TRUCE IS DECLARED

NATIONAL LEAGUE FIGHTERS HAVE AGREED TO MEET IN NEW YORK

DREYFUSS WILL NOT BALK

Differences Will Not Be Settled, but the Club Owners Will Go After the Gate Money.

CHICAGO, March 25.—There is no long-er any doubt that an actual truce has been declared between the warring fac-tions of the National league, and that the clubs of that league will begin their championship games at about the regular time. President Hart yesterday admitted as much, saying there would be a meeting at New York next Tuesday, while from Washington came the news that President Young was hard at work on a sched-ule and that all of the clubs of the league had agreed to the meeting of next Tuesday except one—Pittsburg.

Tonight President Dreyfuss telegraphed his signature to the call for the meeting in New York Tuesday, April 1, and will be present in person. This decision was reached after Mr. Dreyfuss had received elegrams and letters from Nick Young, C. H. Ebbetts, John I. Rogers and A. H. Soden, assuring him that the call was a unanimous one. Mr. Soden's letter stated that he had been joined in the call by Messrs. Brush and Robison.

President Hart, of the Chicago club, held a long conference with Mr. Dreyfuss by telephone today, the purport of which is not made public, but everything now points to an amicable arrangement by which the National league intact may points to an amicable arrangement by which the National league intact may start its playing season on time.

President Hart intimated that the meeting did not indicate that there had been any settlement of the real differences existing in the league, but would be called in order to adopt the playing schedule and arrange for this season's games. He made no attempt to prophesy what else would be done at the meeting. It is apparent the magnates have agreed on a truce to last through the playing season at least. It is believed the affairs of the league will be run by a committee of three men, one each from the Freedman and Spalding factions and Uncle Nick Young. The latter has always had the confidence of the old league magnates and is a fortunate man to have around in the present controversy. Another development in the baseball situation is the fact that there are all sorts of peaceful overtures being made by the old league toward the American organization. Uncle Nick Young has been instructed to make up his schedule so as to avoid every conflicting date possible in those cities which have both American and National league clubs. It is thought there will not be over a dozen conflicting games in Chicago. This situation will probably be followed by still further efforts toward peace, and the beginning of next season will probably find the two leagues working under an agreement with reference to signing and bidding for each other's players.

The assurance of peace—at least temporary peace—relieves the baseball situation, and now little remains but for the clubs to begin playing ball.

Although far behind the American league in arranging for its season's games, the National is going to begin its championship contests six days earlier, on April 17.

FIRM BARNEY DREYFUSS

SRURG CLUB OWNER WILL NOT STAND FOR COMPROMISE.

NEW YORK, March 25 .- When it comes NEW YORK, March 20,—116. The dictating terms of peace, President Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburg club, expects to play an active part in the National league meeting next week. From the inception of Spalding's fight against Freedman and Brush, the little Pittsburg magnate has remained true blue. Dreyfuss originally declared himself for Spalding and is still loyal. Dreyfuss says that he will accept no compromise at the coming eeting and that he is perfectly independ

"I have not applied for an American league franchise yet," he is quoted as saying, "but I can have one the moment I ask for it."

That Dreyfuss has evidently succeeded in worrying the other National league magnates is apparent from the fact that he is in receipt of numerous telegrams from them begging him to attend the meeting and imploring him to have nothing to do with the American league.

The American league men have been meeting and imploring nim to have nothing to do with the American league.

The American league men have been secretly working on Dreyfuss to take the Cleveland franchise for several weeks. They have pointed out to him the indisputable fact that the Pittsburgs will have such an easy time winning the National league pennant again that interest in the Smoky city is sure to dwindle to nothing, also that the attendance in the other National league cities will fall off the moment Dreyfuss' team forges ahead. The American leaguers also have tried to show Dreyfuss that their clubs have the cream of the playing talent, and that, with the admission rates increased to a 50-cent tariff, Pittsburg would be greatly benefited by the change.

