

GLOBE'S TELEPHONE CALLS.

THE NORTHWESTERN. Business Office 1065 Main Editorial Rooms 78 Main Composing Room 1034 Main MISSISSIPPI VALLEY. Business Office 1089 Editorial Rooms 88

The St. Paul Globe

OFFICIAL PAPER, CITY OF ST. PAUL.

THE GLOBE CO., PUBLISHERS. Entered at Postoffice at St. Paul, Minn., as Second-Class Matter.

CITY SUBSCRIPTIONS. By Carrier, 1 mo 6 mos 12 mos Daily only $4.00 Daily and Sunday $4.00 Sunday $1.00

COUNTRY SUBSCRIPTIONS. By Mail, 1 mo 6 mos 12 mos Daily only $3.00 Daily and Sunday $3.00 Sunday $1.00

BRANCH OFFICES. New York, 10 Spruce St., Chas. H. Eddy, Jr., Charge. Chicago, No. 87 Washington St., Williams & Lawrence, Charge.

MONDAY, JAN. 21, 1901.

MAKING UNITED STATES SENATORS.

The year 1901 is distinguished by the number of senatorial vacancies to be filled. Besides the thirty vacancies occurring by operation of law, two vacancies occurred by death, in Nebraska and Minnesota; two by failure to elect, in Pennsylvania and Delaware; and one by resignation, in Montana.

Last week eleven of these were elected. Among these were a few men of national reputation and a few who have their reputations yet to make.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

Leading the list in notoriety is Matthew Stanley Quay, the boss of Pennsylvania. The word boss is used advisedly, there is no one now who will deny him title to that distinction.

The recent success of Sgt. Marconi, the Italian scientist, in the line of wireless telegraphy is more far-reaching in its results. By perfecting his instruments he has demonstrated the fact that an elevation is not necessary to transmit or receive the waves of ether, but that communication can be had under any and all circumstances.

An automatic instrument has been made by which vessels can be warned of dangerous places in storms and fogs where other signals are inadequate.

The device is simple; a wheel is connected with a transmitter and driven by clockwork. This wheel has cog teeth arranged to represent the Morse system of dots and dashes. As this wheel revolves the transmitting instrument is made to send out the name of the reef, shoal or headland, as the case may be, in ethereal waves. Any vessel near this point and having on board a receiving instrument is at once made aware of the danger and its location.

Vessels equipped with both sending and receiving instruments can receive and send messages to the shore or to other vessels at sea, which are similarly equipped. In case of wreck or fire, signals of distress could be sent hundreds of miles, arresting the attention of passing vessels. There has been no invention since the application of steam which promises greater results than wireless telegraphy.

It has been known for years that the natives of India and Africa have a means of instantaneous communication between widely divergent points. This fact, though often observed, has never been explained. Telepathy has been called in to explain the phenomenon, but not to the satisfaction of the scientifically inclined.

Can it be that the recent discoveries in the higher realm of electricity are but the recovery of a lost art—an art that is still retained by the wisest men of an obsolete civilization?

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

looking for the elusive "European sympathy." As Carnegie is going to fight the tube trust to the knife, they call it a question of "tube be or not tube be."

They say that some people love Cleveland not for the enemies he has made but for the quacks he has killed.

How about that Leavenworth cremation? Didn't Kansas roll up a majority of $8,000 for McKinley last fall?

A barber in St. Cloud has worked in the same shop for twelve years, in fact ever since he was a little shaver.

They say that 1,000 school children witnessed the honor at Leavenworth, Kan. That is the educational feature of it.

On hearing about "Teddy's" experiences with grizzlies and mountain lions an exchange asks to have the salt passed.

Mr. Lowry is convinced that the fondness which these three legislators showed for him was merely a matter of sentiment.

This is the time of the year when state legislators are busily setting up work for future sessions of the supreme court to knock down.

It is a good thing for Gov. Van Sant, if, as reported, he has no enemies to punish. It will take all his time to reward his friends.

They claim at West Point that fist fights are honorable if the men are evenly matched. But sometimes the plebes always get the worst of it.

A bolo with a blade two feet long arrived at a rural postoffice, from Manila, and the postmaster thought it was a sicknessener from Washington to chop off his head with.

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Sheriff Everhardy, of Leavenworth, Kan., says that the militia, if it had tried to interfere with the mob, would not have escaped alive. Why don't they train their militia to sprint better?

"Boone county," says a Missouri paper, "ought of right to have a new court house, and we predict that it will not be many years until God, in His infinite wisdom, will make it possible for it to have one."

It is reported that the professors at the Stanford university are free to say what they please; still they will do well not to say anything that would offend those who pay their salaries.

Benquet. And there are 70,000 American soldiers there.

The press of England is stirred up over the address of the president, Northfield to the press, in which he expressed the hope that the temporal power would be returned to the holy see during the life of Leo.

It is over a month since the Boers under Dewet troubled Cape Colony and their bordering provinces with their depredations. In the meantime, according to a London dispatch: "Disquieting hints are arriving of the alarming rapidity with which the British army is wasting away. The long lists of dead, wounded and diseased bear out these stories while there are abundant signs that the troops are being melted away like wax. As contented, the general more acute and the public is becoming quite skeptical of the competency of the government to get the country out of the wretched tangle."

