WANTED, A PRESIDENT

EX-SENATOR CHANDLER PLEADS EARNESTLY THAT ROOSEVELT START REFORMS

SPOILS OF OFFICE A BANE

Claim Advanced That President's Time and Strength Is frittered Away in Unraveling Trivial Tangles of Politics

HE SHOULD BE LET ALONE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The Washington Post will print tomorrow an interesting and important article by ex-senator William E. Chandler, the president of the Spanish claims commission, entitled "Wanted, by the United States, a President."

The article is a strong argument for a reform in the present methods of conducting executive business. Mr. Chandler asserts that a president has now to devote three objects in his first year, to see 20,000 people a year; second, to accomplish 2,000 little things, and third, to try to do 200 great things. In the seeing of so many thousand people, in the trying to do so many and in giving his attention to the thousands of little things, the president, Mr. Chandler insists, is worn out, and becomes physically and mentally exhausted.

Great Strain Kills Presidents.

Mr. Chandler cites from personal knowledge the cases of presidents who have almost succumbed under the strain, including particularly President Arthur, in whose cabinet he was secretary of the navy, and President McKinley, to whose impaired health Mr. Chandler attributes inability to recover from the shock of the assassin's bullet.

Mr. Chandler expresses his regret that President Roosevelt, even with his quickness, his astuteness and his recent winning industry and unbounded energy, has given countenance to the idea that he will do all the appointing himself and hear all that anyone has to say concerning any appointment.

He thinks that the great weight of the pressure for office ought to fall upon the cabinet ministers, and the president ought to have more time for important things.

President Mustn't Be Pestered.

"What is wanted in the person of Mr. Roosevelt," says Mr. Chandler, "and in every other person whom the twentieth century may see in the White house, is a president who will be allowed to serve the whole people with all his heart and strength, with all his mind and body, in the discharge of his official duties, undisturbed by the pressure upon him of so many thousands of his countrymen as have in recent years encroached upon the time and patience of our presidents and kept them from their public work, compelling them to do it by means of their physical health and overstraining their mental powers.

The time has come when access to the president at public receptions should be limited to the cabinet ministers, senators, representatives and ambassadors, and to such other persons only as are given interviews for public purposes. Other written applications have been received and carefully considered.

Would Abolish Receptions.

"The public receptions of the president should be few, and there should be no intrusions upon his social life, and no person should take offense because not invited to his presence or find fault with his selection of his company, whatever be its race or color.

"This needed change of custom will at first, no doubt, be unpopular. It will be condemned as unrepublishable exclusiveness. It will require, to begin the new rule, a president who has been a man of the people, who is known to be at heart thoroughly democratic in all his ideas and ways, and who is also strong in his convictions as to the propriety of the change. Is not Mr. Roosevelt such a president? Will he inaugurate the reform?"

DOCTORS IN A TRUST

SIoux CITY PHYSICIANS WANT $2 A VISIT.

Special to The Globe. SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 4.—The Sioux City Medical society and the Sioux City Homoeopathic medical society, together comprising about ninety physicians and surgeons, will next week perfect a third organization, embracing both societies, for the express purpose of forming a trust to maintain fees.

Most of the doctors have been receiving $1.50 a visit, and it is proposed to raise the price to $2 any physician giving "bargain prices" will be expelled from the societies.

The physicians say that the fees have not advanced for ten years, but that office rent and apparatus cost much more than formerly. All physicians are agreed in forming the trust.

VERY SAD BREAK-DOWN

MRS. NEWBERRY'S TROUBLES HAVE WRECKED HER.

Special to The Globe. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Mrs. Spencer B. Newberry, daughter of Andrew D. White, United States ambassador to Germany, who was recently divorced from her husband, Prof. Newberry, has been placed in a sanitarium here. Her nerves are said to have given way under the strain of her family troubles. Her condition is considered serious.

The Newberrys have two children, both boys. One of the sons is with his mother in Syracuse and the other is with his grandparents, Ambassador and Mrs. White, in Germany.

Mrs. Newberry met and was married to her husband while her father was a professor at Cornell university.

