

Your Turkey You expect to be well dressed for your Thanksgiving Dinner. Why should you not dress well, also? Your feet will play a very important part in your appearance, for they are always visible and sticking out somewhere.

SEE OUR NEW FALL AND WINTER FOOTWEAR. Ladies and Misses, Gentlemen, Boys, Girls, Children and Infants can be rightly, handsomely and reasonably shod here.

Ask to See Our "ROYAL" Shoe, $2.50 We have them in Box Calf, Tan Calf and Vic Kid. Every pair guaranteed.

Headquarters for Easton Rubber Shoe Co.'s and Gold Seal Over-shoes and Rubbers.

READWELL SHOE CO. 129 & 131 EAST SEVENTH

GASILE ON POSTAL CASH AUDITOR OF THE POSTOFFICES REPORTS TO SECRETARY OF TREASURY

ST. PAUL IS SEVENTEENTH In List of Cities in Its Postal Revenue. Although 22 Exceed It in Population by the 1900 Census.

Capt. Henry A. Castle, auditor for the postoffice department, has just presented his annual report to the secretary of the treasury. The report contains much of public interest, from which the following is taken:

The executive staff of the bureau is as follows: Auditor, Henry A. Castle, Minnesota; deputy auditor, Abraham L. Swanson, Indiana; chief clerk, John E. Lewman, Illinois; clerks, David H. Holman, Wisconsin; disbursing clerk, B. W. Fenton, Wisconsin.

SOME REFORMS SUGGESTED. A change in the manner of collecting newspaper postage inaugurated by the department July 1, 1898, brought a revenue from amounts which had been reported to $3,825,383.99 within the requirements of an entirely new and complicated method of audit, which was hitherto unable to apply. At least twelve additional expert clerks would be required in this bureau to properly perform this work.

No account has ever been kept by the postoffice department of the stamps and stamped paper furnished to it by the outside contractors. This account should have been opened when postage stamps were first introduced, say fifty years ago, and continuously kept until this time.

SURPRISING RESULTS. A Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh. People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form.

ILLNESS FOILED HEALTH MAN. The candy and cigar establishment of John Costello, at 679 Corland street, has been the source of considerable annoyance to the city health department for some time.

THRILLING ADVENTURE NARRATED IN A MUSTY LEGAL TOMES RELATED BY DEAN PATTEE

He Tells His Law Students the Story to Illustrate a Knotty Point in Law, and They Listen.

There is an impression prevalent, and the impression is a correct one, that law students at the university have a dry, tedious time of it. Some people even go so far as to think that life in the law building is "one damn thing grinded," as Mr. McCawber would put it.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

It is a common saying of the dean that there are certain cases in law no lawyer should forget. It would be next to sacrilegious. What the dean says goes. He can point facts into a dense skull quicker than any man in the university.

was passed and when the sun arose in the morning a turtle dove in sight. The chronicle in the law case doesn't tell of the efforts to get the turtle, but suffice it to say that it was landed in the yawl and killed. The turtle was a Godsend in truth, for it lasted until the twelfth day.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

The men had now ceased to look for ships or land, or sea birds or anything else. It took too much time. They preferred to lie down in the yawl and dream deliriously of the past. The pangs of hunger were not as great as those of thirst. Rain had fallen several times and a considerable amount had been caught in the oil-skin capes. This had been used for drinking water.

"It's Unrighteous"

To pamper the stomach and degrade the back." Don't sit down to an "eight-course" Thanksgiving dinner in a shoddy suit of clothes. Get a good suit. Be sure it's absolutely all wool; that it is cut well, made well, and will wear well, and that it has a "good guarantee" behind it.

Our very low prices are made possible by our own factory and the conducting of one line of business on so large a scale.

Men's Suits $10, $12, $15, $16.50 and Overcoats, $18, $20, $22, $25 Boys' Suits: Knee Pant, $3.50 to $10; Long Pant, $6 to $15 Boys' Overcoats $6 to $18

DROWNING-KING & CO.

C. E. HASSON, Manager. Seventh and Robert Streets.

THEY SEEK FULL RELEASE

BONDSMEN FOR BANKRUPT BANKS ASK STATE TO LET THEM OFF

LAW OF 1899 IS INVOKED To Free Sureties From Further Liability to Confiscation of Their Property by the State.

