

FOR BEER ROADS

ANNUAL MEETING OF STATE ASSOCIATION TO BE HELD THIS WEEK

SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED

Addresses Are to Be Delivered by Competent Engineers on Road-Making Problems - Van Sant Will Speak.

Important matters relating to the betterment of roads in Minnesota will be discussed at the coming annual meeting of the State Road Builders' Association, which convenes at the state capitol Thursday morning, Judge H. R. Wells, of Preston, Minn., is the president of the Minnesota Road Builders' Association. J. T. Elwell, of Minneapolis, is secretary, and the assistant secretary is Benjamin F. Beardsley, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be called to order at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and after the opening exercises, Gov. Van Sant will deliver the address of welcome, to which Mr. Wells will reply. Committees reports on resolutions, legislation and financial matters. A. P. Choate, of Minneapolis, will contribute a paper on "The Next Year's Road Program," which will be discussed by George W. Cooley, and Charles A. Forbes, county surveyor for Dakota county, will give his views on highway supervision. The cause of road roads will be the theme of George H. Shellenberger, of this city, and George W. Sublette, of Minneapolis, will have for his subject "County Roads and City Pavements."

H. P. Hall has been asked to open the afternoon session with a paper on "The Press and Its Relation to the Good Roads Cause." A discussion of this paper will be followed with some remarks on road building in other states from H. L. Johnson.

The papers which will be discussed are: "Steel Highway Bridges and Their Maintenance"; "Practical Road Building With Motor Trucks"; "Highway Improvement in Minnesota"; "The Value of the Good Roads to the Farmer, and How to Obtain Them."

Before adjourning the gathering will elect officers for the ensuing year.

STRENGTH IN UNITY

BISHOP EDWARDS MAKES STRONG PLEA AT CHURCH OF ST. JOHN

MISSION OF CHRISTIANITY

Until All Denominations Join Present a United Front, Progress Will Be Necessarily Slow and Unsatisfactory.

The Rt. Rev. Samuel Edsall, Episcopal bishop of Minnesota, preached last evening in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, 1000 Broadway, on the subject, "Strength in Unity." This was the first time that the congregation heard him, and the church was full. His text was chosen from St. Paul's epistle to the Romans, occurring in the service for the anniversary of the death of many members in one body, and all members have not the same office, so we being many, are one in Christ."

Using these and the following verses as a basis, the bishop makes a strong plea for unity among all Christian bodies. He said St. Paul's words taught each member must do, and each avoid, to live up to his sacred nature. Both Scripture and nature showed the great advantage of harmony and unity over discord and division. Some of the messengers present, who were summed up in such plain and trite maxims as "Divided we fall, united we stand," and "In unity there is strength." In nature's history astronomy teaches through observation, learned by means of the telescope the marvelous harmony, and the orderly procession of the great heavenly bodies, yet each has its own individuality. But when tyranny and anarchy were the horns of the dilemma, and that all must choose the one or the other. But long ere this the Anglo-Saxon should have learned that his truest happiness lay in liberty regulated by law. And while there are those abroad who cannot find any safety they believe, except in tyranny, and others, non except in the most unbridled license, yet for the Anglo-Saxon a well regulated, law-abiding liberty brought the highest happiness.

Christianity, he asserted, has not exerted the influence that it ought to have done, when the great growth of population and the immense advance of civilization is considered. But when men and women of the most respectable classes, there was a growing indifference to Christian duties, first the sanctity of the Sabbath was disregarded, then they were wont to neglect their duties to the church. In only a few homes today was there regular family worship, or even grace said before meals. Then came the divorce law, which has broken up the family, and the divorcee frequently obtained on perjured evidence. Rome fell with the breaking down of the unity of the church, and these things make one pause and wonder what fate awaits the nation.

Whether we analyze home life, or look abroad, Christianity is seen to be crumbling and falling to exercise the influence it ought, because of the lack of unity. A divided Christianity is an unmitigated evil, said the bishop. And he pointed out that the element of truth in that for which he is contending, commits a grievous sin.

Only when all Christians were united, he asserted, will Christianity exert that great influence that it ought on the lives, and in the families of all professing Christians.

The congregation stayed a few minutes after the service and greeted the bishop personally.

"OUT OF SORTS"

That's the Way You Feel When Your Digestion is Out of Order.

