

While the Canadian Parliament Is in Session, Ottawa People Hear of a Marvelous Cure.

It is a Rescue From Suffering and Death Effected by PAIN'S Celery Compound THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE.

MR ALFRED BROWN, A prominent and Popular Citizen Says: "After the Use of Paine's Celery Compound I am Now in the Best of Health."

The greatest of modern physicians, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., after years of long practice and close study, gave up suffering and diseased men and women his marvelous life giving prescription, with the conviction and positive knowledge that it had peculiar virtues and ample powers to cure, after the use of Paine's Celery Compound was uttered by the medical practitioner.

Thousands of the strongest testimonials from the best known and most reliable men and women of our country fully sustain the claims made by Dr. Phelps regarding his incomparable Paine's Celery Compound.

One of the most convincing proofs furnished comes recently from a gentleman widely known in the capital city of the Dominion of Canada. We refer to Mr. Alfred Brown, 91 O'Connor street, Ottawa, Ont. Mr. Brown's letter fully demonstrates the fact that the greatest sufferer may cast off his or her burden of disease and become well, strong and happy.

It proves, too, that the great medicine maintains more firmly than ever its unrivaled place as the only and best remedy of wealth and social standing as well as with the masses. Mr. Brown says:

"I acknowledge with thankfulness and pleasure the fact that the advertised cure of a very painful illness of eight years' standing by use of Paine's Celery Compound. I had, during the years of my illness, tried almost all the advertised medicines without deriving any good results. I was also treated by several of the best doctors of this city, hoping to find that one of them, at least, would understand my case.

"I was getting worse, and was told I was incurable. I was indeed in a critical condition. I could get up from the house alone, as I was able to saddle collops. I tried hospital treatment, but no relief or good results came to me. I could not sleep; anything that I ate increased my sufferings. I was extremely weak, restless and dependent; was obliged to walk about with my hands pressed firmly into my left side to ease my pains; my feet and hands were cold, and I had a general inclination to vomit, had profuse cold sweats, quick breathing, and would be racked with pain for hours at a time.

"After the use of Paine's Celery Compound for a time I am now in the best of health, have good appetite, and can use any kind of food. Thank God I am my usual self more, and I wish to thank the use of Paine's Celery Compound."

The society season in this city reopened last evening with a number of dances. The United Order of Foresters gave a dance in Sons of Norway hall, the Modern Woodmen gave a dance in Woodmen hall and the ladies of the Eastern Star gave a dance in Masonic hall.

The demand for prison-made binder twine continues good, and Warden Wolfers estimates that about 100,000 pounds of the season's product has been ordered. Farmers are sending in orders for small chisels and for carloads, and many orders have also been sent in, but these cannot be filled until after May 1. Indications are that the entire product for the season will be sold long before the harvest begins, and Warden Wolfers is urging farmers to secure their orders before it is too late.

TAKEN THROUGH DECOY DUCKS. Strategy Used to Catch Men Violating the Game Law.

LA CROSSE, Wis., March 31.—"Revenge is sweet," quoth the game warden from the Wisconsin, John Blagik, as he placed two decoy ducks in a swamp near LaCrosse, Minn., last evening, charging them with violating the game laws of the state of Minnesota. A few days ago a couple of Wisconsin men had a strenuous experience with the game warden from La Crosse.

Warden Blagik and his son, who is a deputy game warden, answer to a man who responds to the name of William Ruckowal, used strategy which would really have done justice to a Napoleon. It consisted of walking through the woods surrounding Target lake with some decoy ducks on their backs. In this way they approached and captured the unsuspecting exterminators of the ducks.

