KETCHUM'S CHESTNUT STALLION PULLS DOWN MR. LAWSON'S TWENTY THOUSAND

THE ABBOT WINS ONE HEAT

In the Others Geers Had His Hands Full to Keep the Scannell Gelling on His Feet.

READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 21.—The grand stallion Crescens obtained a rousing success on his first start by defeating his only rival, The Abbot, on the Readville track today in three out of four heats. The two fastest trotters in the world were pitted against each other by Thomas W. Lawson, and the money which the 12,000 people to see the event all went to a well known local charity. The weather was perfect, but the track was very heavy from recent rains, although it looked fast, so that no records were broken or even approached; in fact, the fastest time in the last heat was only 2:27 1/2.

The race was disappointing to a large majority of the crowd and seemed to lead to the conclusion that The Abbot was not ready for his second start of last spring. The Abbot broke repeatedly and lost valuable distance. In the first heat he went off his feet before reaching the first turn and was ten lengths behind at the finish. He managed to keep up in the second, and to the delight of the crowd passed Crescens at the half and was in the lead. In the third, however, another break came right at the start, and the Scannell barely saved his distance at the finish. Finally the wire was resorted to, and while they were waiting for the Abbot, at the same time they sapped his vitality, so that when the moment came for the supreme effort in the dash for the wire in the last heat, exhausted and rebelled and Crescens won the heat and race by several lengths.

Mr. Ketchum, the owner and driver of Crescens, while naturally delighted with the result, admitted that even his horse was not in proper shape, and that he lost the second heat because he did not stir Crescens up in the first half mile to the realization that there was a race on. When it was all over and his horse was being led back to the stable Mr. Scannell, the owner of The Abbot, said that the best horse he ever saw was the pole, and after scoring three times the word was finally given and away they went with Crescens in the lead. In the second heat The Abbot kept sending the word and was finally given and away they went with Crescens in the lead. In the third heat, however, with good nature. The third interested party in today's event, Mr. Thomas W. Lawson, smiled cynically and said it looked like a race between "busted horses." He also pointed out that the time was slower than in yesterday's race between Lord Derby and Bovaiana.

It was early in the afternoon when the two great trotters, Crescens (2:03 1/2) and The Abbot (2:03 1/2), came out for their first heat. Ketchum had won the race and the word was finally given and away they went with Crescens in the lead. In the second heat, however, with good nature. The third interested party in today's event, Mr. Thomas W. Lawson, smiled cynically and said it looked like a race between "busted horses." He also pointed out that the time was slower than in yesterday's race between Lord Derby and Bovaiana.

The second heat proved very exciting. For this time the track was very heavy, but as usual, Crescens went out at the start and again led at the turn. At the quarter pole he was a length to the inside and increased his distance to two lengths at the three-eighths mark. The fact that he drove and rapidly cut down the distance to a length, half a length, a quarter of a length, until just after the three-eighths mark he was in the lead. The Abbot dashed ahead and for the first time took the lead and the pole. The crowd, which all along seemed to favor The Abbot, now turned to watch the lead two lengths and then three, and the flyers entered the stretch. Ketchum gave the best chestnut the severest punishment he had ever undergone at this point, and smacking the strings with blows of the whip, Crescens dashed after The Abbot. Geers touched his horse lightly with the whip only twice and it was just enough to make The Abbot win by half a length.

But in the third heat it was different, for again The Abbot acted badly and the two horses scored five times before they finally got to the wire. The Abbot broke right under the wire. In fact, the break came with the starter's word, but too late for the horses to be recalled, so that Crescens sped out ahead and won the heat by a length. The time was 2:27 1/2.

Before the fourth heat was called two women toe weights were put on The Abbot's fore hoofs and the starter said both drivers came to the conclusion that the track was too heavy near the pole for fast work, so both horses were started well up on the outside of the track. They only scored twice, in neither of which did The Abbot break, which gave confidence to his followers. At the word Crescens immediately broke out in front and was three lengths to the inside at the quarter pole. For a few hundred yards The Abbot trailed along behind, but before the half was reached he began to draw up and was only two lengths behind at that point. Foot by foot the Scannell horse pulled down Crescens' lead until at the five-eighths pole the two were racing along on even terms to the wild delight of the crowd. At the three-quarters The Abbot was in the lead, but could not quite fetch the pole, which Crescens kept to the finish. The British around the turn killed The Abbot, and when at the beginning of the stretch Crescens came up even Geers found his horse exhausted and a half selling.