G. W. WISWELL DYING. Has Long Been Prominent in Republican Councils.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 4.—George N. Wiswell, well known throughout the country, is said to be dying from pneumonia at his home in this city. Mr. Wiswell was sergeant-at-arms of the last national Republican convention in Philadelphia and served as assistant sergeant-at-arms at the conventions held at Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Louis. He was United States marshal of the Eastern district of Wisconsin under President Harrison.

MISS SYLVA STEPS OUT

CULMINATION OF DIFFERENCES WITH HER MANAGER.

Special to The Globe. OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 4.—The differences which have long existed between Kirk La Shelle and Marguerite Sylva culminated in an open rupture today, and Miss Sylva resigned her title role in the comic opera, "The Princess Chic." The star will leave the cast next week at Denver.

The original trouble arose when Manager La Shelle refused to restore Miss Sylva's husband, W. D. Mann, in the cast. Following this incident, Miss Sylva complains of hard work, long hours and too many mistakes. Her husband had an aversion also to seeing his wife in tights, which the exigencies of the role demands. Miss Sylva will accept, it is said, the leading part in the comic opera, "Miss Bob White," which is now touring in the South. Manager La Shelle took the star at her word, and has secured the services of Maude Lilian Berri to take her place. Miss Berri comes from the Castle Square Opera company, and has had the part under rehearsal for some time in view of such an emergency.

EIGHT KNOWN TO BE DEAD

LIST OF WALLA WALLA PEOPLE NEARLY CORRECTED

Over Two Score Are Yet Missing, but Two Groups Were Picked Up Yesterday and Others May Be Found Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—As far as can be determined by diligent inquiry and careful checking and comparison of the lists, the dead and missing from the wreck of the steamer Walla Walla now number forty-seven people. The known dead number eight; passengers missing, 192; crew missing, 20. The list of saved includes passengers and 60 of the crew. The steamer Noma City arrived here tonight with six survivors of the wreck of the steamer Walla. They include five Pacific Coast Steamship company say that two of the missing life boats arrived last night north of Trinidad and that seventeen people were landed from them.

Advices received at the office of the Pacific Coast Steamship company say that back Max of Cape Mendocino, the revenue cutter McCulloch and a number of tugs are cruising up and down the coast for possible survivors.

The majority of the survivors left today on the steamer Pomona. They are due to arrive tomorrow. The revenue cutter McCulloch and a number of tugs are cruising up and down the coast for possible survivors.

NEAH BAY, Wash., Jan. 4.—The steam collier Washena, which has just arrived, reports being in company with the French bark Max of Cape Mendocino, Jan. 2. The Max reported being in collision with a large passenger steamer at 4 o'clock that morning. The Max had three holes below the waterline. The revenue cutter McCulloch and a number of tugs are cruising up and down the coast for possible survivors.

SHAW GOES IN JAN. 28

ARRANGEMENTS PERFECTED FOR TRANSFER OF OFFICE

Retiring and Incoming Secretaries Consult With President and Complete Details—Assistant Treasurer Taylor Stays.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Gov. Leslie M. Shaw, of Iowa, was in conference with Secretary Gage today for about two hours, going over affairs of the treasury department, and then left with the secretary for the White house. Gov. Shaw said it had been decided that he should take charge of the treasury department on the 28th inst. He said he had not contemplated any changes in the official line, but he did not know that he would have any occasion to consider such changes. He regretted exceedingly that Secretary Gage had decided to leave the treasury department.

Gov. Shaw and Secretary Gage remained with the president about half an hour. Gov. Shaw later lunched with the president. He said upon leaving the White house that he had no announcement to make beyond fixing the date of his induction into office. Gov. Shaw will return to Iowa on Monday.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury H. A. Taylor will retain his position under Gov. Shaw, the new secretary of the treasury. The retention of Mr. Taylor was agreed upon at a consultation between the president and members of the Wisconsin delegation.

WANTS DETROIT ROADS

COMPANY BEING FORMED TO INVEST FIVE MILLIONS.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 4.—A company is being formed by local capitalists, with a capital stock of about $5,000,000, to buy the Everett-Moore holdings in the Detroit United railway. The movement is being engineered by the brothers of W. B. Todd & Co., and considerable Eastern and Detroit capital has been pledged. The movement was started about ten days ago, upon receiving the first hints of the impending troubles in the Everett-Moore syndicate. A prominent local banker is now in Cleveland in the interest of the proposed company.

