Petition to Send Fred W. Lilly to the Asylum.

Assistant County Attorney Zollman is preparing to petition the district court to have Fred W. Lilly, who shot his wife and her friend in the California Wine house, sent to the insane hospital.

Lilly is in charge of the county sheriff, awaiting trial for assault in the first degree, and is said to be mentally deranged. He has been at the county hospital of late. The order for his committal will probably be made out today.

Cash for Coal.

I found I could loan through the Minnesota Mortgage Loan company, 317 Pioneer Press building, and pay cash for coal and other necessities and save money. Their terms to salaried people, I found by comparison, are lower than others, and their installment plan, with an option before completion of payment, enabled me to pay at any time and save interest. They have a large clientele, being in business for 29 years, and they treat you with all courtesy and confidence, so as to have you and your friends come again.

A Parlor Car for the Ladies.

The Minneapolis and St. Paul delegates and visitors to the annual meeting of the State Federation in Duluth next week will leave on Tuesday morning, Oct. 2d, on the Eastern Minnesota. The party will have a chartered car and an invitation is extended to all club women going through the Twin Cities to join the party. Making the journeys together in parties is one of the pleasant features of the annual convention.

PLEDGES OF CANDIDATES

FARMERS' ASSOCIATIONS TO LEARN WHERE POLITICIANS STAND BEFORE SUPPORTING THEM

MUST BE OPENLY FRIENDLY

Preparations Now Being Made to Reach Every Aspirant for Governmental Honors or Congressional Seats.

J. C. Hanley, who lately returned from Paris as the representative of the American Farmers' associations at the International Congress of Farmers of the World, and who is the executive agent of several national agricultural associations, was asked by a reporter for the Globe yesterday what, if any, action were the farmers' societies to take politically in the coming campaign.

"That," said Mr. Hanley, "will be determined by the candidates themselves, as we will give each candidate from all political parties an opportunity to place themselves on record before election as to their attitude on legislation effecting the interests of agriculture."

"What do you propose to do to those who are favorable to your measures?"

"We propose to officially recommend these candidates to the farmers in general and our associations in particular, and use the full force and influence of our association in every honorable way to secure their election."

"What will you do to those who oppose your measures?"

"Why, we will proclaim them in the most public manner to the farmers of the nation as the enemies of the farmer, and use our official influence to secure their defeat."

"In case a candidate refuses to answer you or fails to do so, what do you propose to do with him?"

"There will be no middle ground. If a candidate refuses to answer our demand of declaring his policy of friendship or hostility to our demands and fails to give us an idea of his attitude we will place him on our list as an enemy of the farmer, and treat him accordingly."

"Then you take the individual rather than the party?"

"Yes. The party or candidate which takes it on himself to invite the opposition of the farmers by declaring against the measures which we have declared for in our national conventions, or fails to declare, will be denominated as the enemy of the farmer, and will receive the official condemnation of the associations, and every honorable effort will be taken to defeat such candidates."

WANT AMERICAN SHIPS.

"Briefly stating it, I may sum the whole business up by saying national expansion of our export trade and the restoration of our merchant marine."

"Why are the farmers interested in expansion and American ships?"

"Because he furnishes 70 per cent of the entire export trade of this nation from the farm, and as things are at the present time has only one market to sell his surplus crops to, and must enter into competition with every nation who has surplus crops to sell for this same market, and the intensity of this competition enables the nation to set the price on the farmers' crops, as the price paid for the export crop is that paid for the entire crop of the world."

"Therefore we find ourselves without the protective legislation which is given to all other industries because we have immense surplus crops to hunt a market for, and cannot have legislation such as the tariff and protection to aid the industry of agriculture."

"What remedy do you propose?"

"Why, find new markets among the nations who are not our customers now, and extend it into Oriental and African countries."

"What effect would this have on the farmer?"

"Why, it will create a new market for his surplus crops, and divert a large portion of the export trade from this country from Liverpool to a new country, which would take this vast volume out of competition with those European countries who are near the Liverpool market, which would reduce the supply and increase the demand that it would have the effect to raise the price of wheat to $1 per bushel, cotton to about 14 cents a pound, etc. This on the average crop of this nation, of 600,000,000 bushels, would mean a clear profit to the American farmer above what he is getting under present conditions, of $120,000,000. This can be better appreciated when it is known that the margin on the farmers' crop is very close to the cost of production.

"But how do you expect to secure this new market?"

"This is the most hopeful prospect of the successful accomplishment of this policy. We must remember we are dealing with a big proposition and one away beyond the confines of narrow political partisanship, and even beyond a great national measure, as it partakes more of a great international project, the destiny of the entire world will be affected in proportion to the extent of the development of this plan.

"Remember that the world consumption of wheat flour is about 200,000,000 bushels per month or 2,400,000,000 per annum, and is consumed by about 500,000,000 people in the wheat eating countries of the world, while 1,000,000,000 people never saw wheat flour, and as the surplus crop of an average year in the world would be about 100,000,000 bushels above the demand. And this is the surplus which destroys the value of the world's crop as there is more than the demand. Now it would take only one-tenth of a bushel to this million of people to get rid of this 10,000,000 bushels, while the population of the wheat eating countries would be about five bushels per inhabitant. It would not take long to find a new market in this vast and populous district of the world if we went to work at it with intelligence and determination."

"What effect would the American ship have in the development of this general project?"

