

SOUTH TOWN BY STORM

TERRIBLE HAVOC WROUGHT BY ELEMENTS IN THEIR FIERCE PLAY

LEXINGTON TOTALLY HELPLESS

Wires Down, Cars Stopped, Lights Out, Highways Blocked by Debris, and General Disaster Everywhere.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT MILLIONS

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 31.—The world was sealed book to Lexington today. Until the Western Union secured a line to Louisville, the city was isolated. Communication cannot be had with points in Kentucky, which indicates the disastrous conditions prevailing here are general in the state. Street cars were able to resume on several lines late tonight, but the city is without lights and all work is dependent on electricity for power or light are helpless. Almost half of the Cumberland Telephone company's poles in the city and county are down, and more than a fourth of these lines are in operation. Their loss in equipment is estimated at $50,000. The electric lighting company is the next heaviest loser. Every tree in the city is either largely stripped of limbs or broken off at the base. Trains in central Kentucky today had to "flag" their way, hand cars preceding the trains to avoid collisions.

DAMAGE RUNS HEAVY.

Ice, Sleet and Rain Causing Immense Losses.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 31.—The weather of the present week has brought disaster to all the small and many larger towns and villages in the states of Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi. It is difficult to estimate the amount of damage. It is known that at Little Rock, Ark., alone, the damage amounts to half a million dollars, and the footing altogether, it is believed, will run up several millions.

Business has been at a standstill in many towns. In addition to stocks of goods being ruined, the streets and highways are blocked by broken telegraph and telephone wires and twisted wires. The damage to stocks of goods is due to the tremendous weight of accumulated ice and sleet and to the insufficiency of roofs to sustain such loads. Such a siege of sleet and cold rain is altogether unprecedented. In some places the ground has been covered with ice to a depth of six inches.

In Central and Western Tennessee the damage to houses and stocks of goods has been enormous. Reports from Paris, Dresden, McKenzie, Jackson, Huntington and Union City, state that the storm of sleet and rain has been unprecedented. Mississippi has suffered severely, the people being wholly unprepared to meet themselves from the unusual conditions now prevailing. In Arkansas the storm played fearful havoc to houses and other property.

Telegraph and telephone wires are down in every direction and it will take several days before the extent of the damage will be known. There is a rise in the temperature today and it is believed that conditions will improve rapidly.

STREETS STREWN WITH WRECKS.

Broken Poles and Trees Blockade Kentucky Highways.

PADUCAH, Ky., Jan. 31.—The city is practically dead. In darkness, many of the streets blocked with broken poles and hundreds of wires on broken poles. All day, as a result of a steady drizzle, which froze as it struck, wires and poles have been broken down, down factories and public utilities. The newspapers, whose machines and presses are run by electricity, are suspended. The city's street electric program, which depends on useless, and huge poles snap every hour, bringing down their loads of wires and adding to the existing confusion. Several roofs have collapsed from the ice and water, entailing thousands of dollars' damage to stock in many stores.

The damage from broken poles and wires alone will be $25,000, while that to business cannot be estimated. If other damage results, it will require two weeks to straighten things out. The damage in all Southwest Kentucky is correspondingly large.

TELEGRAPH COMPANIES SUFFER.

All Communication Practically Cut Off.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 31.—Telegraph lines in this section for the past three days have been in the worst condition ever known in the history of graphic communication, according to a statement made at the Western Union office today. The Western Union people have been able to restore communication with Paducah, Memphis, Atlanta, New York, Savannah, Montgomery, Birmingham, Jacksonville, and New Orleans, but no direct communication can be had with Louisville, St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago and Cincinnati. The Postal company's business is reported several hours behind, and they have not as yet secured a Louisville wire. Railroad wires have been nearly restored.

SMOOTH NICKELS GOOD

WORN FIVE-CENT PIECES MUST BE ACCEPTED.

Special to The Globe.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 31.—"Smooth" nickels must be accepted at their face value, according to a decision rendered today by Judge Ryan in the circuit court, in the case of John F. Ruth, who was awarded $200 against the St. Louis Transit company for being ejected from a car, arrested and locked up over night, because he tendered a worn coin. Judge Ryan said: "There is no such thing as a nickel less than full face value. A gold coin may be worth less than its face value, but this is not true of a nickel. I think the carrier should be held to the rule that if it ejects a passenger who tenders a good coin in payment, it does so at its peril."