The Detroit United railway consists of the consolidation of the street car lines of Detroit and several suburban lines. It includes 95 miles of track, and is capitalized at $12,500,000. The stock is valued at $7,000,000 and $3,000,000 is held by the Everett-Moore syndicate. The object of the proposed company is to buy the stock at an upset price if it can be secured.

SEVERE RESTRICTIONS

Are Imposed on Leavenworth Matrons by the Court.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 4.—Turner Barnes and Fred Robinson, the remaining ringleaders of the federal prison mutiny of Nov. 7, which resulted in the killing of Guard Waudrup, were given a hearing today and held to the United States grand jury. Later the entire five convicts were transferred from their former cells to quarters in a stronger building, where a guard will keep watch over their cells constantly until their cases are finally disposed of. They will not be allowed to see or speak to anyone other than the prison officials and their attorneys.

CARNEGIE INSTITUTION

CORPORATION FORMED TO HANDLE THE IRONMASTER'S GIFT OF TEN MILLIONS

ALL OBSTACLES ARE REMOVED

Donor of the Money Will Hand the Funds Over in the Form of Gift-Edged Securities of Industrial Corporations.

A LARGE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Secretary Hay and a number of gentlemen interested in the Carnegie project of a national university met at the state department today and formed a corporation known as the "Carnegie Institution." It is understood that Mr. Carnegie has removed the obstacles that existed to the acceptance of his $10,000,000 donation to the cause of education and today's action was the first step toward giving legal form and substance to the proposition. Besides Secretary Hay, the incorporators, all of whom were present at today's meeting, are Edwin D. White, justice of the supreme court; S. C. Gilman, late president of Johns Hopkins university; Chas. D. Walcott, superintendent of the geological survey; John S. Billings, former surgeon of the navy, and Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor.

Text of Articles Adopted.

The preamble of the articles of incorporation sets forth as follows: "We, the undersigned persons of full age, and citizens of the United States, a majority of whom are citizens of the District of Columbia, being desirous to establish and maintain in the city of Washington, in the spirit of Washington, an institution for promoting original research in science, literature and art, do hereby associate ourselves as a body corporate for said purpose, under an act to establish a code of law for the District of Columbia, approved March 3, 1901.

In pursuance of that act the provisions and purposes are certified briefly in four articles. They fix the name and title of the institution as the "Carnegie Institution," and show that it is organized "for a perpetual term." Its objects are the promotion of study and research, the power to acquire, hold and convey real estate and other property and to establish general and special funds; to assist investigations in science, literature or art, to co-operate with governments, universities, colleges, technical schools, learned societies and individuals; to appoint committees of experts to direct special lines of research, publish and distribute documents, conduct lectures and hold meetings, acquire and maintain a library and in general to do and perform all things necessary to promote the objects of said institution.

Securities Will Be Gift-Edged.

The meeting today, at which the incorporation crystallized, was the result of a number of informal conferences that have been held by the incorporators, who were selected personally by Mr. Carnegie. The definite form in which the gift of Mr. Carnegie will be made has not been announced, although, according to those interested in the project, it will be in a shape generally satisfactory. It is understood it will be in the form of gift-edged securities, but not of government issue, which would have no market value outside the securities. The further development of the project now awaits the outline from Mr. Carnegie of his ideas and purposes. The next step will be the organization of a board of trustees. This doubtless will include the present incorporators and other representative men from all parts of the country. This will be in line with the policy pursued in organizing the board for the Carnegie Institution in Scotland.

COLORADO WANTS SETON

FAMOUS NATURALIST IS CHARGED WITH KILLING A DOE.

Special to The Globe. DENVER, Jan. 4.—The governor of Colorado will ask the governor of New York to deliver Ernest Seton-Thompson, the well known writer on wild animal life, to a messenger from this state. He is wanted to answer to three charges of violation of the game law last fall.

Until today there was no evidence against Thompson, but the capture of a fox consigned by J. B. Goff, the trapper, furnishes the game warden with all the evidence, they say, they want to convict. The fox is now at the capitol, locked up in a special box containing a mink skin, a highly polished cow horn, used by hunters to call dogs, a black bear hide, with head mounted, a small stool, the legs of which were the four legs taken from a doe skin.

