

SCHELEY COURT IS AT HIS POST

FIRST DAY OF THE INQUIRY INTO CONDUCT OF CUBAN NAVAL CAMPAIGN

THE COURT IS BACKED DOWN

On Objection by Applicant's Counsel to Any Statement of Opinion by Witnesses.

FACTS ONLY ARE WANTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Schley court of inquiry reconvened today and before adjournment examined court witnesses. The most important incident of the day was the decision of the court in withdrawing a question put by the court itself, asking a witness to give his opinion concerning a point under controversy. The witness was Rear Admiral Higginson, who participated in the Santiago campaign as captain of the battleship Massachusetts.

THE PROCEEDINGS IN DETAIL. After an intermission of eight days the Schley court of inquiry resumed its sittings at 11 o'clock today. The court sat in the grand jury room. Rear Admiral Ramsay occupied the seat which on the first day of the session, was filled by Rear Admiral Schley. All three members of the court were in service uniform, and the morning air was cold enough to make their closely buttoned coats appear comfortable. Mrs. Dewey accompanied her husband and remained a short time. The general attendance was not large.

The court was called to order by a simple word from Admiral Dewey. The first order of business was the reading by Judge Advocate Lemly of the order of the navy department appointing Rear Admiral Ramsay to clear the court in place of Rear Admiral Howison, and when this was accomplished Capt. Lemly turned to Admiral Schley and asked him, as he did in the previous session, whether he had any objection to the court proceeding as it was constituted. He answered: "I have not."

The judge advocate then swore the members of the court collectively and was then sworn in as judge advocate. The court then retired for consultation. The withdrawal was for the purpose of discussing the methods of procedure and was at the instance of Judge Advocate Lemly. He suggested that it was usual on such occasions to clear the court room, but said that the court could withdraw in lieu of this proceeding if the court so desired. Admiral Dewey announced that the court would proceed in the latter course. Before the withdrawal, a letter from Admiral Schley to the navy department requesting to be supplied with papers bearing upon the case, and the department's reply granting the request was read.

At 11:25 the court returned from its recess. Judge Advocate Lemly, addressing Admiral Schley as "the applicant," asked if he had any suggestions to make as to the method of proceeding, whether he had something to offer or desired that he be relieved of the duty. The admiral responded with a nod of the head and a move of the hand, "go ahead."

Mr. Lemly then presented the report of the bureau of navigation for 1898, a hydrographic chart of the West Indies and adjacent seas and other charts. He stated explicitly that they were introduced, not as testimony, but as books of reference.

"Will they preclude the introduction of original documents?" Judge Wilson asked.

"Not at all," was the reply. "On the contrary, we shall desire to introduce the original documents when opportunity offers."

Capt. Parker made objection to the hydrographic chart, as it was presented. "It is grossly incorrect," he said. "As a matter of fact, the coast line of Cuba is six miles further south and four miles further west than it should be. I have, however, withdrawn his objection when assured that the chart was not to be used as evidence."

HIGGINSON THE FIRST WITNESS. Admiral Higginson, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, was the first witness called. He gave his full name as Francis J. Higginson, and as that of rear admiral; said he now was in command of the North Atlantic squadron, that he had, as captain, commanded the battleship Massachusetts during the Spanish war, and that for a part of the time the Massachusetts had been a part of the "Flying Squadron," of which Admiral Schley had been in command. He told of joining the fleet at Newport News; of going to Key West, and then, on the 22d of May, of going to Cienfuegos, Cuba. Key West had been left on May 19, 1898, and Cienfuegos reached on the 22d.

"What was then done to secure communication with the Cuban forces on the island?" Capt. Lemly asked.

"Nothing, to my knowledge," the witness replied. "I did not see that anything was done, but I understood that information concerning the Cubans was received through Capt. McCalla. Admiral Higginson said, in response to questions, that this was later."

He also told, in reply to questions, of the presence of the collier Merrimac, and the arrival at Santiago on the evening of the 24th.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TAKES UP ROUTINE DUTIES OF HIS HIGH OFFICE

FIRST MEETING OF CABINET

Mr. Cortelyou Earnestly Requested to Retain His Position as Secretary to the President.

CONFERENCE WITH GEN. WOOD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—After a suspension of three days, as a mark of respect to the late president, the business of the government at Washington was resumed at 9 a. m. today. The train bearing President Roosevelt and the members of his cabinet, including Senator Cullum, left New York at 9:20 o'clock and fifteen minutes later the president entered the White house, and going at once to the elevator, proceeded to the cabinet room, where President McKinley was wont to do the greater part of his work. When the new chief executive reached the White house he walked briskly to the big front door, which swung wide open to receive him. He spoke pleasantly as he passed the watchmen and other employees of the mansion, and reaching his office, was joined almost immediately by Secretary Long, who did not go to Capitol to take part in the funeral ceremonies. Soon afterward Senator Cullum called to pay his respects and following him came Senator Proctor, one of the president's closest personal friends. Secretary Long informed the president of the condition of affairs in his office and was asked as to the work of the Schley court of inquiry. With Senator Cullum President Roosevelt exchanged the usual greetings and received the assurance of the hearty support of the Illinois senator. With Senator Proctor there was a similar exchange of expressions of good will. The president's former secretary, Mr. Loeb Jr., will remain with him and probably as assistant secretary. Mr. Cortelyou, at the president's earnest request, will retain his position as secretary.

At 11 o'clock all of the members of the cabinet had arrived at the White house and the president's cabinet was seated at a familiar table. President Roosevelt occupied the seat at his head for so long a time occupied by his predecessor, Mr. McKinley. The cabinet members, seated at the table without him at its head, and the gloom and solemnity which characterized the meeting was belittling of the occasion.