SHOT BY A BURGLAR

POLICEMAN MAYER IS FATALLY WOUNDED BY PROWLING THIEF.

Officer Charles Mayer, of the Rondo street detail, was shot in the stomach and probably fatally wounded by an unknown burglar in the rear of Jessrang's saloon, Farrington and University avenues, at 2:15 this morning. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in the Rondo patrol wagon and attended by Dr. Gillilan.

The officer, in making his rounds, noticed something wrong with the door of the saloon and tried the door.

As he was doing this a shot was fired through a hole which the burglars had evidently cut in the door for the purpose of effecting an entrance. The officer fell and the burglars, three in number, made their escape. On arriving at the hospital his injuries were pronounced possibly fatal and his wife was sent for. He resides at 735 Shellburn avenue.

At 3 o'clock this morning it was stated at the hospital that Mayer would in all probability die.

HOT BED OF SMALLPOX

HEALTH OFFICIALS LOCATE SEVERAL CASES AT 335 ROBERT ST.

Clever Work Done in Finding the Place—Hess Tried to Deceive the Inspectors, but Failed.

The health officials yesterday unearthed a hot bed of smallpox at 335 Robert street, and as a result three of the inmates are now domiciled at the pest house, while an officer patrols the premises on Robert street to see that the remainder of the inmates stay where they are until all danger is past.

Thursday the department picked up on the streets an individual who was in the advanced stages of the disease. He gave his name as C. H. Brown and his home as Benson, claiming to have been his way to St. Paul in a box car. Other details were not fully and an investigation was started with the result that it was found his name was Charles Hess and that he was employed in a local photographic gallery. An additional search brought to light his boarding place and the fact that two other inmates were done with the disease in a rather bad way. Hess was hustled out to the pest house and the remainder of the inmates vaccinated. The remainder of the inmates and fumigating the premises.

"He was the cleverest liar I ever saw," said Dr. O'Connell. "I don't know why he told the story that he did, unless it was to shield the others. We found his picture and confronted him with it and the fact that his name was Hess, but it was a long time before he would admit it."

So far the number of cases of smallpox has been small, but Dr. O'Connell fears that unless the strictest vigilance is exercised there will be another epidemic. Other cities in the state are credited with a great many cases.

BANQUET FOR EDITORS

SOUTH DAKOTA SCRIBES ENTERTAINED AT SIOUX FALLS.

Special to The Globe.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 31.—A banquet at the Cetratrac hotel tonight concluded the two-day meeting of the South Dakota Press association. Today the visiting newspaper men enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. They were driven to various points of interest throughout the city. At All Saints' school they were the guests of Rt. Rev. W. H. Hare, Episcopal bishop of South Dakota. The new building of the Children's Home society was visited and inspected. This afternoon the editors were entertained at a musical entertainment given at the Academy of Music by Miss Hamby-Rickaby and Will Rickaby. The Minnehaha Mandokor, a singing society made up of local business men, entertained the visitors with a musical program. The night immediately preceding the Cetratrac banquet. During the present meeting fourteen new members have been added to the association.

The Argus-Leader this afternoon secured interviews with all the newspaper men attending the midwinter meeting of the Press association in reference to their views concerning a South Dakota exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. The general opinion of the editors is in favor of the state legislature and in favor of raising the funds either by private subscription or through the county boards, who should later be reimbursed by the state.