The bear skin is an exceptionally fine specimen. The animal was caught in a trap by Seton last summer when he was arrested. The venison used to attract the bear was that of the animal from which the doe skin was taken. In Colorado it is a criminal offense to kill a doe in or out of season.

SUIT FOR FIVE MILLIONS

TO BE BROUGHT AGAINST STATE BY MICHIGAN CENTRAL

Damages Will Be Claimed For Forfeiture of Special Charter Forced By Michigan Against Road's Protests.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Damages amounting to at least $5,000,000, and possibly to more than double that sum, will be sought by the management of the Michigan Central road against the State of Michigan.

Suit to recover for loss already occasioned and to be occasioned in the years to come through the forced forfeiture of the special charter of the Michigan Central will be begun in the United States court as soon as the assessment of damages can be determined by careful calculation. The legal controversy grows out of the recent law passed by the legislature of the state fixing the maximum charge per mile for passenger service at 2 cents.

Attorney Winston, who represents the Michigan Central, confirms the report.

TO DIG ITS OWN COAL

STEEL CORPORATION FORMS A SUBSIDIARY COMPANY

Will Develop a Field of Fifty Thousand Acres in the Pittsburgh District to Furnish Millions of Tons.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—The United States Steel corporation has arranged to produce its own supply of coal in the Pittsburgh district, by the development of 50,000 acres, worth approximately $10,000,000. The work of development will be started at once by a subsidiary company, the National Mining company, of which President Thomas Lynch, of the H. C. Frick Coke company, is at the head.

The National Mining company will open its first mine in the Fox Handle field, fourteen miles from Pittsburgh, in the Chartiers valley, where 7,500 acres of coal property will be developed. Contracts have already been placed for the electric hauling and other modern equipment, and this first mining plant is to be in operation before the end of the year. Other property will be started during the year.

The steel corporation plants in this district, aside from the Carnegie Steel company, consume about 3,500,000 tons of coal annually, and the operation of the National Mining company is designed to supply this.

What the Democrats Did.

The Democratic senate caucus nominated Senator Roubush for president pro tem. The Democratic caucus was due to George B. Cox of Cincinnati.

Tonight's nominations affect more than the legislature, which convenes next Monday. The present prestige of the Ohio senators with the national administration and in future national and state campaigns, the reapportionment of the congressional districts, the next gubernatorial nomination, as well as the reelection of Senator Hanna two years hence, have been openly and freely discussed during the contest.

FORAKER HAS SENATE

OFFICERS OF OHIO'S UPPER LEGISLATIVE BODY CHOSEN WITHOUT A CONTEST

SPEAKERSHIP FIGHT WAS HOT

Hanna Men Win Out With W. S. McKinnon, but Deny That It Was Intended to Humiliate Foraker

FUTURE INVOLVED IN RESULT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 4.—In the Republican caucus this evening for the organization of the general assembly, the Hanna partisans secured control of the house, and the Foraker partisans of the senate. Some of the nominations for the latter were made without opposition, but there was a fight to a finish for the speakership.

In the senate the senators make up the standing committees themselves. In the house, the speaker appoints all the committees, and the contest was mainly for the speakership, with everything else as a secondary consideration. The Republican senate caucus was short and featureless, but the house caucus was animated and lasted several hours. Representative Cole, in presenting the name of W. S. McKinnon, of Ashabula, for speaker, denied that McKinnon's election could be construed as a humiliation of Senator Foraker, whose re-election they all desired.

Outside Influences Denounced.

Representative Guerin, in presenting the name of Aaron E. Price, of Athens, for speaker, repeated the statement that Price had been introduced originally by both senators. He denounced what he termed "outside influences."

McKinnon was nominated over Price on the first ballot by a vote of 33 to 29. After McKinnon's address of acceptance, Price was called out and made a sensational speech of the day, declaring himself for Hanna for re-election to the senate two years hence. Price said that he considered that McKinnon's election would be construed as a humiliation of Senator Foraker, whose re-election they all desired.