The American league men have impressed Dreyfuss with the additional fact that they intend to invade New York next year, and that, when this has been done, the National league will go up in smoke.

CRIFFITH SIGNS PIATT

WHITE SOX MANAGEMENT WILL DROP SKOPEC.

CHICAGO, March 25.—"Wiley" Piatt will be with the White Stockings again this season. President Comiskey and Manager Griffith yesterday decided to give the erratic left-hander another chance to make good this year. He will report in Chicago on Saturday and be taken with the bunch to Excelsior Springs.

Skopec, the other southpaw, who it has been supposed would be given another chance by Comiskey, has been turned over to Little Rock. The West side twirler, it appears, has signed a regular contract with the Southern team, and the local management decided not to take him on, although by a two years' contract signed last season Comiskey still had a claim on the boy's services.

Skopec's dislike for training is the real cause of his release, and as a result Piatt will be depended upon to do all the southpaw work for the South side team this year. "Wiley" last year proved a good man for six innings, and he may be used to advantage to start games, which, it necessary, can be finished by "Grif" or Callahan. In his distance qualifications Piatt is much of the same order as Garvin, but Griffith believes that he can make good use of both twirlers.

BOB'S LATEST

FRECKLED ONE INSISTS HE IS TO DIE CHAMPION.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Fitzsimmons is confident he will wrest the heavyweight championship from Jim Jeffries, and intends to retire from the ring if he is successful. He said today: "I will die champion of the world. I will win this fight and retire, never to enter the ring again. I want the title back. It galls me to have lost it, and I am going to get it back. I want the title back. It galls me to have lost it, and I am going to get it back. I know just how stiff a proposition Jeffrles is. I know how hard he can hit and how hard it is to reach him, but I also know ways to throw him off his guard. Once I get an opening he will yield the title and the winner's portion of the proceeds as gracefully as he can. If he stays away from me it may take time, but I expect to find a way under his guard before the fight has gone ten rounds. Anyhow, I will win, and you won't go wrong if you bank on it."

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 25 .- The Pa-LEXINGTON, Ky.. March 25.—The Parader, who arrived here yesterday from New York to go into the stud, landed in bad shape, and it was with difficulty hawas removed to Beaumont last night. It is doubtful now if he ever lives to make a stud season. if he ever lives to make a stud season. His loss will fall heavily on his millionaire owner, R. T. Wilson Jr., of New York, as the horse is valued at fully $25,-It was a foot disease which caused the mighty Hanover to be put to death, and such affliction is nearly always fatal to a horse. It was Wilson's intention to ultimately found a stud farm, with The Parader as premier stallion.

Hickey Is Confident That His League Will Have Successful Season-No Fear of Contract Jumpers.

Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American baseball association, and C. S. Havenor, secretary and treasurer of the Milwaukee American association team, spent yesterday afternoon in St. Paul, the guest of George E. Lennon, president of the St. Paul team.

The Milwaukee management refused to be bluffed into taking the old American league park off the hands of Fred Gross and the American association will have a band span new park in the Beer City when the season opens. This park is now going up under the direction of Messrs Quin and Havenor, and Havenor spent yesterday afternoon in St. Paul studying an ideal baseball park.

"There is no cause for alarm in our ap pearance at this time in St. Paul," said President Hickey yesterday afternoon. "I have been making what you might call an inspection tour of the American asso-clation circuit, and I am still traveling. "True, I visited St. Paul before, but having completed my tour I consented to accompany Mr. Havenor to St. Paul. He wants to secure pointers on grandstands, and we are here to look at the St. Paul park. St. Paul has an ideal ball park. told this to the Milwaukee management. The Milwaukee men want the best they can give the Milwaukee fans, and Hav can give the Milwanke lans, and Havenor coor is here to look at the St. Paul park. If possible Quin, and Havenor will erect a park even better than the one you have here in St. Paul.