AND JIM TAWNEY SMILED

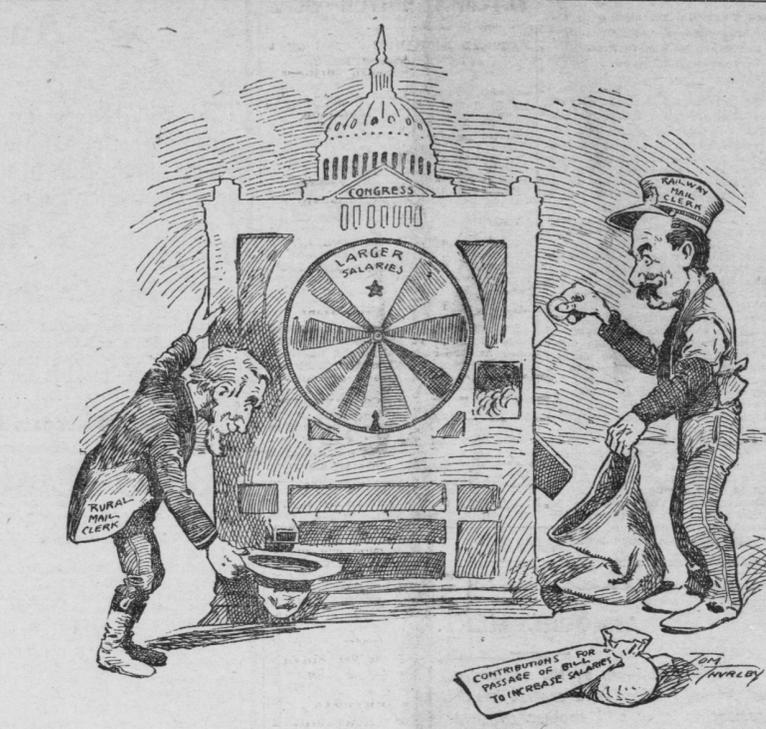

FROM THE GLOBE BUREAU, WASHINGTON, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31.—Representative Jim Tawney was present and took part in a scrap-today over old butler legislation. Mr. McCleary was not present. Tawney moved the previous question and a vote was taken for Monday next. Thus he signaled himself as floor leader of the cow-butler forces. When he saw that he had thus scored over McCleary he smiled. He did not say anything, but he took pains to discover that his rival is in town. The reason for McCleary's absence is not discoverable. In debate Tawney will have an advantage over him in his membership on ways and means committee. The speaker and house leaders will see that he takes a prominent part, and it is likely that he will obtain a good claim that he is floor leader in this legislation.

SCHOOL FOR PRIESTS

Special to The Globe.

ALTON, Ill., Jan. 31.—The first news of a new Catholic university, to be built at Alton at a cost of $150,000, was given out here today by Rev. Father Walter Elliott, rector of St. Thomas college, in Washington. The university is promoted and the funds for its building will be obtained by the members of the Paulist Fathers' community, numbering in the United States forty-three. The purpose of the university will be to educate young priests to do missionary work among the non-Catholics of the United States and insular missions in the Philippines and Porto Rico.

USING CONGRESS AS A SLOT MACHINE.

STATE RESTS IN WEST TRIAL

LAST WITNESS FOR PROSECUTION EXAMINED LATE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

DEFENSE WILL BEGIN TODAY

Testimony Offered Thus Far Has Been Confined to Events Occurring at Hotel Daotah.

Special to The Globe.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Jan. 31.—The state rested in the trial of the West case today, the last witness being examined late this afternoon, and the defense will now have its innings. The state has examined many witnesses, but with the exception of Frank Shelburne, of the Prescott, the policemen, physicians, and the men who testified as to the purchase of the revolver, the testimony has been confined to the story of the events that actually occurred in the office of the Hotel Daotah, the scene of about one minute, on the night of Nov. 30.

The first witness of the day was Eugene Edwood, night clerk at the Daotah, who was behind the desk when West came in, followed presently by March. He noticed that the men talked for a moment, and then saw March knock West down. His story was substantially the same as told by other witnesses, with the usual variations as to distance. Witness said he had seen the revolver in West's hand, but admitted that at the preliminary he had testified that he did not see it. West, he thought, was calm and collected. J. H. Campbell was also called, and also said that in his opinion, West did not appear to be excited.

In the afternoon B. O. Seymour, editor of the East Grand Forks Courier, was called. He had been in the billiard room and heard a shot. He arrived in time to hear West say "die" with a foul epithet, to which March replied, "I'll die game." Defense had expressed a desire that evidence concerning the conversation in the Prescott be introduced, he had decided to call Frank Shelburne, proprietor of the Prescott.

