WAR HAS BEEN DEVASTATING

The Colombian official newspaper in Cartagena declares that the entire province of Pachim, Venezuela, touching Colombia south of Maracabo, is in the power of the Venezuelan insurgent leader, Gen. Rangel Garibiras. It asserts also that the Venezuelan minister of war, until recently Colombian minister of war, is now on the frontier with no less than 10,000 Colombian troops, disposed in the province of Santander, and maintaining the sovereignty of Colombia there.

WAR'S HORRID FRONT.

Broad Districts of Colombia Are Scenes of Desolation. NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A dispatch to the Herald from Panama, Colombia, says: Plots and counterplots fill the air. There is war here of the most hideous kind, and strife that tears the country asunder, in which brother pits himself against brother, friend against friend and neighbor against neighbor. Fertile fields have been devastated; once thriving towns have been wiped out of existence; bands of armed men rove every highway, and traffic is practically at a standstill, while frantic women mourn their dead and hungry babes clamor for food.

WARNING TO THE BEAR

RUSSIA TOLD TO KEEP HANDS OFF IN THE BALKANS. LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Roumanian premier, M. Sturdza, recently visited Vienna, where he had long conferences with Count Coluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, on the situation in the Balkans. He also conferred with Gen. von Beck, chief of the Austro-Hungarian general staff. Immediately after this visit articles appeared in the semi-official Hungarian papers—articles believed in some quarters to be inspired by Count Gologowski—warmly protesting against Russia's intrigues in the Balkans. These protests were based on rumors that Russia was massing troops on the Roumanian frontier and sending torpedo boats into the Kila, an arm of the Danube, and she faithfully warned Russia that, unless she withdrew her troops, Austria "will resume her liberty of action." The idea underlying this warning appears to be that Russia, having attained her objects in Eastern Asia, is now ready to pursue similar aims in the Balkans. The paper has gone so far as to describe the agreement of 1887 as "an instrument to keep Austria quiet while Russia is engaged in Manchuria."

SEARCH FOR BODIES.

Although searchers have been dragging the river since yesterday afternoon they have been unable to find any more bodies. That there are more victims in the river is the firm belief of the authorities, and their failure to find additional dead is supposed to be due to the strong current in the river at the point, where the explosion occurred.

UNITED MINE WORKERS WANT WRITTEN AGREEMENTS

Hazleton Convention Adopts Resolutions to Effect That the Operators Have Not Lived Up to Their Promises. HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 29.—With the adoption of the report of the committee on resolutions the United Mine Workers this afternoon practically finished their work. The convention will adjourn at noon tomorrow. The resolutions recommend written instead of verbal agreements with all the coal companies, strict compliance with the present contract, continuation of the card inspection system as now conducted and instruct President Mitchell and the district presidents to confer with the coal companies regarding card inspection and violation of agreements, and to arrange for a joint conference. The officers are vested with power to declare a strike if contracts now in force are not lived up to. The resolutions call attention to the advantage resulting to both miners and operators by a written contract covering the wage rate for a stated period and specifying the conditions of labor. The committee alleges that instead of agreeing to the new contract, the operators intend the various companies to issue notices of an indefinite character. In many instances, the resolutions state, written notices posted and verbal agreements made by superintendents which committees have been violated under various pretexts. Employees who derived the benefit of the 19 per cent increase have, it is claimed, been discharged and new men placed in their positions at the old wages. The committee states in the resolutions that if the miners are required to live up to their agreement then the coal companies should do the same instead of seeking to destroy the mine workers organization by intimidating the men. Hereafter the miners will insist upon written agreements which shall be signed in joint convention before the present contract expires and they will also insist upon the present working card being continued until the question of a general contract is decided upon at the next national convention.

THEY WANT CONTRACTS

Many of the passengers who escaped injury maintain that the City of Trenton, which was late when she left the wharf, was run by a drunken driver, and that if this had not been the case the accident would not have happened. This is partly borne out by a statement said to have been made by Assistant Engineer John D. Chew, Chief of the United States boiler department and the United States boiler inspectors for this district who inspect each carry on an independent investigation. But little can be known until the survivors have been examined and a careful inspection of the steamer shall have been made.

MORE VICTIMS

NINE KNOWN TO BE DEAD AS RESULT OF CITY OF TRENTON ACCIDENT MANY MORE ARE MISSING Probable the Delaware River Holds Corpses of Some or All of the Nineteen Unaccounted For.

CLAIMED BOAT WAS RACING

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—It developed today that the result of the explosion of the boiler on the steamer City of Trenton, while on her way up the Delaware river from this city to Trenton, N. J., yesterday afternoon, was more appalling than first supposed. Nine persons are known positively to be dead; at least nineteen are missing, most of whom are believed to have been on the steamer, and two of the injured still in the hospital will probably die.

The identified dead: WILLIAM NELSON, aged sixty-seven years, Philadelphia, who was killed on the steamer; JAMES M'CORMICK, twenty-three years, Wilmington, Del., fireman; ELIZABETH REZEN, twenty-one years, Philadelphia; ARTHUR T. LANISING, fourteen years, Trenton, N. J.; WILLIAM H. KEEN, Philadelphia; JESSIE STRATTON, Trenton, died in hospital. In addition to these there are two charred bodies, believed to be those of females, in the morgue. The list of missing, which will doubtless add many to the death roll, is as follows: Irene Wild, aged sixteen years; Clara Wild, thirteen; Dora Wild, nine; three sisters, Mrs. John Matthews, Philadelphia; the steamer; Mrs. William H. Keen; John D. Chew, Chief of the United States boiler; Augustus Adams, assistant engineer; Mott Merkle, fireman, Philadelphia; Anna Herr, aged sixteen; Philadelphia; Mrs. John Matthews, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albert, Philadelphia; Mrs. Helen Ballantine, Philadelphia; Mrs. Helen Brown, Philadelphia; Edith Stokes, Trenton, N. J.; Henry Johnson, Huleville, Pa.; Elizabeth Gillison, twenty-three years, Philadelphia.
