WOMAN'S life is a tragedy. It is a succession of defeats. Through ignorance the first experiences of womanhood are uncounted with the knowledge which will aid her. The family physician makes light of her troubles and tells her that all women have them. She is a beautiful girl and she makes a beautiful woman. Her disposition is sweet, her form and movement full of grace. Why can she not retain these gifts of Nature? She has sensitive nerves and every shock they receive leaves its mark on face, form, or disposition, generally on all. She has some severe illness. Her courage is shaken by the prospect of constantly recurring suffering, and at twenty she is pale and thin, alternately cheerful and sad, but always nervous. Then she marries, new obligations are undertaken with additional strain on the nerves. A year or two further along the regular returns of being cross and snappy and can't seem to help it. From this point on to middle age the lines of care and control of the nerves are presently entirely gone. There is a great void in all this, for such a history is common.

Dr. Greene's NERVURA. Blood and Nerve Remedy. MAKES PEOPLE STRONG, VIGOROUS, AND WELL.

What a blessing Dr. Greene's NERVURA blood and nerve remedy is to women! It sustains them in every trial and fortifies them for their daily duties. It makes women strong enough to do their whole duty without fatigue. It sustains the physical strength and wards off nervousness by natural means.

Mrs. F. E. MORGAN, who resides at 177 Austin Street, Worcester, Mass., says: "My nerves were so weak and I was so very nervous that I could not sleep at night. I would get up in the middle of the night and feel so weak and tired, with loss of appetite and constipation of the bowels. I gradually grew worse until life seemed a burden, and at last I had nervous prostration. I had hot flashes with cold chills; one minute I would be cold and the next be all perspiration. I felt too bad for anything—had no strength and no ambition. My sister advised me to try Dr. Greene's NERVURA blood and nerve remedy, and I did so. I am happy to say that my nerves have disappeared, and I cannot say enough of this wonderful medicine. I have lots of friends who can testify to its great merit, and this is the only remedy that I should advise people who seek to use it as the most wonderful of all medicines."

The discoverer of this health-building remedy is Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th St., New York City, and all women who wish to consult him personally or by letter without charge. Write freely for advice or call.

WIDOW OF MILLIONAIRE RICHARDSON OF SAVANNAH, IS ARRESTED. VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY AGAINST NORTHERN PACIFIC.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 7.—A special to the Daily News, from Savannah, Mo., says that the coroner's jury in the case of Frank L. Richardson, the merchant who was murdered in the doorway of his residence Christmas eve, returned a verdict late this afternoon charging that Richardson came to his death from a pistol shot fired by his wife or some one known to her and unknown to the jury.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In the United States supreme court today opinions were handed down by Justice Harlan in several cases involving the authority of the interior upon receiving and approving the map of definite location of the Northern Pacific road in the states of North Dakota and Washington to make an order withdrawing the odd numbered sections of the land within the indemnity limits from settlement. The case of doubt came from North Dakota, the title being Fred Hewitt, plaintiff in error, vs. Emil and Frederick Schultz. The land in question was settled upon by Hewitt in 1884 but his proof of settlement was rejected on the ground that it had been withdrawn in 1873 by the secretary of the interior as being within the limits of the Northern Pacific indemnity. The railroad company then sold the land to Schultz and his wife, and they entered upon possession of it. Immediately thereafter the secretary of the interior, reversing the supreme court of North Dakota. The decision of the court supported the holding of Secretary Vilas, rendered in 1888, which decision has been held by the interior department. The court stated that while it was true that the title to the land was withdrawn by the secretary of the interior, still the department had consistently held to its findings since that time. At best, therefore, Justice Harlan said, the contention of the railroad people was one of doubt. Many titles had been acquired, said he, since Mr. Vilas' opinion was rendered, and the court would not say that the secretary should reverse. The opinion of the court should be reversed, the opinion of the court should be reversed, if wrong at all, cannot be said to be so plainly wrong as to justify a reversal. The order of withdrawal by the secretary, upon which the title of the railroad company depends, being out of the question there is no ground to question title of the plaintiff to the land in dispute.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—At the conclusion of the meeting of the board of directors of the Reading company, the following official statement was given out: A meeting of the board of directors of the Reading company was held in office at 2 o'clock. The proposition of Messrs. P. Morgan, J. P. Morgan, and J. D. Rockefeller, of New York, for the sale of the Reading company's capital stock of the Central Railroad of New Jersey was the subject of the meeting. The proposition was accepted, as the two proprietors of the Reading company were in agreement, giving his reasons in detail.
