DAVIS TRIALS ON STATE CONTENTS THERE WAS NO NEED FOR GUN PLAY

DEFENSE SHOWS ITS HAND Will Admit the Killing, but Set Up the Claim That It Was Done in Self-Defense.

Special to the Globe. ST. PETER, Dec. 6.—Witnesses in the Davis murder trial this morning were G. A. Blomberg, Ed Faust, H. C. Miller and Carl Miller, by whom Davis was sought to show, on the part of the state, that the attack on Davis by Youngren was not as savage as it had been represented, and that Davis shot to warrant the killing of his assailant. These witnesses had all seen Davis after the affair, and they had not observed that he was badly beaten up, though he claimed to have been knocked down three times. They said he had some slight abrasions about the face, but that the cuts seemed not to be deep or severe. It was testified, too, that Youngren, on his way from the place where the shooting occurred to the hotel where he was taken, that he "knew he was all in," and that he did not know why Davis shot him, that he went into the room and Davis shot at him, and that then he struck Davis, after which Davis fired the fatal shot.

At the conclusion of this testimony Attorney Stone, for the defense, outlined to the jury the line of defense, admitting that Davis fired the shot, but setting up that Youngren was a robust man, under the influence of liquor, and at best a ruffian, and that Davis was a peaceable and afraid of Youngren, who had already on many occasions threatened his life for having supplanted him in the affections of the Fleischman girl.

CHAFFEE'S BIG TASK

COMMANDER IN THE PHILIPPINES SENDS HOME HIS FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

GUERRILLAS ARE BOTHERSOME Reasons for Their Prolonged Activity Are Enumerated—Troops Cannot Be Reduced in Number for a Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The war department today made public the first annual report of Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, military governor of the Philippine islands. Gen. Chaffee sums up the situation in the Philippines in a military point of view by stating that the provinces of Balangas and Laguna, in Luzon, and the islands of Samar, Mindoro, Cebu and Bohol, constitute the area now disquieted by an emboldened force of insurgents. He says that to the physical character of the country, to the nature of the warfare of the rebels, who are amano and in the selfsame hour, to the humanity of the people, who are in the possession of the advantage of the rebels and the inhabitants, who sympathize with them, and to the fear of assassination on the part of the troops, the progress of information to the American forces, is due the prolongation of the guerrilla warfare.

Commenting upon the plan of gradually replacing military with civil administration, Gen. Chaffee says: "The withdrawal of interference with civil affairs does not contemplate withdrawing the troops from the provinces to any great extent; on the contrary, this should not be done hastily, and when undertaken should be gradual and more in the nature of a concentration than a reduction of forces or abandonment of any considerable area of territory."

Army Needed for a Year. He further recommends that there be no further material reduction of troops before January, 1902. The civil government which is to be organized in provincial and municipal—Gen. Chaffee says are both new and untried, and there is but one certain and reliable method of ascertaining the progress of the natives in self-government, namely, observation of the army.

On the subject of the military government of the Philippines, Gen. Chaffee says: "In government of Manila for three years, if the military have done nothing more, it is everywhere apparent that an excellent foundation has been laid and a turbulent and hostile community brought to observe the laws and individually be orderly; this has been done without undue harshness or severity of treatment of the inhabitants."

In anticipation of a partial concentration of the troops in the Philippines next year Gen. Chaffee recommends that a permanent quarters for a garrison of two squadrons of cavalry, two batteries of artillery and two full regiments of infantry. He gives $50,000 as a rough estimate of cost for this project, and says that $200,000 would be available immediately in order to take full advantage of the dry season. For construction of the quarters at other points he estimates $2,000,000.

Dangerous Kinds of Friends. Gen. Chaffee devotes a good part of his report to the terrible disaster which befell Company C, Ninth Infantry, at Balangas, Samar, and which he says was "largely due to overconfidence in as-ing their trial at the March term of the circuit court. After the trial was returned to jail, the detective who are working on the case, with the hopes of connecting the gang with the Mondovi bank robbery, predicted that they would be shipped abroad. The elevator will employ over eighteen men and necessitate the stationing of them at the building and the house will also buy grain on the local market.

