GRADUATES OF BALDWIN

THEY WERE THE CENTER OF ATTRACTION IN SOCIETY LAST NIGHT

YESTERDAY'S SOCIAL NEWS

News of Interest in the Social Eddy Gathered for the Readers of the Globe.

The annual commencement exercises of Baldwin seminary were held last night in Park Congregational church. An audience numbering about 500, made up of members of the congregation and friends of the graduates, were in attendance.

The exercises opened with an organ voluntary by Prof. C. G. Titcomb, after which Rev. Alexander McGregor delivered the baccalaureate address. Mr. McGregor chose as his subject, "Non Predu sed Victor." "Not Spoils but Victory"—and managed to crowd a good deal of practical philosophy into his remarks. He was listened to with intense interest by all present, as well as by the members of the class to whom his remarks were specially addressed. "In choosing our life work," he said, "we should do what we love to do—what nature fitted us for—and do it like a Hercules. No one will supplant enthusiasm. 'Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might.' The world has success, whether rich or poor, and the result achieved in our lives is generally greater than what we seek. Only that man falls whose business swallows him up, but this cannot occur if we are true to ourself and to our individuality." He pointed out to the class the great possibilities they enjoyed. They were about to embark in life when civilization has reached the most advanced stage the world ever knew. They lived in the greatest country on the globe—but with these advantages they were to be none the less mindful of their obligations to the world.

On the conclusion of Mr. McGregor's address Miss Celeste LeFevre Coghlan sang a soprano solo, "In Thee, Oh God! I Put My Trust," in a manner which charmed her hearers.

The graduates then stepped upon the platform to receive their diplomas, which were presented by Prof. Clinton J. Backus. The personal of the class is as follows: Judith Dawson, Ruth Frisk, Besse Currie, Martha Neal, Florence Ryan, Florence Lohker, Sadie Sargent, Agatha De Lambert, Edith Buckmann, Everett Brown, Paul Hudson, Wm. H. Neal, Elbert A. Young.

The young ladies, according to custom, were all attired in white.

The class this year is the largest in the history of the seminary.

After the presentation of diplomas Miss Coghlan sang another solo, "To The Angels," and the exercises concluded with the usual congratulatory remarks.

The semi-annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal District was held in the church at Newport yesterday morning and afternoon. Mrs. E. N. Wolcott, of Hamilton, presiding. The secretary, Mrs. M. J. Atkins, reported twenty-three auxiliaries in the district with an increase of forty-six members during the past half year, and an increase in the subscription list of all of the society's publications. The new tract auxiliaries showed progress along nearly all lines. At the noon hour the ladies of the lawn or lawn of the district met at the church. At the afternoon session Dr. D. B. Gardner, of St. Paul, who was a delegate from the branch to the recent ecumenical missionary conference in New York, gave an interesting account of some of the many things he saw and heard. Of the $18,120 given last year by Christians toward foreign missions, nearly $3,000,000 came from the "2 cent week" of the women. "Mother" Pringle, of Minneapolis, gave an address on the advancement of the work in auxiliaries.

The meeting was closed with an invitation to St. Anthony Park for their next conference.

Commissioner Says False Representations Have Been Resorted to by Agents of the Company Which is Filing Suit.

William B. Brewster applied to the district court for an order requiring Health Commissioner Ohaje to issue permits to the concern he represents—the Capital City Sanitation company. The health commissioner says he will not issue the firm any more permits unless compelled to do so by the courts, because, he says, its representatives solicit business under the guise of attaches of the health department.

Judge Lewis Confirms It. In the Edgerley case before Judge Lewis yesterday the probate court was sustained in the dismissal of the appeal in the case of the estate of Mrs. E. Edgerley, incompetent, deciding that Belle M. Edgerley had no right to be heard in opposition to the appointment of W. T. Alexander as guardian of Mrs. Elizabeth Edgerley, detained in an asylum near Litchfield, England. She admitted no documents in support of her claim.
