SPECIAL BARGAIN IN A

Methodist ministers of this city left yesterday for the annual conference at Chattanooga, Tenn.

C. R. Capron filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday, naming his liabilities as $8,378 with no assets.

Insurance Commissioner Dearth has gone to Buffalo to attend the national convention of insurance commissioners.

The Duluth Gas Engine works, with a capital of $50,000, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday.

City Engineer Claussen left last night for Niagara Falls to attend the national convention of the American League of Municipal Improvement, Oct. 1 to 5.

The town supervisors of New Canada tonight have been ordered by the county commissioners to remove all obstructions on the public highways in the township.

Andrew R. Klefer and Peter Poolson returned yesterday from San Antonio, Texas, where they went as delegates to the national convention of the Sons of Hermann. Mr. Poolson was elected first vice president of the national body.

Bishop Edsall, now missionary bishop of the diocese of Minnesota, will have his diocesan bishopric confirmed next month at the triennial convention of the Episcopal church in St. Paul.

Two thousand copies of the September number of "Backbone," the newspaper published by G. F. Wells in the interest of prohibition, have been purchased by the Maryland prohibition committee for campaign purposes in that state during the fall campaign.

A special train yesterday carried the members of the St. Paul and Minneapolis German Catholic Benevolent societies to Chaska, Minn., to attend the annual convention of the state societies there.

Street sprinkling contractors suffered the imposition of fines to the amount of $100 last month. The fines were imposed by city engineer Claussen and deducted from their pay, which action was authorized by the board of aldermen at its meeting Monday night.

The Atlantic Congregational church will hold a revival at 398 Seventh street tomorrow and Friday. Anyone having cast-off clothing may notify Mrs. A. E. George, No. 828 Conway street, or bring what they have to that address and it will be appreciated.

A heavy coating of mud that now prevails along the newly paved portion of West Seventh street is the basis of a number of complaints lodged with the city authorities. The mud is being washed from their pay, which action was authorized by the board of aldermen at its meeting Monday night.

Frank Rouleau, a son of Joseph Rouleau, an old resident of the city, was taken to the county jail yesterday. Last week he was released from the Rochester asylum, apparently cured. Yesterday he appeared at the central police station and was directed to the jail. He went of his own volition, but appeared to be surprised when he was taken into custody.

FORGOT HIS PROMISE.

Mr. Geroff Got Drunk Second Time and Was Fined.

What Z. Geroff was before Judge Orr in the police court Monday morning on the charge of being drunk he told the court that he had never been in that shape before, and was accordingly discharged on his promise to behave himself in the future. Geroff, however, failed to keep his promise, and was again before Judge Orr yesterday morning for being drunk. This time the court was not disposed to act leniently and fined him $10.

REPUBLICANS WILL ATTEMPT TO NAME WHITEHORNE'S SUCCESSOR

HELD A CAUCUS LAST NIGHT

Democrats Have a Majority in the Council and Two Candidates - Van Sant's Delay Is Criticized.

The Republican members of the board of city commissioners and the assembly will work diligently to name a Republican successor to George B. Whitehorne, removed from the board of city commissioners by Gov. S. R. Van Sant. This determination was reached at a caucus of the members held last evening.

Who the candidate will be, the members refuse to divulge; in fact, last night several of them denied that a meeting had been held. A spirited conference between Assemblymen Warner, Dix and Denny, however, did not bear out their statement, that the gathering had no connection with the coming selection.

The Republican members of the two bodies lack just two votes of having a majority, but having a precedent in the case of the corporation attorneyship fight they have taken heart and announced to elect their man, Emanuel Johnson, of the First ward, is credited as one of their selections, but while he is a candidate, the fact that he is the chosen one cannot be verified. It is thought that a gentleman from the Seventh ward will be offered for the sacrifice.

The Democrats have a number of candidates to select from, each of whom is an avowed seeker for the office. These include C. J. Weyl, W. J. Preston, Fred Schreiner and J. E. Arndt.

Aid Hunt, asked two weeks ago as to his preference in the event that Whitehorne was deposed, said he had none, except that the man who would get his vote must be a clean man. Since that time he has studiously avoided conversation on the subject. Aid Bantz is likewise reticent.

Several candidates in the field a selection by the Democrats must be made shortly and this will necessitate a caucus. It will probably be held tomorrow night, but the fact that Gov. Van Sant has announced the summary removal of Whitehorne, official notice of the fact has not been conveyed to either County Auditor Johnson, who is secretary of the board, or Mayor Smith, who is its chairman. For some time notice was given to President Schiffman, who, under the law, would be compelled to call a meeting of the common council, to fill the vacancy. Some of the members advanced the theory that the governor is holding up the notice in order that the Republican members of the body may be enabled to elect a commander-in-chief.

