

In St. Paul Social Circles

CAP AND BELLS.
Cupid I met by the path today;
His eyes were sad, but his words were say.
"Cap and bells he wore on his head,
For a man in love was a fool, he said."
"Cap and bells, cap and bells,
The best to the windflower nonsense tells."
"The milkmaid's check with a blush
is red,
And a man in love is a fool," he
said.
His bow was broken, his arrows lost,
But his smile was as bright as the sun
in the front,
And the bells at his cap's edge tinkling rang.
As low to himself he softly sang:

"Cap and bells, cap and bells,
The grass on the slope lies brown
and dead,
And a man in love is a fool," he
said.

His lips were curved with beauty rare;
I marvelled then at a boy so fair—
And he cried as he met my eager gaze,
"Fritches, my master, mend thy ways."

"Cap and bells, cap and bells,
Hast thou thy life to a woman's spells?
The last of the rose is quickly shed,
And a man in love is a fool," he
said.

A shadow stretched from a shrunken tree,
And a wild wind whirled him far from me.
But his parting message out of the blast
Like a Parthian arrow flashing passed:

"Cap and bells, cap and bells,
The spring's life lies in the deepest wells,
A fool to his folly is doubly wed,
And a man in love is a fool," he
said.

WARM FUR TALK

October 21st.

We say a warm fur talk merely because we are having temporary warm weather, and we think it's possible that it may fool some of you ladies into neglecting the ordering or purchasing of your FURS. We merely want to state a few facts to you and then let you judge whether this is a season that you want to delay in or not. Seals have advanced 85 per cent since one year ago (making about $20.00 on a skin, or $80.00 on a jacket). We are still quoting last year's prices, and we had large stocks, but a few weeks will use them up; then we must ask $75.00 more on a coat. Good seals are out of the market. Marten skins are 50 per cent higher than in August. Fox skins are worth any price the dealer wants to charge. The supply of skins comes only once a year, and the demand will increase heavily as quick as we get cold weather. Therefore, don't expect cheap furs this year—but act now, while you can get good selection and have ready when you want them—see? Now, then, in our opinion, the most desirable of all the fur neck pieces is the combination of Persian Lamb and Black Marten, because it's always good, always in style, is readily made over at any time, and has intrinsic value. On these we have plumed, and have over 200 pieces in seven different styles of Storm Collars, Small Collarettes and Tab Effects. These are all based on last August prices, and we can sell the lot in a lump at more money than we ask retail—but they are yours now at August prices. Genuine solid yoke Persian with Marten trimmings and tails, $20.00, $22.50 and $25.00. Tab effects, $25.00, $27.50, $30.00 and $35.00. We plainly say these are a great snap.

Once more about Electric Seal, Coast Seal and Baltic Seal Jackets. We have the largest Stock in any one retail house in America, and when we make up our mind to handle an article we go to full extent and own them right, with no middle profits. We have concluded that there is no garment in fur that has the dress, style and warmth for the money that these have, and the repairs are comparatively a small expense. So to those who are cold in cloth and want fur, and won't have an Astrakhan, and can't afford an Otter, Beaver, Persian or Seal—we say, get an Electric or Coast Seal. Nobody can outdo us on them. We have nine different patterns of garments, plain or trimmed, all lengths—20, 22, 23, 24 and 26-inch. Our prices are $22.50, $30.00, $32.50, $37.50, $40.00, $45.00 to $60.00. This is the place—shop all you please but if you look at ours you'll buy them sure of.
