

GIANTS TO MEET AT MADISON

against the Gopher management. At the university more diplomacy is exercised in the discussion of the situation, but even there a certain bitterness of feeling is to be noted. Naturally the Minnesotaans on discovering this prevalent sentiment, responded in kind and said: "All right, if you wish it so, we can stand it." This is the situation prior to the great game—acrimony and rancor and the certainty of more interested bitterness after the game is over.

One of the surprising things in connection with this hostility is the statement of a conservative Wisconsin man, who has no prejudice in the matter, to the effect that Phil King is largely responsible for this sentiment. Particulars he would not give.

The Minnesota contingent here are unanimous in expressing the hope that Mueller will not be played. They will not listen for a moment to the proposition that Double or Ewers be withdrawn, but believe he will be pulled off especially since Wisconsin has barred Schreiber. Furthermore, they feel sure that this will not weaken the team or lessen Minnesota's chances. The matter is being handled by the hands of Wisconsin having refused to protest any player, leaving to the Gopher management the settling of its own problems.

Setting Favors Minnesota.

The betting situation remains unchanged. Money is freely offered with no takers. The few bets made have been at odds, Wisconsin demanding 10 to 9. In one instance the Minnesota side was offered 10 to 11. The general opinion is that the Chicago crowd due tonight will be ready to cover Minnesota offers. The Madison people, however, cannot see the value of Minnesota's gold. This hardly squares with their assertions of confidence. In explanation they say: "Madison rooters have never been in the habit of betting. This will hardly go down with those who remember the elasticity of the Badger pocket-books in years past. As a matter of fact, the Wisconsin crowd hopes to win, but their hope is not spelled with capitals."

White Both Teams are Religiously Following the Scriptural Injunction, "Boast not thyself of tomorrow," they are nevertheless confident. Dr. Williams says he cannot figure how Minnesota can be defeated, Phil King says: "Did you ever see me go into a game expecting to be whipped?"

King banks heavily on what he considers Minnesota's overconfidence. Wisconsin calculates in this wise: "We have the fastest team, our defense is equal to Minnesota's. Our offense is stronger. We play on our own ground, a light team than a heavy team." As to the disadvantage of playing before a strange crowd Double says: "That cuts no ice; a player who has been in a crowd is watching him has no business on a team."

What Gophers Say.

Minnesota says: "We are not so slow as they think. We have been easily beaten on defense. We are stronger and can wear them out. We can outpace them. We outweigh them by eight pounds to the man. A hard field is no more advantage to a light team than to a heavy team." As to the disadvantage of playing before a strange crowd Double says: "That cuts no ice; a player who has been in a crowd is watching him has no business on a team."

Both teams are in the best physical condition. Williams' men have never been in better shape, and King says the team is in the best of health in the game as strong as ever. The loss of Schreiber probably weakens the Badgers somewhat. King will not say who is to take his place, but the chances are that it will be Deering, who is said to have shown much speed.

The Badgers seem to be especially hostile toward Rogers, and there are hints that he "may be laid out." "If they can lay Rogers out they are entitled to win," says Capt. Knowlton, and the Indian says "amen!"

MUELLER IS BARRED.

Athletic Board Decides That He Cannot Play.

From Staff Correspondent.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 15.—It is announced tonight that as a result of the conference of the athletic boards of the two universities Mueller will not play in tomorrow's game. Either Grant or Strathmore will be played at right guard. Rogers declares that all charges made against him are without foundation.

ROOTERS ARE ON THEIR WAY

THE LUSTY-LUNGED YOUTHS WILL CHEER 'VARSITY' ON TO VICTORY.

On to Madison!

Loaded down to the standing-room limit the first section of the Milwaukee train running into the Badger stronghold tonight to victory, the maroon and gold team, this first section, a train of seven sleepers, was followed ten minutes later by a second section. A third section followed the second, a fourth followed the third, and a fifth brought up the rear.

It was Minnesota's army of rooters hurrying to Madison to cheer on, as they believe to victory, the maroon and gold giants of the North who are scheduled to bump up against the time of their lives in the Wisconsin town this afternoon.

Two thousand strong this army is going down to Madison to see that the game ends the right way. They will be unloaded in the Badger town this morning at the depot and will be taken to the hotel where they will be housed. A number of the co-eds sat in the sleepers of the different sections last night clutching green slips entitling them to an upper or a lower berth. The Badger citizen was going to tell it to all St. Paul, and succeeded in telling it to everyone of sound hearing who happened to be within three blocks of the station.

the rooster as he pulled his head back into the car. "Fellows, Mueller won't be in the game."

"The crowd passed from car to car. For a moment the rooting stopped. The rah, rah, rahs died out and the supporters of the maroon and gold looked at each other in silence.

"Well, do them up without Mueller," declared a square-jawed youth.