When it was announced that the president had been elected, the members of the board of city commissioners, who are the members of the council to the extent of either causing a tie or else defeat their candidate.

FORMAL RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S DEATH AND HIGH TRIBUTE TO MURDERED EXECUTIVE.

Judge Eli Torrance, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, issued his first general order yesterday, as follows:

Headquarters Grand Army of the Republic, Office of the Commander-in-Chief, Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23, 1901. General Orders, No. 1.—It is with profound grief that I have received the official news of the death of our Commander-in-Chief, William McKinley, president of the United States. His death occurred on the 14th day of September, at the residence of a mortal wound inflicted by an assassin, and his body laid to rest at his home in Canton, Ohio, on the afternoon of Sept. 19, 1901.

When it was announced that the president had been elected, the members of the board of city commissioners, who are the members of the council to the extent of either causing a tie or else defeat their candidate.

OWNERSHIP IS IN DOUBT

CARE OF FORT SNELLING BRIDGE A DISPUTED QUESTION

Built by the County, but Thought to Have Been Transferred With Others to the City.

With the recent demand from the war department at Washington that the Port Snelling bridge be made safe for those who pass over it, the question has come up as to who is its rightful custodian, the city or the county.

The structure was built by the county, but a number of the officials are under the impression that the bridge, together with others, was turned over to the city by the board of county commissioners. Assuming this, repairs have been made a number of times by the city, while a year ago it was furnished with a temporary flooring. The city in this instance paid the cost.

Knowing that a permanent flooring of either oak or brick was necessary, City Engineer Claussen made inquiry as to who was responsible, but so far he has been unable to obtain the desired information. The war department has called the attention of the county board to the need of repairs, and that body has in turn referred it to the city attorney to see if Hennepin county is not the proper party. Hennepin county, Mr. Claussen says, has nothing to do with the bridge. It does not encroach on Hennepin territory.

The bridge is really in the city limits and it is thought that the county will in all probability devolve on the city. At present it is in a dangerous condition and needs immediate attention.

WARDENS BREAK LAW

TWO OF FULLERTON'S MEN CHARGED FOR UNFAITHFULNESS.

State Agent Fullerton has had two of his deputy wardens arrested for violating the law they were supposed to enforce, and their commissions have been revoked, and they have been heavily fined for their offense. The offending wardens are F. H. Taylor, of Campbell, and Edward Sidenbranz, of New Brighton. Taylor was arrested by Warden Jones, of Forgas Falls, for selling prairie chickens. Sidenbranz took P. E. Libby, a member of the board of county commissioners, to a chicken hunt before the season opened. Mr. Fullerton says he has withheld the $50 salary due Taylor, and refused to approve a bill of $15 for expenses.

MACADAMIZING OF EAST SEVENTH STREET RECEIVES SET-BACK

Because of certain irregularities the contract placed by the board of public works with James Forrestal for the macadamizing of East Seventh street from Hope to Atlantic streets is held to be void by the legal department, and a new contract, with approval by the council, will be necessary.

The opinion which adds to the long series of delays suffered by this particular street, holds that the board erred in not confirming and placing the contract for the entire project on a committee of the various firms bidding. The bids received were as follows:

James A. Miller, Chicago, $117,641, if completed before Dec. 15, 1901; if completed after Dec. 15, 1901, $118,160.

Northwestern Roofing and Corning works, Minneapolis, $119,467 and $116,467, respectively.

MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION CONSIDERS PLANS FOR EXHIBITING CITY'S PRODUCTS

There was no quorum of the Northwestern Manufacturers' association present at the meeting called for last evening to discuss plans for exhibiting the products of the manufacturers of this city.

However, those who were present, among whom were some of the most active and progressive members of the association, discussed the various plans which have been suggested, and by a unanimous vote authorized the president, E. B. Johnson, to appoint a committee of ten members to investigate all phases of the question and report at some general meeting of the association to be held on Friday next.

This committee will be announced by Mr. Johnson within a day or two.

The fundamental idea under consideration by the association is, as has been stated, an exposition of goods manufactured in St. Paul, but in that connection several different plans, some of them quite elaborate, have been proposed.

The most pretentious of these projects contemplates the establishment of a permanent exposition, and for that purpose the erection of a new building with an auditorium suitable for now being erected in Omaha, which would provide for this city a hall suitable for convention or show purposes on a large scale.

