

DISEASE AND A RAPID HOME

CAPT. CANTWELL, OF THE REVENUE CUTTER REPORTS SERIOUS SITUATION

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC RAGES

Quarantine Established at St. Michaels—The Lack of Sanitation is the Cause of All the Trouble.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Capt. J. T. Cantwell, commanding the revenue cutter Munivak, which operates in the Yukon river and around St. Michaels, Alaska, has written a letter to Capt. Shoemaker, of the revenue cutter service, explaining affairs at St. Michaels. He says that the smallpox epidemic at Nome has made it necessary for the cutter to go to St. Michaels and the river settlements to establish a quarantine at St. Michaels.

The revenue cutter officials joined with the officials of the army, and they have overhauled vessels filled with refugees from Nome and compelled them to go to the quarantine station at Egg Island, speaking of Cape Nome, Capt. Cantwell says.

The situation as regards disease at Nome is a grave one, and it is hoped that the true state of affairs will be known in the states in time to prevent more people from crowding into that camp, which is already in a condition of congestion that will have to be seen to be appreciated.

"The lack of sanitation, even in the crudest form, has rendered the place a quagmire of disease-breeding filth, and the wild struggle for constantly getting on for every foot of space renders it impossible to get anything done in the way of cleaning up the town. It will be a merciful Providence if there is not a plague started here before the end of the summer, and if the smallpox cannot be subdued before the cold sets in, nothing on earth can prevent its spreading to all adjacent camps."
