

DERICKS FOR THE WORLD

ST. PAUL MANUFACTURERS HAVE A HAND IN BUILDING TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILROAD

SUPPLIES SENT TO THE MIKADO

Few Sections of the Globe Where Products of the Industries of St. Paul Do Not Go.

Products of the many and varied industries of St. Paul are, of course, to be found in all the civilized world, but it is doubtful whether any of them can be found in such remote and inaccessible regions as the hoists and derricks made in this city have penetrated. It will be news to most of the people living in this city to learn that derricks made in St. Paul are being used on construction work for the Trans-Siberian railroad. Ten of moderate power were sold to Russian contractors for this purpose a few months ago, and previous to this time two or three had been purchased for purposes of experiment. They were found to be far more satisfactory than the cumbersome appliances used there for railroad work and bridge work, and a further supply was obtained.

Not only the Russians, but also the progressive little Japanese have come to St. Paul for derricks, but the last six or seven years quite a number have been sent to the land of the Mikado. These too, for the most part, are being used on heavy bridge work, but less than a year ago the government purchased two to be used in the building of an imperial palace at Tokio. This palace is not the one in which the Mikado resides, but one which is destined for the housing of distinguished guests of the empire. Previous to the employment of the derricks the Japanese knew little of the immense saving of time and labor which their use renders possible, and doubtless the diminutive coolies viewed with astonishment the ease with which the strange looking machines performed the work that had been used to seeing done by sheer force of the muscular power of a horde of laborers, or by the employment of antiquated and out of date machines of English manufacture.

The greatest foreign market for St. Paul derricks is not, however, in either of these two countries, but in Norway and Sweden, almost a tenth of the output of the works going that way. One of the officers of the company, in discussing the foreign business of his house, said that the amount of American machinery purchased by European countries constituted a fair index of their intelligence and progressiveness. Just at present it appears that the northern countries are the ones entitled to the palm by this test, and the two Scandinavian kingdoms are far ahead of their neighbors in this respect. Practically no machinery of American manufacture goes to any of the Mediterranean countries, and particularly is this true of Spain and Portugal, and these are the two which are further behind, Germany and Great Britain do not come into the comparison at all, for in both of these countries of modern design is made and exported.

Statistics furnished by American consuls in all parts of Europe demonstrate that in spite of the distance of the market to them, the American manufacturers are every year cutting into English and German territory and are underselling them on their home grounds.

I WEIGH 173 LBS. FORMER WEIGHT 135 " GAIN 40 LBS.

There are people who say that the benefit derived from the use of put-up medicines is imaginary. It is not the case with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. A woman may imagine she's weak, or may fancy she's sick, but her imagination can't add forty pounds to her weight. The positive proof of the curative power of "Favorite Prescription" is found in the restoration of health which is recorded in face and form, of strength which can be tested, and weight which can be registered in pounds and ounces.

The general health of women is so intimately connected with the local health of the womanly organs that when these are diseased the whole body suffers loss. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, stops weakening drains, leads inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I am very glad to let other poor sufferers know what Dr. Pierce's medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Beechwood, Norfolk Co., Mass. (Box 7). "I know I wrote to you last summer. I read what your medicine had done for other people, so thought I would try it, and I found it was blessing to me and my family. I began to use and took six bottles of your medicine, and three weeks of pellets. I took your medicine a year when I had a ten-pound girl. I had the easiest time I ever had with any of my three children. I have been very well since I took your medicine. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of 'Pellets.' I had no appetite and could not eat much without it distressing me. I took your 'Favorite Prescription' and I weighed 135 pounds. Now I weigh 175."

GRAPES TO BRASSO TRADE

ST. PAUL IS RAPIDLY ADVANCING AS A CIGAR MANUFACTURING CENTER

ACTIVE DISTRIBUTING POINT

Supplies Vast Western Territory With Raw Material, as Well as Manufactured Goods.