The bondsmen of the State Bank of Minneapolis, and the Fillmore County Bank, of Preston, both insolvent, appeared before Justices Lovely and Brown and Attorney General Douglas yesterday, and asked to be released as sureties on the bonds given the state.

These applications were the first made under the law passed by the last legislature. The law provides that where some of the sureties on the bond of an insolvent bank have become insolvent themselves, or the sureties are likely to be subjected to unusual hardship by the enforcement of the liability, application for relief may be made to the executive power of the state.

When the bank failed the state deposit amount to $35,000. This has been reduced through payment and the confiscation of the assets of the bank to $10,000. The actual liability of the sureties is now about $25,000. Each of the applicants desires to be released upon payment of one-twenty-seventh of this amount.

There is due the state in the case of the Fillmore county bank about $5,000. Among the Preston people present and interested in the bank matter were M. T. Gratton, County Attorney John W. Hopp, Senator R. E. Thompson, Judge Bassett and Judge Wells.

Both applications were taken under advisement by the commission. The bondsmen of the Fillmore bank also claimed the bond was informally acknowledged and informally executed. They claimed that the signature of M. T. Gratton on the bond was forged by Edward Wick, formerly employed by Todd, cashier of the defunct bank. Mr. Gratton himself denied that he signed the bond and asserted that his signature was forged for the purpose of including other irregularities spoken of. Mrs. Greenleaf, one of the owners of the bank, had not signed the bond. She and Todd are now both dead.

In case the bond was found to be good the bondsmen said they were willing to pay 30 per cent of the amount due. Both applications were taken under advisement by the commission.

DETERMINED TO CELEBRATE.

Dr. Bruin-Well, we've got to have a Thanksgiving dinner, and, as there's nothing in sight, either I eat you or you eat me. We'll throw dice and decide it.

under the able leadership of Adolph Rosenberg, the well-known violinist and composer. The orchestra has met with success wherever it has appeared. The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "It was accorded a most enthusiastic reception and its success is beyond doubt." The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "Especially well done."

The singers compose one of the greatest mixed quartets in the United States. Eleanor Meredith, soprano, and Edward Towne, tenor, who is remembered as a member of the quartet of last season, who created pronounced enthusiasm both here and in Minneapolis. Miss Mabelle Crawford, contralto, has been for three successful years the soloist of the New York Chautauque and is at present occupying positions in two prominent Chicago church choirs. Miss Crawford has sung extensively in the United States in opera, oratorio and concert work, and always achieves phenomenal success. Mr. A. W. Porter was for many years the foremost basso of Minneapolis, and the Chicago musicians induced him to settle in that metropolitan musical center, where he is now known as one of the greatest singers and teachers.

Reserved seats for the concert may be had at the Y. M. C. A. and at the door of the People's church.

HELD TO GRAND JURY. Alleged Confidence Men Must Stand Their Trial. Charles Nelson and O. R. Hildred, who are alleged to have swindled Born Pearson out of $250,000 in the home of Fourth street, some time ago, and also $150 from Christ Peterson, of Wisconsin, on the "double lock" same the morning of the same day, had their preliminary hearing in the police court yesterday, and were held to the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $250 each. The defendants, who were represented by Stan Donnelly, offered no defense. There are two charges of larceny against each prisoner.

COLDS

Dr. Humphrey's Famous Specific "Seventy-seven" breaks up a Cold by restoring the checked circulation, known by a chill or shiver, the first sign of a Cold, it starts the blood coursing through the veins and at once "breaks up" the Cold. If you will keep a vial of "77" at hand and take a dose when necessary, you will never take Cold. It doesn't matter if the weather changes suddenly; if you are caught out with light apparel, without overcoat or wrap; if you get over-heated and ride in an open car, or are exposed waiting for your carriage; if you work or sew in a cold room, or sit in a draughty church, meeting house, opera or theater. If you carry a vial of "77" (it fits the pocket and pocket-book) and use it freely, you will be protected and will not take Cold.

STYLE IN OVERCOATS! We make garments that are leaders in style and quality and that are guaranteed to give the most. The choice imported and domestic fabrics to choose from. Overcoats and Suits. $20.00 to $35.00. Trousers. $5.00 to $10.00. DUNCAN & BARRY, 87 East Fourth Street. Medium Priced Tailors.