

KILLED IN A WRECK

Five Passengers and a Fireman Meet Death in Burlington Collision

MANY MORE ARE INJURED

Passenger and Stock Train Come Together Near Hyannis, Neb., and Three Engines Are Almost Totally Demolished.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17.—Five men were killed and many others more or less injured in a collision on the Burlington's Hastings line today.

The dead: WILLIAM RAY, Tecumseh, Neb., W. W. PITTS, Eldorado Springs, Mo., M. TUTTLE, Whitman, Neb., JOHN COX, Strong City, Kan., LEE LEINHART, fireman.

Slightly injured: R. H. Sizer, brakeman, F. E. Colvin, conductor, T. Huston, freight engineer, J. McDonnell, freight engineer.

Seriously injured: O. F. Phillips, engineer of passenger train, back badly crushed; condition serious.

Isaac Cox, Strong City, Kan. All of these, save the trainmen, were riding in the smoking car at the time. This car was reduced to kindling wood. The injured have been removed to Alliance.

The collision occurred a mile east of Hyannis, between train No. 42, the Portland-St. Louis flyer, east-bound, and an extra stock train bound west, with twenty-five cars of cattle bound for the Western ranges.

There is nothing to indicate who was responsible for the two trains moving in opposite directions on the same track, and no details of the rate of speed at which either was going.

It was necessary to build a track around the wreck, and this has indefinitely delayed the arrival of No. 42, which was due here at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

A wrecking crew was sent out from Alliance, along with surgeons. Hyannis is in Grant county, seventy miles east of Alliance, which is division headquarters for the Wyoming division.

The postal car, in which Frank Livingston, U. S. P. J. at Alliance, and his wife were at work, was demolished, but none of them was seriously injured.

The passenger car had orders to meet the freight at Hyannis, but the orders were misread. With a full head of steam the passenger train dashed into the two engines of the freight train.

The engines, a baggage car, one coach and three stock cars are completely wrecked. The force with which the freight train was terrific. The engines are piled in a shapeless mass in which lie the wrecked stock cars and coaches.

The first coach is completely telescoped by the baggage car. The rail car was thrown from the tracks.

CHIEF IS IN COURT

Superintendent Ames, Who Is Charged With Bribery, Pleads Not Guilty

BOND IS FIXED AT $5,000

Christopher Norbeck and Irwin A. Gardner Each Arraigned on Four Indictments Charging Them With Bribery.

Superintendent of Police Ames, the man to whom is intrusted the responsibility of keeping the city clean of the criminal element, was yesterday arraigned in the district court before Judge Simpson, on the charge of receiving a paltry $25 bribe, and by so receiving the bribe is charged by the grand jury with granting immunity from arrest to several crooks who were operating in the city at the time, and fleeing unsuspecting victims right and left out of their hard cash by means of "confidence games," three card monte, and various other games played with cards.

Supt. Ames was arrested yesterday morning by a deputy sheriff and in custody of the officer was brought into the court at noon. The court room was well filled with spectators, as they had received an intimation that something unusual was about to happen. The superintendent listened to the reading of the long indictment and was apparently very Little concerned. When Clerk Ryberg had finished reading the document, and asked the accused whether he was guilty or not, he exclaimed in a firm tone, "Not guilty."

Attorney Fred Ayres appeared for Col. Ames, and asked for a stay of ten days to demur to the indictment. The judge was of the opinion that this was too long a time and accordingly set the date for next Wednesday. A bond was fixed at $5,000, and the instrument was executed at once with E. Kayser, the well known wall paper man, and E. W. Goddard, of Barnaby & Co., as sureties.

Norbeck and Gardner, Too. After Col. Ames had been arraigned, came indictments against Christopher Norbeck, a police detective, who was arraigned on four separate charges, each charging him with receiving bribes averaging from $25 to $50, and for which it is charged that he granted certain "big mitt" men immunity from arrest. Attorneys Erwin and Mead appeared in behalf of the defendant, and asked until Thursday for the case to be postponed, their reason being that Norbeck had been a witness before the grand jury, and they wished to ascertain as to what extent he had been interrogated, and if it is discovered that he was a witness regarding these indictments a motion to quash will be made.

Trwin A. Gardner was also arraigned on the charge of receiving bribes from criminals under promise of protection in their nefarious schemes. Four indictments were read against him, and the amount of money he is charged with having received amounts to about $1,000. His attorneys, Erwin & Mead, asked for the same motion for time before entering their plea, on the grounds that he had been a witness before the grand jury. The motion was granted, and he will be heard next Thursday at 10 a. m.

The bonds in the case of Christopher Norbeck and Irwin A. Gardner were each placed at $5,000. R. J. Hill and Brando South qualified for Norbeck, and C. E. Birkhofer and E. O. Parker went sureties for Gardner.

Norbeck and Gardner were apparently little concerned at the reading of the indictments. The principal witnesses in all the indictments were Lincoln Crossman and "Billy" Edwards, who are both well known "big mitt" operators in the city, and Edwards has since been found guilty of the crime of manslaughter in the county jail.

