Stillwater News

What proved to be a wild goose chase was indulged in yesterday by members of the fire and police departments, who were called to Brown's creek, near the northern city limits, to find a man who had come down in a parachute. A report was received here to the effect that a man had come down there in a parachute and that his descent was so rapid that there could be no question but that he was injured. The report came from a supposedly reliable source and the patrol supposedly reliable source and the patrol hastened to the spot, but no one was to be found. Those who claim they saw the man still insist upon the truth of their statement, but they are unable to explain the inability to find him.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Sperial.)—
Attorney O. R. Skaar, of this city, will leave for Yankton, S. D., at once to investigate the will of George Williams, which, it is alleged, was made illegally. The amount involved is $50,000, and the contestant is Capt. O. H. Williams, of London, who at present is in charge of one of the Pickering company's Atlantic liners. George Williams left his entire estate to his wife, and the heirs, of whom the captain is one, claim that the will was forced from the dying man but two hours before his death.

SOUTH DAKOTA REPUBLICANS HAV-ING TROUBLES OF THEIR OWN

BIDS AWARDED TO OUTSIDERS

Contract for Material for New University Building at Vermillion Evokes a Storm of Criticism.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Matters are not running smoothly with the South Dakota Republicans since they, as the result of a prolonged effort in the courts, secured control of the state poard of charities and corrections and the board of regents of education. Both boards are at present under fire. The members of the former are being severely criticised because they awarded a large coal contract to a firm outside the state without advertising for bids, as required by the statutes of the state, and the members of the latter for awarding a contract for the construction of a new ouilding at the state university at Vero the nature of the material to be used in the construction of the new building, orick having been decided upon by the poard of regents, when the other buildings are constructed of Sioux Falls granite. Therefore the new building will be entirely out of keeping with the other buildings at the university. So severe ounidings at the university. So severe was the storm of criticism from all parts of the state because South Dakota material was not decided upon for the new building, that the board has seen fit to attempt to sustain its action by making a public statement, the substance of which is that granite from the quarries in this city could not be supplied owing to the large number of advance orders. the large number of advance orders However, those who are in a position to know say that those interested in the miversity would have been glad had the commencement of work upon the new pullding been delayed until granite could have been secured, for with brick as the building material the new structure, surrounded as it will be by elegant granite buildings, will completely ruin the architectural effect of the university buildings.

In the latter case the criticisms apply

BRAINERD, Minn., Oct. 21.—Lee Ching, a prominent and weil-to-do Chinaman of New York city arrived Saturday on what he deems an important mission. He is a cousin of Lee Chong the Chinaman who was murdered in this city about eight years ago, for which crime Ham Hong, another Chinaman who was a resident of Brainerd, is serving a twenty-five year sentence at Stillwater.

Ham Hong's pardon was asked for at the recent meeting of the state board by Ho Yow, imperial Chinese consul at San Francisco, but the board refused as there was nothing but documentary evidence to sustain the allegations. The consul alleged that Ham Hong is innocent and charged that another Chinaman, 'who lives in Brainerd,' is the guilty man, but there is no Chinaman living here now.

Lee Ching, of New York, read the account of the application in the New York papers and recognizing his cousin's name, and wishing to have the murder avenged, hastened here. He did not know when he arrived that the pardon had been refused, but was of course glad to hear of the board's action. He claims that everything in his power and in the power of the wealthy relatives of the murdered Chinaman in New York will be done to block any scheme to have Ham Hong pardoned.

of Rose Mixa.

CHASKA, Minn., Oct. 21.—The trial of Andrew Tapper for the murder of Rosa Mixa, at the Statler hotel, in Carver, last June, is now in progress. In all there will be about thirty witnesses examined. Attorney Odell and County Attorney Morrison have today examined five witnesses. The first witness was C. A. Franzen, who testified to the correctness of the plat of the town of Carver and the location of the building in which the murder occurred.

Mrs. Mixa, witness for the state, was next called and was questioned in regard to facts connected with Rosa's life while she was a domestic in the hotel at Carver. Drs. Hartley and Halgren testified to the condition of the murdered girl when found. The facts brought out from their testimony were that the girl was murdered at 5 o'clock a. a., her throat being cut and several wounds being found on her arms and limbs, showing that a terrible struggle had ensued before the assailant succeeded in overpowering his victim.