Today the United Mine Workers of America begin their national convention in Indianapolis.

That was a Yankee trick of the Scotchman who wanted to dispose of some beef, which he had raised in the highlands, in the following: "Extensive sale of live stock, comprising not less than 140,000 head with an unlimited right of pasturage." The lumber trader accounted to doing that for his stock brought "high prices."

Prof. C. C. Geogerson, special agent in charge of the agricultural department, made his third annual report on agricultural experiments in Alaska. He is most hopeful of the future of farming in the territory. He says that grain may be matured almost anywhere in the coast regions. He brings samples of rye, barley, wheat, oats and other grains, some of which were raised in twenty-five miles inland and as far to the north as Cook Inlet and the Copper River region in sixty and sixty-one degrees north latitude.

The Kenai peninsula, 320 acres of land which has been reserved for agricultural experiments and which has been planted there, Kadiak and neighboring islands and the large region westward are covered with abundant grass and cattle are being raised there. There will probably not be any rush of farmers to Alaska until further particulars are received.

The war and navy departments have decided, in accordance with the report of the medical officers and the experience of our army in the Philippines, to give the climate of the Philippines is likely to quickly impair the constitutions of the robust men, and accordingly soldiers hereafter will be limited to a service of two years in the islands. It may be reasonable to the administration to inquire just what purpose is in view in holding the Philippines as a military hospital for white people, then it can not become a desirable part of the American republic.

A company doing Kansas will make tablets of an extract of the alfalfa plant, which is said to make lean people fat.

The new prosecuting attorney at Spokane, Wash., is preparing to start a race against men and women who face up to the law as man and wife. He says many such people are in his town and he has been asked by landlords and respectable citizens to ferret out offenders hereafter.

Last week Chicago consumers paid the highest prices for beef since 1892 and prices promise to go higher. And there is no meat trust.

Mr. Ferdinand Brunetier, the distinguished French essayist, lecturer and editor, who lectured in this country a couple of years ago on "French Literature," has returned to his native land, and is now in his religious belief, and his conversion is a sensation in French literary circles.

Today, Jan. 21, is the anniversary of the birth of P. E. Spinner, in 1802, treasurer of the Democratic party in 1832, and signer of the first issue of "greenbacks" became more familiar than the autograph of any other man of the period in Fremont, in 1846, American general and explorer and first candidate of the Republican party for president; of John C. Breckinridge, in 1856, and of James M. Smith, in 1858, of Thomas Jonathan Jackson, in 1862, "Stonewall" Jackson of the Confederate army.

It is a safe bet that Tams Dixie will not have as much to say about the arbitration of his little difficulty with Joel Heatwole as Jeffries and Rubin have already shown.

The Cornell crew will not race on the drainage canal. They may be afraid of typhoid germs, or they may be afraid of Chicago brewers.

There is trouble in the girls' basket ball team at the university because one of the players is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter, and they say she's a star player, too.

Wu Ting Fang says that lynching is a habit in America. The best cure for this habit is the Paterson, N. J., cure, prompt and speedy conviction of the grosser kind of crimes.

Mr. Tawney can now go to the bedside of his old friend, Grover Hill.

Moses E. Clapp lives in the S-v-nth ward. Fred Schiffman is heaping coals of fire on the heads of his traducers.

The buffet in politics has not been absolutely sustained.

Will Miss New York Jr. appear in knickerbockers?

If Saturday night's speed could be kept up, the late Mr. Daly's horses could win all the money in the world.

It was clearly to be seen that the official boy was making trouble about something. Sheet after sheet went into the typewriter, only to be pulled out, while each succeeding pull was followed by a frown even more lugubrious than its predecessor. Finally he mustered up courage enough to slide up to the boss.

"Say, Mr. ——" he exclaimed, "how do you get it so easy, but I can't get it started right."

The boss told him how to start it.

It was clearly to be seen that the official boy was making trouble about something. Sheet after sheet went into the typewriter, only to be pulled out, while each succeeding pull was followed by a frown even more lugubrious than its predecessor. Finally he mustered up courage enough to slide up to the boss.

"Say, Mr. ——" he exclaimed, "how do you get it so easy, but I can't get it started right."

The boss told him how to start it.

It was clearly to be seen that the official boy was making trouble about something. Sheet after sheet went into the typewriter, only to be pulled out, while each succeeding pull was followed by a frown even more lugubrious than its predecessor. Finally he mustered up courage enough to slide up to the boss.

"Say, Mr. ——" he exclaimed, "how do you get it so easy, but I can't get it started right."

The boss told him how to start it.

It was clearly to be seen that the official boy was making trouble about something. Sheet after sheet went into the typewriter, only to be pulled out, while each succeeding pull was followed by a frown even more lugubrious than its predecessor. Finally he mustered up courage enough to slide up to the boss.

"Say, Mr. ——" he exclaimed, "how do you get it so easy, but I can't get it started right."

The boss told him how to start it.

It was clearly to be seen that the official boy was making trouble about something. Sheet after sheet went into the typewriter, only to be pulled out, while each succeeding pull was followed by a frown even more lugubrious than its predecessor. Finally he mustered up courage enough to slide up to the boss.

"Say, Mr. ——" he exclaimed, "how do you get it so easy,