"We'll do them up without Mueller," repeated the other occupants of the car. "We'll do them up without Mueller," echoed the crowd and back down the train went the declaration of things to be started.

"Well do them up without Mueller," shouted the entire crowd, and then the rooster captain in the front car started the rah, rah, rah, the other cars took up the chant and out into the dark night went the noise that promised to keep going until Madison is reached.

ON TO MADISON.

A Large Delegation of Rooters Go Forth to Cheer.

It was an animated scene that was witnessed at the Milwaukee station, in Minneapolis, last night when nearly two thousand rooters of the maroon and gold for Madison, where they will cheer the maroon and gold to victory today. Yards of streamers, megaphones, canes, musical instruments, kazoos, and all the paraphernalia of a thirty-third degree enthusiast was all in evidence, and the team that represents Minnesota on the Wisconsin gridiron today will lack for no cheering matter, as probably never any team before has been accompanied by so many admirers, when they went forth to battle on a foreign field.

There was the usual old business man, who will lend dignity to the occasion and the lovely co-eds, who will lend charm and beauty, the gay and festive sport, with his roll, upon whom will devolve the honor of presenting Referee Harry Corbett in his her team, and last but not least the leather-lunged rooster, without whom the game would be "stale, flat and unprofitable."

Thousands were present to bid adieu, and wish those of their more fortunate brothers and sisters Goodspeed, and a safe return, with the banner of Minnesota floating high. A jolly good-natured crowd it was, many of them greeted with smiles upon their return, as they were on their departure.

The crowd was handled in five sections, the first section leaving promptly at 7:30, and the balance following at ten minute intervals. The first train will arrive in Madison about 7:30, and the rest will arrive in regular order.

Thousands of dollars were taken by excursions last night with which to bid the team to win, provided they can get the Madison people to think that they stand any show with the "Giants of the North." No doubt the Cardinal admirers will demand odds, but it is very doubtful if the people from Minnesota will grant them any, as they figure it is about an even break. Should occasion demand that they put up a couple of dollars to get some bets, no doubt those who are not anxious to gamble will take a chance at small odds, but they will not give anything very great, neither will they venture to bet on the game.

A number of delegations went in private cars of their own. These cars will be attached to some of the special trains, but they will be exclusive, inasmuch as the crowd will be permitted to go through them. These are all sleeping cars, and those who go in them will have a good night's rest, while in the regular cars there will be very little sleep, judging from the experience of those who have made trips of a similar nature at some previous time. In times past to be caught trying to sleep was a breach of football etiquette, and the transgressor was dealt with according to university tactics.

NORTH SIDES ARE CHAMPIONS.

They Defeat Central in a Hard-Fought Game.

The North Side high school did battle with the husky young lot from the Central high school in a hard-fought game of the state championship, yesterday, and beat them. It was certainly bitter for the Central boys, but they were not to be blamed, as it never had before, by the blue and white, to the tune of 10 to 5. This does not represent the margin of the score, as the Central boys were not in the game until the third quarter, when they were completely out of the game. The line smothering of Dexter and Bergen, the interference of Nye and Heffer, was something that scarcely could be imitated in a high school game. Central fought bravely all through the game, but they were pushed and crowded right to their feet by the maroon and gold team. The game did not last more than five minutes all through the game did they play in anything like Central form, and that was about all that was to be seen of their first touchdown, they then took the ball and went right down the field for forty yards for a touchdown. After that they seemed to let up, and were neither good on the defense or offense.

TAME NIGHT AT NEW HAVEN.

Today's Game Between Yale and Princeton is a Guess.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 15.—The situation on the eve of the championship football contest between Yale and Princeton this afternoon is a guess. The evening disclosed almost none of the enthusiasm generally witnessed before the annual battle between the Tigers and the sons of Eli.

The Yale spirit of pluck and grit is evident in the Yale team, and the drawl of the crack freshman guard, Glass, has given rise to magings as to the outcome of the game. The usual "night before the battle" crowd did not materialize, and the hotels and cafes were not overcrowded. Betting was extremely scarce, and the few wagers posted were insignificant in size. The prevailing odds were 10 to 5, with Yale the favorite.

INDOOR BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Minnesota National Guard Companies Will Play This Year.

An active move is on foot to revive indoor baseball among the companies of the Minnesota National Guard. The league is already assured that a strong league will be formed in this city. While the organization of the league has originated in the guard, it will not be exclusively military, and will include teams from the St. Paul Athletic club, Hamline university, Green high school, and other institutions. Games are being arranged for at Duluth, Winona, Park-bent and Anoka.

DWYER GOES TO DETROIT.

