

AGENT IS ARRESTED

J. W. SMILEY DID BUSINESS FOR UNLICENSED INSURANCE COMPANY

IS IN JAIL AT FERGUS FALLS

Was Employed by United States Endowment Society, of Newark, Which is Debarred From Minnesota.

Word was received by the state insurance department yesterday to the effect that J. W. Smiley had been arrested at Fergus Falls in compliance with a request of Commissioner DeLoach. It is charged against Smiley that he has been soliciting business and writing policies in the United Endowment Society of America, of Newark, N. J., which is not authorized to do business in this state and has been specifically refused a license.

The company, which was incorporated first at Newark, N. J., was first called to account by the Minnesota insurance department last winter and was then informed by the commissioner that it must qualify under the laws of this state or cease to do business here. Later the company presented an application for a license, but upon the statements presented Mr. DeLoach refused to issue one and notified the officers of the company that no more business should be done in this state. It is stated that since that time Smiley or some other agent has continued to do business at Fergus Falls and during May 15 he has written about twenty policies in that city.

WILL TRY NEW PLAN

CUT-OFFS IN FOUNTAINS TO BE REMOVED AND OTHERS SUBSTITUTED.

With a view of settling for all time to come the controversy arising over the cut-offs in the public animal drinking fountains, the water board has ordered several new valves which will be put in shortly.

The valves ordered are largely in the way of an experiment, and if they work properly, all the fountains will be fitted with them. The board when the controversy came up placed the matter in the hands of City Engineer Clausen to make the needed changes, but he has refused to have anything to do with it and now the board will try its hand.

YOUNG BOY'S THROAT CUT

CALVIN MANSFIELD MEETS PECULIAR AND PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Piece of Tin Thrown into the Air by Playmate—Inflicts a Bad Gash—Four Stitches Taken.

Calvin Mansfield, a ten-year-old boy living at 70 East Fairfield street, was the victim of a peculiar and painful accident last evening. While playing with some other boys at Fairfield avenue and Custer street, one of the boys, Walter Simpson, threw a flat piece of sharp tin into the air. The tin went up some distance and, taking a sudden curve, descended very suddenly and struck young Mansfield in the throat, inflicting a bad gash which at first seemed dangerous.

Bleeding quite freely the boy was hurried to the office of Dr. J. C. Whitacre, South Robert and Fairfield street, where he was attended. It was found that he had sustained a gash two inches long and quite deep. If the tin had struck with slightly more force the lad's jugular would probably have been severed. Four stitches were taken in the cut and the boy was later removed to his home. The physician said that the boy was in no danger.

YERKES GUEST OF SALTERS.

British Merchants' Guild Pleased Yankee Magnate in the Chair.

LONDON, July 11.—Charles T. Yerkes presided tonight at the anniversary festival of the Salters' company. Mr. Yerkes is the first American to occupy the chair upon the occasion of these anniversaries.

Mr. Yerkes contributed 600 guineas to the Royal Asylum of St. Anne, which is maintained by the Salters' company, and the 200 assembled guests cheered the chairman as he extolled the company's charity.

Referring to the South African war, Mr. Yerkes said: "The Boers are brave soldiers and resemble the early American frontiersmen, but Great Britain cannot afford railway measures. Do not pitch into them unmercifully, but into your own people who oppose the war and make them keep their mouths shut until the fight is over. Then settle your differences among yourselves."

Mr. Yerkes was cheered to the echo, and the toasts to King Edward and President McKinley provoked great applause from the assembled guests.

Joseph H. Choate, the American ambassador, sent his regrets that, owing to a previous engagement, he could not attend the Salters' company anniversary.
