

RECEIVED HOLY ORDERS

SOLEMNI CEREMONIAL YESTERDAY AT ST. PAUL SEMINARY, GROVELAND PARK

TODAY IS CHILDREN'S DAY

There Will Be Special Services for the Young People in a Number of the City Churches.

Thirty-nine young men received holy orders at St. Paul seminary yesterday.

Ten of them are now priests, having completed the six years' course of philosophy and theological study at the college. The others have still one or more years to remain before they can take priestly orders and go out upon their life work.

Archbishop Ireland conducted the ceremonies, being assisted by Monsigneur Oster, spiritual director of the college; Father Heffron, the president; Rev. James Heardon and Rev. Robert Schlinker. The service occupied over three hours.

At the close of the ordination the men who had been ordained formed in procession and marched to the administration building, where an opportunity was given them to receive their friends. Those ordained priests were:

Reverend John Goergen, John Mikolaj, Robert Schlinker, Mathias Stukel, Francis Rant, Oliver Dolph, John Dumphy, Edward Walsh, John Walsh and Edward Loucky.

The subdeacons were Cornelius McDavitt, John Kennedy, Louis Buecher, Michael O'Reilly, John O'Sullivan, Joseph Raitz, Henry Bruenig, William Griffin and John Gudzik.

A large class was given minor orders, including those of lector, exorcist, acolyte and ostiary. They were:

Aloysius Ziskowski, Jerome Dawskowski, Vincent Lavin, Patrick Lavin, Martin Griffin, Henry McCall, John Stelmes, Thomas Cullen, David Moran, William Gulton, Henry Rex, Edward Kozminski, William Fleming, Philip Walsh and Edward Fahay.

The following received the tonsure with the minor orders:

Demetrius Richards, Aloysius Schinkowski, Michael McDermott, Patrick Sullivan, Edward McCurdy, John Wilber.

The following received the tonsure alone:

John Sherman, John O'Brien, James Klein, Anthony Scholzen, Michael Hillner, Frank Lenger, William Gannon and Edward Solowski.

Sunday, July 1, at 3 o'clock, p. m., the ceremony of blessing a new bell at St. Andrew's Church, Como Villas, will take place, the vicar general, Very Rev. John Starba, officiating. The sermon will be preached by Rev. J. J. Keane, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Minneapolis, his subject being: "Why I am a Catholic."

The new bell weighs 500 pounds, was cast at the Cincinnati bell foundry, and bears the following inscription: "Holy Year, 1900." "Jesus Christ, Yesterday, Today, and the Same Forever;" and, in commemoration of the closing century, it has thirteen crosses cast into it. St. Andrew's Church is in Father Cosgrove's charge, being an adjunct to his main parish, St. Vincent's.

Bishop Whipple will deliver the fifth of the course of lectures to the people at the Church of the Good Shepherd tomorrow evening. Subject, "My Brothers' Keeper."

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Dayton's Bluff German M. E. Church will hold a thank-offering service in the church this evening. There will be a special programme. This morning at 10:30 a class of seventeen catechumens will be examined and admitted to the church.

The Men's Club of Plymouth Church will give a lawn social at the home of Peter Berkey, College avenue and West Sixth street, Tuesday evening.

Rev. William Oehler will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the Humboldt high school, West side, in the German People's church at 8 p. m.

Today children's day exercises will be held by all of the Methodist churches and in the main the other denominations will hold similar services.

At Grace Methodist church the exercises will be in charge of Mrs. J. S. Hamilton. At the First Methodist church Rev. F. B. Cowgill will speak to the children and Mrs. Cox will conduct the programme.

Hebron Baptist church will celebrate its fifteenth anniversary today. This morning the pastor, G. H. Gamble, will preach an anniversary sermon. This evening there will be an address for men on "The Manliness of Christ."

The second annual exodus of the St. Paul Christian Endeavor union will take place Monday evening. They will journey to Minnetonka and enjoy a three-hour tour of the lake. The special train to carry the party will leave the union depot at 6:30 p. m. and will leave the lake on the return trip at 10:30 p. m., arriving in St. Paul about 11:35.