ROOTERS ARE GOING

MINNESOTA MADE A POOR SHOWING IN YESTERDAY'S GAME

COULDN'T SCORE ON CENTRAL

Varsity Players Lacked Spirit, and Fell Down Early—Some Tall Hurling Must Be Done

The university football team made a most discouraging showing yesterday afternoon against the eleven representing the central high schools of Minneapolis and St. Paul. In the first half, playing against the Minneapolis team, the varsity boys were unable to cross the goal line once; in the second half, against St. Paul, they scored three touchdowns. Knottwin failed on two of the goals.

Much can be said in praise of the work done by the Minneapolis high school players. Although outweighed by about twenty pounds to the man and with a strong wind against them, they held the varsity down in splendid style. McCarty, at center, played all around big strength, and Marshall, at right tackle, made a very creditable showing against Fee, Buffington, at end, did magnificent work, and Blackwell, at left guard, played his first game, fairly held his own against the muscular wild horse, on the other side of the center, clearly outplayed Van Camp, Bidlake, Merrill and the others did very commendable work.

ST. PAUL'S GOOD SHOWING.

The St. Paul boys also showed up well, although not as well as Minneapolis central, but they were the lightest of the teams and faced a fiercer offense than the other high school eleven, but in spite of the odds against them, put up a most plucky fight.

On the university team hardly a man played the game as it should be played. On the defensive the varsity men found little difficulty in holding either of the high schools down, but on the offensive their play was atrocious. In fact, if the work of the varsity is to be judged on yesterday's showing (which every rooter and student who saw the game would agree) they proved entirely on the defensive. The offensive work, especially in the first half, showed little ginger and no judgment or team work. The runners hit the line and were quickly stopped and disprove any contention as to the brutality of the game.

NO AGGRESSIVE WORK.

The blockers seemed to forget that their duty was to put the opponent's backs would pass a tackler without touching him, giving him every opportunity to reach the line. The aggressive quality which characterized Minnesota's offense last fall was entirely lacking. Individually and collectively the varsity men showed themselves in a manner which made the other teams debate whether they were not intentionally "playing horse."

The varsity won the toss for the first half and Bidlake kicked off to Central high. The varsity rushed ten yards and lost the ball for holding. Central retaining the ball was able to gain ground, and whatever chance the varsity had to score was spoiled by holding in the line, using tactics on fumbles. In the second half the game began, this inability to hold the ball came near costing dear. McCarty, seeking to reach the line, was stopped by one of the varsity backs, broke free from the line with a clear field before him. Fee as a whole played very well. There were school captain, and the varsity captain at the varsity forty yard line.

The varsity played uninteresting, the high school boys playing entirely on the offensive, but the poor play of the varsity in the taking advantage of its opponent's inability to play on the defensive. They rushed the ball to the ten-yard line, but a confusion of signals resulted in a forward pass which gave the ball to the high school.

SECOND HALF.

In the second half the varsity again won the toss and the wind. The men gave evidence of having been rested, and roasting from the coaches, for their play, while hardly less ragged than in the first half, showed a little more speed and spirit.

They took the ball at the kickoff on the ten-yard line, and rushed the length of the field for a touchdown without losing it.

The first half ended they succeeded in pushing the leather across twenty yards and lost other chances to score by fumbling. As a whole, the play showed a little improvement over the first half. The runners displayed more aggressiveness in going into the line, but the interference was marked by the same helplessness as before.

Looking forward to the game with Nebraska, now only two days distant, it must be admitted that there is great cause for anxiety on the part of the Minnesota rooters. The varsity yesterday cannot be said to be much better than it was last year at this time and there is not the excuse of rivalry that was made at that time. The men this year are nearly all experienced players. Those who have not played on the varsity before have had experience in preparatory schools or on the second team. On the other hand, it cannot be predicted that this team will develop with the same phenomenal rapidity as the 1900 eleven. The general outlook is hardly encouraging. Yesterday's line-up was as follows:

FIRST HALF.

To Select Athletes to Meet the Oxford-Cambridge Team.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The Harvard-Yale athletic trials in four events at Berkeley Oval today to decide the team that will meet Oxford and Cambridge in the annual regatta which will meet next Wednesday. The three of the events, Spraker jumped in the four foot high trial, twenty-foot pit, height on his first attempt. He only took one trial in the broad jump, clearing 22 feet 2 inches. The members of the English teams were present. W. Kninn and McNaughton running two miles in 10:38. J. Converse, of Harvard, in a trial over the hurdles at 120 yards, covered the distance in 6:15-3/4.