SENATE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS WILL REPORT FAVORABLY

SOUTHERNERS DISAPPOINTED

Not at the Probable Passage of the Bill, but Over Rejection of the Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The senate committee on foreign relations today voted to report favorably the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty, providing for the construction of an isthmian canal. No votes were cast against it, but it was criticized very sharply by Senators Money and Bacon, who found in it many of the objections which they urged against the old treaty. They took especial exception to the provision continuing in force the neutrality provision of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and also made objection to the clause specifically authorizing the United States to police the canal as placing a limitation upon the power of this country to absolutely control it.

In granting, however, their joint protection to any such canal, or railways as are by this article specified, it was always understood by the United States and Great Britain that the parties contracting or owing the same shall impose no other charges or conditions of traffic thereupon than the aforesaid governments shall approve of as just and equitable; and that the same canals or railways being open to the citizens and subjects of the United States and Great Britain on equal terms, shall also be open on like terms to the citizens and subjects of every other state which is willing to grant similar protection as the United States and Great Britain engage to afford.

Swallow Their Chagrin. Senators Money and Bacon did not go to the extent of voting against the report of the committee, but they acknowledged they are anxious to see it ratified because of their great desire to have the canal built. Still they insisted that the treaty as it now stands is very objectionable in the sense of some senators who are anxious to see it ratified.

It was also the sense of the committee that the consideration of the treaty should be pressed as speedily as possible in the senate, some senators expressing the hope that action might be secured before the adjournment for the holidays.

It was Senator Bacon who moved the denial of the amendment to the original Hay-Pauncefote treaty which was suggested by Senator Davis, then chairman of the committee, and adopted by the senate. That amendment provided that nothing in the treaty should apply to measures which the United States may find it necessary to take for securing by its own forces the defense of the United States and the maintenance of public order.

The senate committee of the judiciary today authorized a favorable report on the nomination of Hon. P. C. Knox to be attorney general. Opposition to confirmation is made by the anti-trust committee in the case of Mr. Knox, but the committee in which special complaint is made that Mr. Knox failed to bring certain suits against organizations said to be trusts, which he was urged by the league to prosecute.

The vote for a favorable report was unanimous.

MOINEUX GOES TO TRIAL JUDGE NEWBURGER REFUSES TO DISMISS INDICTMENT.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Judge Newburger, in the court of general sessions, this afternoon, handed down a decision denying the appeal of the late Charles F. Moineux for murder against Roland B. Moineux. The motion was to quash an indictment, or, as an alternative, for leave to introduce the minutes of the grand jury. Both applications were denied.

The attorneys for Moineux alleged that evidence introduced before the grand jury concerning what are known as the latter letters was improper under the decision of the court of appeals setting aside the conviction of Moineux. The judge, in denying the motion, said the court of appeals had no jurisdiction to direct that it had exercised this power by directing that a new trial should take place.

As to the application for an inspection of the minutes of the grand jury, Judge Newburger held that the branch of the motion had been disposed of adversely by Judge Blanchard on the application made before him by the minutes of the grand jury. He refused to renew the motion, and no further action was taken.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN KILLED ON C. P. R.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 6.—As a Canadian Pacific freight train was proceeding east at a slow pace on a dangerous curve 400 feet above the Fraser river today Engineer Randall came upon a rockslide scarcely fifty yards ahead of him. A signal was given to the brakemen and the engine was reversed, but too late. The train was going scarcely five miles an hour, but the heavy train behind piled the engine on the rocks, and before the engine and fireman could jump the engine rolled over and over 300 feet down the sheer bluff toward the river.

Engineer Randall and Fireman Potpourri were crushed to death beneath the engine. Three cars were wrecked, going over the bank after the engine.
