

ALGER'S BOOK IS DOTTED

Former War Secretary Has a Grudge Against Sampson and General Miles.

Criticises Former's Behavior at Santiago—Roast for Miles on "Em-balmed Beef" Question.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Gen. Alger's book on the Spanish-American war, which his publishers state "has been delayed and changed because of the death of President McKinley," will be issued next Thursday.

Opening his book with a survey of the Cuban situation in 1898, Gen. Alger says: "The thoughtful observer of public events during the years 1895-1897 need hardly be reminded that both the Cleveland and the McKinley administrations sought by every honorable means to avoid complications with Spain, though protesting against the conditions prevalent in Cuba."

NOT A MISTAKE.

The account of the march on Santiago is graphically pictured and prepares one for the fight at Caney and San Juan.

The "round robin" incident comes in for a fair share of the White House negotiations for surrender were pending before Santiago, the general officers of Shafter's army met and signed a round robin, which was given wide publication.

RAP AT SAMPSON.

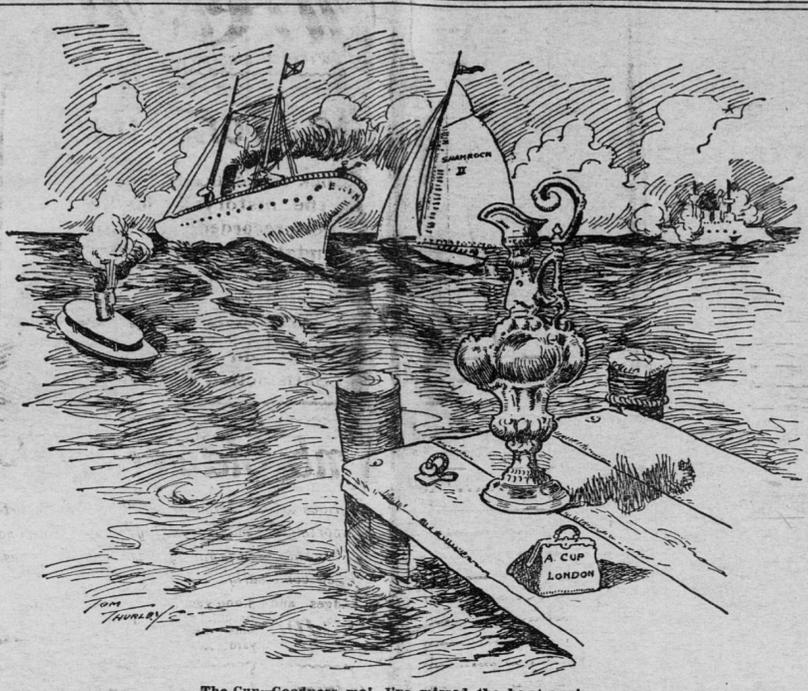

Gen. Alger reviews at length the differences between Gen. Shafter and Gen. Sampson and quotes many official letters. He concludes this chapter in these words: "It is difficult to account for Admiral Sampson's seconding the order to the army during the operations before San Juan, as well as to excuse him for his contradictory statements subsequently made in his official report."

MINNESOTA FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS MAKE CHICAGO'S SAWBONES LOOK LIKE SIX BADLY BATTERED NICKELS.

Visitors Could Do Nothing Against Varsity's Stonewall Defense—Nebraska Beats Doane College.

MINNESOTA 27. Chicago Physicians and Surgeons 0. Minnesota's stalwart gridiron heroes made good gloriously yesterday, and sent the "Varsity" rooters home to happy dreams of future glories for the maroon and gold. Before an enthusiastic crowd of over 2,000, Dr. Williams' brawny boys battered holes in the stone wall defense of the Chicago P. and S. aggregation, and administered a crushing and decisive defeat to that star football crowd.

Before yesterday's game the rooters' hearts were anxious and his voice was small. It was wonderful what transmuting effect the game had upon the rooster contingent. The Nebraska bugle is now a thing of the past, and the rooters are now in a state of ecstasy.

The game yesterday was altogether too one-sided to be intensely exciting; in many ways it was crude; there was too much of a "stalemate" in the play for both teams. But it was interesting as showing where the Minnesota team of 1901 stands, and it proved this point most conclusively.

The "Varsity" team has much room for improvement, but the improvement over last week was so marked, that the game of yesterday gave even greater hope for next Saturday's performance. Minnesota's defense was magnificent, almost perfect. The Chicago team, however, presented an impenetrable front.

The team played a strong offensive game, barring a little slowness in getting started at times. The Chicago boys were not so clearly distinguished themselves as they played pluckily, and with good spirit, and on four occasions held the big "Varsity" right at their goal and secured the ball. They were winded early in the game, and after every scrimmage a Chicago man was stretched out on the field.

Both teams were stretched out on the field, and after every play, because monotonous. The university team played throughout the game without mishap to any of the players. They were in the line, and just as fresh at the close as they were when the game started.
