

ON THE FAIR GREEN

CONTESTANTS FOR WOMEN'S NATIONAL GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP REDUCED TO EIGHT

FINAL ROUND ON SATURDAY

Miss Curtis, of Essex County Club, and Mrs. Mance, of Lenox, are the favorites.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The women's national golf tournament, which was begun on the links of the Baltusrol Golf club at Short Hills, N. J., yesterday, was continued today, and the number of contestants who are striving for national honors has been reduced to eight. Match play at eighteen holes was the rule today, and the fair contestants will continue at this style the best game so far. The match between Miss Curtis and Mrs. Mance was decided last Saturday. Now that the field of over eighty players has been reduced to four pairs, Miss Margaret Curtis, Essex County club, Manchester, Mass., and Mrs. E. A. Mance, of the Lenox, Mass., Golf club, are looked upon as the most likely players to last out the week, and meet in the final round on Saturday.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 9.—Hartford made the score against Amherst a little larger today on Soldier's field than did Yale in its game with Wesleyan. Hartford's score was 11 to 0, Harvard had her hands full at all times, being unable to score in the first half because she was held for down on Amherst's five-yard line and then played a series of punts and the second half resulting from two long runs. Harvard's fullbacks later advanced the ball seventy yards just as time was called.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 9.—Princeton defeated the New York university football team here today by the score of 22 to 0. The New York players were weak in the line and their backs failed to gain through the line and their general work was ragged. Princeton did not show as strongly as in Saturday's game. Her backs fumbled frequently and the interference was not good.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—The University of Pennsylvania football team defeated Swarthmore college today by a score of 22 to 0. Swarthmore was completely outclassed, their tackling was good. Pennsylvania scored 11 in the first half and 11 in the second.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Chicago university defeated Illinois Wesleyan at football today by the score of 22 to 0.

Shoots Himself in School.

An attempt to commit suicide in a school room where the children were quietly engaged at their studies, is a scene that was witnessed in the Seventh grade room of the Jefferson school yesterday afternoon, Harry Poses, the fifteen-year-old son of Rev. Israel Poses, of 413 Third street, committed the crime in the tragedy. The deed was committed at 3 o'clock, just at the time when the regular school session had closed. A small 22-caliber revolver was used and the report of the shot caused a wild panic among the children. The boy became pale with fright and all rushed for the door in an effort to get away. The news soon spread to the other rooms and one teacher, under the impression that there was a fire in the school, hurried to the door. The children, however, were themselves in a creditable manner and none were injured in the rush for the door. Miss May R. Stahl, the principal of the school, was soon on the scene, and the boy was taken to the hospital, where he is now recovering. The boy's wound was immediately restored.