Special anniversary music has been prepared for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the vestry choir of Christ church, St. Paul, which is to be celebrated in Christ church this, Trinity Sunday, evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Charles C. Rollit, pastor of Christ church, Red Wing, will preach the anniversary sermon. The public cordially invited.

The baccalaureate sermon for the senior class of the Cleveland high school will be preached this morning by Rev. W. J. Gray, at Pacific Congregational church.

ROME'S MOST TALKED OF MAN.

Outside of the pope himself, keen interest among itself in Cardinal Gott, who, from all present indications, will succeed to the triple crown.

CHURCH SERVICES TODAY.

Woodland Park Baptist, W. W. Everts, pastor; corner Selby and Arundel. Morning, children's day celebration. Unity church (Unitarian), Wabasha street, foot of Summit avenue, Rev. H. W. Boynton, of Hosiandale, Mass., will preach on "The Essential Realities of Man." Services begin at 10:45 a. m.; all seats free; Sunday school meets at 10 a. m. After this Sunday the church and Sunday school will be closed for the summer.

First Swedish Methodist church, Tenth and Temperance streets, Rev. D. Morgan on "Christianity and Socialism," 10:30 a. m.

St. Paul's church, corner Ninth and Olive streets, Rev. Harvey Officer Jr., pastor. Holy communion, 8 a. m.; Sunday school, 10:30 a. m.; morning prayer, 10:30 a. m.; holy communion, choral, with sermon, "The Christian Doctrine of the Blessed Trinity," 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

St. Peter's church, Pleasant avenue, Rev. S. J. Sauer will preach at 10:30 a. m. on "Things Lost and Found." Bay View children, Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. No evening service.

J. Grace M. E. Burr and Minnesota. Rev. Homer C. Ashcraft, M. A., Ph. D., pastor. Preaching at 10:30. Theme, "Social Democracy or the Brotherhood of the Race." At 8 the annual children's day exercises, led by Mrs. J. S. Hamilton.

New Jerusalem (Swedenborgian), Virginia and Selby avenues, Rev. Edward H. Hagerud, pastor. Services at 10:45 a. m. Sunday school at 11:45 a. m. "The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live."

University Avenue Congregational, Avenue of the Republic, 10:45 a. m. "The Christian Life One of Conflict." Evening, 8 o'clock, "Hating Between Two Opinions."

First Methodist Episcopal, Dayton and West Third; Frank B. Cowgill, pastor. Special children's day service in the main sanctuary, Sunday, June 10, 10:30 a. m. Christian Endeavor prayer meeting at 6:45 p. m.; union service at Dayton Avenue church at 8 p. m.

Spiritual meeting Sunday, 8 p. m. Central block, 75 West Sixth street. Will be given by Rev. William J. Gray, pastor. English Evangelical Lutheran, Church of the Redeemer, corner Lafayette avenue and Woodward avenue; Rev. H. Hagerud, pastor. Services at 10:45 a. m.; holy communion at 10:45 a. m.; Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. All are cordially invited.

Church of the Good Shepherd, Twelfth and Cedar streets, St. Paul; Rev. William C. Pope, pastor. Services at 10:45 a. m. Rev. H. B. Whipple, D. D., L. L. D., bishop of Minnesota.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Seminary hall, Ashland and Mackubin. Service at 10:45 a. m.; subject, "Sacrament." Plymouth Congregational church, Summit and Wabasha. Rev. George M. Morrison, pastor. Service, 10:30 a. m. Theme, "A Surprising Choice." Special children's day programme at 7:30 p. m.

Christ church, Fourth and Franklin streets, Rev. Charles D. Andrews, pastor. Trinity Sunday, June 10, 1890. Holy communion, 8 a. m.; Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon, 11 a. m. Evening service and anniversary sermon by Rev. C. C. Rollit, 8 p. m.

