

EVERYTHING THE BEST

QUALITY! FIT! STYLE!

"Allright" Shoe

$3.50

FOR BOTH LADIES AND GENTS.

Call in and see our large assortment of Warm Footwear.

BREADWELL SHOE CO.

129 1/2 SEVENTH ST. JACKSON & ROBT.

A DOZEN RUN DOWN

MAN HUNT IN KANSAS GROWING. LESS EXCITING AS TIME PASSES.

FOURTEEN ARE STILL FREE

They Have Separated and Some Will Probably Go Safely Away—Charge of Conspiracy to Murder.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—Armed guards, aided at many points by farmers today kept up an unceasing search in the woods and on the highways in the country between Leavenworth, Kansas City and the Kansas river for the convicts fleeing from the federal prison at Port Leavenworth. As a result of the day's work, three prisoners were taken unharmed. This makes a total of twelve captured thus far, leaving fourteen still at large.

The men taken today were: Gus Parker and David Grayson, white prisoners sent up for five years each for burglary and larceny, who were captured three miles north of Lawrence, Kan., and James Wilson, colored, also a five-year larceny convict, who was arrested on the outskirts of Leavenworth, still wearing his shackles.

Frank Thompson, the negro leader and originator of the outbreak, was reported wounded and captured south of Tonganoxie, Kan., but this report is believed to be untrue.

Wilson was found two miles out from the business district of Leavenworth this morning. He had been hiding in the woods since Wednesday afternoon, unable to travel fast because of his shackles, and was forced from cover by hunger.

Parker and Grayson were encountered on the railroad track at Millard, Kan., this afternoon by Dave Lewis, a farmer. Parker carried a revolver, but threw it away, and both surrendered meekly and permitted Lewis to lead them into Lawrence.

Three parties of deputies that went out during the day to locate different batches of convicts supposed to have been surrounded by farmers near south of Lawrence and one from Leavenworth, returned at dark empty handed.

It is believed that the fourteen convicts still at large have broken up into two and three men going toward avoiding attracting attention, and this may aid them in getting away. It is now possible that some of them may get into the Lincoln territory before morning.

As fast as the men are captured they are returned to the penitentiary and placed in solitary confinement.

When the condition of the guards shot on the outbreak is finally determined, the convicts will be charged with the added crimes of conspiring to kill their guards, and with murder if any charge can be placed properly on the dead bodies of Quinn, Huffman and Poffenbarger will be buried in the prison grounds.

Turn to Horse Stealing.

WAMEGO, Kan., Nov. 9.—Three of the escaped convicts held up William Coder, a farmer, about two miles south of town, this evening and robbed him of his buggy, team and most of his clothing. After the robbery they fled rapidly toward the southeast. A large posse is now in pursuit.

OCEAN LINERS.

New York—Arrived: Phenicia, Hamburg.

Have—Arrived: La Champagne, New York.

LORGE TALKS PLAIN

PRESIDENT'S FRIEND IN THE SENATE DECLARES IN FAVOR OF RECIPROCITY

ALSO FAVORS ISTHMIAN CANAL

Massachusetts Senator Especially Emphasizes Need of Peace, Maintenance of Monroe Doctrine and a Strong Navy.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—An exceptionally large number of the Middlesex club at Young's hotel this afternoon. Hon. Edgar R. Champin presided, and the gathering included many of the Massachusetts delegation in congress, state and national officers and many prominent Republicans.

Senator Lodge and Michael J. Murphy of Boston, were the only speakers of the evening, following the results of the recent elections.

Senator Lodge began his address with a brief allusion to the recent elections, which he believed an ominous omenology upon the late President McKinley.

In this connection, he said: "The Spanish war was not of his making, but it was conducted by the bold grasp of the Philippines was his, the current of events brought with it was his. His, too, was the masterly policy in China, the whole purport of which is not generally admitted to have been his."

He rose to the height of circumstance, he met the new forces of the time unshrinkingly and guided them to great ends. He dealt great blows to the great events among which he lived, and if this does not constitute statesmanship of the highest order, then the word has no meaning.

Declares for Reciprocity.

Senator Lodge made a lengthy argument for general reciprocity in our commercial relations with the world.

"To this subject," he said, "it is certain that most anxious consideration will be given by President Roosevelt and by congress at the ensuing session. Whether it will be deemed best to put this policy into execution by means of some general legislation, or by a series of separate treaties, it is as yet too early to say.

He said that he considered reciprocity with Cuba as first and most important for political as well as economical reasons. He then briefly discussed the reciprocity treaties now pending in the senate, and concluded this portion of his remarks by saying:

"Lastly, we come to the treaty with France, which is more important, economically, than all the other treaties put together. It is a country with which I feel would strengthen our good relations. It regards the treaty with England, and economically desirable in a very high degree."