Burgess L. McElroy was nominated for reelection as chief clerk of the house over H. V. Speelman, on the first ballot by a vote of 43 to 23. The Foraker representatives made their last stand for reelection to the senate, but their nominations being made without much opposition.

Cox Scores in Senate.

In the senate Republican caucus most of the time was devoted to the election of a committee to apportion the standing committees. F. B. Archer was nominated for president pro tem. without opposition. F. E. Scooby was nominated for chief clerk over W. E. Chid. The senate nominations include only one pronounced Hanna man—Richard Lynch, for enrolling clerk.

The result of the senate nominations was due to George B. Cox of Cincinnati. Tonight's nominations affect more than the legislature, which convenes next Monday. The present prestige of the Ohio senators with the national administration and in future national and state campaigns, the reapportionment of the congressional districts, the next gubernatorial nomination, as well as the reelection of Senator Hanna two years hence, have been openly and freely discussed during the contest.

BREAD ON THE WATERS

J. S. BREWER MODEST CONCERNING PEAVEY'S REQUEST.

Special to The Globe. CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 4.—A pretty story of kindness to a poor boy as known by years afterward in the bequest of a millionaire, has come to light through the bequest of $1,000 in the will of Frank H. Peavey, of Minneapolis, to John S. Brewer, of Chicago.

When Mr. Brewer was seen today he was at first inclined to talk about the remembrance, preferring rather to speak of the good qualities of the man whom he had befriended as a boy. Then, rather as an illustration of these good points than as exploiting his casting of bread upon the waters, he told the circumstances of his early meeting with Mr. Peavey. The latter was a poor boy, without friends and without a dollar in the world. He had been offered work in Sioux City, Iowa, but was stranded in Chicago, without means to pursue his journey to the end. He called on Mr. Brewer, and his story, and was helped on his way by the latter. This kindness the elevator king never forgot.

BIG BUNCH OF TICKETS STOLEN

CHICAGO THIEVES SWIPE $50,000 WORTH FROM AN EXPRESS WAGON

SOME OF THE LOOT RECOVERED

James Roddy, a Negro, Confesses to Being a Participant in the Theft and Shows Where the Tickets Were Hidden.

Special to The Globe. CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Thirty thousand dollars worth of tickets of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, which were to have been placed on sale at St. Paul to cover passage from that city to points West, have been stolen in this city. The tickets bear the indorsements of the railroad officials and can easily be passed.

The theft came to light through the arrest of James Roddy, a negro, who confessed to the police that he took part in stealing the tickets. Roddy, who is known under the alias of William White, was caught with John Lewis, another negro, by the police. Roddy said he had hidden the tickets in a room at the State street hotel, where they had been taken by the thieves. They had been assigned to St. Paul by the American express. The express company's wagon took them from the printing office, but when it reached the Northwestern station it was discovered that the package was missing. Roddy confessed that his companions took the tickets from the wagon as it was on its way to the depot.

When the "plant" was found ninety-five tickets were missing. Those Roddy said he had destroyed.

ROAST FOR ROOSEVELT

MILES' REPRIMAND CONDEMNED BY SAMPSON ORGAN

Method Adopted by the President Violated All the Amnicities of Official Intercourse Most Flagrantly.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—The Army and Navy Register, a semi-official organ of the government, in its issue published today, adds to its previous criticism of President Roosevelt for the Miles episode. It says: "It is a great pity the complete story of Gen. Miles' visit to the White house previous to his appointment as president of the president cannot be told. The anger of the president on that occasion, and the language which he employed to the commanding general of the army, has never been accurately reported.

"Mr. Roosevelt approached Gen. Miles in a manner which, without exaggeration, may be described as 'overly familiar.' The president's attitude was a poor compensation for the publicity of the personal reprimand that the president, before Gen. Miles left the room, assumed a low, domineering attitude. ## A LONG FIGHT FOR LIFE

CREW OF A SCHOONER SAVED IN NICK OF TIME

Became Crippled in a Wintery Storm and Men Had to Leap Themselves to the Pumps to Prevent Being Swept Away.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 4.—The schooner Lizzie M. Stanley arrived here tonight having on board Capt. C. V. Clarke, Mrs. Clarke, her seven-year-old nephew and the crew of the schooner Eva L. Ferris, which was wrecked, bound from Philadelphia to Boston and Lynn with coal and dynamite. Capt. Clarke and the crew were badly frost-bitten. The Ferris ran into the northwest gale of Tuesday and tried to make Cape Sable.