March Made Threats. Mr. Shelburne said that both March and West had boarded with him, and that on the night of Nov. 30 West was in the dining room when March came in and jostled him. West sat down near the window, and March at the table nearby. March began to talk, saying "There's a lot of rats round here, underground rats. There's some of them here. I've seen them already, tonight and I'll get another before I go to sleep." West was reading a paper, and March said, "No blank blank can read a paper when he's talking to him." West put on his coat and left the room. March continued his looking and said "Got a gun, has he? Looking for me, eh? I'll show him. I'll cream a gun down his throat. I'll cream two guns down." Shelburne told March that West had no gun, and was looking for no one, and Blackburne who sat at the table with March, asked to pass the March to the room, and a few minutes later witness heard the fatal shot. Witness noticed that March was drunk, Geo. Platky, recalled for additional cross-examination, said that he had told March that West had come to his store to buy a revolver. Here the state rested.

Defense Is Outlined.

Mr. Cochran outlined the case for the defense. He said the outlines of the unfortunate occurrence of Nov. 30 were before the jury. The defense would bring some facts tending to throw additional light upon it. Mr. West came to Grand Forks early in the year as the representative of Mr. Wright, of St. Paul. His occupation was a lawful and peaceable one, and he took up his residence at the Prescott and conducted himself there in a peaceful manner. There also lived Mr. March, and between the two young men there sprang up such a friendship as grows between young men similarly situated. Owing to the fact that March was on the road and West in the city most of the time, their acquaintance was comparatively slight. It would be shown that March was a powerful man, who boasted of his physical prowess. That West was told by an old resident of the city that if March was after him he had better look out, as March was a bad man. That partly because of these threats and partly be-

SALARIES OF JUDGES

SENATE DEBATES PROPOSITION TO INCREASE JUDICIAL STIPEND

MR. BERRY'S ENVIUS NOTE

Says Judges Now Get Twice as Much as Senators, Which He Thinks Is Too Much.

MORGAN ON PHILIPPINE BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—An extended speech on the pending Philippine tariff bill was delivered in the senate today by Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, who devoted particular attention to an amendment he offered to the bill last week. He maintained that the enactment of the bill, as it stands now, would not be a constitutional remedy for the situation the measure is designed to relieve, but said with quietness, devoting his entire speech to a consideration of the legal and constitutional questions raised by the presentation of the tariff measure.

An hour and a half was devoted to consideration of a bill to increase the salaries of judges of United States courts, but no action was taken. The bill increases the annual salaries of the federal judiciary.

Mr. Hoar made a brief statement in support of the measure. He believed members of the judiciary of the United States were entitled to such salaries as would enable them to maintain suitable and proper positions. The judicial salaries paid by the government were not equal to those paid by many of the great states of the Union to the judges of the state courts. The justices of United States supreme court, he declared, could make ten times the amount of the salaries proposed in practice at the bar.

Mr. Berry (Dem., Ark.) opposed the measure. He believed that $10,000 per year was enough to enable justices of the supreme court to live respectably. He ventured the statement that many people thought the justices were not worth $10,000 a year. They were receiving double the salaries of senators and representatives in congress, and had no right to complain.

Mr. Stewart (Rep., Nev.) made a strong plea for the enactment of the bill, and Mr. Blackburn (Rep.), a member of the judiciary committee, vigorously opposed the measure.

At 2 o'clock the Philippine tariff bill (Ala.) addressed the senate. He said he had heard, as yet, any objection to it.

WOMEN RAISE A FUND

FASHIONABLE CIRCLES TRY TO OVERTHROW MINISTRY.

Special to The Globe.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Hoping to aid the opposition's supreme effort to overthrow the ministry at the approaching election, sixteen of the most prominent society women of Paris published this morning an exhortation addressed to their fellow fashionable, begging them to suppress all parties, dinners, receptions, new gowns and other social expenses until after the election in order to create a powerful fund for fighting the government and helping "patriotic candidates." The signers are exclusively bearers of old titles, such as the Duchesse de la Rochefoucauld, the Comtesse de Castellane, the Comtesse de Pourtales, the Princess de Rohan and the Princess de Croix.

TALK FOR PUBLICATION

MEMBERS OF WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE ARE DISTURBED.

