GAMES TODAY. Denver at St. Paul. Celorado Springs at Minneapolis. St. Joseph at Omaha. Kansas City at Des Moines.

With the clearest of skies above them. a day that was ideal for ball playing and surrounded with stands filled to over-flowing with fans and enthusiasts, all hungry for base ball, Manager Ryan's St. Paul baseball team won a victory over Denver yesterday afternoon at Lexington park in the opening same of the Western league season on the home grounds. While neither team developed any great strength in stick work the game was replete with brilliant plays and fast work in the field. The Saints won the game on its merits for they outletted and outfielded the visitors and the batted and outfielded the visitors and the work of McGill, who was in the box for the locals, was far superior to that of McNeeley.

The two teams arrived from Denver yesterday morning and spent several hours in resting up after the long trip from the mountains. At 2 o'clck the men were called together at the Windsor and from there, headed by the Minnesota State band, paraded through the down town streets for half an hour and then went direct to the grounds. Fully 3,000 people filled the grandstand and bleachers and yelled and howled their appreciation of the fact that St. Paul is once more in the baseball world and with a team that can play ball with the best of them.

TEAM GETS OVATION.

The stag work of these two men st. Paul's run column would show up quite a little stronger.

The St. Paul infield cannot be beaten in the Western, and it is just possible that they would be able to hold their win much faster company. Brain, at third, had very little to do yesterday, but he went after the ball in jig time every time that it came his way. One of his plays brought out a perfect storm of applause. Huggins, in spite of the fact that he is little more than a midget in size and is practically a new man in professional ball, covers his side of second like a veteran. Crooks and Werden are in their old-immediate the work of these two men st. Paul's run column would show up quite a little stronger.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Saints play the fastest kind of a game in the field. Whey they come in with the stick they will be hard to head. It looked bad for McGill in the fourth inning. Three singles in rapid succession will take the heart out of almost anyone, but it did not seem to bother Willie, for he allowed nothing that looked like a hit for the rest of the game.

Itiliard did not get in with the stick work yesterday, but his fielding was of the gill-edged kind. He sent the ball in from deep center in the eighth as straight as an arrow and fast enough to make a double play possible. He covers a lot of territory. DIAMOND DUST.

Some one cheated the Saints out of a hit in presenting Perry Werden with a lot of flowers. It disconcerted the old man and he proved an easy victim for McNeeley the first time up. After that the Denver man's curves were like apple pie to him. It must, therefore, be concluded that some one unintentionally chested us out of another hit.

cheated us out of another hit.

The only error gathered in by the Saints was made by Crooks and it came in the very first inning. The "king" smiled a little and vowed to be good after that. And he was, nothing more 57t away from him. Crooks looks to be in fine form and is playing just as good ball as any one on the team. He was given the glad hand in great shape when he came up to bat in the first inning.

The St Paul infield game on the first inning.

Leewe, of the Denver team, plays baseball all the time. He is one of the fastest infielders in the business, and he has a side martner in Mohler who is all right. The management of the St. Paul base-ball club is bidding for public favor and have assured the public that its comfort will be looked after at all times. An ovation was given each member of the home team as he came to bat for the first time. The old and familiar faces of Crooks, Dillard, Werden and McGill called for the heartiest kind of a hand and the applause that was handed out to Perry was almost deafending. Some of his friends also presented him with several huge bunches of American Beauties, together with some other things. The other things made Perry a bit suspicious and he delayed opening his gifts until he reached the club house. Ryan, Brain and the others were all given a royal welcome.

There were familiar faces among the Denver men, too. Lewee, who formerly covered short field for Milwaukee, is, in the same position for Denver, and Preston, who at one time played in the sun field for Comiskey, is in Denver's left field.

The Saints took the field in the opening limning. Radeliffe was the first man up for the visitors and he proved an easy victim for McGill's benders. Mohler sentan easy grounder to Crooks, but the "king" was nervous and let it get away, giving Mohler a life. Hickey placed a little fly just back of McGill and scored the first safe hit. "Rabbit" McHale started the hostil'tics in behalf of the Millionaires in the opening game on the Minneapolis grounds. The first ball pitched was a under the new rules counted as a strike.

Then Mac got busy, and in less time than it takes to tell it he had the tall two bases on the drive. It was a good starter for the visitors. But the game was young at this stage, and the event caused no uneasiness among the howling second, while Crooks crossed the plate for the first run of the season. Parker tried hard to lift the ball over the cente field fence, but he could not get it out of Brown's reach and made the third out with Dillard and Brain on bases.

The Saints added one more tally in the second on errors by Sullivan and Mohler and a safe hit by Holmes. Dillard made the third and final run for St. Paul in the third inning. Pat drew a base on balls, went to third on Werden's lift hind scored on a short hit to Mohler, who retired Werden at second on the play.

Denver drew blanks until the fourth linning when three singles in succession, by Bradley, Leewe and Preston, sent Bradley across the plate. It looked, in kin inning, as though the appointed time had come, but Leewe was nipped at the plate and then McGill steadied down and struck out Brown and McNeeley. After his inning Denver never had a look-in the game. In the last five innings McGill was invincible. Not another hit or anything that looked like a hit was secured, and but three men faced him in each inning. Attendance, 3,00. The score:

Miller's half, and Cates placed a neat single back of the short field. Belden, hewever, fanned.