At a meeting held at the conclusion of the games the Harvard-Yale team was selected for all the events with the exception of the hammer throw, as follows: One hundred yards, N. H. Hargrave, Yale; J. E. Haigh, Harvard. Four hundred and forty yards, Dixon Boardman, Yale; J. E. Haigh, Harvard. Half-mile, D. W. Francher, Yale; J. E. Haigh, Harvard. One mile, H. B. Clark and H. S. Knottwin, Harvard; and W. D. Brown, Yale. Two miles, E. W. Miles and J. C. Swan, Harvard; B. G. Teel, Yale. One hundred and twenty yards hurdles, J. E. Haigh, Harvard. Four hundred and forty yards, Dixon Boardman, Yale; J. E. Haigh, Harvard. Running high jump, J. S. Spraker, Yale; R. A. Kerne, Harvard. Running broad jump, J. S. Spraker, Yale; A. W. Ristine, Harvard.

IS WON BY TRAVIS

FINAL GAME OF THE GOLF TOURNAMENT AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

WAS TOO FAST FOR EGAN

By Winning the Match the Young New Yorker Remains Champion Amateur Golfer of the United States.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 21.—Walter J. Travis, of New York, champion amateur golfer of the United States, again won the national championship by defeating Walter E. Egan, of Chicago today on the links of the Atlantic City Golf club, at Northfield, near here.

Egan played good golf except toward the end of the first nine holes this forenoon, when he became a little unsteady. Travis played a very steady game during several periods during the match when he played far below his usual form, but being a veteran of many a golf battle, he recovered more quickly than his younger opponent. The champion's strongest point was his long game and it was through his good strong drives that he was enabled to win.

He out-drove Egan on every drive except in two or three instances. Travis' direction was also above that of Egan, the latter several times being handicapped in a drive too far to the right or to the left.

There was not much to choose between the short game of the two men. Taken as a whole both men on the links today were a little below their best. The morning round of 18 holes was a much better exhibition of golf than the afternoon performance. At the end of the first nine holes Egan was one up, but Travis, by clever play, managed to make the match all square at the end of the morning game. He was two up at the turn and made four up on the next two holes. Here the Western youngster held him for two holes, but on the fourth hole he drove a magnificent golf, won out amid the plaudits of the gallery.

Ideal weather prevailed for the sport and the course was in excellent condition. The attendance was light, probably due to the fact that the match had been postponed last Saturday, owing to the death of President McKinley.

A fog hung over the links during the early morning and the heavy dew made the links just a trifle wet. The sun came out strongly toward 10 o'clock and the air was clear and warm. There was more than evident that the foreign-born golfer won out. He made a record of 74 for the extended link course now measuring 5,255 yards. This record was made yesterday, but the best he could do today in both of his matches was 80. The runner up in the final for the president's cup was Oliver Perin, Jr., of Watch Hill, R. I., who did a 78 and 81, a total of 159 for the 36-hole, but this was not good enough to beat Douglas, who in the final struggle beat Perin by 2 up and 1 to play.

In addition to the regular matches in the tournament there was a 36-hole medal play handicap on today, in which the players in the semi-finals and final rounds for the three cups had the privilege of having their medal play scores counted, and Oliver Perin, Jr., Pulver, of Pownet, N. Y., with their widely different handicap allowances, tied for first honors, with scores of 133 each. They will play off this tie some day within the next two weeks, but the gold medal will go to the man who scores lowest. Now the property of Oliver Perin, he having made the two rounds of the links in 119.

Following is the summary of the day's play: President's cup, semi-final round—F. S. Douglas, Nassau Country club, beat E. O. Horstman, Washington, by 5 up and 3 to play; Oliver Perin, Jr., Watch Hill, R. I., beat G. Hall Jr., Tuxedo, by 5 up and 1 to play.

Governor's cup, semi-final round—W. D. Evans, Pownet, N. Y., beat H. W. Bowley, Jersey City, 3 up and 2 to play; J. Chadwick Jr., Pownet, beat W. T. Hilton, Pownet, 3 up and 4 to play.

Final round—Chadwick beat Evans, 2 up and 1 to play.

Consolation cup, semi-final round—V. P. Pulver, Pownet, beat R. Hull, Jr., Tuxedo, by 4 up and 3 to play; and Pierre Lorrillard, Tuxedo, beat F. A. Ingalls, Tuxedo, by 1 up 12 holes.