Former Cincinnati Pitcher to Succeed Stallings.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 15.—Frank Dwyer, the former Cincinnati pitcher and umpire, after a conference with the new management of the Detroit Baseball club, tonight signed a contract to play for the club and at once began the work of organizing the club by signing Jimmy Barrett as one of the outfielders. The interests of Mr. Stallings in the club have not yet been acquired by the new manager.

Major Craft, President Bankers' Investment Company, is a veteran of the Civil War, and has endured all the hardships and privations of warfare, but he says he would go through it all again rather than endure what he has since through in the loss of those natural powers and functions which make a man manly and give him the highest and sweetest pleasures in life. Major Craft says: "After spending large sums only in bitter disappointment I found a simple cure, and was cured at my own home and at my own will and happy. I feel it my duty to assist other dependant men who are suffering in like manner, and have decided to help one thousand weak men by curing as there are thousands throwing away their money on worthless nostrums. Any man suffering from private disease or weakness write me your worst symptoms that I may compare your condition with my own, and will write you fully how I was cured, so that you can cure yourself at your own home, and I will also send you my personal check for $1.00 to help you secure the necessary medicine. RUHLIN FIGHT IN FIFTH ROUND HEARD IN ST. PAUL

At 9:30 Ruhlun entered the ring, followed by his seconds.

They tossed for corners and Ruhlun won, taking the southwest corner. The extreme heat from the powerful light over the ring made itself felt from the very beginning, but was not as intense as that which hampered the Sharkey-Jeffries fight.

Two minutes after the men entered the ring they were announced by Billy Jordan, who presented Referee Harry Corbett. He demanded odds, but the men, fighters, but an instant later, when Police Captain Wirtman entered the ring to examine the gloves, groans and hisses filled the vast auditorium. Both men cautious, they refused to go until they were assured that the men were in a fair state of mind. Jeffries, in a flaring red sweater and chewing gum in violent impatience, sat in his corner, while Ruhlun talked earnestly with Denver Ed Martin. On behalf of Tom Sharkey, Tim McGraw, charged the winner of the contest.

Time was called at 9:37.

Round One—Ruhlun led for the dead and landed heavy left with Clinch. Both men cautious, they refused to go until they were assured that the men were in a fair state of mind. Jeffries, in a flaring red sweater and chewing gum in violent impatience, sat in his corner, while Ruhlun talked earnestly with Denver Ed Martin. On behalf of Tom Sharkey, Tim McGraw, charged the winner of the contest.

Record-Breaking Crowd.

Never in the history of San Francisco has there been such a crush of humanity at a pugilistic event. Hardly had the sun hidden itself behind the hill toward the ocean before the great pavilion was filled with people, and the enthusiastic crowd gathered to watch the championship contest. Thousands poured into the gallery when the doors were finally opened, and long before the first preliminary was announced the upper portion of the pavilion was black with spectators. People coming from points between Vancouver and Mexico and embracing well known state officials, members of the legislature, and prominent sporting people early took possession of the high-priced seats.

At 8:15 o'clock a stir at the east end of the pavilion indicated that one of the principals had arrived. The word was passed that Ruhlun had reached the scene of conflict and an uproar ensued. Ruhlun went at once to his dressing room, accompanied by his seconds.

A rumor, emanating from Oakland, reached the crowd early in the evening to the effect that Jeffries had suffered an injury to one of his hands before starting for San Francisco, but popular sentiment condemned the story as a canard, and the betting at the ringside was not affected by the incident.

M. D. De Young, the millionaire editor; Mayor J. D. Phelan, Mayor-Elect Schmitz and almost the entire bench of the county of San Francisco was early at the ringside.

Historical Cheers.

When the preliminaries were announced and the first fight brought on the assembled thousands betrayed in some part the extent of their excitement and cheered vociferously, although the curtain-raiser was unimportant.

Jeffries, accompanied by Billy Delaney, Bob Armstrong, "Kid" Eagan, his brother Jack, and Dewitt Van Court, left the Oakland side of the bay on the 10:19 train. The champion entered the building while the first preliminary was in progress, and as Capt. Whitmore, in charge of the police detail, cleared the way, proceeded to his dressing room, while the throng that entered the building made a demonstration.

In great impatience the crowd waited for the appearance of the two gladiators, taking but a passive interest in the eight-round bout between Billy Condon and Mike Curtain, and in the encounter between Lou Houseman and "Spider" Joe Welch. The first preliminary was declared a draw.

The police put some of the spectators out of the gallery, it being much overcrowded. At 9 o'clock people were turned away from the doors, and probably the greatest assemblage of people ever gathered to witness a prize fight was packed into the arena.

"Giant" Overestimated.

In the opinion of James Kennedy and Jack Gleason, of the Twentieth Century club, which brought off the event, Ruhlun was drawn too fine and went to pieces because of his great zeal in training.

