TWIN CITY LEAGUE COMES INTEREST IN GREAT ICE GAME

COVERED RINKS ARE NEEDED

Guaranteed Protection From Weather, Spectators Would Turn Out in Large Numbers—Chance for Entertaining Promoter.

Winnipeg, a city famed for its hockey teams, curlers, skaters and armers, has just added another Eastern scalp to its list by successfully defending the Stanley cup emblem of the world, against a team as good as Eastern Canada can produce.

For nearly ten years this prairie city has had things about its own way on the ice, although the Twin Cities have furnished skaters that are equal to their own.

Hockey has been systematically neglected in the Twin Cities for years, and principally because the people have not been given an opportunity to see what a royal game it is.

There has been a revival, and a good sized league has been formed to compete for the Dunbar cup, a handsome trophy donated by F. J. Giesse, of the Clarendon club.

It is interesting to note that the league was maintained and before the present season is over, a healthy boom should have been inaugurated.

There is no game in existence which combines rapidly moving play with consummate skill as well as does hockey, and as soon as the sporting public begins to realize this, the game will jump into its own way on the ice.

A St. Paul enthusiast in discussing the situation yesterday said: "What we need to awaken interest in the game is two large covered rinks on each side of the Twin Cities."

Let some enterprising capitalist invest in two rinks which will present sheets of ice, say 200x100 feet, provide plenty of comfortable seats, advertise the games well, and you will see a hockey boom that will take both cities by storm.

Watching even a well played game on an open rink is not a pleasant task in this latitude, and even the most enthusiastic is not proof against freezing feet and benumbed noses.

It is a large, well lighted, covered rink or two, with a different, and even the most enthusiastic is not proof against freezing feet and benumbed noses.

Then as to the class of hockey that could be furnished it stands to reason that we could not expect to have the Winnipeggers for at least two or three years.

Will Take Some Time. Then as to the class of hockey that could be furnished it stands to reason that we could not expect to have the Winnipeggers for at least two or three years.

LOOKING BACKWARD

A GOOD STORE. Our business for 1901 was exceedingly satisfactory, and by far the brightest page in the history of our store.

We aimed to give satisfaction to every customer. If we failed in any instance we are anxious to know it, and will gladly make amends.

We do not think we are boastful when we say that our store—your store—is the best within your reach.

We think our store is the best. Because of our great variety and assortment of dependable goods.

Because of the honest values we give. Because of our willingness to make good any error or mistake that may incidentally arise in your dealings with us.

Because our garments are made by your fellow citizens, and not in Eastern factories of sweatshops.

LOOKING FORWARD

A BETTER STORE. We are not content with last year's big trade. We are looking forward to still greater things. We did well in 1901, but you may trust us to do still better in 1902.

Better in every way—better service, better buying, better goods, better values and consequently better satisfaction.

We are determined to make our store indispensable to the well-dressed men of St. Paul.

Johnston King of Pacers.

"Do you know, I believe that of all the great pacers that have been on the turf, Johnston was the greatest of them all," said the veteran driver and horseman, John Splan, recently. "He was a veteran driver and horseman, and he considered that his record of 2:04 1/2 was made to a high-wheeled sulky it is so great a performance that it has never been equaled."

"I have driven a great many horses in my day, but Johnston was one of the truest and best horses I ever drove."

Johnston, 2:04 1/2, was the first harness horse to take a record of 2:10, and he was famed as one of the celebrated horses in turf history.

His record of 2:04 1/2 to a high-wheeled sulky, made in 1884, has never been equaled.

Johnston was bred by Carey Bros., of Hartford in 2:05 1/2, and went one at Hartford in 2:04 1/2. He was in retirement during the season of 1900, but by running in 1891 in the hands of C. F. Dunlop of Buffalo, who raced him until 1894, and the great American gave a good account of himself throughout the year. He paced a mile in 2:10 over the Youngstown, Ohio, half-mile track in his sixteen-year-old year, which will always be regarded as one of his greatest performances. Mr. Dunbar drove him on the road at Buffalo for several years, but the old veteran began to fall a few years ago, and he died a little more than a year ago.

Johnston was a light bay gelding, almost sixteen hands high, slimly built and very looking. There have been few faster race horses than Johnston.
