

WOMAN'S PAGE

NO PRESIDENT YET

WOMAN'S CIVIC LEAGUE WILL STRUGGLE ALONG WITHOUT ONE FOR A TIME

HER WORK TO BE DIVIDED UP

Executive Board Will Suggest That Committees Perform Duties Hereafter Devolving Upon Official Head of the League.

For the present the Woman's Civic League will get along without a president. At least, that is the suggestion that the council of the league will present at the regular meeting Friday afternoon. The council, which is the executive board of the league, met yesterday morning and discussed the matter informally. The suggestion was made that inasmuch as the president in the past, has had to do most of the work and assume most of the responsibility, it would not be a bad idea if that work and that responsibility were divided among the various committees and departments of the organization. It is not intended that this arrangement be permanent by any means, but it is hoped that if the plan proves successful and the machinery of the league continues to run smoothly, then it will not be a difficult matter to get a president, for not much then will be demanded of her. Should the league accept this suggestion Friday afternoon, the members of the council will take turns in filling the position of presiding officer. "Chairs" will be the subject of a paper entertained in the members of the Sewing club this afternoon at a progressive thimble bee.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the People's Church held an all-day meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. C. Keith, on Carroll street.

The Nonpareil Social club will give an Easter ball this evening at Hedman's hall.

The degree team of Ramsey camp, M. W. A., will give its annual Easter ball to-night in Central hall.

The Central Presbyterian church will hold its annual meeting this evening in the parlors of the church.

Dayton's Bluff Camp No. 20, W. O. W., and Woodman Circle No. 15, will give a dancing party this evening at their hall on East Seventh and Reany streets.

The Bald Eagle yacht club will give a dancing party this evening in Woodruff hall at Merriam park.

Mrs. W. E. Rogers, of South Exchange street, will entertain the C. W. B. M. of the Central Christian church this afternoon.

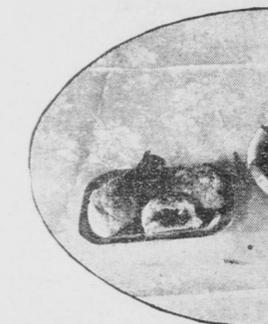

The ladies of Court Alpha, U. O. L., gave a benefit card party for their degree team yesterday afternoon at Central hall. The committee in charge were Miss Marion Murray, Miss Martha Spurr and Miss Jennie Lombard.

The annual meeting of the Lower Town Mothers' club will be held this afternoon in the kindergarten room of the Hawthorne school.

The Capitol City Social club will give its Easter ball this evening in Litt's hall.

Mrs. W. A. Rudd, of the Colonnade, entertained the members of the Sewing club this afternoon at a progressive thimble bee.

SURPRISE AND SALAD ROLLS.

These rolls serve as a good variation from sandwiches to serve at a reception or collation. If the rolls are raised with yeast, it is made with baking powder they must be short and tender. For surprise rolls have the sheet of dough not over one-quarter of an inch thick, cut in rounds, put a teaspoon of creamed chicken or chopped meat on one side, moisten edges, fold over and press slightly. Salad rolls are cut round from dough about one-half inch thick, when laid on a smaller round cutter into the center; take off the top for a cover; discard some of the crumb from the interior, fill with chicken or lobster salad and press the little cover on. Both these rolls must be freshly baked. Sweet cream makes a delicate salad roll. Sour cream, if properly handled, is also good, but few cooks understand how to counteract its acidity, and most of them use too much soda, which gives a coarse grained, bitter flavored roll. When cream is but slightly sour, equal measurements of soda and cream tartar give excellent results. If milk is taken for mixing add two tablespoons of melted butter. —Alice E. Whitaker.

Of Social Interest.

A number of pleasant affairs will be given in Minneapolis for Miss Lillian Moore, whose marriage to J. Roy Cooke will take place this month. Thursday morning, from 10 to 12 o'clock, Mrs. George Douglas Head will entertain at an informal chocolatee. Miss Gertrude Hale will give a tea Wednesday, April 3, and dinner parties will be given by Mrs. Walter Harris and A. S. Trask.

Mrs. H. W. Tennoerde, of Bidwell street, will give an informal luncheon Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Oscar Hallam gave a luncheon yesterday at her home on Summit avenue. Covers were laid for twelve.