Lou Houseman and George Siler, both of whom were at the ringside, together with George Harting, the official time-keeper for the club, declared after the fight that Ruhlun had been greatly overestimated, that his blows were weak and easily blocked and that he was positively without endurance. While some expressions were heard in the throng after the fight placing the stigma of a fake affair on the management, it was the consensus of opinion that Ruhlun fought a losing battle in order to obtain the short end of the enormous prize. Boxing in San Francisco has not been helped by this event. City supervisors at the ringside tonight expressed great dissatisfaction and even went so far as to name a suspicion in their minds of a fictitious swindle.

It is estimated that there was something over $40,000 realized at the box office, and of this 85 per cent divided in purses of 75 and 25 per cent goes to the participants in tonight's event.

LOCAL SPORTS WERE NOT WILDLY ENTHUSIASTIC.

There was not a great deal of enthusiasm in local sporting circles over the Jeffries-Ruhlun fight last night, and as near as could be learned by visiting the resorts patronized by the "stratagem," not a great deal of money changed hands.

There are always the small bets among those who are just on the outside of the ring, but there were few heavy wagers among the talent. At a resort in Fifth street where the sports are wont to congregate it was impossible yesterday to place $50 on Ruhlun, at 1 to 2, that had been left by a local sporting man. About $5 of it had been taken before the big fight came on, and as the operator arose to read the results of the preliminaries he announced that there was still a small amount of Ruhlun money at the above named odds, but none of the Jeffries men was there to take it up.

Jeffries was, of course, the favorite with the crowd, and the announcement that Ruhlun was beaten brought down bitter comment upon him. On every side it was freely stated that he was a "dead one," and his statement after the fight was received with jeers, while the mention of Jeffries' name brought forth a little mild applause.

The game seems to be dying out in this section of the country, and there was a prevalent opinion around town, freely expressed, that the fight was not on the square, and simply arranged with regard to gate receipts and the picture man. It is said to say that not more than $1,000 of local money changed hands over the event.

THREE FAVORITES WIN AT LONDON.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 15.—The attendance was large at Douglas park today in spite of the cold weather. Three favorites won, while well played second choices got the verdict in the other events. Troxley carried off the riding honors with three wins. Dr. Clark won the first race, mainly through Howell's clever pace and the cold's ability to withstand a rough journey. Young Henry, the 8 to 5 favorite in the third event, went to the front at the flag flag and tipped the scales for the win. Spinel was as much the best of the others. May Tarr ran away in the last race, when thirteen horses of all ages and sex faced the barrier. Troxley's daring jockeyship brought Pauline J through the big field a winner.

Plungers Fall Down at Landon.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 15.—A light snow fell at Landon today, and kept the attendance down to the regulars. Several big plunges were made on good things, but they failed to land. Jockey Miller got a bad fall on Socapa in the third race, and was carried from the track unconscious. The doctors say no bones were broken, but he will be get-away day, and the local season will close until next spring.

Gonnels Doesn't Want a Franchise.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 15.—J. W. Gonnels, who has been offered a franchise over the Toledo territory in the Western association, has declined to accept it, and has notified President Powers. He says he will not stand in the way of B. Strobel, the owner of the Toledo club, securing a franchise in the Western league. The Western association claims the Toledo territory, but it is quite evident that no manager can be found who will place a team here in that league.

Seesaw Bicycling.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 15.—In spite of the bitter cold weather the riders in the six-day race fought out the one-hour race, and broke the record for the record for a similar race, doing twenty-three miles and four laps, Bobby Waller winning from Jimmy Bowler, of Chicago.

"Farmer" Burns Had a Soap.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 15.—Tonight's wrestling match was easy for Farmer Burns, in the handicap fair he threw Fred Fair and William Peters twice each in twenty-two minutes. Gus Smith got two straight falls from Ott Reese.

Cavanaugh Still Leads.

The score of the walkers at midnight was: Cavanaugh, 445 miles; Jockey Miller, 444; Strobel, 443; Dean, 387.5; Norman, 348.5; Hergeman, 332.15; Loestin, 218.7; Day, 202.7; Barcala, 202.5; West, 202; Miller, 202.

Guns Knocks Out Haulon.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 15.—Joe Gans, of this city, knocked out Jack Haulon, of Philadelphia, in the second of a bout scheduled to go twenty rounds, before the Eureka Athletic club tonight.

LOW ROOSEVELT'S GUEST.

President is Interested in Affairs of Big City.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Mayor-elect Seth Low of New York, was quite guest of President Roosevelt tonight. Accompanied by Philip Roosevelt, a cousin of the president, Mr. Low arrived here shortly after 6 o'clock this evening. He was met at the Pennsylvania depot by Secretary Cortelyou and went immediately to the White house, where he took dinner and remained over night. He spent the evening in conference with the president on municipal affairs of Great New York. He will return to New York tomorrow.
