

GLOBE'S TELEPHONE CALLS.

THE NORTHWESTERN. Business Office 1065 Main Editorial Rooms 78 Main Composing Room 1031 Main MISSISSIPPI VALLEY. Business Office 1065 Editorial Rooms 78

The St. Paul Globe

OFFICIAL PAPER, CITY OF ST. PAUL.

THE GLOBE CO., PUBLISHERS.

Entered at Postoffice at St. Paul, Minn., as Second-Class Matter.

CITY SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Table with 3 columns: By Carrier, 1 mo, 6 mos, 12 mos. Rates for Daily only, Daily and Sunday, Sunday only.

COUNTRY SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Table with 3 columns: By Mail, 1 mo, 6 mos, 12 mos. Rates for Daily only, Daily and Sunday, Sunday only.

BRANCH OFFICES.

New York, 10 Spruce St., Chas. H. Eddy in Charge. Chicago, No. 87 Washington St., Williams & Lawrence in Charge.

THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1901.

A FIVE-CENT FARE.

In urban and suburban life one of the great developments of the past few years has been the greatly added facilities for cheap and speedy transportation through the use of the trolley. Here in St. Paul we have not made as great advances in that direction as have been realized in communities of less population.

One of the urgent needs of the city in this behalf is the establishment of improved passenger traffic between the heart of the city and South St. Paul and vicinity. The Great Western Railway company has for years served the public well through its motor service between Laver Grove and the city.

The managers of the street railway company have been urging on local authorities the extension to them of a franchise for the establishment of a suburban car service to and from South St. Paul.

This problem of better service between South St. Paul and vicinity and the city is forcing itself steadily on the public attention. It is on its face far from being a difficult one.

The steam railway has already supplied the great need of the public; and with certain improvements would meet all the requirements of the situation.

A 5-cent fare is a first requirement. No thought should be entertained of giving a franchise to any corporation which is not willing to carry passengers at 5 cents a head.

The people immediately interested would probably be glad to have the Great Western authorities take this matter up seriously and provide them with added trains and establish a uniform 5-cent rate.

THE CRETIN CELEBRATION.

The catholics, not only of St. Paul but of the entire Northwest, have just cause for pride in the wonderful public demonstration made in this city yesterday.

It is of course quite natural that those engaged in the immediate field of Bishop Cretin's labors should regard with much satisfaction the mighty results which have flowed from those labors.

Fifty years is but an hour's space in the history of any people. Yet here in St. Paul have witnessed in that brief space results the like of which have not been produced in centuries before.

Gen. Sickles is ordinarily an irascible man. He is gifted with the gift of plain speaking. They say that he is apt to forget antecedent statements, and to insist on his present opinions without regard to any change which time or circumstances may have wrought in them.

The Catholic church might be said to have had no recognition among Americans at the close of the War of the Revolution.

On the other hand, Pension Commissioner Henry Clay Evans is conceded to be a careful and conscientious official, the worst charge against him being a disposition to give the pension claimant the worst of it, if he gets a reasonable chance.

It is a pretty mess as it stands. It is a fight of politicians. Evans at the best has to do with pensions not yet granted. His administration of the office does not materially affect the essential principles which underlie the pension laws.

Since there is no political campaign in sight, and the promises of the national committee are not impossible of performance in the future, when the pressure can be made much greater than it can in an "off" year, it might be well if Gen. Sickles and his friends would accept the situation as it stands.

The state drainage commission has at its disposal $25,000 for drainage purposes this year. Various parts of the state are clamoring for attention and for a part of the money to be expended in ditch digging in their vicinity.

A report comes from England that Christian Science is making great headway among the aristocracy and has invaded even the royal circles. If this craze will only spread to the other courts of Europe it will save the anarchists a great deal of trouble.

The ministers at Pekin are worse than a peit jury when it comes to agreeing on the simplest matters of detail. Now they are hopelessly tangled up over the kinds of bonds to be issued to pay the indemnity and the rate of interest they shall bear.