Mrs. E. M. Prouty, of Summit avenue, will give a thimble bee this afternoon for Mrs. Arnold, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Todd have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Alice Todd, and Frank Strong Elsdale. The wedding will take place Monday evening, April 14, at the St. Anthony Park Congregational church.

Mrs. J. H. Steper, of Holly avenue, will entertain the members of the Harmony Eucare club this afternoon.

CLUBS AND CHARITIES.

There will be a meeting of the committee in charge of the reception of M. Hughes Le Roux this evening in the office of Judge Ed Bazille, room 51 of the court house.

Mrs. John Lux, of Aurora avenue, will entertain the members of the Congregational Sixteen club, Monday afternoon. High scores were made by Mrs. J. O. Caranough, Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. Sandberg.

The Autumn Eucare club was entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. C. L. Fisher, of Irvine park. Favors were won by Mrs. F. J. Eubanks, Mrs. A. Harshis, and dinner parties will be given by Mrs. J. W. Devore, Mrs. Flood and Mrs. Fisher.

Mrs. W. S. Thorne, of Arundel street, entertained the members of the Au Fait Eucare club Monday afternoon. Prizes were won by Mrs. D. M. Emmons, Mrs. W. S. Thorne and Mrs. W. C. Thorne.

Mrs. Harry E. George entertained the Um-Zoo-We club yesterday afternoon.

The officers of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Bates Avenue M. E. Church entertained the members and friends of the church last evening at the home of Mrs. William Brink, on Bates avenue.

PERSONAL.

Col. and Mrs. George E. Pond are visiting in Chicago.

Mrs. J. E. Greenman, of the Colonnade, has returned from California.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Ware, Laurel avenue, have returned from the East.

Mrs. C. G. Johnson, Dayton avenue, will return tomorrow from California.

Miss Wherrett, of Chicago, is the guest of Mrs. J. F. George, Summit place.

Mrs. J. C. Norton, Holly avenue, is entertaining Mrs. Cooley, of Grand Forks.

Mrs. Benjamin Brack and Alexander Marshall, of Chicago, have gone to California.

Mrs. Putnam, of Eau Claire, Wis., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Putnam, 631 Portland avenue.

Mrs. Frank Norton and Mrs. J. E. King, College avenue, will leave this week for West Baden Springs.

The following St. Paul people are at French Lick Springs: M. D. Munn, H. G. Gotzian, H. F. Wessel, H. A. Murphy, R. Hurd, J. C. Wood, H. B. Allen, F. R. Yarka and wife, C. G. Goodrich and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Paterson, Crocus hill, will remove the latter part of the month to White Bear.

Mrs. E. V. Appleby, Summit avenue, and Miss Mead, Pleasant avenue, will go to Chicago this evening.

Miss Bessie Crandall, of Milwaukee, will be the guest next week of Mrs. James Wilson, Igehart street.

CROSSE PIANO RECITAL.

Minneapolis Artist Delights Audience at St. Agatha's.

Prof. William M. Crosse, of Minneapolis, gave the first in a series of piano recitals last evening in the music hall of St. Agatha's conservatory. A large audience enjoyed the excellent program presented. Prof. Crosse is a brilliant player. The Chopin Polonaise (op. 53), the Sapellnikoff "Etude de Concert" (op. 5), and Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 12," proved particularly well suited to his brilliant, dashing style and served best to display his pronounced virility. Prof. Crosse was won by Mr. Nicot, but his work is not limited to the merely mechanical. His readings are bold and vividly colored, and if lacking in imaginative touches at least stir his listeners through their forceful interpretations. Besides the numbers mentioned he played last evening Beethoven's "Sonata Characteristique," "A Carnival Overture," Schumann's Impromptu (op. 142), Schubert's Scherzo (op. 16), Mendelssohn's Prelude (op. 3), Bachmann's "Spinning Song" (op. 3), Paganini's "Barcarolle" (op. 30), Rubenstein's "Shakspere's Serenade," and Schumann's "The Song of the Lark."

