ROCHES WHISKIES RICH PURE AND MELLOW

ST. PAUL JOHN ROCHES MINNEAPOLIS 367 ROBERT ST. 44 3rd St. S.

OF ACCIDENTS

TOM BIRD FAILED TO LOWER ST. PAUL-MINNETONKA ROAD RECORD

HE WAS SIX MINUTES BEHIND

Punctures, Delays and Accidents Considered to Prevent the Plucky Rider's Success—Rode Twenty-One Miles Unpaced.

For another week at least the St. Paul-Minnetonka road record of 4:54, held by Larson, is safe.

That veteran cyclist, Tom Bird, made a most determined assault upon it yesterday and although encountering punctures, bad roads and delays of every description he pluckily finished the hundred miles and flashed by the finishing post in five hours exactly, just six minutes behind the record.

From ten miles out right to the finish line the long ride was handicapped by a series of exasperating mishaps that would have caused a less plucky rider to give up in despair long before the century had been completed.

The start was an auspicious one, and at 5 o'clock in the gray dawn of morning Bird tacked on behind Kellogg and Henze, who took him to Lake Calhoun, eleven and one-half miles out, in exactly thirty minutes.

Here Bird and Lewis were to have met him, but they were a little slow and Tom sped along unimpeded until they caught him a mile farther.

They carried him to the hotel St. Louis and five miles back, when Alexander and Larson picked up the flying rider and carried him back to Lake Calhoun, where Kellogg and Henze were in readiness to continue the rapid journey.

These riders negotiated a mile at a rapid clip, and then the first real mishap of the morning occurred. Bird, accompanied by a 2:30 pace, suddenly rode over some hard, sharp substance which punctured his new racing tires so quickly that he was obliged to dismount and change them.

It was discovered that the puncture was a good sized one, and the race would have ceased there and then but for the riches of Kellogg, who had provided with a large pluck, which effectually closed the hole.

This delayed matters nine minutes, and when the tandem riders returned to remount their machine they found the hind tire flat. Without any further delay Bird climbed on to his racing Rambler and rode the next fifteen miles, unimpeded, in 45 minutes.

"Birdie" Bird, his brother, and McCullum, who carried him to Minnetonka street, when their tandem also sustained a puncture, and Tom continued to St. Louis in five hours and a distance of five miles.

Here Colander and Price joined the lone rider and kept him company as far as the Hotel St. Louis, a matter of ten miles. On this stretch the bicycle path was crowded with pluckers on their way to various resorts, and several minutes were lost as a result of their clumsiness in persuing to turn out on the wrong way.

From the hotel Price and Lewis, of Minneapolis, took him back to the bridge, and for a portion of the ride the would-be record breaker had to walk through a mud hole.

"Birdie" Bird and McCullum were at the bridge and they brought him to the finishing point at a lively gallop, and the long ride came to an end at 10 o'clock exactly, five hours after the start.

On this last stretch the journey was interrupted through a weed getting mixed up with Bird's chain, and another delay of a minute was the result.

For the explorer, the surveyor, the hunter, the miner, the lumberman, the sportsman or tourist, Ripans Tabules are the one medicine that is convenient, always ready, portable, protected from accident of wind or wave, or climatic changes, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred they fully answer all requirements. Ripans Tabules will not cure a cut made with an axe or a gun shot wound, but in most cases the sufferer will be benefited by swallowing one.