This printer is "out of sorts." He is out of some of the letters needed to set this paragraph and it has been necessary for him to turn other letters upside down, to take their places, the black spaces in some of the words.

CITY NEWS

The funeral of Charles A. Ryedale, who died at Rochester Saturday, will be held this afternoon from the undertaking rooms of Listoe & Wold, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Anna Burke died yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. O'Leary. She was eighty-three years of age, and the funeral will be held at 8:30 tomorrow morning, with a service at the Cathedral.

Martin Kuebel, who is a patrolman attached to the Ducas street station, slipped on an icy pavement on Stryker avenue yesterday morning and broke his ankle. He was taken to his home in the patrol wagon. Dr. Stann attended him.

Magnus Christenson, forty-three years of age, died yesterday at the home of G. N. Ohison, 616 Olive street. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in the First Swedish M. E. church, at 2 o'clock, and interment will be at Union cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Alenann, 114 Smith avenue, celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding, at their home last night. Covers were laid for thirty and music was furnished by Emil Straka and Carl Riedelsberger, who contributed several violin solos. Miss Yvonne and Miss Marie were the soloists.

The music at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Kent and Portland avenues, yesterday morning included for the anthem selections from the cantata of the "Story of Bethlehem," by West. The solos were sung by Mrs. E. Passon Smith soprano and Mr. Phillips bass.

Mr. I. R. Patnode, who has been running a news and confectionery store for the past six years at the corner of Selby and Dale streets, moved yesterday to his new store two blocks farther out at the corner of Selby and Grotto. During the time that Mr. Patnode has been in business at his present place he has made many friends and built up a prosperous business; a business that in fact has outgrown his quarters. He would be pleased to see his old customers at his new stand. He will have a full stock of agent, and newboys can get papers same as before.

ST. PAUL'S PROGRESS

H. P. HALL DESCRIBES CITY PROGRESS IN NEW YORK TIMES

A BIG BOOM IN BUSINESS

Six Thousand More People on Manufacturers' Pay Rolls Than a Year Ago—Some Sample Figures.

H. P. Hall, secretary of the Jobbers' union, contributed an article on St. Paul's progress during 1901 to a review of the commercial and financial conditions of the country appearing in the New York Times Jan. 5. His article in full is quoted below:

In the history of St. Paul there has been no more prosperous business year than that of 1901. After the panic of 1893 there was a depression for several years here, as in other parts of the country, and then gradually a recuperation. The year 1900 was counted by our business men as the banner year, but 1901 has far eclipsed its predecessor. The thousand men who were employed on the telegraph operator line for the first time last September. Shortly after his departure several coupon tickets were issued, but Moffet was not suspected. A notice was sent out by the telegraph brokers, announcing the loss of tickets and requesting that anyone trying to dispose of them be arrested. Early in the morning Moffet went into a ticket broker's establishment on Third street and attempted to sell the tickets that had been stolen. Officer Beck was on duty, and he placed Moffet under arrest and lodged him in the central police station.

When seen by The Globe last night he declined to talk of the matter, saying that he would wait until he had held a conference with General Passenger Agent F. L. Whitney, of the Great Northern, at which time he hopes to adjust the matter satisfactorily.

HAD STOLEN TICKETS

R. MOFFET TRYING TO SELL PURLOINED PASTERBOARDS

Was Formerly Agent on Great Northern at Moorehead and Tickets Disappeared With Him.

A man giving the name of R. Moffet was arrested early yesterday morning for trying to sell some railroad tickets that had been stolen from the Great Northern at Moorehead. Moffet was a telegraph operator on the line for the first time last September. Shortly after his departure several coupon tickets were issued, but Moffet was not suspected. A notice was sent out by the telegraph brokers, announcing the loss of tickets and requesting that anyone trying to dispose of them be arrested. Early in the morning Moffet went into a ticket broker's establishment on Third street and attempted to sell the tickets that had been stolen. Officer Beck was on duty, and he placed Moffet under arrest and lodged him in the central police station.

When seen by The Globe last night he declined to talk of the matter, saying that he would wait until he had held a conference with General Passenger Agent F. L. Whitney, of the Great Northern, at which time he hopes to adjust the matter satisfactorily.

ROBBED CASH DRAWER

POLICE MAKE CLEVER CAPTURE OF A WAYWARD LAD.

