ordinance in a decision filed by Judge Hine, of the municipal court. Judge Hine bases the discharge of the defendant upon the ground that the barn was not proven to be a nuisance and that even if such was the case the prosecution had failed to show that the barn was moved from its original site with the consent or knowledge of Mr. Ringer.