FROM THE GLOBE BUREAU, WASHINGTON, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31.—Members of the ways and means committee are much disturbed at the reports that they have abandoned all intention to reduce the duties on Cuban sugar and tobacco. This is the expectation, which everybody puts on the decision to take up first the repeal of the war tax. Today Mr. Payne, chairman of that committee, and Mr. Grossvenor, ranking member, are taking reporters into a corner to say that they have not made up their minds on the subject of the tariff; that they heard a lot of evidence and will later give it more mature consideration. The reason for all this is that they do not like being placed in direct opposition to the known desires of the White House. They seem troubled with Roosevelt, and they anticipate an effort by the senate to crowd the tariff bill on them as a rider on some other legislation. They are courting an immediate attack, and wish to take refuge behind a non-committal attitude.

SUCCUMBS TO TYPHOID

OLAF OLSON, GRAND RECORDER OF THE A. O. U. W., IS DEAD

Came to St. Paul Several Years Ago From Willmar, and Did Much to Build Up the Order.

Olaf Olson, grand recorder of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, died last night at St. Joseph's hospital after an illness lasting several weeks. He was removed to the hospital from his residence, 275 Nelson avenue, some days ago critically ill with typhoid fever and in spite of the best medical attendance gradually sank until the end came at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Olson was forty-three years of age, and came to St. Paul from Willmar four years ago, on account of the increasing demands of his position as grand recorder. He was mayor of Willmar for four successive terms.

About two years ago he was married to Miss Fannie M. Buell, of Lake City, who was at the time grand recorder of the Degree of Honor, the woman's branch of the Workmen, a position she still holds. She survives him, together with two children by his first wife. Mr. Olson had been recorder for eight years, and it was largely owing to his untiring energy and business acumen that the order has made the rapid strides it has in Minnesota.

His untimely death comes eighteen days before the convening of the grand lodge of the order, which meets this year in St. Paul. He had much to do with the arrangements and his sudden taking off will be keenly regretted by the entire membership in this and other states.

BISHOP HOYME IS ILL

DISTINGUISHED CHURCHMAN IS IN PRECARIOUS CONDITION.

Special to The Globe.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Jan. 31.—Bishop Gjordam Hoyme, who for some days past has hovered between life and death, was reported somewhat worse tonight. He is suffering from severe stomach trouble, and it is thought has cancer of the liver. Mr. Hoyme is what is technically known as a member of the United Norwegian Lutheran Church of the country. His rank is equivalent to that of bishop. He is author of a hymn book entitled "Harpen," and a work entitled "Salomon," a strong invective against the saloon. Over 1,500 copies of the book were disposed of in a few weeks after its publication. Bishop Hoyme is one of the most prominent Scandinavian-Americans in the country. Messages were sent to his mother, Mrs. Hoyme, of Cresco, Iowa, and an answer was received that she, too, is critically ill. She is ninety-four years of age. The brother of the dying bishop is also critically ill at Neenah, Wis.

AGITATION IN IRELAND

AGENTS OF LEAGUE GIVE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS ASSAULT.

Special to The Globe.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—What Dublin correspondents describe as an Irish "reign of terror" is causing anxiety to government circles in County Roscommon, where the agents of the United Irish league are sleeplessly active. The agitation is causing the alarm of the additional forces are thought necessary to prevent general disorder. The threatening attitude of the people is a cordial infirmament of the Nationalist leaders in the house of commons. The Irish members of parliament fear that the government intends radically to reduce the power of the league by the joint expedient of the "gag rule" and a curtailed Nationalist representation.

MURDERERS RUN TO EARTH

BIDDLES AND MRS. SOFFEL CAPTURED IN SENSATIONAL FITCHED BATTLE

DETECTIVES SHOT TO KILL

All Three Badly Wounded, One of the Men Fatally, in Their Last Fight for Liberty.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 31.—A telegram from Butler at 9:30 p. m. says: Edward Biddle in jail dying; John Biddle, riddled with buckshot and in a precarious condition, and Mrs. Peter K. Soffel lying in a hospital with a self-inflicted bullet wound in the breast, is the sequel of the sensational escape of the Biddle brothers from the Allegheny county jail aided by Mrs. Soffel, the wife of the jail warden, on Thursday morning. The story of the close of the Biddle tragedy, which came at 6:45 this afternoon, is a thrilling one.