LONG MAY RETIRE.

Nearly all the members of the cabinet are quite certain to remain during President Roosevelt's term, but it is very probable Secretary Long will retire within a few days. He feels that he cannot resign without embarrassment to Mr. Roosevelt and therefore it is thought that within the next few months he will ask the president to permit him to retire to private life.

CONFERENCE WITH WOOD.

After the cabinet meeting today, the president, Secretary Root and Gen. Leonard Wood, who is expected to have a long conference at the White house. The discussion related to Cuban affairs, more particularly to the new electoral law adopted by the Cuban provisional convention. Gen. Wood had a copy of the law, and its provisions were considered carefully, especially certain features which Gen. Wood considers unsatisfactory.

NO FEAR OF ANARCHISTS.

About 1:30 o'clock President Roosevelt left the White house to go to the residence of his sister, the wife of Commodore Wood, of the navy, for luncheon. Dismissing a carriage, he walked swiftly and alone. No one had known when he would leave his office, and as he passed briskly out of the grounds of the executive mansion he attracted little attention, scarcely anybody recognizing him. He crossed Pennsylvania avenue into Lafayette square and thence up the exclusive mansion he attracted little attention, scarcely anybody recognizing him. WASHINGTON NOTES.

The president has appointed Col. James M. Bell, Eighth cavalry, as president of the military board of review to be a brigadier general, vice Brig. Gen. Ludlow, deceased. Gen. Bell will retire about Oct. 1, thus leaving a vacancy for another appointment.

Capt. L. S. Draper, United States marine corps, died of heart disease at Hongkong on the 19th inst., according to a report from Admiral Kempff to the navy department. Draper was appointed from Kansas and entered the marine corps in 1894.

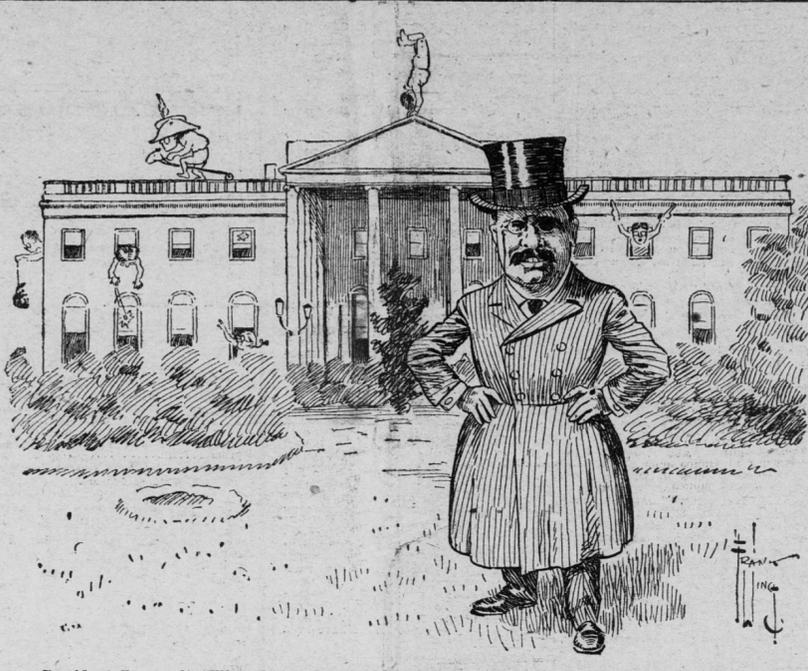

The secretary of the treasury today purchased $1,000,000 long-term 4 per cent bonds at 140.

It is expected that one of the results of Gen. Wood's visit to Washington will be the issuance of orders for the withdrawal in certain classes of the Cuban sugar, machinery and materials for railroad building. It has been definitely determined that no general revision of the tariff will be made until the Cuban government shall be formed, the spending money will be made by the war department.

Secretary Root today approved the final draft of the Philippine tariff, and Governor Taft was so informed.

The signal office of the war department today received a message from Manila saying that the last link of cable had been laid, which allowed telegraphic communication with the southernmost island of the Philippine group. Heretofore messages had to be carried across a point about the middle of the group by boat.

HIS FINAL REST

BISHOP WHIPPLE'S FUNERAL A TRIUMPHANT TRIBUTE OF AFFECTION

GLOOM HAD NO PLACE THERE

With Beautiful Ceremonies, and Ministrations of Loving Hands, the Venerable Prelate is Buried in the Cathedral.

HIS INDIANS SING AT GRAVE

With all the impressive ceremonial with which the Episcopal church delights to honor a revered and faithful servant, the remains of Henry Benjamin Whipple, bishop of the St. Paul Episcopal diocese, were yesterday afternoon interred beneath the altar stone of the cathedral at Faribault. Eight bishops, a large number of the clergymen and many prominent laymen from all over the state attended the funeral, and the service was held at the foot of the altar, where he had so often served. The Indians, for whose spiritual and material welfare his untiring efforts were directed, gathered in large numbers to escort their beloved chief, Straight Tongue, to his final home. The girls from St. Mary's, the boys from Shattuck, by whom yesterday afternoon the bishop's memory will be honored as that of some dead saint, were there to bid their late friend good-bye. For the last time they sang for him the hymns he loved, sang them with a sincerity that his own life inspired. Old men and women from all parts of the state, whose struggles the fearless pioneer bishop had shared, were there to bid their late friend good-bye.