Mrs. E. A. Stegar, who keeps a small store on Tenth and Sibley streets, reported to the police last evening that someone had broken open the front door of her store and had stolen from the cash drawer. Detectives Ryan and Goven were assigned on the case, and in a few minutes found that the guilty party was a young man named from the O'Connor family, 238 East Tenth street. An investigation revealed the fact he had left the city. The detectives at once made their way to the union depot and there found the young man, who had returned the money but who he said he had spent. He is only seventeen years of age, and has been employed by Koehler & Hinrichs for some time. He left them a few days ago. His father lives in the city and is employed as a harnessmaker on Sibley street.

ALMOST OUT OF DEBT

NEW ARLINGTON HILLS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH STARTS WITH GOOD PROSPECTS

RAISE $1,000 AT DEDICATION

Rev. J. D. Paxton, With a Blackboard and Skillful Appeal, Made Large Reduction in Floating Debt.

As an epoch in the history of the Arlington Hills Presbyterian church, yesterday will have two-fold importance, for it was not only the occasion of the dedication of the new church edifice, but also brought about the reduction of the church debt to a sum that is scarcely more than nominal, and will be easily managed.

The dedicatory services were held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the attendance was so augmented by the membership of the other Presbyterian churches of the city that it was found necessary to place chairs in the aisles.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. D. Paxton, pastor of House of Hope, who took for his text "Take heed, therefore how ye hear." He spoke of the importance of this day to the Arlington Hills church, and suggested that it would be timely to consider whether the new church was a luxury or a responsibility to the congregation. Reiterating the words of his text, he said that the intention was to frequently reverse and directed from the congregation toward the pulpit in the words: "Take heed how ye hear." The responsibility, he said, was to be placed on the shoulders of the pastor, when it should rest entirely with the congregation. The words of the pastor could make but little difference, to those who were in positions of responsibility, and it was not merely a place for men to go to be taught by another man how to lead better lives, or to receive good advice. That could all be secured from other sources—from reading books or papers, or even from one's friends. Neither should the church be regarded as a place to go to be influenced for the better. It should be the place to go to worship God and to commune with God. Therefore he urged the hearers to keep their feet on the church worshipfully. Few people, he said, attended church in the truly worshipful spirit, and some while in church spent the time in frequenting the bar of the week. He deprecated the spirit which would lead persons to attend divine worship because it was respectable to do so, or because they might meet some one. He further urged his hearers to attend church prayerfully, as without prayer they could accomplish but little.

The dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. John Sinclair, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

In the course of the service a quartette consisting of Mrs. T. M. Newson, soprano; Mrs. Charles O. Krieger, contralto; Harry E. George, tenor, and D. F. Colville, basso, sang Dudley Buck's anthem, "O Sing the Lord a New Song," and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," by Sheldon.

An offertory solo was sung by Mrs. P. Wold.

At the close of the services Rev. J. D. Paxton presented a "blackboard problem," as it was designated, which proved to be an exposition of the church finances, in which a blackboard was used to demonstrate the reduction in the debt effected by each subscription as it was announced.

Briefly stated, Dr. Paxton's explanation was to the effect that the church had cost in all $7,300. Of that amount $4,500 had already been paid by contributions secured by the pastor and $1,000 had been given outright by the board of church erection. Besides that $700 had been loaned by the same board, to draw no interest and to be paid in installments of $70 a year. The remaining $700 was still outstanding as a floating indebtedness to the same board, and was raised today to put the church out of danger. Dr. Paxton explained that the contribution which had been taken up amounted to $2, and proceeded to blackboard the debt as demonstrated on the reduction in squares of $5 each by raising eight of the squares.

Beginning with the seven $100 squares, each of which there were several, continuing until by a process of gradual reduction contributions of $5 each were received, the sum of $1,000 was subscribed by the same board, and was used to pay the floating indebtedness of $700, but will reduce the obligation to the church erection board to $400 and leave the church to pay but $40 per year instead of $700.

The project of building this new church, which was dedicated yesterday, was begun eighteen months ago, and the corner stone was laid Aug. 12. The pastor is Rev. A. E. Driscoll, who entered upon his work in this field Jan. 1, 1897, and whose untiring efforts have been largely due to the erection of the new building has been possible.