The scene was a snow-covered road two miles east of Prospect, Butler county, near Mount Chestnut, and the exact place was at McClure's barn, where two double team sleighs were being driven by officers, three of them Pittsburg detectives, John Roach, Albert Swinehart and Charles McGovern, met the two Biddles in one horse sleigh, started for Perryville, and at once opened fire on the trio, the Biddles returning the fire after jumping out of the sleigh. Mrs. Soffel was shot through the breast.

Edward Biddle was shot in the left arm, in the breast and in one leg. John Biddle was riddled with buckshot in the breast and head. The Pittsburg officers were met at Butler this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Rainey and Hoon and Officers Frank Holliday and Aaron Thompson, the latter under command of Sheriff John Robert York, and Worthington M. Jacobs, Rutherford, N. J., and Sheriff Hay, of Butler.

The officers were certain that they were on the right trail. It was only a question of time when they would catch up to the escaping condemned murderers and their guilty companion.

Close on the Trail.

The Biddles and Mrs. Soffel ate dinner at J. J. Stebbins' about Chestnut, five miles east of Butler. They had made a detour of the town of Butler and after going several miles east turned north and then west. The Pittsburg officers, only a few miles in the rear, took the wrong road for about eight miles, but when they found their mistake they made up for lost time by telegraphing an "afternoon ahead for two hours."

They reached Mount Chestnut not less than half an hour after the Biddles and Mrs. Soffel. At this point William Watson, a constable, was waiting, only a few miles in the rear, and the chase began anew.

The two sleighs, with the eight officers aboard, started westward and met the fugitives at McClure's barn. Two miles from Mount Prospect, the Biddles learned that they were almost overtaken and taking what they considered the only chance of escape, they ordered the sleigh to be turned around and met their doom.

Detectives Shot to Kill.

The Pittsburg and other officers were armed with Winchester rifles and revolvers of large caliber. They shot to kill and their aim was perfect. The Biddles tried to kill to the last of their strength, but not one of the officers had a wound as a result of the battle.

When the detectives got within about sixty yards of the sleigh they opened fire. The Biddles promptly answered with shotguns and revolvers. Mrs. Soffel, too, stood up in the sleigh with a revolver in each hand, and fired at the pursuers. When Ed Biddle fell, and she saw she was about to be captured, she fired a bullet into her breast. An examination by physicians shows that she

EPIDEMIC OF SMALLPOX

OVER FIVE HUNDRED CASES SAID TO EXIST IN DES MOINES.

Special to The Globe.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Clara Morris, the famous actress, is alarmed by the smallpox epidemic in Des Moines and is considering the advisability of canceling a date she has to lecture in the Iowa capital next Monday. She heard today that the epidemic was spreading in that city and at once sought Health Commissioner Reynolds and told him of her fears.

Dr. Reynolds told her that he too, had heard alarming reports from Des Moines, and in order to ascertain their truth had sent a trusted agent to Iowa. Should it develop, he said, that there are 500 cases in that city, he will at once institute a rigorous quarantine against Des Moines and stop every train coming from that city. Preparatory to this end he had a conference with the officials of interested railroad lines late this afternoon. His agent will report tomorrow, and if current reports are proved to be anywhere near true Clara Morris will at once cancel her lecturing date.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

JEFF MAY ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF KILLING HARRY HIBB.

Special to The Globe.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 31.—The coroner's jury in the case of Harry G. Hibb, the young ranchman who was found in a deep well on his ranch Jan. 15, dead. The jury verdict charges Jeff May, another well known ranchman, with the crime and May was arrested on a coroner's warrant tonight. The case has been under investigation since the body was discovered. An examination of the dead man's skull revealed a fracture at the base of the brain made by some blunt instrument. May was at the ranch when Hibb met his death, and Mrs. Hibb, the young wife of the deceased, was the only other person present. Both Hibb and May were well known in the neighborhood. The theory of the coroner's jury is that May struck Hibb with a hammer, inflicting a fatal blow, and then threw the body into the well.