Among the list of rapidly growing industries in this city none has of late years developed so quickly as that of leaf tobacco and cigar making. Five years ago the amount of cigars smoked between the Great Lakes and the north Pacific coast were made in Chicago, and the local wholesale leaf business was comparatively insignificant. Now Chicago has been forced out of the territory between Milwaukee and the coast and St. Paul products have taken their place. A large majority of the cigar houses in all this territory get their raw material from St. Paul leaf firms.

The phenomenal growth of this city as a tobacco distributing center is shown by the fact that so far this year there has been imported into this city an amount of leaf tobacco equal to one-third of the entire quantity imported into Chicago last year. Chicago is one of the largest tobacco centers in the United States, and the fact that St. Paul imports are gaining rapidly on those of the Windy city indicates how rapidly the local business is growing.

At the two largest factories in the city last year nearly 12,000,000 cigars were made, 6,000,000 in one and 5,000,000 in the other. The total number of cigars made in these and other city factories during the last twelve months will approximate 20,000,000. The number of cigar-makers employed in St. Paul is about 500, and altogether about a thousand persons derive their living from the wholesale tobacco business.

In Minnesota there are factories in almost every town of over 800 inhabitants, and all of these buy their supplies in St. Paul.

A committee was appointed to wait upon Mr. Neumann, and unless he was willing to sign the scale, the waiters of the union will refuse to work longer. Mr. Neumann, it was stated, is the only employer, whose waiters are members of the union, who has thus far positively refused to sign the scale.

EVIDENCE OF LOOSENESS IS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Another incident in relation to the loose way in which the county auditor's office has been conducted was brought to light yesterday when the petition of the London & Northwest American Mortgage company, to have a certain personal tax judgment against it for $1,800 vacated and set aside, was heard before Judge Bunn at special term yesterday. When the county brought the action against the company to secure payment on its 1899 personal tax last year, the title of the case read as follows: "A. H. Aron, Treasurer Ramsey County, vs. The London, N. W. Mgt., H. W. Yarely, attorney." A judgment was secured, and yesterday the attorney for the company appeared in court and asked to have the judgment vacated. His prayer was granted by Judge Bunn.

PUTS THE "GINGER" IN.

The Kind of Food Used by Athletes. A former college athlete, one of the long distance runners, began to lose his power of endurance. His experience made perfect, and my weight increased. "While I was in training on the track athletic team, my daily 'jogs' became a task until after I was put on Grape-Nuts food for two weeks I felt like a new man. My digestion was perfect, nerves steady and I was full of energy."

"The Grape-Nuts food put me in perfect condition and gave me my 'ginger.' Not only was my physical condition made perfect, and my weight increased, but my mind was made clear and vigorous so that I could get out my studies in about half the time formerly required. Now most of the University men use Grape-Nuts, for they have learned its value, but I think my testimony will not be amiss and may perhaps help some one to learn how the best product is then carefully and scientifically prepared to see to make it easy of digestion. The physical and mental results are so apparent after two or three weeks' use as to produce a profound impression. The Food can be secured at any first class grocery store."

FAMILY QUARRELS AHEAD

EMMA AND WILLIAM BAKER CAN NOT LIVE HAPPILY TOGETHER

CHARGES MADE AND DENIED

Wife Alleges Cruelty and Husband Contends She Deserted His Bed and Board—Both Want Children.

Judge Lewis in the district court at special term yesterday heard testimony in the divorce case of Emma Baker against William Baker. The matter came up on an application of the plaintiff for the custody of the two children, aged 12 and 10, and for $40 per month alimony during the pendency of this suit. The application was warmly contested by Mr. Baker, through his attorney, J. M. Hawthorne, while on the other hand, A. G. Briggs was just as active in arguing the case of the plaintiff. After hearing to the arguments and the reading of several affidavits by Mr. Hawthorne, Judge Lewis took the matter of attorneys' fees and alimony under consideration and issued an order giving the custody of the children to the defendant while the suit is pending.

They were married in St. Paul on Oct. 1, 1899, and her maiden name was Emma Young. The plaintiff is twenty-nine years old and the defendant thirty-four. In her complaint she charges cruel and inhuman treatment and cites an instance where she alleges that he beat and choked her.