The auditorium of the Omaha building will have a seating capacity of 10,000.

The sentiment developed in the discussion at the meeting of last evening appeared rather unfavorable to a permanent exhibition of the city's manufactures.

Most of the members appeared to think that an annual exposition to last one or perhaps two weeks each year would accomplish much better results, as interest would be kept up by an attempt were made to continue the show indefinitely.

That question was, however, left entirely to the committee, as was also another suggestion as to the feasibility of erecting a building and of raising a syndicate for that purpose.

EARNEST WOMEN MEET

GRAND TEMPLE OF RATHBONE SISTERS HOLD OPENING SESSION.

Insurance Feature Will Be Adopted by the Order—Officers Will Be Elected To-day—Many Candidates.

Mrs. Helen M. Sloggy, of St. Paul, grand chief, presided at yesterday's session of the grand temple of Rathbone Sisters, an organization related to, although not officially recognized as auxiliary of the Knights of Pythias.

The morning session of the grand temple was largely taken up with the reports of officers, the announcement of committees, and the discussion of insurance.

At last evening's session of the grand temple the expenditures of the year amounted to $500. Mrs. Sloggy, in her report, recommended economy in conducting the affairs of the temple.

She thought the percentage of delegates should be discontinued, but mileage was of course continued to be paid. During the year she has visited all but three of the temples in Minnesota, and was satisfied with the work done.

The grand temple, Saak Center, received the banner of the best ritualistic hall, and the jewel for the greatest gain in membership. A committee composed of Mrs. Amy Bertram, of Brainerd, and Mrs. Alice Schrock, of Minneapolis, was appointed to investigate the insurance branch of the order, which has never been adopted in Minnesota.

The committee will recommend its adoption.

At last evening's session the grand officers of Myrtle lodge, No. 2, of St. Paul, explicated the new memorial service given for the first time in this state; and vesting temple, No. 1, of Minneapolis, explicated the initiatory work before the grand officers and the grand officers.

Following the meeting a ball was given. Koller's orchestra played.

This morning the session will open at 10 o'clock. The election of officers will constitute the greater part of the time.

There are at least three in Bonnyville, grand chief—Mrs. Annie Gunn, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Gilmare, Minneapolis; Mrs. George J. Appleton.

There will be no closer contest for the position of representative to the supreme lodge, to be held next year in San Francisco, than that which is now being waged here.

Mr. Rhoads will have his expenses paid, and source of the money is not stated. The Minnesota grand lodge is eligible to this office, as the supreme representative of the order, and the grand chief and past grand chief.

Those eligible are as follows: Mrs. Flora Davy, Duluth; Mrs. Anna Wick, Duluth; Mrs. J. G. Baruff, St. Paul; Mrs. Emma Wick, St. Paul; Mrs. Adla L. Upright, Rush City; Mrs. Flora E. Rhoads, Duluth; Mrs. Hattie Godfrey, St. Paul.

SAYS WIFE ABUSED HIM

DUDLEY RHOADS CLAIMS SHE THREW CUSPIDS AT HIM.

Dudley Rhoads has commenced action for a divorce from his wife, Mary J. Rhoads, to whom he was married in Chicago on May 1, 1899, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Mr. Rhoads asserts in his complaint that as early as June the undutiful partner of his joys and sorrows subjected him to a course of treatment that was likely to result disastrously to the healthful welfare of his wife.

In the language of the complaint, she "threw brick-bats, family pictures, cuspidors, and other articles of furniture at him."

In addition to this he alleges that the wife of his home by wearing its use of "cigarettes, strong drink and other drugs."

Mr. Rhoads states that this was continued for a course of three or four months, when Mrs. Rhoads betook herself to Chicago, where she now resides. Before she left him, her attacks became so violent that the police were called in to interfere and as a result Mr. Rhoads was arrested.

In view of these charges Mr. Rhoads asks for an absolute decree of divorce from the defendant. There are no children.

MINNESOTA AT THE TOP

NORTH STAR BUTTER SCORES HIGH AT BUFFALO.

Minnesota butter is at the top of the list at the Pan-American exposition. So says Assistant Dairy Commissioner George L. Ingham, who has just returned from Buffalo.

"In the Buffalo contest," he says, "the results of which the Globe has published yesterday, Minnesota had thirty-one entries, the highest number entered by any state. The highest award was second with thirty-six tubs, and none of the other states exceeded twenty. In individual scoring, Minnesota took second place, with the remarkably high score of 91, Vermont being 82.25. The average of the Minnesota lot was 94.00, an exceedingly high average.