FOUND HIM IN A THEATER

RUNAWAY BOY FROM MANKATO IS LOCATED BY HIS FATHER.

Don Black, aged seventeen years, whose home is in Mankato, ran away last Wednesday and came to the city. His father arrived here yesterday and instituted a search for his son. He reported at the police station that the boy was in the city, and asked the aid of the department in locating him. Sergeant Murnane was assigned on the case, and in company with the father went to the theater last night, where young Black was watching "Lost in the Desert."

When he saw his father he was willing to accompany him back to Mankato, where his mother is anxiously awaiting him. When he left home he had $40 with him, but when found last night it was all gone.

HE HITS HARD.

Good, Old King Coffee.

People don't realize what a savage tyrant coffee is. It gets the upper hand and one of the reasons it maintains its power is that people do not believe that coffee is doing the deadly work, but they wait until it is too late to get away from it.

A lady in Norfolk, Va., writes an interesting experience. "Some months ago a friend who was calling asked if I could get her some coffee. I bought her a cup of the best I could find, and she said she would never be well again, and in her sweet, Christian way, she wrote regarding her approaching death, saying she had relinquished all hopes, and was quietly awaiting the coming of the grim reaper.

The husband sent for his mother, who was just about to be moved. When I called I found she was suffering from a most aggravated stomach and bowel trouble, being in pain most of her time, and she could hardly retain enough nourishment to keep her alive, although she was always hungry and craving food, but not daring to touch it because of the agony it brought her.

I found she was a coffee drinker, and insisted that she quit the coffee and take Postum Food Coffee with some Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food. I had gone through a wonderful experience myself, and knew the value of both Postum and Grape-Nuts.

I went right to work and made her a cup of Postum the first thing, which she drank and lived up to her recovery. A short time ago I met her daughter-in-law, and asked how her mother was getting on. She said, "Wonderfully well. She is a new woman. She has entirely recovered her health and spirits, and just to think it was by the simple act of leaving off that poisonous coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee with some Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food." I had gone through a wonderful experience myself, and knew the value of both Postum and Grape-Nuts.

I went right to work and made her a cup of Postum the first thing, which she drank and lived up to her recovery. A short time ago I met her daughter-in-law, and asked how her mother was getting on. She said, "Wonderfully well. She is a new woman. She has entirely recovered her health and spirits, and just to think it was by the simple act of leaving off that poisonous coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee with some Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food." I had gone through a wonderful experience myself, and knew the value of both Postum and Grape-Nuts.

FEAST OF GOOD MUSIC

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS HEAR THIS CHICAGO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

The regular men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon was given over to the music of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. A special program was prepared in which several exceptionally good musical numbers were introduced.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra, which was in the city for the concert which gave at the People's church Saturday night, consented to render two selections for this meeting. They gave a large part of the "Symphony of the New World," by D. Antonio and a large part of Handel. Both numbers were exceptionally fine and pleased the audience.

Mr. Edward Towne and Mme. Hagna Linné rendered two vocal selections, and the Van Oord-Wagner string quartette also took part. Miss Gertrude Sanson presided at the organ.

The address was delivered by Rev. Daniel Rader, pastor of the First M. E. church, in which he urged his hearers to strive to live so as to be able to exert the greatest influence upon those about them. He said a man will be remembered after he is dead only by the good he has done. In order to prove this he pointed out that many of the great names that are long past, only those whose work was to do good are remembered, while those whose names at the time were perhaps better known have long been forgotten. The rich men of the time of Paul, of Martin Luther and John Wesley are not remembered, but the names of these men are still fresh in the minds of the people and their virtues continue to come. They achieved true greatness.

To Florida

Via Queen & Crescent Route and Southern Railway. Three car lines per day. Chicago to St. Augustine without change. Super train service, fast schedules. Ask connecting lines or address W. A. Beckler, N. E. A. Q. & C. Route, 113 Adams St., Chicago.

BOOM IN MANUFACTURING.

In the manufacturing industries there has also been great advancement, and 6,000 more people are on the pay rolls today in manufacturing establishments than there were on Jan. 1, 1901. This development in all lines of trade has been phenomenal, and a matter of surprise to the oldest of our business men.