Prof. Crosse was ably assisted last night by Mrs. Winnie Theodosia Crosse, a dramatic and commendable similitude and an utter naturalness characterize Mrs. Crosse's readings. Her voice is pleasant and clear and finely expressive, her features are exceedingly mobile and more valuable than any other quality, the ready possession of which she cited last evening's scene from Schubert's "Hagar," and "The Blind Girl of Carle Challe." Prof. Crosse's next recital will be given tomorrow evening.

COMMERCIAL CLUB BALL.

Spacious Parlors Contained Merry Party of Dancers Last Night.

Nearly 200 people attended the Easter ball given last night by the Commercial club in its parlors. The main parlor furnished an ideal dancing hall and the adjoining library, separated by a bank of palms and Easter flowers, provided an excellent place for the music. The band presented an exceedingly pretty aspect last night. There were a number of beautiful readings in the mirror, on the walls, and Wolf & Barrett's orchestra played soft, dreamy music, popular with every dancing soul. Refreshments were served in the dining room and several of the guests were treated to dancing. The program included: Charles E. Grady, Dr. N. Collier, Charles Elsher, A. J. Fetche, and the floor committee was composed of Prof. Northington, Joseph H. Groman, Charles W. Ischer, Charles R. Grady, A. J. Lusch, Rodenkirch's orchestra, whose members are all knights of the Maccabees, furnished a very good programme of music.

Knights of the Maccabees Dance.

Knights of the Maccabees, Unity Tent No. 8, gave its annual Easter ball last evening in Bowby hall. About 100 couples were present. The reception committee included: Charles E. Grady, Dr. N. Collier, Charles Elsher, A. J. Fetche, and the floor committee was composed of Prof. Northington, Joseph H. Groman, Charles W. Ischer, Charles R. Grady, A. J. Lusch, Rodenkirch's orchestra, whose members are all knights of the Maccabees, furnished a very good programme of music.

Choral Club's Final Rehearsal.

The St. Paul Choral club held its final rehearsal last night in the guild hall of Christ church. The mighty choruses of Haydn's masterpiece, "The Creation," were impressively rendered. The rehearsal was conducted by himself as being more than satisfied with the work that has been accomplished. A rehearsal with the artists will be held tomorrow noon. The sale of seats for the concert has been most satisfactory, and a large audience is promised for tomorrow night.

Concert at Park Church.

An entertainment to be given Friday evening at the Park Congregational church Mrs. Stemen, who is a reader of considerable talent, will furnish a part of the programme, and Miss Thomas will sing and also give several whistling numbers. Miss Thomas, whistling solos will be of particular interest, for there are very few good whistlers in the list of St. Paul's public talent. The proceeds of the concert will benefit the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

Stereophon Lecture.

Leslie R. Groves, chaplain Fourteenth United States Infantry, gave a lecture last night in the lecture room of the Dayton Avenue Presbyterian church. His subject was "The American Army in China During the Recent War," and he illustrated his lecture with a number of lantern slides which were made from pictures taken by the soldiers. Over 100 people were present.

Board of Day Nursery Meets.

The board of managers of the Day Nursery held its April meeting yesterday. In the absence of the president, Mrs. John Jewett, the vice president, Mrs. H. B. Evans, presided. Mrs. C. D. Storr and Mrs. Hopewell Clark were visitors. During the past month 283 children were cared for.

MENU FOR THURSDAY.

- BREAKFAST. Fruit. Cream and Sugar. Coffee.
- LUNCHEON. Wheat. Rolls. Cream and Sugar. Coffee. Brown Bread. Celery. Cocoa. Dinner. Corn Soup. Mashed Potatoes. Vienna Sausages. Lettuce. Split Peas. Apple Cake. Cheese. Wafers. Coffee.

MOTHER GOOSE PUZZLE.

They both laughed. "Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"They both laughed. "Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

She is Now Convalescent.

Susan B. Anthony, Stricken Down While on a Visit to Philadelphia, Recovers.

Instead of attending the banquet tendered her in Rochester on occasion of her eighty-second birthday, the aged advocate of woman suffrage, was compelled to remain in bed. Physicians state that Miss Anthony will be able to return to her home by May.

TO FRY TROUT AT HOME.

By Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln.