Phillips, the man who cornered corn and thereby gained the title of corn king, is himself being cornered by a customer who demands an account of the inside workings of that great corn deal.

Although Uncle Sam is anxious to forget the Maine, there are others who insist on remembering it—especially those having claims against Spain on account of the supposed explosion. It will be remembered that the Maine was one of the causes for armed intervention, insisting that a government that was unable to protect neutral vessels in her harbors had forfeited all claim to sovereignty.

It is reported that Secretary Wilson is jubilant over the prospects of this country producing enough beet sugar to supply the home demand. He claims that the beet industry will enrich the farmers who go into it.

What does Gen. Gomez want? He is here on some kind of a mission, no one knows what. It was rumored that his visit had something to do with the old Cuban bonds.

Gen. Sickles is ordinarily an irascible man. He is gifted with the gift of plain speaking. They say that he is apt to forget antecedent statements, and to insist on his present opinions without regard to any change which time or circumstances may have wrought in them.

Gen. Sickles is ordinarily an irascible man. He is gifted with the gift of plain speaking. They say that he is apt to forget antecedent statements, and to insist on his present opinions without regard to any change which time or circumstances may have wrought in them.

On the other hand, Pension Commissioner Henry Clay Evans is conceded to be a careful and conscientious official, the worst charge against him being a disposition to give the pension claimant the worst of it, if he gets a reasonable chance.

It is a pretty mess as it stands. It is a fight of politicians. Evans at the best has to do with pensions not yet granted. His administration of the office does not materially affect the essential principles which underlie the pension laws.

Since there is no political campaign in sight, and the promises of the national committee are not impossible of performance in the future, when the pressure can be made much greater than it can in an "off" year, it might be well if Gen. Sickles and his friends would accept the situation as it stands.

The state drainage commission has at its disposal $25,000 for drainage purposes this year. Various parts of the state are clamoring for attention and for a part of the money to be expended in ditch digging in their vicinity.

A report comes from England that Christian Science is making great headway among the aristocracy and has invaded even the royal circles. If this craze will only spread to the other courts of Europe it will save the anarchists a great deal of trouble.

The ministers at Pekin are worse than a peit jury when it comes to agreeing on the simplest matters of detail. Now they are hopelessly tangled up over the kinds of bonds to be issued to pay the indemnity and the rate of interest they shall bear.

Phillips, the man who cornered corn and thereby gained the title of corn king, is himself being cornered by a customer who demands an account of the inside workings of that great corn deal.

Although Uncle Sam is anxious to forget the Maine, there are others who insist on remembering it—especially those having claims against Spain on account of the supposed explosion. It will be remembered that the Maine was one of the causes for armed intervention, insisting that a government that was unable to protect neutral vessels in her harbors had forfeited all claim to sovereignty.

It is reported that Secretary Wilson is jubilant over the prospects of this country producing enough beet sugar to supply the home demand. He claims that the beet industry will enrich the farmers who go into it.

What does Gen. Gomez want? He is here on some kind of a mission, no one knows what. It was rumored that his visit had something to do with the old Cuban bonds.

Gen. Sickles is ordinarily an irascible man. He is gifted with the gift of plain speaking. They say that he is apt to forget antecedent statements, and to insist on his present opinions without regard to any change which time or circumstances may have wrought in them.

Gen. Sickles is ordinarily an irascible man. He is gifted with the gift of plain speaking. They say that he is apt to forget antecedent statements, and to insist on his present opinions without regard to any change which time or circumstances may have wrought in them.

Gen. Sickles is ordinarily an irascible man. He is gifted with the gift of plain speaking. They say that he is apt to forget antecedent statements, and to insist on his present opinions without regard to any change which time or circumstances may have wrought in them.

AT THE THEATERS.

The Criterion Stock company, at the Metropolitan Opera House this week is drawing crowds in spite of the hot weather. The advance sale for the special matinee this afternoon is very large, and the indications are that the house will be filled for this performance.