WED AT THE TOMBS

MRS. FRANCIS MARRIES MILLIONAIRE RICE'S MURDERER

THE STROKE OF A PEN DID IT

Woman's Attorney Makes a Public Statement, in Which He Says Nuptials Were to Come Off on Day of Acquittal.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Albert T. Patrick, convicted last week murder in the first degree, for plotting the death of Millionaire William Marsh Rice, and now awaiting the death sentence, and who committed the murder, became husband and wife in the matron's room of the Tombs. A pen stroke did it, despite all measures taken to prevent. The arrangements were so perfectly made, so secretly planned, and so cleverly executed that not until the marriage was irrevocably complete were Patrick's guards reminded that an event was intended. The fact that Commissioner of Correction Hynes had declared his opposition to a marriage between the prisoner and the woman who has been so faithful to him during his long incarceration, and the exhausting tension of his long drawn out trial, made the Tombs officials more alert to prevent a marriage in the prison.

The marriage is said to have been accomplished, however, while the matron was present in the room and after a few moments the priest had stepped outside. It is said the wedding contracts were then signed by Patrick and Mrs. Francis in duplicate. Under a law enacted by the legislature a year ago this form of marriage is lawful when the signing of the contract is witnessed by two persons. To perfect the ceremony it is only necessary to have a copy of the contract with a magistrate within six months.

Samuel H. Thomas, attorney for Mrs. Francis, is holding the contract. He said that the contract was signed by Patrick and Mrs. Francis in duplicate. Under a law enacted by the legislature a year ago this form of marriage is lawful when the signing of the contract is witnessed by two persons. To perfect the ceremony it is only necessary to have a copy of the contract with a magistrate within six months.

STATE ASKS FOR A LIFE

IOWAN ON TRIAL AT WAVERLY FOR SLAYING HIS WIFE

Said to Have Made a Confession in Jail at Allison—First Theory Was That the Woman Had Committed Suicide.

Special to The Globe. WAVERLY, Iowa, March 31.—Louis Busse was placed on trial in the district court here today for the murder of his wife, June 18, 1901. The crime was one of the most cold-blooded ever committed within the borders of the state. Busse lived with his wife six miles northwest of Allison. On the day in question he quarreled with her and in the scuffle he struck her on the head with a hammer, crushing her skull. He dragged her into the house and there cut her throat with his pocket knife. He placed the body on a feather bed saturated with kerosene and set fire to it.

The theory at the time of the discovery was that the woman committed suicide. The suspicions were aroused by the actions of the husband at the time of the funeral, he showing no signs whatever of grief. The body was exhumed and then the discovery was made that the skull had been crushed.

Busse was taken from the jail at Allison and brought here, as it was feared a lynching would take place, the feeling being very strong against him. While in jail at Allison he is said to have made a confession. The state has summoned thirty-six witnesses and the defense eighteen. Four attorneys will be identified with the prosecution and three with the defense. It will be one of the hardest fought battles ever waged in the state criminal courts.

SENATOR DEPEW SAD

ONCE HUBBLED WITH FUN; IS NOW IL PEN-SEROSO

LOOKS FIVE YEARS OLDER

No Longer Tells Mirth-Provoking Stories to His Friends—As Solemn as a Mate in a Funeral Procession.

FROM THE GLOBE BUREAU, Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—A change has come over Senator Chauncey D. Depew. The gay old blitheness is no more. Once, not many months ago, he carried on his face a constant smile. It was like a ray of sunshine when he came into the room and he used to bubble over with good spirits. If it was assumed the role was well sustained; if it did not appear assumed. He went everywhere, and he had a funny story for anybody who would listen. Even in pantomime he was entertaining and people in the senate galleries or elsewhere, out of range of his voice, would watch him work up to the point of his tale, and then he would throw back his head, open his jaws like a great nut-cracker, and shake all over in hearty silent laughter.

But that was four months ago. Something has come over the spirit of Chauncey's dreams, and they are no longer rosy or mirth inspiring. He looks five years older. He is as solemn as a mate in a funeral parade. There are no more little quips or wanton wiles. He is ill pressed. The worm is gnawing at the flower's heart and the petals have begun to curl.