St. Paul has eleven independent railroad systems, which, with their respective divisions, give us practically twenty-three separate railroads. The Union Depot company has expended over $1,000,000 in enlarging its terminal and its railroad yards, which has involved the construction of an increased levee on the banks of the river for a mile and a half, to obtain more room for railroad tracks. Extensive additional railroad shops are in progress of construction which will give, when completed in the spring, employment to several thousand men, to meet the demand for increased railroad traffic.

There has been an increase of 2,000 employees during the year in the two largest alone of manufacturing establishments, and in the same time the number of pairs of shoes. The American Grass Twine company, which transforms the heretofore supposed to be worthless swamp grass of Minnesota into high-grade furniture, has increased its working force in St. Paul over 1,000.

I give these figures merely as samples, which apply in greater or less degree to all branches of industry and mercantile pursuits.

New Buildings in Demand.

The building record of the city for 1901 exceeds any year for the past twelve years in our history, and every new business has been promptly responded to as soon as the architect's plans were placed before the public. The demand for homes for our increased population has caused more apartment houses and residences to be erected in 1901 than during any previous year in our history, and their needed occupancy has been only limited by the supply. Numerous other apartment houses were, the numerous new ones erected the past year has more than doubled the capacity of the city for supplying these popular homes.

Having and street improvements have kept pace with our progress, and the city of St. Paul concludes the year 1901 with the brightest page in its history in the form of commercial and industrial advancement. There are no idle men, unless from choice, and general happiness and prosperity pervade the community, with every indication that 1902 will take no second place behind the year just concluded.

FOUND HIM IN A THEATER

RUNAWAY BOY FROM MANKATO IS LOCATED BY HIS FATHER.

Don Black, aged seventeen years, whose home is in Mankato, ran away last Wednesday and came to the city. His father arrived here yesterday and instituted a search for his son. He reported at the police station that the boy was in the city, and asked the aid of the department in locating him. Sergeant Murnane was assigned on the case, and in company with the father went to the theater last night, where young Black was watching "Lost in the Desert."

When he saw his father he was willing to accompany him back to Mankato, where his mother is anxiously awaiting him. When he left home he had $40 with him, but when found last night it was all gone.

HE HITS HARD.

Good, Old King Coffee.

People don't realize what a savage tyrant coffee is. It gets the upper hand and one of the reasons it maintains its power is that people do not believe that coffee is doing the deadly work, but they wait until it is too late to get away from it.

A lady in Norfolk, Va., writes an interesting experience. "Some months ago a friend who was calling asked if I could get her some coffee. I bought her a cup of the best I could find, and she said she would never be well again, and in her sweet, Christian way, she wrote regarding her approaching death, saying she had relinquished all hopes, and was quietly awaiting the coming of the grim reaper.

The husband sent for his mother, who was just about to be moved. When I called I found she was suffering from a most aggravated stomach and bowel trouble, being in pain most of her time, and she could hardly retain enough nourishment to keep her alive, although she was always hungry and craving food, but not daring to touch it because of the agony it brought her.

I found she was a coffee drinker, and insisted that she quit the coffee and take Postum Food Coffee with some Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food. I had gone through a wonderful experience myself, and knew the value of both Postum and Grape-Nuts.

I went right to work and made her a cup of Postum the first thing, which she drank and lived up to her recovery. A short time ago I met her daughter-in-law, and asked how her mother was getting on. She said, "Wonderfully well. She is a new woman. She has entirely recovered her health and spirits, and just to think it was by the simple act of leaving off that poisonous coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee with some Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food." I had gone through a wonderful experience myself, and knew the value of both Postum and Grape-Nuts.

TO BE SELF-DEPENDENT

PROF. HARTIGAN GIVES ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN.

The Total Abstinence society held its regular meeting at Cretn hall, Sixth and Fort streets, yesterday afternoon. Musical numbers were furnished by Hohlen's orchestra. The address was delivered by Prof. John A. Hartigan, of St. Thomas' college, who spoke upon "Some Elements of Success." He considered the following which he said were important in achieving success: Honesty and truthfulness, willingness to work, thorough knowledge of the English language and its use, unflinching courtesy and confidence in one's self and a willingness to take responsibility.

Prof. Hartigan said young men are apt to put too much dependence upon influence to keep them in positions they occupy in the idea that all that is necessary is for one to be in favor with those who are in higher positions, and that may be valuable in securing a position, but once the position is obtained all depends upon the faithfulness of the occupant. Dependence upon yourself for the permanency of your position and do not think influence will help you to win success in a place where you are not doing good service.