Tonight (Friday) the Minnesota State band will be heard at Como park. There are eight numbers on the programme as follows: March—"Lorraine" Ganne Overture—"Barber of Seville" Rossini Trombone Solo—"Concerto" Novakovsky Hostess—And does your mother allow you to have two pieces of pie when you are at home, Willie? Willie (who has asked for the second piece)—No, ma'am.

Hostess—Well, do you think she would like you to have two pieces here? Willie (confidentially)—Oh, she wouldn't care. This isn't her pie, you know.

Dolly is a firm believer in the all-wise and all-seeing power of her Creator, but she is also a most devoted mother to a family of six boys and a girl and waxes homesick for Sunday morning nurse coming home from church and Sunday school.

A little girl went out to play one day in the fresh snow, and when she came home her mother said to her: "What did you do today, my dear?" "I prayed the snow prayer, mama, that I should see Sunday school."

"Why, Johnnie! What in the world do you want to be a newsboy for?" "Sis! I can jump on and off the 'lectric cars."

A little girl went out to play one day in the fresh snow, and when she came home her mother said to her: "What did you do today, my dear?" "I prayed the snow prayer, mama, that I should see Sunday school."

"Why, Johnnie! What in the world do you want to be a newsboy for?" "Sis! I can jump on and off the 'lectric cars."

A little girl went out to play one day in the fresh snow, and when she came home her mother said to her: "What did you do today, my dear?" "I prayed the snow prayer, mama, that I should see Sunday school."

"Why, Johnnie! What in the world do you want to be a newsboy for?" "Sis! I can jump on and off the 'lectric cars."

A little girl went out to play one day in the fresh snow, and when she came home her mother said to her: "What did you do today, my dear?" "I prayed the snow prayer, mama, that I should see Sunday school."

"Why, Johnnie! What in the world do you want to be a newsboy for?" "Sis! I can jump on and off the 'lectric cars."

POLITICS OF THE STATE

The Robert G. Evans boom for governor, launched by Minneapolis politicians, is not yet dead. It is somewhat singular that of the state papers and politicians who supported Mr. Evans during the senatorial contest last winter, many of the most influential are vehemently opposing the idea of running him as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

But Minneapolis, or any other section of the state, is not so much interested in bringing out a successful candidate for governor next time, since the gang has decreed that Gov. Van Sant must be re-nominated. The Winona Herald has no objection to saying that Van Sant deserves a re-nomination, since the governor and the editor of the Herald live in the same neighborhood, and his name is mentioned by the Winona Herald's special reporter.

The Minneapolis Journal is held responsible by the country for the Evans boom. All sorts of angry words are being spent on that paper for daring to say that Gov. Van Sant cannot be re-elected. The Winona Herald, on the other hand, is the organizer of an anti-Evans chorus and says of course the governor can be re-elected if 30,000 or 40,000 of his partisans begin knocking him eighteen months before the election.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

Brooklyn Eagle. There lives in Chicago a charming young woman who is the proud possessor of two dogs. This in itself, it may be conceded, is hardly worthy of comment.

THE LEADERSHIP OF AMERICA.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

No competent observer can doubt that in wealth, manufactures, material progress of all kinds, the United States, in a very few years, must hold the first place in the world.

GLOBE'S CIRCULATION

FOR JUNE. C. G. Brandhorst, assistant superintendent of circulation of the St. Paul Globe, bearing daily sworn depositions, says that the actual circulation of the St. Paul Globe for the month of June, 1901, was as follows: Total for the month . 572,250 Average per day 19,975

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of June, 1901. H. P. PORTER, Notary Public, Ramsey Co., Minn. (Notarial Seal.)

FURTHER PROOF IS READY. The Globe invites anyone and every one interested to, at any time, make a full scrutiny of its circulation lists and records and to visit its press and mailing departments to check and keep tab on the number of papers printed and the disposition made of the same.

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"

GOVERNOR AS ICEMAN. A prominent New York city Republican who went to Newburg to see Gov. Odell on Friday found him delivering tea in one of his father's ice wagons. The visitor was turning from one of the streets leading up the steep hill from the river. He was just passing the Palentine hotel when a cheery voice sang out: "Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!"