"Why this proposition is second in importance only to the raising of our crops. As on it must we depend to see that our products reach these new markets. Because we have no American ships to speak of at this time. Fully 92 per cent of our export trade is carried in foreign ships at the present time. We are paying the vessels of foreign nations $300,000,000 annually to carry our products to the markets of the world. We would be a helpless victim to the dangers which our own short-sightedness has imposed on us, if such a calamity should occur, as that Germany and England or France intense difference in the cost of building and operating a ship under the American flag. I became firmly convinced that we can never restore our merchant marine, unless we give governmental aid to make up the loss which flying the American flag imposes on our nation.

"This will be better understood when it is known that a 10,000-ton ship built in up-to-date fashion in the United States will cost about $1,200,000, while if built in Europe would cost about $1,000,000, and it costs the same proportion to operate the ship after it is built.

"On my recent voyage across the Atlantic I asked on the American liner, St. Paul and New York, and I made it my business to meet with the sailors, firemen, stewards and ship crews, and speak with them personally, and found the following result: Firemen on these ships receive $40 to $45 per month and their board, while the same men would work on an English ship for $27.50 per month, and on a German vessel $24 to $25 per month, and on a Norwegian vessel, about $22 per month.

"The stewards received about $20 per month and 'tips' on the American ship, while on foreign vessels they sometimes received no wages and had to depend entirely on 'tips.'

"The sailors received about $25 on the American ships, while they receive from $18 on Norwegian ships, to about $20 on British ships.

"I have seen that it costs about 33 per cent more to fly the American flag than any other flag. This item will be better appreciated when it is known that the American liner, St. Paul carries a crew of 420 persons."

"Who added you in securing these amendments?"

"I may say it was through the able assistance given by our Northwestern members on these committees. In the senate we had Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, and Senator McBride, of Oregon, while in the house of representatives we had Congressman Stevens, of Minnesota; Minor, of Wisconsin; Fordney, of Michigan, and Jones, of Washington.

THEY WANT GOOD PRICES.

Two Property Owners Want High Figures for Driveway Land.

Several additional letters have been received by the board of public works, relative to the condemning of property owned by the city of St. Paul, and from Summit avenue to Como park.

D. S. B. Johnson has two sixty-foot lots, which he expects to sell at the estimated price of $2,150. Even though he believes that he will be getting the small end of the bargain. Way back in November, 1898, he paid $3,300 for the parcel. The $2,150 was given as a bonus for the city to be changed, and this public spirited gentleman is sure that he will have little or no trouble in disposing of his land at $75 per front foot before the opening of the year 1900.

S. D. Dodge will let his two lots go at a sacrifice, as it is for the purpose of public improvement, and the rest of his first lot will be benefited by it. He asks $1,500 free from all assessments.

There is beginning to be some doubt in the minds of the park board and the board of public works, as to whether the driveway ought not to be changed, and put on some street where abutting property owners would be more willing to help the city to improve their property.

"DAIRY FOOD"

Turns Pale Checks to Pink.

Our best physicians of the present day seek to cure patients by the use of food, rather than heavy drugs, and this is the true method, for all physicians agree that only from food can the body be rebuilt.

Many people fail to give their physicians credit, for after living on poorly selected or badly cooked food for a long time, perhaps, and when their ailments become chronic, they expect the Doctor, with some magic potency, to instantly rebuild them.

This is not possible. The only true method is to turn as quickly as can be from poor food to good. A young lady, Miss Alice Hendricks, employed at the corner of Fourth and Race streets, Cincinnati, O., says "I was variously treated for my nerves, muscles, lungs, etc., but none of the treatment gave me relief from the pains.

"About a year ago my appetite failed completely and I began to have sinking spells similar to fainting, then I took all manner of tonics and stimulants, but they failed to do me any good. I had been brought to quit drinking coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee in its place, and gradually began to get a little better.

"Someone suggested that if I found Postum Food Coffee so beneficial I had better use Grape-Nuts food, as they were both the children of one brain. I commenced on Grape-Nuts food for breakfast, having Postum Food Coffee with it. I found the food so dainty, delicious, and appetizing that I always looked forward to breakfast with pleasure.

"Shortly after commencing this diet, my wretched pain in the side was greatly improved, and now, a year later, it has gone entirely, also the sinking spells; in fact, my pale cheeks have changed to pink, I have gained back more than the twenty pounds I lost, and am thoroughly well in every way."

"My, but folks have an easy time now-a-days"

In Labor's Field.

The Steam Engineers' union held a meeting last night presided over by President E. Mullaney, when there were four initiations and four applications for membership, which were referred to the examining committee. M. Comerford, who represented the union at the convention just closed at New York city, reported upon the work done at the convention, where it was shown that the unions there in the country were in a flourishing condition. The next convention of the Steam Engineers will be held in St. Paul, and too much credit cannot be given Mr. Comerford for his successful efforts in bringing the convention to this city, where the visitors will find that the local union will do everything in their power to make the strangers' visit to the city enjoyable. Business was reported good, all the members of the union being uniformed. Receipts, $35; disbursements, 8.

Plasterers.
The Plasterers' union held a meeting last night at Assembly hall, presided over by President Alex. Gray. A number of accounts were considered and ordered to be paid. The balance of the meeting was of a routine character. Business was reported good, all the members of the union being uniformed. Receipts, $5.00; disbursements, $5.00.

Lathers.
The Lathers' union held a short session last night, presided over by John Norman, president of the union. In the absence of the secretary, H. Hay, C. F. Leyde acted as secretary. Only routine business occupied the attention of those present. Business was reported as being fair. Receipts, $7.25; disbursements, $2.50.