"There is really not a thing I can tell you about the association. We are ready to start off the moment the bell rings for the opening of the season, and we will start on time.

"The contract jumpers? Why, we have stopped worrying about the contract jumpers. There will not be enough of them to interfere in the least with our plans. I know that the agents of the national association of minor leagues have been flirting with several of our fast men, but we have too many stars on the lists turned in by the different clubs to worry about the agents from the collection of small leagues."

After a thorough inspection of Lexington park Messrs. Hickey and Havenor boarded an Interurban car for Minneap-clis, to visit Walter Wilmot, president of

YOUNGDRAFTSSCHEDULE

FOR NATIONAL LEAGUE SEASON.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—N. E. Young has been working early and late since Thursday in drafting the network of dates for the National league. The work has practically been completed, and calls for the opening of the season on Thursday, April 17, with the following assignments: Chicago at Cincinnati, Pittsburg at St. Louis, Philadelphia at New York, Brooklyn at Boston. On the Fourth of July the Eastern clubs will play in the West, while Memorial day the order will be reversed. In drawing the schedule it is apparent every precaution was taken to avoid clashing of dates with the American league. The holiday assignmental league and the savage temper in which he continually kept himself in order to do justice to the part, led to many quarrels with Little Eva and the downfall of the show. John L., when the time for play-acting had passed, felt the old spirit of gallarity coming back, and getting together $25 he shipped the female members of the company to New York and hied himself to the healing waters of Hot Springs.

Second Series in Commercial Club Billiard Tournament Begins.

Billiard Tournament Begins.

A new series of handicaps was announced yesterday for the players in the second series of the billiard tournament at' the Commercial club. The shortest players, it was thought, were too heavily weighted, and for this reason some of the handicaps were reduced. The changes were all on those over 100, with one or two exceptions.

The games played last night under the new series of handicaps resulted as follows: Blood, 80, Benz, 106; Sabin, 170, Robinson, 105; Sabin, 186, Woodhead, 90; Curtiss, 65, Wood, 46. In the case of Woodhead the handicap was reduced from 100 to 90, and with this advantage Woodhead won his game by four points. The first series of the tournament will conclude April 1.

Will Hold a Full Meeting. NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 25.—Secretary Russwurm has announced that the local association will hold a full meeting this year of nine days' duration. A to avoid clashing of dates with the American league. The holiday assignment of games, however, on which the Eastern and Western trips are based, makes it impossible to avoid conflicting dates. In Boston there will, it is said, be fourteen conflicts, in Chicago twelve, in Philadelphia seventeen, while Frank Robison will have but ten rubs with the new American club in St. Louis. ace Hughes. Hughes does not run a sani arium for the cure of alcoholism, on a large scale. His place is so situated that a carriage must be taken to reach it and that before daylight leaves.

SIMON LEGREE SULLIVAN

Hughes says that Sullivan came to the for that had been broken off two years of which the patient sits. This breaks the water, and a vapor, thick as a London fog and hot as boiling water, is given off garden, instead of renewing a conversa-tion that had been broken off two years

"I want a room; the best toom in the off. house. It must be as quiet as the backyard of a Fourteenth street house at twilight. Send up the drinks every ten minutes. Nothing but whisky. When I want something to eat I will kick a hole no feed on your life. See?"

Sullivan was given a room and for three days he saw no one. Then Muldoon came down and tried to get the big man in shape, for it was hinted that perhaps the "Uncle Tom" show might be pulled together again

"It wasn't Little Eva's fault altogether perspiration. that the theatrical scheme went up in smoke," Muldoon says. "John got to taking a little too much of the redeye and then overacted his part John is a conscientious actor and he doesn't do anything by half. When he started in to do the Simon Legree game he came to me, and, laying his hand affectionately on my shoulder, he says, 'Billy, hence-forth I am going to be a different man. I am going to be the most savage, blood-htristy, marble-hearted tike that ever roamed down the pike. I am going to make the kind of a Simon that would make Henry Ward Beecher go cold.' I told him that Henry Ward Beecher didn't write the book, but he said that made no matter, that he had undergone the transformation, and that I had better duck when I saw Simon coming.