On the other hand, in the answer and affidavits filed by Mr. Baker, he alleges that, at one time, she went to Spokane, Wash., and remained away for over seven months. While she was away he kept the children with their grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Baker, at 621 St. Peter street, and she alleges that she was frequently helped by her in her household duties. Another serious charge that he makes against the plaintiff is that she frequently used to swear at the children and would unmercifully beat them.

In arguing the case yesterday Attorney Hawthorne, for the defendant, contended that the plaintiff was not entitled to get alimony or attorney's fees pending the litigation on the ground that she had deserted him, and that the defendant cannot be compelled to support his wife when she has left his bed and board against his wishes.

The plaintiff is suing for a separation, not an absolute divorce.

Objected to Reduced Fees. Judge Otis in the district court at a special term yesterday took under advisement the appeal on the part of the St. Paul Trust company from an order of the probate court reducing its fees as executor of the Norman W. Kittson es-

TWO SETS OF OFFICERS

Central Montana Mines Company Case Again Postponed.

The mandamus proceedings, brought to compel George M. Nelson to turn over all records and other property of the Central Montana Mines company, were today postponed in the district court yesterday morning, owing to the inability of the petitioners to secure service on Mr. Nelson, who is still out of the state. Mr. Nelson claims to be secretary of the company, which has a capital of $600,000, and denies the legality of his successor's election.

The company at present has two sets of officers who are fighting each other for its control.

SUIT AGAINST BAHE FAILS

Garnishment Proceedings Dismissed by Judge Bunn.

Judge Bunn in the district court at special term yesterday dismissed the garnishment in the case of John H. Kane against Lieut. Henry Bahe, of the police department. Kane sued a judgment against Bahe for a false arrest and returned garnishment proceedings to satisfy the debt.

The matter came up before Judge Bunn yesterday on an application of the city attorney to be released as garnishee on the ground that the law under which the municipal company was organized had expired after the judgment was secured.

Judgment Against Odehays Young. Judge Jaggard in the district court yesterday granted a judgment in favor of the city against the Odehays Packing company for $2,500 on account of last year's personal property tax. The company made a return of $1,000, which was arbitrarily raised to $2,500. The decision of the court is in the nature of a compromise.

Jury Could Not Agree. The jury in the personal injury case of Edward P. Corrigan against the Great Northern Railway company was unable to agree and was accordingly discharged by Judge Kelly yesterday, after being out all night. Would Like to Measure the Car. A unique law point came up before Judge Otis at a special term yesterday during the hearing in the case of Henry M. Gray, an administrator of the estate of Charles H. Gray, deceased, against the city of Minneapolis for an action to recover $3,000 damages for an accidental death. The matter came up on an order to show cause why an order should not be made directing the defendant to allow the plaintiff and his attorneys to inspect and measure the car and trailer which ran over and killed the deceased and to fix a time and place for the same. The matter was taken under advisement by the court.

Receiver's Allowance is $400. The case of L. N. Scott against the Twin City Jockey club was up before Judge Bunn yesterday on a petition of the receiver for allowances for himself and his attorney. Mr. Scott, the receiver, appraised his services at $1,500, but Judge Bunn cut this down to $400. The attorney, Messrs. Severance & Kellogg, were allowed $150.

That he had waged the night before $50 to $100 with a well known attorney that he would not be convicted, but before he had heard the dismal tidings Mr. Briggs asked to be let off from the conditions of the bet, and his money returned to him by the stakeholder.

There will be sentence in this case until all the cases against this defendant have been tried, when sentence will be pronounced in all the cases.

The maximum penalty for the offense of which Briggs stands convicted is a six months imprisonment in the workhouse or county jail, or a fine of $50, or both.

SWEDISH BAPTISTS ADOPT SOME STRONG RESOLUTIONS

In the first place the members pledged themselves to put vigorous efforts to release the community from the influence of the most terrible powers of the liquor traffic.