King fielded Hollingsworth's grass cutter to first, and Tannehill took a fly from Gaston's bat in the preliminaries of the third. McHale mude his second double of the game with a corking drive to left. Huler wound up the exercise with a mean foul to the left field, which was neatly trapped by Belden. In the Miller's half McCreedie transacted a little business with Mr. Gaston, and when the deal was consumrated was perched on second. It was a pretty two-bagger, and was the naking of the first run of the game, as Tannehill was nipped to the plate after Congalton and Brashear had been retired, lined out a sure single, scoring the clongated guardian of the right garden. Tannehill was nipped trying to steal second, retiring the side. Quick work in the infield retired the visitors in order in the fourth, and when the locals took their turn Mr. Gaston deled out a pair of free tickets. After a mix-up in the infield, in which Donahue drew an error by a bad throw to second, and a fielder's choice, Belden came to the frent with an opportune single, scoring King in the second run of the certest.

It was one, two, three in the visitor's haif of the fifth. The Miller's pushed a man around to third in the last half of the round, but accomplished nothing in the way of runs in spite of the fact that two hits, an error and a steal occurred in the round.

The Millionaires filled the bases in the sixth, but all died. Singles by King and Klienow counted for naught in the Miller's half.

A single, a scraich hit and a secution

Klienow counted for naught in the Miller's half.

A single, a scraich bit and a sacrifice followed by a drive for a base, netted two runs for the visitor's in the seventh, tieing the score. But the Miller's went to the front again in their half, tallying once, through the aid of Brashear's single, Donahue's error and Belden's handy single. The visitor's egain tried the score in the eighth on two eingles and an out to the center field. But when the Miller's were through with the round, another score was added to the board, putting them one to the good.

The Miller's met their Waterloo in the minth, however. Four singles in succession netted the visitor's two runs, putting them ahead by one tally. McCredie tried hard when he epened the last half of the ninth and lammed out a neat single driving the fans wild. There was a spell of loud and embar assing rocting for the next few minutes, but Gaston refused to he rattled. Two men drew bases after this, but resulted in no damage.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Washington today won the game from Philadelphia by great stick work in the ninth. When the home team went to the bat for the last time the visitors were one run in the lead, but Foster's home run tied the score and Coughlin cinched the victory by sending the ball over the fence. Coughlin's hit would have been a home run, scoring three men had it not been that one was sufficient. The crewd went wild with enthusiasm and overflowed ento the field, carrying Foster and Coughlin off on their shoulders. Score:

GLOBE CYCLING EDITOR STARTS ON THREE-HUNDRED-MILE RUN

CHASES NORTHFIELD COURSE

Incidental to His Establishing Triple Century Mark, He Will Attempt to Break Double Century Record.

At precisely 3 o'clock this morning James McIlrath, cycling editor of the Globe, left Rice park on one of the most sensational rides ever attempted in the state of Minnesota. Mr. McIlrath, who has for several years past been regarded as one of the hardiest of the North Star wheelmen and who holds several long-distance records, will attempt to establish a triple century record over to establish a triple century record over the Northfield course. Incidentally he will endeavor to also lower the double century record, which now stands at eighteen hours and fourteen minutes, eighteen hours and fourteen minutes, and is held at present by W. A. Powers, of this city.

Wheelmen who have been over the Northfield course do not need to be told that it is one of the hardest in the country. There are at least a half dozen sharp hills, one of them nearly a mile in length, and the majority of the level stretches are sandy. The last three miles of the course of the Northfield end are over a macadamized road which is almost always in good condition. The other forty-seven miles, however, are other forty-seven miles, however, are made up of country roads which are none too good at the best and are likely to be in poor condition at this time of the year.

McIlrath was in prime condition when he showed up at the park this mounter.

he showed up at the park this morning. He has been training more or less ever since the snow left the ground and is to see him start and to wish him suc cess. Mr. McIlrath will be looked after by Tom Bird, and the pace will be fur-nished by the best Twin City riders. He Decision in Injunction Suit Against Lajoie and Others.

Lajole and Others.

PHILADFLPHHA, May 17.—Injunction proceedings begun by the Philadelphia National League Paschail club to enjoin Second Baseman Lajole and Pitchers Bernhard and Frazer from playing baseball with the iccal American League club, and to enjoin the manager of that club from engaging the players, were dismissed by the judges of the common pleas court today. The judges say the contract lacks mutuality. The court says if the injunction was granted, Lajole's service would be subject to the Philadelphia Bareball club for sill time, while, if the club cared to do so, it could dispense with him on ten days' notice.

Britain's Champion Woman Golfer, LONDON, May 17.—Miss M. A. Graham, of the Hoylake club, defeated Miss Adalr in the final round of the woman's golf championship games at Aberdovy, Wales, today, by three up and two to play. She thus becomes champion, Miss Graham's driving and putting were splendid,