STOLEN FROM CHICAGO'S TEMPOR-ARY POSTOFFICE BY A GANG OF BURGLARS

Thieves Crawled a Hundred Yards Under Flooring, and Then Bored Through Bottom of Vault.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.-A sensational rob ery which netted the perpetrators $74.619 in stamps, was discovered there this morning when the wholesale stamp de-partment of the postoffice was opened for isiness. A rapid investigation developed the fact that the burglars had crawled under the flooring for about 300 feet bored a hole in the bottom of the vault secured the stamps and escaped, removing their booty in a wagon. The work of forming an entrance to the vault had evidently been going forward with the greatest patience for many days. It is believed, however, that the intention of the thieves had been to enter the cashler's vault, in which there was $35,000 in money and stamps valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars. The bottom of of thousands of dollars. The bottom of the vault is of steel, half an inch thick. In this ninety-seven holes were bored until a space eighteen inches square—just enough to allow the entrance of a man's bcdy—had been so weakened that it was possible to take out the whole plate with little difficulty. A dry goods box stood over the hole thus made and concealed the work of the robbers while it was in progress. When discovered today the progress. CAUTIONARY ORDER.

"Now give me the date the navy de-partment issued the order which has been referred to in this case about not crippling ships by the shore batteries,' asked Mr. Rayner. "April 6, 1898," was the response. Mr. Rayner asked witness if he had any other information in reference to the batteries at Santiago except that given on the map referred to. He stated the commodore had received a memorandum of information from the bureau of naval intelligence, embodying about the same facts as contained on the chart.

Mr. Rayner-Am I right in saying that you perhaps saw more or as much of Commodore Schley during the whole of this Spanish war as anyone else and came in contact with him as much as anybody?" "I saw him daily and all through each day, generally speaking."

"Did you see him during the time of the reconnoisance on May 3?" 'Yes, sir." "Did you see him frequently during the day of the battle of July 3."

"No, sir. I only saw him through the chase of the Colon.
"Did you see him during any of the combardments?" "I saw him during one of them. Exactwhich one I cannot distinctly recol-

"What was his general bearing, conduct and manner on any day in which there was a battle or any other time?" 'So far as my observation went he was THOROUGHLY FEARLESS and self-possessed on all occasions."
"Was he at any time within your knowledge laboring under any mental ex-go? We cannot admit we got it by the Iowa, but we agreed upon three propositions. The Dupont carried No. 7 and the Marblehead No. 8. We admit the receipt of this memorandum from Capt. McCalla by the Hawk, but what we have not been able to find out and cannot admit is that the Iowa carried No. 7." Mr. Rayner turned to Admiral Schlev and asked: "You admit that don't you Admiral Schley replied: "Certainly, we admit that."

Lieut. Wells was still under cross-examination when court took its usual re-cess for luncheon.

When court met at 2 o'clock Mr. Hanna continued his examination of Lieut Wells, chiefly regarding the RECEIPT OF LETTERS. In reply to questions, witness said that he remembered absolutely nothing what-ever of the receipt of dispatch No. 8 from Admiral Sampson to Commodors Schley, saying that the fleet probably was at Santiago, except what was revealing by the receiving stamp indorsements. He said that on this dispatch as on the "Dear Schley" letter, there had at first been an indorsement showing its receipt on May 24 and subsequently another writ-ten over the first, indicating its receipt on the 23d of that month.

Mr. Hanna then put in as testimony dispatches No. 5 and 6, both from Admiral Schley, directing a strict blockade at Cienfuegos and the latter enclosing the McCalla memorandum, Witness again questioned concerning the receipt of more than one copy of the McCalla memoranda, but he maintained that he remembered only one copy, at the same time admitting the possibility of the receipt of another copy.