In conclusion he advocated legislation which would put the American merchant marine on an equality with that of other countries and the building of a navy. He said: "The whole country, I think, favors the building of an isthmian canal. I believe, from what little I know that we should have a treaty with England at the coming session which will remove obstacles now exist to the building of the canal, and the treaty with England, which is a treaty is submitted to us by the president, there is no more pressing duty than its immediate ratification, to be followed at once by the passage of the canal bill."

"There is no nation in the world to which peace is so important as it is to the United States in order to secure ample scope for the great progress of our country. The peace of the world is in danger and to secure peace we must protect ourselves in that direction."

"Firmly but quietly the Monroe doctrine must be rigidly upheld. The entrance of any great European power into the American hemisphere either by the acquisition of territory or the establishment of a great naval station, would be the instant menace of the peace, we are so anxious to maintain."

"The best insurance and the best guarantee of peace is the possession of a navy so strong that no nation of the world would dare attempt to violate our complete preparation is the surest protection against war and war is what we wish to avoid, not only morally but economically, in every honorable way."

Latest Ticks of the Telegraph.

Mother Bickerdyke Dead.

BUNKER HILL, Kan., Nov. 9.—Mother Bickerdyke, famous for her work among Union soldiers during the Civil war, died here yesterday afternoon. Her remains were taken to the funeral home for burial Sunday.

Butte, Neb., in a Bad Way.

BUTTE, Neb., Nov. 9.—Fire early today destroyed nearly the entire business district of the town. The fire started in a restaurant, and ten business places in all were burned. The loss is about $100,000.

Only Merit Counts, Says Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The president today declared to Senator Cullom, of Illinois, that in making the promotions in the army, the only merit counts.

Building of Gloomy Memory Soid.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—After lying in bed for over four years the famous Lutjert sausage factory has been sold by the federal government to the Chicago meat packers.

Lord Neville Released.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Lord William Neville was released from Parkhurst prison today. He had been sentenced to five years penal servitude for a conspiracy to defraud.

NOYES ON THE STAND

DISTRICT JUDGE FOR ALASKA TESTIFIES AT FRISCO IN HIS OWN BEHALF

DENIES INCrimINATING STORY

Asserts McKenzie Never Paid Any of His Expenses or Paid Money to Have Him Appointed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Arthur H. Noyes, judge of the district court at Nome, and one of the respondents in the contempt proceedings, was a witness today before United States Commissioner Heacock. He was on the stand for about an hour on direct examination.

In reference to his appointment as judge for Alaska, Judge Noyes testified that he had the endorsement of Senators Cushman K. Davis, Hansbrough, McComber and Spooner, and leading citizens of the territory.

Asked if he believed the statement of Attorney Hume that McKenzie told him he spent $50,000 in having the witness appointed judge and that he paid his railroad and steamship fare to Nome, Noyes said he did not think McKenzie made such a statement. He never traveled a mile at McKenzie's expense, and McKenzie never spent a dollar, so far as he knew, in securing his appointment as judge in Alaska.

Judge Noyes told of meeting McKenzie in Seattle a day or two after his arrival. He knew McKenzie a business in Alaska, as he was interested in a patent pumping machine intended to pump water out of Bering sea. Asked as to when he first met McKenzie, Noyes testified that he met him in the Dudley Dubose contempt case and gave damaging testimony against Noyes and McKenzie. The witness said that in Washington, Chips was introduced to him as a mining man of Alaska. He also saw Chips in Seattle before his departure for Nome. The witness then went into the history of his activities in Nome, and the fact that he and nearly everyone had filed or would soon file a suit over mining claims.

When adjournment was taken Judge Noyes had not reached the matters at issue in the present proceedings.

WAR CLOUD BLOWS OVER.

Turkey Has Satisfied France and the Incident Is Ended.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 9.—11:30 p. m.—Tonight M. Bapst, councillor of the French embassy, received a satisfactory answer from the Turkish minister of the remainder of the French demands. The conflict between France and Turkey may, therefore, be regarded as ended.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

Settlement of Trouble at Big Shops of Great Western.

DELRIDGE, Iowa, Nov. 9.—The Chicago Great Western strikers returned to work this morning. The men returning to work this morning, though the objectionable foreman was not removed. Three hundred strikers were out for the week-end, but returned to work when the men were reached at a meeting held last night.

Col. C. R. Paul Dead.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The war department has been informed of the death of Col. Charles R. Paul, Thirtieth infantry, who had been convicted of killing a soldier. Col. Paul had been ill for some time. His death promotes Lieut. Col. Paul to the rank of colonel of the Thirtieth regiment.

Convicted Negro Killed.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Nov. 9.—F. Brooks, a Bolivar county planter, today shot and fatally wounded Jack Moore, a negro, who had been convicted of killing Brooks's son and given a three-year penitentiary sentence, and was on a train en route to prison.