Pacific Congregational, Adler street, near Mississippi. Rev. William J. Gray, pastor. Morning, 10:30, baccalaureate sermon to graduating class Cleveland high school; subject, "The Imperialism of Character." Evening, 7:30, children's day exercises, in charge by the Sunday school.

First Baptist church of the city, Selby, Holly avenue, corner of St. Albans street. Services at 7:30 p. m. Rev. A. N. Alcott, pastor.

St. John's Episcopal church, corner of Kent and Portland. Holy communion, 8 a. m. Morning service and sermon by Rev. C. C. Rollit at 11 a. m. Evening service at 7.

NEWS OF THE LODGE ROOMS.

I. O. O. F. Excelsior-Merridian Lodge No. 60 will hold memorial services at its hall, corner Sixth and Seventh, Monday, Post Grand Master Warren H. Mead will deliver an address, and there will be a musical programme. Bethesda Rebekah Lodge No. 1 has, through the courtesy of Browning, King & Co., secured a booth at the Elks' carnival. Cigars, fruits, confectionery, etc., will be sold.

MACCABEES. St. Paul Tent No. 24 held their regular review last Monday night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Commander, George S. McCay; lieutenant commander, W. P. Dyer; record keeper, G. F. Foster; finance keeper, J. J. Warner; chaplain, B. Marcoux; sergeant, Pratt Underwood; master-at-arms, A. B. Chemis; first M. guard, C. Carbonneau; second M. guard, P. Fishman; sentinel, W. H. Stewart; picket, P. G. H. Schell, and pianist, M. Dellafield.

At review tomorrow evening it is hoped that every member will be present, as some action will be taken towards a general turnout in the Elks' parade during the Elks' carnival. The question of suits and committees will also be decided. All Maccabees in the city are invited to attend, and it is hoped to make this meeting a general meeting of all the tents in this city.

SWEDISH BROTHERS. The Swedish Brothers' Benefit association, which is the largest Swedish organization in the city and numbers 300 members, will give their annual outing and picnic at Forest Lake, Sunday, June 24. A great deal of interest is being taken in the event, and it is expected that nearly a thousand people will attend.

MODERN SAMARITANS. Astoria Council No. 5 will hold its next meeting June 11, at 8 p. m. Candidates will be received and business of importance will come up. All members please be present.

ROYAL ARCANUM. The St. Paul council, R. A., will hold their annual outing Saturday, June 23, Royal Arcanum day. In this picnic the St. Paul councils will join with the Minneapolis councils, and the outing will be held at Lake Park. Besides the regular morning train, a special train will leave

St. Paul at 1:30 o'clock over the M. & St. L. railway. The last train will return at 10:30 o'clock. The hotel and grounds of the party will be at the disposal of the Arcanum for the day, and games, athletic sports and dancing have been provided for. The order is growing rapidly in the Twin Cities and the attendance at the outing will be large.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS. Prelate C. S. Bartram, of Capitol Lodge, No. 21, has been elected vice chancellor to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Thos. Sullivan. Mr. Froelich has been elected prelate. This lodge will work the second night next Tuesday evening. At the last convention the grand chancellor was present and exemplified the work. The lodge will participate in the Memorial day exercises in Minneapolis today, in St. Paul one week from today and in the Elks' parade June 18.

The uniform rank and subordinate members of the Knights of Pythias will meet at K. of P. hall, corner of Sixth and Robert streets, today at 1 o'clock, p. m., and from there will take the Interurban cars for Minneapolis to attend the Pythian Memorial day services in that city. Sunday, next, like services will be held at the Central Presbyterian church in this city, to which the general public is cordially invited. Rev. F. M. Rule has been elected grand secretary. The address on this occasion, and the entire membership of the order will no doubt be in attendance.

MACCABEES. Unity tent, Knights of Maccabees, held its regular election Thursday, June 7. A large attendance being present, the tent meets each Thursday evening at 8 p. m. Friends are invited.

All interested in the Maccabee Carnival club will attend meeting, Knights of Columbus hall Monday evening, June 11. Measures will be taken for uniforms, and other matters of interest will be taken up. A large attendance is desired.