It seems almost useless to give directions for the cooking of trout, for there are only two or three ways of preparing them that are really satisfactory, and even these few methods, when followed by those who know nothing about trout or fish, result in a mass of unpalatable food. The same methods used in camp with fish fresh from the water, to a real lover of fish, and only those who have participated in the pleasures of angling for the speckled beauties can be counted in that list, the trout as usually served in places remote from its native

"Let the GOLD DUST twins do your work."

Don't plod along like your grandmother did before you, scouring and scrubbing; bending and rubbing.

GOLD DUST

makes housework easy. It cleans everything and injures nothing. More economical than soap.

Made only by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, Chicago, New York, Boston, St. Louis.—Makers of OVAL FAIRY SOAP.

waters is no better than any fish, perhaps not as desirable as many other less exalted specimens, but when cleaned in the crystal waters of its last abiding place, washed with the stronger seasoned slightly with salt and pepper, then wrapped in wet leaves or paper, and buried in the hot ashes of a fire, it is a delicacy. Trout cooked in this way have a delicate aroma and a sweet flavor which are often destroyed by the stronger odors of the hot fat in which they are usually fried. But if you must fry them do it this way.

After they have been quickly cleaned in fresh water, wipe them dry and rub a little salt along the loins in the inside. Fry several thin slices of salt pork, and be sure that this is sweet pork, for if a bit tainted by age your trout will surely be spoiled, and when the fat is all fried out, but not at so great a heat as this, remove the scraps, lay the fish in and cook as quickly as possible without burning. Turn when light brown and remove as soon as the other side is brown, drain a moment and serve hot.

Embrodering the Coronation Robes.

King Edward's coronation robes are being woven without design of any kind, and the roses, thistles, shamrocks and eagles are to be embroidered on the fabric by the Royal School of Art Needlework. Thirty yards of cloth of gold are required, and the gold used must be flexible enough to fall in graceful folds. A yard is produced in 10 days. The velvet for the mantle of the Princess of Wales is chosen in pile than any other velvet, and can be made in a day. It is silver, and will be lined with cloth of gold. The robes for the queen and princesses will be of purple, and the mantle of honor will wear white and silver. Three of the gowns being made for Princess Christian for coronation week are to be embroidered, by her orders, at the Dublin School of Art Needlework.

The Globe's Daily Short Story

Another Love Story.

By JESSIE FORREST.

Copyright, 1901, by Daily Story Pub. Co.

A tall man in a light rain coat and a neutral-tinted girl climbed the steps of a red stone mansion. The house looked to be unoccupied. The halls echoed with unfurnished nudity as the two entered. They walked familiarly into an oblong room, which was as barren as the hall, with the exception that it contained a small imitation mahogany table and two uncertain chairs.

The girl laughed half hysterically as she removed her hat and sat down, resting both elbows on the table.

"Our den of thieves seems remarkably fit this evening, dear. It chimes in with my mood. Perhaps it's because this is the last time."

The man stared moodily at the white wall. "So you mean what you say; you are going to quit?"

"Yes," she said, nodding and nodding her head. "It's the only thing we can do; you must see that. I can't live this way, with turbulent quarrels and constant recriminations. I can't do it. It's better to end it—better for both of us. You couldn't make things right, and somehow I seem to have developed a conscience."

The man tapped a call bell on the table, and a diminutive Chinaman ambled through the open door. The man and the woman ordered chop sooy and tea.

"See here, Hallie, I can't stand this. The man's face was smooth and boyish, but it was lined with emotion as he spoke.

"I can't live without you. Think of all we have been to each other for two years. Why did I leave all the set I know and take the flat with our little red parlor, if it was to see more of you? Do you remember our Sunday luncheons when you would come out early and make those wonderful dishes on our little gas stove? You couldn't reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up."

"Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"They both laughed. "Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did he say he killed with one shot—forty?"

"Yes, and that night you thought you were going to be fired from the paper and wanted a 'scoop'; how we had burst in the building and went out and treated the policeman on the beat so he would swear to it? Have you got the official belt buckle that he gave you? All that trouble to take the flat with our little how can you forget them? You could reach up to fasten the tube to the gas jet, and I always had to lift you up." "Yes," she interrupted eagerly, "and how clumsy you were, and how you used to crumple my clean shirt waist. And do you remember when old Eben, the janitor, would come in with the beer he would stop and talk when we were doing for him to go? How many pirates did