Stillwater News

The Northwestern Thresher Company of Stillwater is making extensive improvements in this city and elsewhere, and has arranged for the construction of a large new warehouse at Fargo, N. D., which point is the distributing center for the company's trade in North Dakota and further west. The building will be a little larger than the new foundry built here this fall and will be of brick, with a stone foundation. General Manager Huffman says that work on the structure will be commenced in a few days and it will be completed as soon as possible. The building when completed will be one of the finest warehouses in that part of the Northwest.

Chief Dahlblom resides on a farm in the town of New Scandia, Washington county, was adjudged insane in the probate court yesterday and was taken to Rochester. Dahlblom is seventy-two years of age, and is suffering from senile dementia. He has a wife and several children, and has resided in this county about fifteen years.

The funeral of John Polko was held yesterday afternoon from Simonet Bros. undertaking rooms, and the remains were interred in Fairview cemetery.

In the district court today Judge Williston and a jury spent the entire day with the action of Johanna Matthews against H. H. Gillen. The presumption that no more cases will be taken up until next week.

The library board has not yet held a meeting for definite action in the matter of selecting a site for the proposed Carnegie public library. The board's official statement yesterday that a meeting will be held in the course of a couple of days. An attempt has been made to secure the Harrigan property adjoining the proposed location, in accordance with action taken at a citizens' meeting held a few days ago, and Mr. Harrigan agreed to reduce the purchase price to $4,000. This price is considered exorbitant and the city may institute condemnation proceedings.

George A. Lemmas, who is home from a trip to his Eau Claire lakes logging camps, says that work on the log work cutting and skidding. Loggers will be ready to begin hauling in about two weeks. There is little snow on the ground at Eau Claire lakes.

Mrs. Deunlecker, who was stricken with paralysis about ten days ago, is improving slowly.

The Regal Spielers and the Bonis Amis will hold at the club today. The club will play Sunday afternoon for the M. & M. silver cup.

Winnona Winnowings.

Special to the Globe.

HASTINGS, Minn., Nov. 29.—O. B. Gould, of the board of control, made an official visit to the asylum today. The amount netted from the sale of the Hampton station, for the benefit of St. Matthias church, $1,750, the best city has sold at auction to J. A. Hart for $15,000. The bride, Miss Mary Endres, of Hampton, was married at St. Matthias church, Hampton, on the 29th inst. by the Rev. Leopold Haas. The winter bride given by the Young People's Guild of St. Luke's church at the wedding, closed last night, having proved a grand success. Winnona Winnowings.

Special to the Globe.

WINONA, Minn., Nov. 29.—Coroner G. J. Tweedy was called to St. Charles to investigate the death of John Norton, a man seventy-three years of age, who was found dead on the doorstep of the house where he had been living alone for the past year. The coroner died at the death was due to heart failure, an attack having been suffered just as the old man was entering his home. Upon his person were found two purses, one containing $40 and the other $15.

Miss Allen Valentine, of this city, and A. M. Nasser, of Chicago, were quietly wedded at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Dr. William McKinley officiating. They will make their home in Chicago.

Robbin Government in Trouble.

WINNIPPEG, Man., Nov. 29.—The impression is gaining ground that the Robbin government will not be able to enforce prohibition to a vote of the people and in this way its friends think the life of the government itself will not be endangered. Prohibitionists are confident that this vote is unincurred. No official declaration has been made, but the referendum rumor meets with much credence.

Munroe Lands a Job.

MORRIS, Minn., Nov. 29.—Editor W. J. Munroe, of the Morris Sun, is now an official of the postoffice department, having last evening received official notice of his appointment as inspector of rural free delivery routes for this state. He was ordered by the postoffice department in Washington to go before a notary public and take his oath of office, which he did. He is now awaiting papers with full instructions.

FULL OF SMALLPOX.

GAME WARDENS AND HUNTERS SCARED BY SMALLPOX SIGNS ON SHACKS AND TREES.

UNIQUE AND CLEVER SCHEME.

By Which a Party of Hunters Has Undisturbed Possession of a Section of Game Forest.

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 29.—In the vicinity of Antigo, Wis., there is a tract of 500 acres that is regarded as one of the best deer hunting districts in the north of the state. However, few hunters have ventured into the district during the past fortnight, while the game warden has given it a wide berth. The reason is given in the presence of warning signs of smallpox in the district, a few of the signs being nailed on trees at points where they are most likely to be seen by hunters and others beating the woods. The sign reads: "Smallpox."

