VIOLATING HONEY LAW.

State Chemist Hummel, of Minnesota has discovered outrageous violations of the honey and jelly law, according to the Minneapells Tribune; jars of stuff labeled "Finest California Honey," contained nothing but glucose. In some cases the remanant of a honeycomb was inserted, to give the jar flavor of the real thing. About one-third of the samples of alleged honey contained none or only a trifle beside glucose and cane sugar. Of jellies, only 25 per cent were genuine; the rest were made of glucose, starch, flour gelatin flavored with apple starch, flour, gelatin, flavored with apple syrup and artificially colored. The color ing in some instances was injurious.

DESTROYING DUST.

The modern housewife has learned that feather dusters and other flirting brooms and brushes merely scatter the dust and germs in her house, instead of removing them. She is now being told by scientists that to shake her rugs and carpets. beat her drapery, etc., in the tiny yard of her city home is undesirable. The dust flies in nearby windows, her own, y all Minneapolis shops represented the onsumption of 259,000 coiled elm hoops dust. Carpet sweepers, covered dust-pans and cloths are the implements to be made use of, and the dust thus gathered should be burned, or, in the case of cloths, washed out. Back of this care, however, should come a wise choice of household belongings. Simplicity should be the fundamental law of their selec-tion. Have the things needed for combe the fundamental law of their selec-tion. Have the things needed for com-fort and use in simple, easily-cared-for-designs; for pure decoration, only a few very satisfying things. Gewgaws, as a rule, are useless, and may be dispensed with.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

Were never better. Trees wintered well. They are heavily set with buds, blossoms or fruit, as the case may be. The rest which many of them have had for a year or two-some of them several years-makes them the better able late spring has retarded the blossoming period, and so reduced to a minimum the danger of damage by frost. There may still be a slip 'tw'xt the cup and the lip, but at present the chances are in favor of the largest fruit crop we have had in years.

WITH THE COLLAPSE OF THE WAR RELIEF LOOKED FOR IN LONDON

LOCAL SITUATION IS SOUND

Stock Market, Though Dull, Shows Good Resisting Powers-Money Market Continues Unfavorable for a Rise.

NEW YORK, June 2 .- Henry Clews, in his weekly financial review, says:

The collapse of the Boer war, even more suddenly than generally anticipated, imparted a stronger tone to the stock market; especially in London where the strain was chiefly felt. The relief there must have important consequences, financially as well as politically; for the stoppage of gold supplies from Africa and the heavy drain of the war upon the British treasury naturally caused more or less financial derangement, which became more burdensome as it progressed. The supply of gold from South Africa will soon be resumed, possibly with greater freedom than before; thus lessening the inducement for taking gold from the United States. These additions of gold, together with what may be received from the Alaskan gold fields during the coming summer months, will prove a decided tonic to the financial situation, and render less difficult some of the problems which European financiers are obliged to face. As one war closes the shadow of another looms up in the distance; the present disturbances in China showing with what intense jealousy the several powers are watching events in that part of the world. As yet, however, there is no prospect of serious international difficulties; and it is worthy of note that wars and rumors of wars have far less effect upon the securities markets than formerly; our war with Spain and England's war in South Africa having, it will be remembered, astonishingly small influence upon values. This has been largely because these wars were brief and carried on in paris of the world where, in spite of the suffering caused, the disturbance to industry and commerce was relatively small.

The local situation is sound; and, while the "hoom" must now he considered a his weekly financial review, says: The collapse of the Boer war, even more small.

about one-fourth of a cent. Rain—and lack of it—in the Northwest were the principal factors in the market during the week. There were disappointing promises of rain at times throughout the week that tended to in a measure strengthen the hands and revive the hopes of the bulls, but as a rule that side of the house has been doomed to disappointment, and hence the close of the week's business is at a loss to the price showing of the July option. So vill the situation likely remain until the rain comes to dissipate the bear clouds.

CORN AND OATS. Despite the lower prices for wheat, corn held its own Saturday and closed a shade higher than the previous day. This is somewhat unusual, for the coarser grain generally follows wheat. There is little new to note in the earn situation, Demand continues fair and the market is in at least as strong position as it was last week.