Germania Lodge, No. 18, at its next meeting elected the following officers: Noble grand, B. Knyphausen; vice grand, John Frick; recording secretary, Guido Gelsenhayner; next officer, Otto Clasen; treasurer, George Conrad.

ROYAL LEAGUE. Pioneer Press Council Royal League No. 150 met Thursday night. Deputy Supreme Archon Taylor and State Organizers were present, and delivered very interesting talks. Next meeting Thursday, June 21, at Bowley hall.

MARVELOUS FALL OF A TOT

From an Elevated Car to a Granite Paved Street Unhurt.

A three-year-old named Joe McGrath made a sensational bid for the title of "champion baby aerial artist of the world" in New York the other day.

Little Joe, accompanied by his aunt Mary and a watering pot, was on his way to the cemetery to sprinkle the flowers on his father's grave. Aunt Mary carried Joe up the stairway to a Third Avenue elevated railway station, and in a few minutes they were aboard a train.

Joe stood up on the seat and gazed at the sights in the Bowery, while auntie smoothed out the wrinkles in her dress and looked around the car. The joggle of the train loosened the nozzle of the watering can and it fell to the floor. The aunt began searching for it under the seat. Just then the train shot around a curve with jerk that popped the baby out of the window as quickly as if he had been a ball of yarn.

As the youngster flew into the air and down toward the stone street, ten yards below he made frantic grabbing motions. His two little fat hands clung to a telegraph wire and he hung suspended in midair. The people in the streets looked up and then they went half crazy. But the baby never said a word—never uttered a complaint. He was made of sterner stuff, and, anyway, the people in the streets were saying loudly they yelled and shouted, but that didn't loosen the baby's hold. They screamed to him to hold on, and everybody shouted to everybody else to "catch the baby." The engineer of an elevated train running in the opposite direction from the one which tossed off the boy saw Joe's peril, and let go several toots and screeches from his engine that made matters worse, but still the baby held on.

The driver of an express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

So long as the baby held on, the driver of the express wagon which had a high leather top caught sight of the child a block or two away, and whipped up his horses, hoping to get the wagon under the boy and catch him on the top. When the wagon was in the right spot Joe let loose. He hit the top squarely and bounced into the air about six feet and caromed off into the arms of a couple of men. There was boisterous applause from the crowd. Joe only responded by saying that he wanted his Aunt Mary. In a few minutes the baby's crazed relative appeared, but Joe upbraided her by saying, "Aunt Mary, why didn't you come with me?"

IT IS OURS!

The entire stock of Furniture, Carpets, Draperies and Stoves formerly belonging to THE STANDARD HOUSEFURNISHING COMPANY

Has been purchased by us, and will go on sale at the store, 49 and 51 East Seventh St.

Next Wednesday, June 13, at 8 O'Clock,

$58,000

Worth of Merchandise to Be Sold at Less Than Manufacturers' Cost.

SPECIAL NOTICE! Owing to the exceptionally low prices which will prevail during this sale, we will make the following special terms:

One-Fourth of the Purchase Down, Balance One, Two and Three Months.

UNPARALLELED BARGAINS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT.

BUY NOW AND SAVE FROM 20 TO 50 PER CENT.

ARCH IS INCANDESCENT

PORTAL OF THE ELKS' MIDWAY WAS ILLUMINATED LAST NIGHT

LAST WEEK OF PREPARATION Booths Are to Be Ready for Occupation by the Exhibitors Thursday and Show Open on Time.

The main arch at the exposition and carnival entrance, Ninth and Cedar streets, was lighted last night by 500 incandescent electric lights for a couple of hours, and attracted great attention from hundreds who were on the street.

While the arch is a beauty in the sunlight, it is doubly so when the surrounding are in comparative darkness and the illumination stands out distinctly. The illumination last night was a forerunner of the great event which begins next week Monday.

