---	--	---	--

We begin tomorrow a week of lace curtains such as this town has not seen before. These curtains came from a maker in St. Gall, Switzerland, who is retiring from business. We bought from the New York house upwards of 1,000 pairs of new lace curtains, imported for this season's business. They are the cleanest, freshest goods to be had at any price. But a few thousand pairs is a small stock for an importer—much too small to be sold by sending out traveling salesmen.

Our Mr. Jones happened to be in New York at just the right time and he secured two big lots—one at a discount of 33 1/2 per cent, the other at a discount of 45 per cent. They will go on sale tomorrow and following days in the same manner—many of them at nearly half-price.

Never before have we offered such clean, fresh goods, such desirable and handsome patterns, at anything even approaching these low prices. Remember this extraordinary purchase of lace curtains goes on sale Monday morning.

- Arabian lace curtains,
- Renaissance lace curtains,
- Louis XIV. lace curtains,
- Irish point lace curtains,
- Tambour lace curtains,
- Brussels lace curtains.

The best suits, skirts and jackets

And we put particular emphasis on the word best. For qualities are the chief consideration in our stock of ready-made garments. Not only must materials be best, but the work must be the best; the styles must be both new and correct. There's no room for freaks here. The shapes must be right, too, and every garment that leaves the store must fit perfectly. We're particular about this. Then the price must be right—as low as any in town—mostly lower when qualities are considered. Our prestige and standing in the New York markets give us every facility for closest buying—and that means closest selling.