Final round—Pulver beat Lorrillard, 1 up and 1 to play.

The six leading scores in the 36-hole medal play handicap for the Tuxedo cup were: Handicap—Gross, cap. Net. Oliver Perin, Watch Hill, 159 24 151; J. L. V. Pulver, Pownet, 159 24 151; L. V. Pulver, Pownet, 175 24 151; N. Y. Pulver, Pownet, 159 24 151; F. O. Horstman, Washington, 161 8 153; F. O. Horstman, Washington, 168 10 158; Devereaux Emmet, Garden City, 170 10 160; F. S. Douglas, Nassau, 169 10 160.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

Quakers Lead at End of Second Day's Play at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—The second day's play in the international cricket match between the eighteen Philadelphia colts and Bosanquet's team of English cricketers ended here today with the Quakers leading by 152 runs and eleven wickets in hand, against the visitors' single innings. The Englishmen could only respond with 117 runs and five wickets in their second innings. Starting their second venture, the youngsters ran up the big score of 130 for the first time in the morning round, and led by 172 runs and eleven wickets in hand, against the visitors' single innings. The collapse of the Englishmen, for so small a total can only be attributed to the fact that they had nineteen fielders on the field, and the two men in the eleven. Many of the batsmen made strokes that under ordinary conditions would have been regarded as very good, while today they were fielded and rapidly returned.

MADISON SQUARE RACES.

Michael Outrides Walthour in Two Straight Heats.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Jimmy Michael defeated Bobby Walthour in two straight heats of five miles each, today, at Madison Square Garden. The men were matched to ride heats of five miles each behind motor-pole, best two out of three, in the customary manner. The men started from opposite sides of the track. In the first heat Michael beat Walthour by one mile, and in the second heat Walthour lost his pace after two miles had been ridden and Michael won by over half a mile.

Frank Kramer, the professional champion of 1901, won the five-mile open race. The trial heats were at one mile. The riders were paced in the final heat by signifiers. The time for the five miles established a new indoor record.

Nat Butler, of Cambridgeport, Mass., with 160 yards handicap, won the one-mile professional handicap. Summaries: One-mile professional handicap—Final heat won by Nat Butler, 100 yards; G. W. Leader, Chicago, 100 yards; G. H. Collet, New Haven (35 yards), 100 yards.

Five-mile professional—Final heat won by Frank Kramer, East Orange; Floyd McFarland, San Jose; second heat, Walter Lester, Wilson; Pittsburgh, fourth; James Bowler, Chicago, fifth; Tom Cowley, L. I., sixth; and George 4:16-5/8; third mile, 6:28-5/8; fourth mile, 8:55-5/8; fifth mile, 10:34-5/8.

Best two out of three heats, between Jimmy Michael and Bobby Walthour—First heat won by Michael, time, 8:04-5/8; second heat and match won by Michael; time, 8:04-5/8.

PLAYED FINE BILLIARDS.

Sutton and Maggioli Conclude Minneapolis Series.

Last night the billiardists Sutton and Maggioli played their last game in Minneapolis. The evening game was not up to the standard set by the players, but in the afternoon Sutton played a great game. The detailed score follows: Afternoon game—Sutton—18, 0, 7, 14, 1, 10, 43—250; Maggioli—6, 2, 0, 1, 4, 2—100. Average—Sutton, 314; Maggioli, 53-7. High runs—Sutton, 100; Maggioli, 23. Final round—Sutton, 100; Maggioli, 23. Sutton—9, 0, 1, 10, 5, 7, 10, 15, 35, 35, 35, 6, 2, 45, 2, 0, 13, 7, 1—251. High runs—Sutton, 11, 1-20; Maggioli, 14, 27, 4, 10, 29, 17, 3, 2—250. Average—Sutton, 111-20; Maggioli, 119-20.

High runs—Sutton, 45; Maggioli, 30. SHINES LIKE A MIRROR.

Underbody of Shamrock II. Polished to the Last Degree.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—An extra force of men was put to work polishing the hull of the Shamrock II. today in order to get the yacht's up to the best condition to receive the finishing touches from the painter's hands. The plates below the water line are receiving special attention and the great crowd of visitors to the yacht were surprised at the mirror-like smoothness of the entire hull.

Sir Thomas Lipton is still confined to his room, and the Earl and Dr. Mackay say it will hardly be safe for him to use his leg until the cup races are on.

So confident are those on board the Erin and Shamrock that the challenger