Asked when he had first seen the dispatch introduced by Capt. Cotton, witness said he did not remember to have ever seen it. This is the dispatch sent to the Harvard, saying that the Spaniards probably were at Santiago and the one which Admiral Cotton said he had delivered to Commodore Schley, May 27. In this connection, Mr. Hanna said that he had not been able to find the original of this dispatch among Admiral Schley's papers. He also remarked incidentally that there were others of Admiral Schley's papers

Going back to the arrival of the Dupout and Iowa on May 22, witness said it was possible that they brought dispatches and also possible that they brought the McCalla memorandum. Still he thought if there had been duplicate copies they would have been found among Admiral Schley's papers.

SCHLEY'S PAPERS.

Mr. Hanna then questioned Lieut. Wells closely about Admiral Schley's papers, but he repeated that since he had boxed them up and turned them over to Admiral Schley, in 1898, he had not seen them until he saw them fecently at the navy "I saw them very much spread about at the navy department since I have been "Under what circumstances did you examine them at the department?"

"I examined them to make copies of certain papers. I applied to different of-icers. They were handed to me. I made such copies as I desired and turned the papers over to the responsible persons

At Mr. Hanna's instance, Lieut. Wells epeated his testimony concerning the departure of the flying squadron from Cien-fuegos to Santiago. He said the com-modore had made no special communica-tion to him that he meant to take his im-mediate departure for Santiago, but that he had gotten the impression from letters and dispatches written by Commodore Schley that it was his purpose to leave the night they did. Mr. Hanna then called attention to two letters from the commodore, saying he would not leave Clenfregos till the next day. The witness modore, saying ne would not leave Clen-fuegos till the next day. The witness said he did not recall writing these let-ters, but thought he had probably done so. He also thought that there probably were other dispatches leading to his in-ference that the squadron was to leave that night

"There must have been something else," he said, "because we did leave that night instead of the next day."
Mr. Hanna also questioned Lieut, Wells about the war bulletin received that night.

He asked:

FROM THE ADULA while the flying squadron lay off Cienuegos, saying that while Cervera's fleet had entered Santiago he had left there later. He said that the document was in the shape of a small hand bill and that evidently it had been issued by some newspaper in that vicinity. He also said he recalled the paper very distinctly, but could not recall by whom it was issued. Lieut. Wells said that he had never had any conversation with Commodore Schley concerning the retrograde move-

"My own idea was that we were heading for Santiago," he said. He remembered discussions as to the possibility of going to Gonaives bay to coal, but his recollection was that it was only to be done in certain contingencies.

Among other dispatches read by Mr.

Hanna, and on which witness was questioned, was one dated May 28, from Commodore Schley to the navy department, giving information of the capture of the Restormel with coal for the Spanish fleet. This was the day before the positive location of the Spanish ships in the harbor at Santiago. Mr. Hanna questioned witness about

What was the purpose of Commodore Schley in regard to the Colon on May "Witness replied: "His idea was to go the bombardment of the Colon on May 31.

in and fire on her with the larger guns, hoping to get a shot into her at that range to disable her, perhaps. The range was 7,000 or 7,500 yards."

"That was the distance from the Morro. The Colon appeared to be close to the entrance. Her log, however, showed her to be a mile or 2,000 yards INSIDE THE MORRO We thought she was near the enentrance." Witness said that in speaking of the intentions of the commodore, in connection with the bombardment, he was only giving his impressions and could not un dertake to give actual conversations Mr. Hanna asked a number of questions concerning the Ardois signals used n leaving Cienfuegos, and he stated in reply to an interruption from Mr. Ray. ner that his purpose was to show that, notwithstending the instructions to get away quietly, there had been an exhibition of these signals. "I suppose that was the object in making them," remarked Capt. Porter. Witness said that while it was possible there had been a signal to the Iowa not to go in closer on the day of the Colon's bombardment he did not believe such was the case, for he was constantly at the point from which the signals were sent. Still, for any vessel to have gone in closer would have broken the forma-tion and probably would have subjected the commanding officer of that vessel to reprimand. In reply to questions by Mr. Hanna, witness said that while he could not repeat actual conversations with Commo dore Schley concerning the retrograde novement, he was sure that the movement was made because of the commodore's anxiety about the coal supply of the vessels of the fleet. He knew, said wit-ness, that the Spanish fleet was in the vicinity and felt that it was not desir-able to meet it without an adequate fuel supply. In reply to a question by Capt. Lemly, Lieut. Wells said that with the Brooklyn headed as she was and with the harbor trending as it does, it was natural that the Spanish vessels coming out of the harbor should face the Brooklyn Mr. Wells was on the stand when the court adjourned for the day.