At the height of the gale the vessel's bobstay chain parted, leaving her badly crippled. A fight for life began which lasted for fifty-six hours, until the Ferris distress signals were seen by the Stanley.

Lashed to the pumps to keep from being washed overboard, the men worked all night long, the unmanageable craft settling deeper as the coal became water-soaked. Soon after the rescue by the Stanley, the Ferris sank.

JONES FAMILY UNITED

ALL GET TOGETHER TO SELL COAL INDEPENDENTLY.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—A powerful independent coal combination was formed in Pittsburgh today, which will be known as the Manufacturers' and Consumers' Coal company, with a capital of $5,000,000, all paid in. The combine is a consolidation of all the J. H. Jones interests, together with the Pittsburgh & Buffalo coal company. The latter, while operating as a separate company, will be managed from the same general office and by the same set of officers as the Pittsburgh district. The daily output will be about 15,000 tons. The Manufacturers and Consumers will come into direct competition with the Pittsburgh Coal company (which is called the rail combine), but it is not intended to cause the latter company any injury in any way, the contention being that the Pittsburgh company cannot supply the demand upon it.

WON'T ENCOURAGE BRYAN.

Massachusetts State Committee Takes Decided Stand.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—At a meeting today the Democratic state committee refused to co-operate with the Commonwealth club in the reception and banquet to be tendered by the latter to William J. Bryan. The action of the committee was unanimous.

Texas Anti-Trust Suits.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 4.—Anti-trust suits were today filed against the John H. Kirby Lumber company for $45,000 penalties for operating in violation of the Texas anti-trust law. Suits were also filed against the National Cotton Oil company, the Taylor Oil company and the Southern Oil company for $25,000 damages for violating the anti-trust law.

SPUNKY DEMOCRATS

YOUNG AND FIGHTING MEMBERS OF THE PARTY OBJECT TO LAY-DOWN POLICY

WILL FIGHT ADMINISTRATION

Philippines Tariff Bill, Crumpacker Bill and Ship Subsidy Measure to Be the Objects of Determined Attack

FROM THE GLOBE BUREAU, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—The Democratic members of the senate, and particularly the younger like Culberson and Bailey, of Texas, Dubois, of Idaho, Patterson, of Colorado, and Rawlins, of Utah, are preparing for a vigorous campaign against legislation proposed by the administration. There are a lot of things they will fight, but chiefly their energies will be put forth against the Philippine tariff bill, the Crumpacker bill to cut down Southern representation and the ship subsidy bill.

It is the intention to get after the Philippine tariff measure when it comes to the committee on the Philippines, and the minority will make a report in favor of free trade with the islands.

On the 10th of this month the minority is planning to get together for an informal caucus to talk over plans for the session. Some of the younger Democrats in the house, like Carmack, of Tennessee, Ball, of Texas, and DeArmond, of Missouri, think the minority should take a more active part in the shaping of legislation. They want the Democrats to get together on a definite plan of campaign and to act as a unit against the majority. An indorsement of the Kansas City platform will be considered at the caucus.

The Republicans will caucus on the Crumpacker measure and the accession of Henry C. Payne to the cabinet has revived hopes of its passage. Payne has always favored it. The Democrats will start as a unit against thus reducing their representation in the electoral college by some dozen votes.

ARE RIVAL MAGISTRATES

ENLIVEN THE POLICE COURTS OF BROOKLYN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A great legal entertainment was precipitated in the police courts of Brooklyn today. The last legislature passed an act abolishing police magistrates and providing for the election of city magistrates whose functions should embrace those exercised by the police magistrates. The validity of this act was attacked in injunction proceedings brought by appointees of former Mayor Van Slyck against those elected to the city magistracies last November.

Today, relying upon a decision by Justice Mareau dissolving the injunction, both the old and the new magistracies appeared at the several places of holding court and as a result there was much confusion.

In the afternoon Justice Mareau rendered another decision upholding the police magistracies.