Additional reduced railroad rates were secured yesterday, and one fare will be given from all points in Minnesota on the 19th and 20th. One-fare rates have previously been announced from all Minnesota points, and within a radius of 150 miles from St. Paul in Wisconsin, as well as from West Superior and Ashland for June 21 and 22, June 27 and 28 one-fare rates will be given from all points in Minnesota and Wisconsin within a radius of 150 miles from St. Paul, the rate will be a fare and one-third.

This leaves only two days of the twelve not provided for with special rates, and special rates will be given those days by different roads. One of the days a one-fare rate will be given from Sioux Falls and all intermediate points.

The booths will all be in readiness for exhibitors Thursday, this week, so that they will have ample time to place their displays.

The manager of the ten midway attractions will arrive in this city Wednesday to lay out the grounds for the respective shows and the German village.

The arrangements for the parade Monday, June 18, are progressing rapidly. It is expected that there will be twenty bands in line, and a large number of fraternal and civic societies will join with the military and firemen, the police and the Elks, in making a demonstration which will be worth going miles to see. The United Commercial Travelers, who are expected to come down from their annual meeting in Duluth, next Sunday, are also making a demonstration, and will come to the front and add new luster to their names. The military academy gives them a thorough training in the art of war. It also gives them a general education. Mentally and physically it equips them for the hardest kind of fighting.

When Gen. U. S. Grant realized that the conqueror of humanity had him fast, his last request, written by his own hand, was that the president of the United States, wherever he might be, when his grandson and namesake came of age, would appoint the boy to the military academy. President McKinley carried out the wish of the brave old warrior, and Cadet Ulysses S. Grant, 34, entered West Point last June at the dawn of his eighteenth year. Cadet Grant had received a good education prior to his entrance, and therefore finds little difficulty in keeping well forward in his class. Cadet Grant is tall, well built and athletic, with broad shoulders. He went through the regular set-up exercises, and, as having had not been fully stamped out during his "plebs" camp, the belt of roses upon which persons in a red hee reposed had a fair sprinkling of thorns mixed in.

Among the yearlings who made young Grant's task easier last summer was Philip H. Sheridan, son of the gallant general.

At Young Sheridan was also appointed to the academy by the president. He entered on June 21, 1888, within one month of his eighteenth birthday. Cadet Sheridan is built like his father. Short, alert, active, with a quick, positive manner, it requires no expert to discern in him at a glance the latent qualities of a soldier. He does not stand near the head of his class. Like other brave West Pointers, he keeps far enough from the "goat" section to avoid the danger line. He will be allowed a three months' furlough next summer after his promotion to the second class.

Cadet Douglas MacArthur, son of the military governor of the Philippines, is a classmate and close friend of Cadet Grant. They entered the academy at the same time. His appointment was credited to Wisconsin, and was won through a competitive examination. He is a fine specimen of manhood, over six feet in height, and a soldier every inch of him.

James M. Hobson Jr. is a widely-known cadet. The yearlings paid particular attention to him after the fame of his brother, Lieut. Hobson, of the navy, had spread abroad. He is now a member of the third class, and wears a corporal's chevrons. He entered the academy soon after his brother sank the Merrimac in Santiago harbor. He is over twenty-two years of age, and one of the many six-footers now at the academy. A veteran professor recently remarked: "Keep your eye on Hobson. When the chance comes he will throw his brother in the shade."

Among the noted cadets in the first class is Julian A. Benjamin, grandson of Hamilton Fish. Cadet Benjamin stands high in his class. He will be graduated next June. He was appointed by the president, and entered the academy in June, 1896. Resembling the Fish family in everything but stature, it is safe to say his future is assured.

Soo Line Rate $28.50 To the Republican National Convention, Philadelphia, Pa., June 19th. For particulars apply Soo Line Ticket Office, 279 Robert street.

MACCABEES WITH NOTED NAMES.

Some Prominent West Pointers Are Expected to Make a Mark.

West Point Letter in New York Tribune. The roster of the United States Military Academy for 1899 contains many famous names. Mentally and physically it equips them for the hardest kind of fighting.

