

AS THOUGH IN A CYCLONE

EDDIE LENNY, OF PHILADELPHIA, BADLY DEFEATED BY TERRY MCGOVERN

LOOKED AS THOUGH HE QUIT

Philadelphia Boxer Seemed to Realize That He Was Not in the Running, and Took First Chance to Quit.

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—A large crowd saw Terry McGovern, champion featherweight of the world, defeat Eddie Lenny, of Philadelphia, at the Industrial Athletic club tonight in the second round of what was to have been a six-round contest.

Lenny was completely outclassed, and in the final round was knocked down three times in the one minute and forty-five seconds consumed.

Lenny's finish, in the opinion of the fighting men present, had the appearance of his having quit.

The first knockdown was the only hard punch of this round, being a swinging right on the local man's jaw. He took the full ten seconds, and McGovern then rushed at him with his usual speed, and with a couple of light body blows sent him to the floor again.

It Will Be Sent to the Printers Tomorrow. Secretary W. A. Moore, of the North-western kennel club, recently sent out letters asking a number of the representative women of St. Paul to act as patronesses of the beach show.

BRAVE KLONDIKE DOGS.

They Will Be Exhibited at the Beach Show. Among the Klondike parties which left here during the gold excitement was that headed by John Horman, of this city.

These Are the Two Dogs, "Prince" and "Baba," Which John Horman Took to the Klondike.

LOOKS LIKE A DEAL. Prince and Baba, these two animals contributed in no small measure to the success which came to the party.

The brutes were put in the lead of two pack trains, and by their intelligence greatly facilitated the often difficult task of hauling over the frozen country the provisions, clothing and kit.

Across frozen lakes and rivers, and over steep mountain passes these two dumb brutes guided their less aristocratic canine brethren until something like 4,500 miles had been traversed.

On the way up the trip was accomplished with no extraordinary incident, and Prince and Baba enjoyed comparative ease and comfort while the claims were being worked. On the way home, however, when in addition to the regular kit, there was a considerable quantity of dust on the sledges, the work was tedious and at times difficult.

When the party was nearing the White Horse Rapids, Prince's train, in the lead, stopped short of a crevice some twelve or fifteen feet deep, but before the pack could be stopped Prince was pushed headlong down between the narrow walls. The pack harness broke the force of the fall somewhat, but slipped off and down went the poor beast to the bottom.

All efforts to recover the dog seemed fruitless, until one of the party let down a rope made up of some of the pack harness when Prince with the intelligence which belongs to his breed, caught the rope in his teeth and permitted himself to be slowly pulled up to the top of the crevice. Just before he reached the top the rope parted, and it seemed that he must go to the bottom again, but quick as a flash the dog planted the nails of front and hind feet against the walls, and there he held himself until the rope could be lowered to him again, when he was safely drawn out and saved.

NEW HEROES ARE TESTED

Surviving Captains of Admiral Dewey's Fleet at Manila Dined in New York

CAPTAIN COGHLAN'S REGRETS

They Are Accompanied by Princes for the Admiral and the Men Who Faced and Defeated the Spaniards.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The surviving captains of Dewey's fleet at Manila were entertained tonight at dinner at the Colonial club.

They were accompanied by Princes for the Admiral and the Men Who Faced and Defeated the Spaniards.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The surviving captains of Dewey's fleet at Manila were entertained tonight at dinner at the Colonial club.

About seventy-five club members and guests attended tonight's dinner. The naval guests were Capt. Frank Wildes, of the Boston; Capt. Asa Walker, of the Concord; Capt. N. M. E. Dyer, of the Baltimore; Lieutenant Commander R. T. Hall and Bradley A. Fiske, of the Petrel; and Lieut. John Gibson, of the Boston.

Jacob G. Schurman, president of the Philippine commission, was also a guest. Capt. Coghlan wrote his regrets, making reference to the fact that less than two years have elapsed since the battle of Manila bay, yet "two of our seven have crossed the silent river." He continued:

"We give, and glory in giving, all honor to the squadron that destroyed Corvera's squadron in that one fatal day when their glory dimmed, but to compare that destruction of a running squadron, two-thirds beaten before it came out—for it knew from the work of Dewey at Manila what it had to expect, and came out with the idea of its own death, to compare that, I say, with the work of the squadron under Admiral Dewey at Manila, his division, from the first to the last, carrying his base with him, no refuge in case of defeat; passing the batteries and mines at the entrance of the bay, and the whole West Indies, as his chosen position, protected, as was well known to the admiral before he went there, with as many gun ashore as our squadron could bring to bear from the West and East are yet to be received, but it can safely be stated that over 1,000 entries will be nominated.

TROUBLE WITH CHINA.

United States Asked to Check the Dowager Empress.

SHANGHAI, March 15.—The American association here telegraphed to the United States government today that the attitude of the empress dowager towards the reformers will upset the "open door" policy.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The cablegram from the American association has been received at the state department.

It has not yet been acted upon, but is under serious consideration. At first reading, it is not clear just what connection exists between the attitude of the Chinese empress dowager towards the reform movement in China, and the open door policy in which the United States with the remainder of the civilized world is interested.

The empress dowager is persecuting with relentless hatred the reform party, going so far as to resort to the barbarous practice of offering a large sum of money for the assassination of leading reformers.

This reform element in China is believed to include nearly all of the Chinese who are disposed to elevate China into a civilized nation, following in the footsteps of Japan.

RAILWAY BUILDING IN AMERICA.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The Railway Age tomorrow will say: "Although more miles of new railroad were built in the United States last year than in any year since 1890 there is every indication that the present year will witness even greater activity."

In the aggregate there are nearly 50,000 miles of projected road, grouped by sections as follows: New England states, 47 miles; Middle states, 2,240 miles; South Atlantic states, 6,282 miles; Gulf and Mississippi valley, 8,722 miles; Gulf and Mississippi states, 5,228 miles; Northwestern states, 21,297 miles; Pacific states, 6,227 miles; total, 68,811 miles."