ALMOST OUT OF DEBT

NEW ARLINGTON HILLS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH STARTS WITH GOOD PROSPECTS

RAISE $1,000 AT DEDICATION

Rev. J. D. Paxton, With a Blackboard and Skillful Appeal, Made Large Reduction in Floating Debt.

As an epoch in the history of the Arlington Hills Presbyterian church, yesterday will have two-fold importance, for it was not only the occasion of the dedication of the new church edifice, but also brought about the reduction of the church debt to a sum that is scarcely more than nominal, and will be easily managed.

The dedicatory services were held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the attendance was so augmented by the membership of the other Presbyterian churches of the city that it was found necessary to place chairs in the aisles.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. D. Paxton, pastor of House of Hope, who took for his text "Take heed, therefore how ye hear." He spoke of the importance of this day to the Arlington Hills church, and suggested that it would be timely to consider whether the new church was a luxury or a responsibility to the congregation. Reiterating the words of his text, he said that the intention was to frequently reverse and directed from the congregation toward the pulpit in the words: "Take heed how ye hear." The responsibility, he said, was to be placed on the shoulders of the pastor, when it should rest entirely with the congregation. The words of the pastor could make but little difference, to those who were in positions of responsibility, and it was not merely a place for men to go to be taught by another man how to lead better lives, or to receive good advice. That could all be secured from other sources—from reading books or papers, or even from one's friends. Neither should the church be regarded as a place to go to be influenced for the better. It should be the place to go to worship God and to commune with God. Therefore he urged the hearers to keep their feet on the church worshipfully. Few people, he said, attended church in the truly worshipful spirit, and some while in church spent the time in frequenting the bar of the week. He deprecated the spirit which would lead persons to attend divine worship because it was respectable to do so, or because they might meet some one. He further urged his hearers to attend church prayerfully, as without prayer they could accomplish but little.

The dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. John Sinclair, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

In the course of the service a quartette consisting of Mrs. T. M. Newson, soprano; Mrs. Charles O. Krieger, contralto; Harry E. George, tenor, and D. F. Colville, basso, sang Dudley Buck's anthem, "O Sing the Lord a New Song," and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," by Sheldon.

An offertory solo was sung by Mrs. P. Wold.

At the close of the services Rev. J. D. Paxton presented a "blackboard problem," as it was designated, which proved to be an exposition of the church finances, in which a blackboard was used to demonstrate the reduction in the debt effected by each subscription as it was announced.

Briefly stated, Dr. Paxton's explanation was to the effect that the church had cost in all $7,300. Of that amount $4,500 had already been paid by contributions secured by the pastor and $1,000 had been given outright by the board of church erection. Besides that $700 had been loaned by the same board, to draw no interest and to be paid in installments of $70 a year. The remaining $700 was still outstanding as a floating indebtedness to the same board, and was raised today to put the church out of danger. Dr. Paxton explained that the contribution which had been taken up amounted to $2, and proceeded to blackboard the debt as demonstrated on the reduction in squares of $5 each by raising eight of the squares.

Beginning with the seven $100 squares, each of which there were several, continuing until by a process of gradual reduction contributions of $5 each were received, the sum of $1,000 was subscribed by the same board, and was used to pay the floating indebtedness of $700, but will reduce the obligation to the church erection board to $400 and leave the church to pay but $40 per year instead of $700.

The project of building this new church, which was dedicated yesterday, was begun eighteen months ago, and the corner stone was laid Aug. 12. The pastor is Rev. A. E. Driscoll, who entered upon his work in this field Jan. 1, 1897, and whose untiring efforts have been largely due to the erection of the new building has been possible.

AROUND THE HOTELS.

At the Windsor—J. N. Snyder, James-town, N. D., was assisted by S. C. Center; George B. Jenkins, Sioux Falls; Mrs. J. E. Burke, Mandan; Mary J. Burk, Albert; Mrs. Wm. Hopple, Alameda; Charles Fitzsimmons and wife, Duluth; Charles C. Farmer, Duluth; H. J. Hellock, Fairmont, N. D.

