The convention is called for the purpose of spreading instruction throughout the state concerning the construction of good roads, and experts will be present to give the delegates and others who attend the benefit of the latest acquisition of knowledge pertaining to this subject. of knowledge pertaining to this subject. The convention will also be addressed by some of the best speakers in the state. who realize that the improvement of roads is an important factor in the development and upbuilding of the country. The state association has another aim in view, and that is to secure the meeting of the National Good Roads association, and to become more closely affiliated with this organization. The National Good Roads association will be invited to meet at the fair grounds during the Closer Union With National. The national association has been formed since the organization of the state ased since the organization of the state association, and it is believed that a greater amount of good could be done if there was a closer union between the two bodies. The officials of the state association feel that the holding of the national convention in this state would be proportive of great good, as the organizaconvention in this state would be reductive of great good, as the organization has a tran equipped with the latest read-building machinery, with which instruction in road-building is given. The convention of the state association will be held in the senate chamber. There

PLENTY OF SNOW EXPECTED

Probabilities Are That Scasonable Weather Will Grace Festive Week -Fifteen Below Yesterday in St. Paul.

Somewhere between St. Paul and Miles City, Mont., there is a wandering hot wave heading towards this city, and it is due to arrive today and to bring with it snow in abundance. The indications in the weather office, which are deducted from "highs" and "lows," are that the present cold wave is about to move eastward, and that the mercury, which for the past week has been crouching in the bulb, will today mount skyward some 15 or 20 degrees. or 20 degrees. Yesterday morning the hot wave was doing business at Miles City, and had forced large quantities of frigid ozene castward, as demonstrated by the attitude of the thermometers in this city. St. Paul was just outside of the money for low temperature, as it was colder in Moorhead, Minnedosa and Winnipeg. Local Forecaster Lyons said that it would be cold yesterday, but even he was surprised when the government thermore-eter registered 18 degrees below zero yesterday morning.

The advent of real snow for Christmas will be hailed with delight by many, some for the sleighing that it will make possible and others because they nave an inherent idea that snow is a prime requisite for Christmas. Still others are of the belief that the lack of the "beautiful" at this season of the year is always productive of excessive corpulency on the part of the graveyards. The hot wave out in the West has regis The tered temperatures as high as 54 degrees above zero, and should it do the same thing here after a heavy fall of snow there would be great possibilities for slush. Miles Hartigan, living at 234 Commercial street, and Willie Greely, living at 101 Granite street, two small boys about twelve years old, were arrested late yesterday afternoon by Detective Murnane on the charge of stealing two Waterbury watches from Schuneman & Evans. The detective saw the boys acting suspiciously and when they seized the watches they ran out of the store and up the street. Murnane gave pursuit and caught the lads before they had gone far. The watches and other small articles were found on them when they were search, d, and after s me questioning they finally admitted their guilt and said the other articles found on them were stolen from the Golden Rule. They will be charged with petit larceny in the police court today.

MUCH TECHNICAL ARGUMENT

Court Rules Against Defense on Several Objections-Scope of State's Case Is Materially Widened.

Argument back and forth over legal cirts of a technical character, and oboctions to testimony based upon those rections occupied a great deal of the ime in the trial of the state's case against James 14. Burns yesterday. One basis of recurrent objection on the part of the defense was the description of the property as set forth in the indictment. The wording of that instrument had been The wording of that instrument had been copied from the petition for refundment, upon which it was based, and in both the property in question was described as "lot II, block 7, De Bow, Smith, Risque & Williams' addition," whereas it appears that the proper designation of the addition is "De Bow, Smith, Risque & Williams' addition to St. Paul," Mr. Donnelly, for the defense, contended that the emission of the words "to St. Paul" was a vital defect, and that the state could only introduce proof with reference to the addition referred to in the indictment. ment.

The court overruled the position taken by the counsel for the defense, holding that the state had followed the property description found in the fraudulent peti-tion, and if the property was not prop-erly designated the fault did not be with erly designated the fault did not be with the state. The state would be permitted to supply the necessary proof to show the plat title of the addition.

Mayor Robert A Smith was called to identify his signature as chairman of the board of county commissioners to the certificate attached to the petition for re-fundment.

An objection to this document from the defence on the ground that there was no seal attached was overruled by the court on the ground that the signature of the chairman of the board, and attest of the county audilor, made the paper valid wrether there was a seal or not. Mayor Smith had no recollection of the signing of this individual petition, or others of a similar energeter, but he supposed that similar character, but he supposed that all of them must have been presented before the board.

Addition Is Identified.

Deputy County Auditor James Drummond identified the handwriting of H. G. Stone turned over to Benham $400 with which he was to purchase property and in consideration of his services they were to share the profits equally when the property should be sold. On Jan. 17, 1883, he purchased certain land in Kan 11, yohi county, the price of which wes statisty only county, the price of which wes mortgaged. Later the mortgages were foreclosed and the property purchased by another person.

Then on June 7, after the expiration of the time for the redemption of the property for a new consideration of $1,000 and before her death she sold it for $2,249.

Benham presented before the probace court a claim against the estate for half of the profits of this sale, basing his claim on the old contract.

The court holds that the original purchase of the property was beyond the authority conterred upon the appellant by the agreement and that Mrs. Stone never ratified the purchase. It is also held that the foreclosure of the morigage and the expiration of the redemption period cut off all the right and title of both Mary A. Stone and the appellant under the original purchase.

"Being forced to give up coffee, 1 did it in a half-hearted way, drinking cocoa in the morning, but soon became tired of that and longed for the real Java.

"Finally I tried Postum Food Coffee and since that time have drunk it to the exclusion of every other beverage. You can imagine I like it.

"Last summer I was in a place where nothing but Java coffee was served on the breakfast table, and I recommenced Of fire pictures or frames to suit your taste and purse at the wholesale factory 13-15 East Third street. "In two or three weeks I again be-