"He played the part conscientiously, and when he hit a slave it was no false how that the slave let out. John said he wanted realism, that kind that the critics write about, where an audience is knocked out in two rounds and can't come up for an hour after the last round is, over. By and by all the slaves quit the game, and Little Eva and John had a falling out. Eva said Sullivan was brutal, and he says to her. That is what the part calls for. I think I am the fierc-est brute that ever played the part.' For lack of slaves, harmony and money the show went to the dogs."

Muldcon nursed his charge at Hughes' villa for a day or two, and then felt that the big fellow was in proper shape to begir treatment for the removal of all the stage and real wine he had consumed at various points in the whisky belt at which the show had stopped. So he took the ex-champion to Bath House row in a hack and stopped at the Maurice bath-house, the biggest and finest in the city and the headquarters for all sporting men who find the springs a good place to seek out a soak

Sullivan was a little obstreperous. He declared that he was not ready to have all the good stuff that he had absorbed boiled out; that such waste was sinful

John L. Sullivan, after a tempestuous tour on the road with an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, landed here to forget his sorrows and boil out the cause.

Sullivan made a fierce Simon Legree, and the savage temper in which he continually kept himself in order to do justice to the part, led to many quarreis with Little Eva and the downfall of the show. John L., when the time for playacting had passed, felt the old spirit of gallantry coming back, and getting together $25 he shipped the female members of the company to New York and hied himself to the healing waters of Hot Springs.

nal values of the waters and the great benefits to be derived from a good vapor bath. Sullivan finally consented to take first a tub bath and afterward a vapor.

The latter bath is given in a bricked-up inclosure within the main bathroom. The vapor baths stand about seven feet high and is four feet each way at the top and base. A glass roof lets in light. The natural hot waters from the springs are house and greeted him as though he had just returned from a walk around the brought into the vapor bath in pipes, and

After a bath in a tub for fifteen min-utes with the water at 102 degrees, Sullivan was in a fit condition to get a few quarts of stage wine out in the shape of

A big, burly negro called Bob, a man who is bigger by six inches around the chest than Sullivan, shoved him inside the vapor bath and closed the door. There came a hoarse, choking sound from with in as the inmate struggled with the thick vapors that choke the lungs and make breathing difficult. In two seconds he was sweating as he had never thought it possible for a human being to sweat Suddenly the glass top of the bath was smashed and Sullivan's head and shoulders came through. "Hi, there," he yelled to one of the terror-sirlcken ne-groes. "Tell the cook to come and turn me over; I am done enough on one side."

Some additional remarks he made will never be spread on public records, but as it was necessary for him to remain in an excessively hot room for half an hour after leaving the vapor in order to guard against colds, it took four men to keep Sullivan in his place. He swore that he had dropsy and that he had sweat out his life's blood; that he had water on the brain and that his brains had left him in the shape of sweat; that he would now be an idiot and stick to the stage for the rest of his life. Half an hour of such treatment and Sullivan was as weak as a child. He was led away dripping and willing for a rubdown.

After the bath a walk over the town land is in good shape brought Sullivan and Muldoon to one of the open springs where the water flows from the reck hotter than it is possible to drink. John drew a cupful, and as the metal cup began to heat through, it became uncomfortable to hold. came uncomfortable to hold. Sullivan threw down his drinking vessel in a moment and started on a run from the spring, yelling to Muldoon, "Come on, hades ain't half a mile from here."

That was the only trip Sullivan made into the city. After his bath he went back to the wine garden on the outskirts of the city and filled up again. A reporter tried to talk with him for a few minutes, but the case was hopeless. In the evening he was dragged into a hack and taken to the Choctaw station and placed on the train for Memphis. Muldoon accompanied him