Marriage Bureau Fakers Convicted.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—The jury in the indictment against the two men who had been convicted of operating a "fake" marriage bureau and employment agency through the United States mails.

New Treasurer for Porto Rico.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The president today appointed William J. Willoughby, of the District of Columbia, treasurer of the Island of Porto Rico. Mr. Willoughby will succeed Jacob Hollander, of Maryland, who resigned some time ago.

German Embassy Ailing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—According to the Berlin correspondent of the Herald, the condition of the German Embassy in New York is most serious and it is now an open question whether the German minister will be able to leave the city.

London Enjoys Yearly Show.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The lord mayor's show for the year is under way. The number of new features, special attention was paid to the colonies, which were represented by the various departments. Big crowds lined the whole route of the procession.

Statue of Jefferson Unveiled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9.—A bronze statue of Thomas Jefferson, the first president of the city by Messrs. B. and I. N. Bernheim, was unveiled this afternoon in the presence of a large crowd. It was designed by Sir Moses Ezekiel.

Glasgow Exhibition a Success.

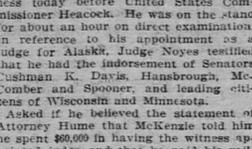

GLASGOW, Nov. 9.—The Glasgow exhibition came to a close tonight. The total attendance was 11,995,222 and the net profit was £100,000.

GENERAL RECOVERY.

"We keep Peruna always in the house, as it cured us both of catarrh of long standing. We have suffered every little while to require us to what Peruna has done for us. I say: 'Look at us. That is proof enough.'"

"I send you a picture of my residence. I hoped to buy a house in Iowa City on the first of last June, and worked eighty-two days, only losing one-quarter of a day during the whole time. How is that for an old man 77 years old? I came home in a splendid catarrh, and got another house out in the country this fall and am well and hearty today."

"I hope to live twenty years yet, and if

A Venerable Wisconsin Lady Restored to Health by Peruna After Twenty-five Years' Suffering.

(Special news from Evansville, Wis.)

EVANSVILLE, Wis., Nov. 11.—A woman cured of catarrh of twenty-five years' standing was the occasion of Peruna being introduced to the inhabitants of Evansville, Wis. From that time to this there has been a great demand for Peruna in this vicinity and hundreds of cases have been cured.

It is in this manner that Peruna spreads from town to town and from state to state. No sort of advertising could have given Peruna the reputation it has. The secret of its success is that it makes cures. It cures old cases of catarrh which have not been cured by any other medicine. It cures the most stubborn cases of catarrh, and then pneumonia set in. He had hemorrhages, and though we tried everything we could think of, it was not until we got Peruna that we gave him Peruna. The hemorrhages stopped, and he soon got up and is well and hard at work. We think there is nothing like Peruna.

In a recent letter Mr. Harden writes:

Peruna helps me in the future as it has in the past. I don't know why I can't. The druggists say 'Peruna is one of the best selling medicines they have in stock.' C. R. Harden.

Peruna can be relied upon to cure slight colds and coughs and other catarrhal ailments with a promptness that is unequalled by any other remedy.

If a cold has settled in any portion of the body and produced catarrh, it is generally thought by people that they must suffer on year after year without any hope of cure. This is not true, however. Peruna cures such cases. Thousands of testimonials that can never be used attest this fact.

Anyone wishing free literature on this subject should address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Peruna helps me in the future as it has in the past. I don't know why I can't. The druggists say 'Peruna is one of the best selling medicines they have in stock.' C. R. Harden.

Peruna can be relied upon to cure slight colds and coughs and other catarrhal ailments with a promptness that is unequalled by any other remedy.

If a cold has settled in any portion of the body and produced catarrh, it is generally thought by people that they must suffer on year after year without any hope of cure. This is not true, however. Peruna cures such cases. Thousands of testimonials that can never be used attest this fact.

Anyone wishing free literature on this subject should address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Peruna helps me in the future as it has in the past. I don't know why I can't. The druggists say 'Peruna is one of the best selling medicines they have in stock.' C. R. Harden.

Peruna can be relied upon to cure slight colds and coughs and other catarrhal ailments with a promptness that is unequalled by any other remedy.

If a cold has settled in any portion of the body and produced catarrh, it is generally thought by people that they must suffer on year after year without any hope of cure. This is not true, however. Peruna cures such cases. Thousands of testimonials that can never be used attest this fact.

Anyone wishing free literature on this subject should address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Peruna helps me in the future as it has in the past. I don't know why I can't. The druggists say 'Peruna is one of the best selling medicines they have in stock.' C. R. Harden.

Peruna can be relied upon to cure slight colds and coughs and other catarrhal ailments with a promptness that is unequalled by any other remedy.