WITNESSES RECALLED. Capt. Cook, who commanded the Brooklyn during the Spanish war, was the first witness of the day. He was recalled at his own request and made the following statement: "In my testimony I stated that the Oregon on the morning of July 3 was under all boilers, having shifted her boilers from forward to aft. I stated this from hearsay and presumed it to be correct as accounting for her extraordinary speed. 1 find that she had not shifted boilers that morning, but that she had steam on all her boilers at all times while in the Santiago blockade." Capt. Cook was then excused, and former witnesses were called to correct their testimony. While Capt. John L. Hannum was on the stand for the purpose of correcting his testimony, the court asked him the ner, witness said it took from the fore-noon watch of the 27th until the evening of the 28th, "working day and night, to make the repairs on the Merrimac." He did not know how long the vessel had been totally disabled. Capt. Han-num desired to make a statement concerning the testimony of another witness, to the effect that there was no water in two of the boilers on the Brooklyn. As this statement did not concern his own testimony, the court ruled it out of order. BOILERS WERE DOWN. Lieut. Thomas F. Carter, while correcting his previous testimony, stated that he desired to change that portion of his answer to a question by the court in which he said that the two after boilers of the Brooklyn had no water in them when the battle began, on the morning of July 3. As corrected he desired the answer to read, "The two after boilers had little or no water in them." water in them. Their fires were not laid until after the battle calls were sounded." Ensign V. P. Cronan, while on the stand for the purpose of correcting his testimony, stated that he had measured the distance from the initial position of the Brooklyn to Rio Tanquino on July 3 and found it to be thirty knots.

J. J. Hunley, the chief machinist on the Texas, who last week testified that on July 3 he was at the throttle of the port engine of the Texas, while correcting his testimony, was asked by Index and stimony, was asked by Judge Advocate Lemly as to what other machinist was stationed in the port engine room on the day of the battle. Witness replied that as soon as general quarters sounded he relieved Machinist Hill. He stated in reply to questions by Capt. Lemly that Claxton, who had testified that he was at the port engine on that day, and that the engine was reversed, was stationed at the air pumps, back of the engine. Hunley said he kept his hand on the tarottle of the engine most of the time, and did not think it possible that the signal to stop or back could have been given without his knowledge. Capt. Lemly asked witness if he had been on the Texas when that vessel ran aground at Newport. Mr. Rayner objected to this line of examination. Capt. Lemly stated that he desired to show that the witness had misunderstood signals then, with disastrous results, and that it was possible he might have been mistaken on the day of the battle. After a short argument the court decided that the question was not admissible

REBELS ARE DEFEATED

VICTORY WON BY COLOMBIAN FED-ERALS

Insurgents Are Thought to Be Concentrating for an Attack on the City of Panama. KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 21.-Letters received here from Panama, say the Colombian rebels lost heavily in a battle near there last Tuesday. The rebels are concentrating in a camp in the neighbor-hood and both sides are preparing for a clash which, it is expected, will largely decide the fate of the revolution COLON, Colombia, Oct. 21.—The anxious and prolonged uncertainty regarding the date upon which the insurgents will probably attack the city of Panama still exists. Merchants and tradesmen every description are complaining of the unexampled dullness of trade.

The recent doubling of import duties on all goods and of the liquor taxes will not be likely, it is thought, to result in a proportionate increase of revenue the contrary, many foreign orders have The United States battleship Iowa the British sloop of war Icarius, and the French second class cruiser Protet at Panama and the United States gunboat Machias and the French cruiser Suchet at Colon continue to await the development of events. Friday night a large number of insurgents were seen at Empire, an important railway station near Panama; but they disppeared upon the approach of government troops. Yesterday another body of insurgents was seen at Fanfar, less than half a mile from the Laboca wharf, on the outskirts of Panama. Fan far is where the the insurgents posted their artillery when they shelled Laboca