Early last week a party of three Milwaukeeans went to Antigo, and joined by three Antigo men, of whom a well-known Antigo physician was one, started off into the woods to hunt. Immediately a hue and cry was raised by Antigo acquaintances of the party, who begged and beseeched them not to risk their lives by venturing into the pest-ridden district. All the hunters, however, announced that they had smallpox in their earlier days, and were therefore immune to the pest of the contagious disease. It was with fear and foreboding, however, that their friends suffered them to depart, and constant anxiety was felt until all returned safe and sound, with not a single case of smallpox and with six deer upon their backs.

A new interruption of the peace and happiness of the party occurred, however, the presence of a game warden, who advanced the opinion that the deer, having been shot in a pest-ridden district, were possible carriers of the disease. He said that he thought the deer ought to be shot in a game-free district, and said that he had seen no signs of smallpox in the district during the entire time they had been gone.

FATALITY ON NORTH-WESTERN DUE TO PECULIAR CAUSE.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Nov. 29.—A wreck, in which one man was killed and another seriously injured, occurred on the Chicago & North-Western road at the west end of Tunnel No. 3, between Sparta and Sun Prairie, Wis., on Wednesday night. Freight No. 79, west bound, stalled in the tunnel and the engine crew, on account of a broken axle, were unable to get the engine from the train to escape. The airbrakes released themselves, allowing the train to back down the tunnel, and striking a special freight that was just entering the tunnel. G. P. Sanderson, a stockman from Trempealeau, Wisconsin, was in charge of the freight, and the Chicago live stock show, was instantly killed and one brakeman slightly injured. Traffic was blocked for several hours.

Winnona Women Take to Themselves Handsome Husband.

WINONA, Minn., Nov. 29.—Just at present Cupid is very busy in Winnona. Numerous couples having decided upon Thanksgiving as the best season to mate. Yesterday morning, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hassinger, Miss Flora B. Hassinger and George A. Krause, of Chaffee, were wedded. Rev. Philip von Rohr officiating.

In the afternoon a quiet wedding of parties well known in a town was celebrated at the home of Judge H. L. Buck, when Rev. Percy E. Thomas married George J. Hillyer and Miss Catherine Carpenter. They have gone to Minneapolis for a brief wedding trip.

In the afternoon also, Probate Judge Vance joined in marriage Elmer Burt and Miss Inez L. Lyon, both of Elmer. Wednesday evening, James Dugan, of Chaffee, and Miss Hattie Doudy, of Rochester, were happily wedded.

Still another wedding was performed by Probate Judge Vance, the contracting

I Do Not Treat All Diseases, but Cure All I Treat.

I made up my mind, soon after graduating from college, that no man was great enough to master the entire field of medicine and surgery. Many physicians have tried to do this, but they have failed. I have usually disappointed to themselves and often disappointed to their patients. For this reason I determined early in my professional career to confine my practice strictly to a single line of diseases, and to originating and perfecting a new method of treatment, treating only what I am absolutely certain that I can positively cure to stay cured. I have no competitors in my line. I have no rivals. I have no TAGIOUS BLOOD POISON, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, EMBOLISM, NEURALGIA, MIGRAINE, EASIS, and all reflex, local, and associated diseases and weaknesses of property of the train men, who are supposed to have been out hunting, but who, in fact, hand the birds over to the actual buyer as soon as they get safely through the depot. Unless some one is doing it, it is done to check or stop these violations of the game law, there will be no quail left to stock the fields for next year.

I made up my mind, soon after graduating from college, that no man was great enough to master the entire field of medicine and surgery. Many physicians have tried to do this, but they have failed. I have usually disappointed to themselves and often disappointed to their patients. For this reason I determined early in my professional career to confine my practice strictly to a single line of diseases, and to originating and perfecting a new method of treatment, treating only what I am absolutely certain that I can positively cure to stay cured. I have no competitors in my line. I have no rivals. I have no TAGIOUS BLOOD POISON, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, EMBOLISM, NEURALGIA, MIGRAINE, EASIS, and all reflex, local, and associated diseases and weaknesses of property of the train men, who are supposed to have been out hunting, but who, in fact, hand the birds over to the actual buyer as soon as they get safely through the depot. Unless some one is doing it, it is done to check or stop these violations of the game law, there will be no quail left to stock the fields for next year.

FATALITY ON NORTH-WESTERN DUE TO PECULIAR CAUSE.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Nov. 29.—A wreck, in which one man was killed and another seriously injured, occurred on the Chicago & North-Western road at the west end of Tunnel No. 3, between Sparta and Sun Prairie, Wis., on Wednesday night. Freight No. 79, west bound, stalled in the tunnel and the engine crew, on account of a broken axle, were unable to get the engine from the train to escape. The airbrakes released themselves, allowing the train to back down the tunnel, and striking a special freight that was just entering the tunnel. G. P. Sanderson, a stockman from Trempealeau, Wisconsin, was in charge of the freight, and the Chicago live stock show, was instantly killed and one brakeman slightly injured. Traffic was blocked for several hours.