It is understood that there are several other police officials whose records are being looked up, and the more surprises are promised by the grand jury by the end of the week. Those indicted so far have nothing to say about the matter, but are waiting to tell their story in open court. As yet there has been no suspension of the officers charged with bribery, as is usually the case in civic matters.

GRAY IN PRAISE OF ELKS' FAIR. Thinks Minneapolis Plan Would Do Credit to Any City.

Dr. C. D. Gray, of Kansas City, who is in St. Paul to aid in the promotion of a National Exposition, is also manager of the fair festival and carnival at Minneapolis. He is very enthusiastic over the Elks' June fair and carnival at Minneapolis. He says today "I cannot speak too highly of the plans of the Elks. Their scheme would do credit to any city in the country. I never heard of such good Midway attractions outside of the big expositions.

I am contracting with Manager George Jaubert to bring his shows to Minneapolis in the fall. I am also going to suggest to the people that they follow the example of the Minneapolis Elks by charging a general admission of 50 cents to the Midway, instead of trying to get the visitor's money in dribs and drabs, charging him 10 cents for each show, and in the aggregate making it so expensive for him that he will only come once. There will be attractions enough to justify several visits, and a man can afford to do it, where such a reasonable charge is made. I am a confirmed believer in the policy adopted of giving the people their money's worth.

It will give you a bit of Kansas City's experience from street fairs. Three years ago we gave the last of our street fairs, and next two years dropped this feature from our fall festivals.

Result: The next year we lost $3,000.

Last year we lost $3,000. Now our people are crazy for a street fair again. We have sold 650 spaces for exhibitions of local business houses and local manufacturers already, and the show does not come until October. There is not one of our business men who will not attest that his exhibit has not paid him over and over again. Minneapolis will have the same experience, I venture to predict.

Mr. Gray is an enthusiastic Elk, being a member of New York Lodge No. 1, besides being one of the active promoters of the bazaar scheme, which is to include many of the leading cities in the wide stretch of territory from New York to Texas. He is manager of the Theatre Principal, in the City of Mexico.

He has managed Mark Twain's lectures in Oriental countries, and has traveled in the far East and Africa in the interests of the Paris exposition, which he also represented in this country. He was a prominent concessionaire at the Pan-American exposition.

SLASHED WITH A CARVING KNIFE. Two Colored Men Engage in a Bloody Row.

Joe Tindler, a chocolate-colored negro, and another negro of lighter complexion, who goes by the name of Kelly, met in the alley back of Sodin's Columbia theater about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Kelly slung on Tindler's foot, which led to some hot words between the two. Injury was added to insult by Kelly slashing Tindler with a large carving knife which he procured from a colored restaurant, the kitchen of which backs up on the alley where the trouble took place.

Tindler had two arteries severed in his left wrist, and received some deep and painful cuts in the palm of his right hand. The injured man may lose the use of his right hand, as it is feared that the cords of the wrist have been permanently injured.

SPACE BRINGS GOOD FIGURE. Commercial Club Convention Committee Divides Exposition Room.

All the available space in the Exposition building has been sold to firms who wish to make a display of their wares during the meeting of the National Teachers' convention, which is to be held here this summer. The Commercial club committee has begun work to facilitate the collection of contributions to the Martineau relief fund. Subscription blanks are in press and will be placed in conspicuous places throughout the central portion of the city Monday morning.

Realty Men May Erect Building. The real estate men of the city are figuring on erecting or procuring a building to be used as a realty exchange. There is some talk of purchasing a site and erecting their own building, the board to form a corporation, bond and buy the site and erect the building, the bonds to be taken by the members.

WILL GRIND CANADIAN WHEAT. Washburn-Crosby Company to Experiment on Proposition.

During the coming week the Washburn-Crosby company will try the experiment of grinding Canadian wheat in bond. The mill which has been set apart and bonded by the government for this work is the "E." Washburn-Crosby company has just closed negotiations for a large consignment of Canadian wheat, and it will be shipped into Minneapolis over the Soo line, and will naturally go to the sea board over the same route.

The proposition is in the nature of an experiment, and nothing can be foreseen as to what the results will be. The Washburn-Crosby people say they were fortunate in securing a considerable quantity of the commodity at a reasonable figure, with a freight rate that seemed to them attractive, and now it remains to be seen whether the transaction will be profitable. The entire product, bran and shorts as well as the flour, will be exported to the United Kingdom.

WAS FOUND DEAD IN CEMETERY. Body of an Unknown Man Discovered in Lakewood.

Charles Morton, one of the sextons at Lakewood cemetery, yesterday discovered the dead body of an unknown man in the cemetery grounds. The body was lying face downward, and had evidently been dead several hours.

The deceased was a man about sixty years of age, five feet eight inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds. He was a red-head, had a beard, and his hair was nearly red. He was neatly but plainly dressed in a suit of dark clothes and wore a dark Fedora hat.

In his pockets were found several papers, one of which was a tax receipt for a clothing store. He was identified as Peter Moss, of Wood Lake. There was nothing on the balance of the papers to identify him. No marks of violence could be discovered. An autopsy will be held.

THEY WILL STAND TRIAL. Detectives Howard and Morrissey Did Not Demur to Indictments.

The detectives are accused of soliciting a bribe from the Elks' fair committee to receive a bribe and receiving a bribe.
