SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

FINAL DRAFT OF THE AMENDMENTS HAVE BEEN DRAFTED AND SUBMITTED

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The final drafts of the amendments to the ship subsidy bill agreed upon by the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries have been completed. One of these amendments declares the Sherman anti-trust law to be "specifically applicable to the builder, owner or either or both of them, of any vessel entering into any contract provided for by this act and any such vessel is hereby declared to be the property in the course of transportation within the intent of said law."

The other two amendments designed to further prevent combinations either between ship owners or builders are as follows:

Section 25. That upon complaint made to the secretary of the treasury that two or more persons owning, controlling or operating vessels registered and entitled to compensation under this act which aggregate in tonnage one-third of the total tonnage of all vessels so registered, and entitled to compensation, have entered into any contract, combination or conspiracy, whatever be the form thereof, for the purpose of controlling the terminal facilities for shipping in any port or ports of the United States, or for regulating or increasing the rates or fares of freight or passengers in trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations, or for granting any special rebates or privileges to shippers in such commerce, or for otherwise putting any restraint upon trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations, the secretary shall fix a time and place for hearing such charges, and give notice thereof to the persons interested, and may require the production before him of any contracts or papers which he may deem material in the consideration of such charges. If, after notice and hearing, the secretary of the treasury shall sustain such charges, thereupon the right of the person or persons so found violating the provisions of this section, and their assigning or any compensation from the United States under this act shall immediately cease and determine.

Sec. 26. That any contract, combination or conspiracy in whatever form made or entered into between the persons owning, controlling or operating two or more ship yards in the United States which have constructed, are constructing or are capable of constructing, during any one year, vessels aggregating in tonnage one-third of the total tonnage of the new vessels registered and entitled to compensation under this act for the purpose of limiting or controlling the number, tonnage, classes, kind, or type of vessels to be constructed therein, or for restricting in any manner the terms or increasing the prices of construction of such vessels, is hereby declared to be illegal, and any consolidation, absorption, sale or transfer by the persons owning, operating, or controlling two or more ship yards of the United States, or the capacity aforesaid of the privileges, franchises, or property of such ship yards for the purpose of limiting or suppressing competition among such ship yards, and of placing control of the terms and conditions of such contracts for constructing vessels therein under one management, is hereby declared to be illegal. Upon written complaint filed with the secretary of the treasury by any person having a contract, or application for a contract, for the construction of new vessels in the United States under the provisions of this act, or a violation of the provisions of this section, the secretary of the treasury shall give notice and fix a time and place for a hearing upon the charges made and may require the person or persons against whom the charges are made to produce before him any contracts or papers which he may deem to be material in the consideration of such charges. If the secretary of the treasury shall find that the provisions of this section have been violated, he is authorized and directed upon the application of the person or persons having contracts or applications for contracts for the construction of vessels as aforesaid within two years next thereafter, to grant registers as provided by law as vessels of the United States to foreign-built vessels to the aggregate tonnage of the amount of tonnage of the vessels constructed by such persons, and violating the provisions of this section during the year next preceding such order. Such foreign-built vessels so registered shall be regarded as new vessels constructed in accordance with the contractor applications for a contract of such person or persons, and shall be deemed to be constructed in compliance with such contractor application therefor, and with the terms of any bond provided for by this act, and shall be entitled to all the benefits and privileges to which such vessels are entitled, and shall be subject to all the conditions and obligations applying by this act to new vessels constructed in the United States, except such vessels shall not enter the coast or the lake trade of the United States. The words "person or persons" whenever used in this section shall be deemed to include "corporations," "associations" and "partnerships" existing under or authorized under the laws of either United States, state or any territory, or of any foreign country. This section shall not be held to interfere with or prevent the enforcement of any other law of the United States prohibiting contracts, combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade."