When Gen. U. S. Grant realized that the conqueror of humanity had him fast, his last request, written by his own hand, was that the president of the United States, wherever he might be, when his grandson and namesake came of age, would appoint the boy to the military academy. President McKinley carried out the wish of the brave old warrior, and Cadet Ulysses S. Grant, 34, entered West Point last June at the dawn of his eighteenth year. Cadet Grant had received a good education prior to his entrance, and therefore finds little difficulty in keeping well forward in his class. Cadet Grant is tall, well built and athletic, with broad shoulders. He went through the regular set-up exercises, and, as having had not been fully stamped out during his "plebs" camp, the belt of roses upon which persons in a red hee reposed had a fair sprinkling of thorns mixed in.

Among the yearlings who made young Grant's task easier last summer was Philip H. Sheridan, son of the gallant general.

At Young Sheridan was also appointed to the academy by the president. He entered on June 21, 1888, within one month of his eighteenth birthday. Cadet Sheridan is built like his father. Short, alert, active, with a quick, positive manner, it requires no expert to discern in him at a glance the latent qualities of a soldier. He does not stand near the head of his class. Like other brave West Pointers, he keeps far enough from the "goat" section to avoid the danger line. He will be allowed a three months' furlough next summer after his promotion to the second class.

Cadet Douglas MacArthur, son of the military governor of the Philippines, is a classmate and close friend of Cadet Grant. They entered the academy at the same time. His appointment was credited to Wisconsin, and was won through a competitive examination. He is a fine specimen of manhood, over six feet in height, and a soldier every inch of him.

James M. Hobson Jr. is a widely-known cadet. The yearlings paid particular attention to him after the fame of his brother, Lieut. Hobson, of the navy, had spread abroad. He is now a member of the third class, and wears a corporal's chevrons. He entered the academy soon after his brother sank the Merrimac in Santiago harbor. He is over twenty-two years of age, and one of the many six-footers now at the academy. A veteran professor recently remarked: "Keep your eye on Hobson. When the chance comes he will throw his brother in the shade."

BOOKS FOR THE CHILDREN LIBRARY BOARD WILL HAVE A BOOK RECEPTION FOR JUVENILE DEPARTMENT REMOVAL BEGINS THURSDAY It Will Take About Three Weeks to Transplant the Treasures of Literature in Their New Garden. Members of the public library board, the Commercial club and a number of prominent citizens are interesting themselves in a book reception to be given at the new public library hall next Saturday afternoon and evening. To those who do not know what a book reception is it may be explained that the purpose in view is to secure a good stock of juvenile books for that department of the public library. That department has always been deficient in books and now an effort is to be made to build it up. In the new library headquarters the juvenile department has been given the exclusive use of a fine large room. It will be equipped thoroughly and be separate from the other portion of the library with an entrance from St. Peter street. All citizens who feel an interest in the building up of the library will be asked to attend the reception and bring with them a juvenile book of some description as a donation to the juvenile department. In order to assist those who are willing to help, the board prepared a list of juvenile books that are required, or the most desirable. This list was turned over to the St. Paul Book and Stationery company and that concern has secured the volumes wanted at prices ranging from 75 cents to $1.50. By referring to the list made out each purchase will be more effective because there used to be no duplication. The reception will be during next Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock and in the evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. The Minnesota State band has been secured for the occasion and there will be something to interest spectators beside an inspection of the new library headquarters. The public library will be closed in order to move to the new quarters at noon next Saturday. It is expected that work will be necessary in which to complete the work. In order that the reading public will not be inconvenienced, subscribers will be permitted to take two volumes on their cards Wednesday next, and until the library closes. These books will be returned after the library has been moved and the files generally imposed for keeping the books out longer than allowed by rule will be remitted. There will be no personal invitations issued to the reception. The library board wishes the announcement made that the general public interested in the success of the library is given a cordial invitation to attend. TO REVERSE A VERDICT. Charles D. Kennedy's Plea to District Court. An application for judgment notwithstanding the verdict in the case of Mary Thiel against Charles D. Kennedy, was heard by Judge Brill, at special term of the district court yesterday. Plaintiff was employed in a laundry conducted by the defendant,