At the Ryan—Thomas Kelly, Winnipeg; E. Jones, Winnipeg; D. W. Laren, Larchmont, N. Y.; Wm. H. C. Colby, R. Laybourn, Duluth; Fred H. Snyder, Mankato; H. S. Schmidt, Mankato.

At the Merchants—G. M. Brush, Duluth; J. J. Murphy, Fairmont; John Derrig, Duluth; H. C. Hale, Bayfield, Minn.; C. A. Tuttle and wife, Fairmount, N. D.; R. Rich, William Hoople, Atlantic, Iowa; D. E. Tawney, Winona; J. Filament, Watonwan; W. H. Harless, Caladonia; H. Hall, Ames; Wm. D. Taylor, St. Cloud; M. C. Whitfield, Jamesville, Minn.; Northrup B. B. McCormick, Hayward; R. H. McCormick, Hayward; John W. Maher, Devils Lake; Harry A. Turner, Cumberland, Wis.; Charles L. Rouse, East Chicago.

At the Metropolitan—St. Hassan Ben Ali; W. B. Mack, Madison, Wis.; H. H. Horton, Madison, Wis.; J. H. G. Colby, Wells, Minn.; A. C. Dover, Duluth, Minn.; B. S. Hollins, La Crosse, Wis.

At the Superior—Superior; P. H. Rattly, Lake City; S. N. Trux, Pine City; R. S. Istrud, Wadena; Cora Bille, Duluth; F. J. Colley and wife, St. Cloud; C. R. Morse, River Falls; J. H. Haten, Colfax, Iowa; W. H. Carr, Prairie City, Iowa.

BEST BY TEST!

The Best System,
The Best Equipment,
The Best Construction.

Enable us to give the Best Service at lowest rates.

$2.50 Per Month for Residents,
$4.00 Per Month for Business.

Test it for Yourself.

Twin City Telephone Co.
515 Phoenix Building

Cafe Huber

Refitted & Refurnished
Services and meals
Unsurpassed
Family Dining Parlors
Up Stairs.
Ladies' Entrance on Cedar Street.

Frank J. Huber,
Cor. 7th and Cedar

Telephones:
N. W. ... 385
Twin City ... 385

JOSEPH HOFMANN TONIGHT.

Gifted Piano Virtuoso to Be Heard at People's Church.

Josef Hofmann, the pianist who appears this evening at the People's church in a recital, will arrive this morning in St. Paul in order to gain a day's rest before his concert. He comes directly from Chicago, where he played to large audiences in several concerts. Thus far on his Western tour Mr. Hofmann has been more than ever successful. He seems to be the only foreign-born touring artist who is creating a genuine craze by his playing. Even case-hardened critics have yielded to the persuasive magnetism of his wonderful art. The seats for tonight's concert are popular in price, and one can remain in one's own city and hear the virtuoso more cheaply than if one were living in the East.

Go to a Ride on Street Cars.
Call at Twin City Coupon Co., 229 Germania Life building, St. Paul.

FOR JEWISH ORPHANS

INSTITUTION AT CLEVELAND IS IN GOOD SHAPE.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 12.—On account of the estimates far exceeding expectations, the plans for a new hospital for the Jewish orphan asylum, were rejected and the whole matter referred back to the local board, at the quarterly meeting of the trustees and directors of the institution held today.

The asylum shelters Jewish orphans from the principal Western and Southwestern states. The report of the superintendent shows that there are 454 children at the asylum, all in good health and everything prosperous. The institution will help you to win success in a place where you are not doing good service.

Among the directors present were Mrs. W. H. Eisinger, of St. Paul.

Children Saw Parents Die.
BURBANK, Cal., Jan. 12.—J. H. G. Saffel, a restaurant keeper, shot and killed his wife in the presence of his seven young children, and then ended his own life. Domestic infidelity was the cause of the tragedy.

O. B. A. INSTALLATION

NEARLY 800 MEMBERS ENJOYED PLEASANT EVENING.

St. Paul Capital lodge, O. B. A., held a public installation of officers, entertainment and ball last evening at Sherman hall which was attended by nearly 800 members and invited guests. The officers who were installed were: Jacob Levi, president; L. Verner, vice president; C. Calmeson, recording secretary; M. Eron, financial secretary; P. Milkes,

WATCH and FRENCH CLOCK REPAIRING

C. S. SUTTER
FORMERLY WITH A. H. SIMON.
150 East Seventh Street.