If a cold has settled in any portion of the body and produced catarrh, it is generally thought by people that they must suffer on year after year without any hope of cure. This is not true, however. Peruna cures such cases. Thousands of testimonials that can never be used attest this fact.

Anyone wishing free literature on this subject should address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Peruna helps me in the future as it has in the past. I don't know why I can't. The druggists say 'Peruna is one of the best selling medicines they have in stock.' C. R. Harden.

Peruna can be relied upon to cure slight colds and coughs and other catarrhal ailments with a promptness that is unequalled by any other remedy.

If a cold has settled in any portion of the body and produced catarrh, it is generally thought by people that they must suffer on year after year without any hope of cure. This is not true, however. Peruna cures such cases. Thousands of testimonials that can never be used attest this fact.

Anyone wishing free literature on this subject should address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Peruna helps me in the future as it has in the past. I don't know why I can't. The druggists say 'Peruna is one of the best selling medicines they have in stock.' C. R. Harden.

STARTLING STATEMENTS FROM KENTUCKY, ILLINOIS AND NEW HAMPSHIRE OF OTHER REMARKABLE RECOVERIES.

WILLARD, Ky.—The news of the recovery of Mrs. Elizabeth Prater is a very striking instance of the wonderful curative powers of Peruna. This estimable lady had been an invalid from catarrh of the stomach and bowels for twenty years. No wonder her many friends are enthusiastic over her recovery. She writes: "It is through the mercies of God and your medicine that I am permitted to write you this letter. I have been a constant sufferer from bowels and stomach troubles for about twenty-five years, and could never find relief until I got the use of Peruna."

"I began the use of your medicine clear my mind and have taken nine bottles of Peruna, and can say that I believe I am cured of my troubles, and I think I am enjoying as good health as I could expect. I am seventy-one years old. I recommend Peruna to sufferers wherever I may meet them, and others of my friends are blessed by its use. It is a God-send to poor suffering humanity."

"I had heard and read of Peruna, and finally decided to try it two months ago. I have now taken seven bottles, and weigh 172 pounds. I never felt happier or merrier. Feel tip top."

Elizabeth Prater.

ELGIN, Ill.—In a very recent communication from this place comes the news that Arthur Ernest Kidd, well known architect of that city, has made complete recovery from catarrh of the head from which he had suffered for nearly a quarter of a century. According to Kidd's statement, his case is as follows: "I have suffered for several years with catarrh of the head. It finally reached my ear, and caused a running ear. Having read of Dr. Hartman's remedies I immediately wrote, and advised him to send me a bottle. I received it in better health than I have been for some time. I will gladly recommend Peruna for all catarrhal diseases."

There is only one system of catarrh remedy that is sure to cleanse the whole system of catarrh. That remedy is Peruna. This is a remedy that needs no eulogizing in addition to what the people say of it. Everywhere the people are cured by Peruna as a remedy for all forms of catarrhal difficulties.

Address: The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio, for a free copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. This book treats of all different phases and stages of catarrh and should be in the hands of every catarrh sufferer. "Health and Beauty" sent free to women.

MANCHESTER, N. H.—According to late advices, Miss Blanche L. Rundlett has made a complete recovery from catarrh of the head which had caused a chronic running from the ears. In medical circles this cure has created a decided sensation. Her own statement of the case is as follows: "I have suffered for several years with catarrh of the head. It finally reached my ear, and caused a running ear. Having read of Dr. Hartman's remedies I immediately wrote, and advised him to send me a bottle. I received it in better health than I have been for some time. I will gladly recommend Peruna for all catarrhal diseases."

There is only one system of catarrh remedy that is sure to cleanse the whole system of catarrh. That remedy is Peruna. This is a remedy that needs no eulogizing in addition to what the people say of it. Everywhere the people are cured by Peruna as a remedy for all forms of catarrhal difficulties.

Address: The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio, for a free copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. This book treats of all different phases and stages of catarrh and should be in the hands of every catarrh sufferer. "Health and Beauty" sent free to women.

IRISH WIT ON THE BEACH.

We regret to announce the death, in his seventy-fourth year, of Lord Morris, the famous Irish law lord and wit. In the year 1889 he was withdrawn from the Irish bench after having been appointed one of the lords of appeal in ordinary, resigning in May, 1900, when he was created a peer of the United Kingdom. But Justice Morris, to the last, was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms by ascribing them to Justice Morris, but of the genuine Morrisiana enough are extant to warrant the statement that none of his contemporaries could rival him in the art of repartee. He used the blue-john in preference to the rapier, eschewed all subtlety of expression, and delighted in telling home truths in the most homely and unadorned language. He was a man of letters, and his wit was as sharp as ever. He was best known in Ireland, and his reputation as a wit was as high as his good sayings as to his learning. Long before his translation to the English bench he had acquired a reputation as a political, had attained so general a circulation that it was a common practice of minor Irish wits to gain currency for their witticisms