Paine's Celery Compound Is the Great Restorer of Health for the Ruler and His Humblest Subject.

Sickness, disease and suffering respect neither ruler nor subject. The noted and high born who try their trials and physical sufferings like those in humbler stations.

Impure blood and weak nerves are responsible for many of the common diseases of life. The experienced physician will tell you that men and women with pure, clear, circulating blood and well braced nerves, can never become victims of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver troubles, debility, headaches, or sleeplessness.

For the happy accomplishment of this important work, Paine's Celery Compound is the only safe agent, the one great specific, the only security against deadly disease and death.

It follows, therefore, that sufferers from any of the ailments referred to, should at once take proper measures to cleanse the blood and feed the weak nervous system with proper nourishment.

Good Work in Philadelphia.

The report from the Pittsburgh union was omitted owing to the absence of Mrs. F. W. Soubb, its president. Mrs. J. G. Walker, of Philadelphia, reviewed the history of the Philadelphia Home mission, of which she is president. This union was organized in May, 1877, and the second annual report showed that there had been seven new auxiliaries added that year, making in all twenty-three, which indicated that there had been sixteen auxiliaries organized in the first year.

Mrs. William M. Isaacs, president of the New York city branch, was not present, but a historical paper, which had been prepared by Miss Martha Elvira Pettis, secretary of that branch, was read by Miss Mary G. Burdette, corresponding secretary of the national society. This paper showed that the New York union was organized Feb. 6, 1878, and now embraces thirty-two churches and has on the list 134 managers.

Mrs. William R. Taylor was not present to report for the Long Island branch, and her paper was read by Mrs. F. Maplesden.

Rev. William Lawrence, pastor of the First Baptist church, Chicago, was called to the platform by Mrs. Crouse to address the meeting, and spoke in words of earnest praise of the society and its work.

MANY TIRED OF LIFE

Half a Dozen Suicides Are Reported Throughout This Section

FORMALDEHYDE FOR ONE

Luther Hudson, of Des Moines, Adopts This Novel Method of Self-Destruction—General Northwest News.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 19.—One of the strangest suicides on record in Des Moines was that of Luther Hudson, who killed himself in the yard of his home by swallowing half a pint of formaldehyde. Hudson staggered to the back porch of the house and fell down a corpse. The powerful drug literally embalmied him, his muscles being as rigid as if he had been treated with embalming fluid.

Hudson had been employed in the administration of Mayor Hartenblower as a quarantine officer for the health department, and is said to have been disappointed because the demand for increased wages is made on the ground of increased rates of living.

Special to the Globe. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 19.—C. J. Conway, who lives on a farm near Hartenblower, arrived here today with the information of the suicide of Hans Thrane, a Dane, aged thirty-two years, who, with his wife and sister, resided with the Conways. Missing Thrane, who had been acting strangely for two weeks, was found him behind the barn, and he told her he had taken a dose of poison. He was dead before a doctor arrived.

Special to the Globe. FARGO, N. D., May 19.—Mrs. Pratt, who has been residing with her son in the town of Candor, this county, committed suicide by cutting her throat. Her son had been out during the afternoon, and on returning in the evening found her room door locked. He called repeatedly, and finally broke in the door and found her lying on the bed, with blood everywhere. A note on the table asked him to forgive her for the act and would end his life.

Special to the Globe. PORTLAND, Ore., May 19.—Prof. Eugene L. Schaeffer, senior master at Bishop Scott academy, a school conducted under the direction of the Episcopal church, committed suicide today by shooting himself with a revolver. Prof. Schaeffer was fifty years of age, and had been employed in the university for about ten years. He had not been re-employed for the coming year, and it is supposed that he became despondent. He was for some time employed in the engineering department of the Union Pacific railroad.

WHERE PROTESTS HAVE SMALL WEIGHT

Frivolous Attempt of Steel Trust Minority to Prevent Adoption of Bond Plan.

NEW YORK, May 19.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the United States Steel corporation was held today at the New Jersey office of the corporation in Hoboken, to consider resolutions adopted by the board of directors providing for the purchase of $20,000,000 of preferred stock and the issuing of $20,000,000 of new bonds.

C. H. Verner, of Boston, entered a formal protest against the carrying out of the plan for exchanging bonds for preferred stock. He objected on the ground that there was no authority of law for the corporation to change its stock for bonds, and further that the act of the New Jersey legislature permitting the company to make this exchange was unconstitutional and void.

Before the resolutions were adopted, Samuel S. Strong, of Providence, protested against the plan. He said he had failed to get a copy of the contract between the corporation and J. P. Morgan & Co. relative to the underwriting of the new bond issue, and believed a good many stockholders who had sent proxies to the meeting had never had an opportunity to see the contract at all. He moved that the meeting should be adjourned for one month, so that all the stockholders might have a chance to learn what they were asked to vote on. The motion was lost.

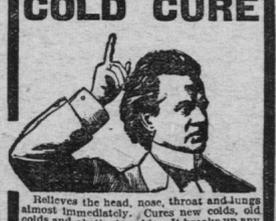

Former Judge Gary, chairman of the executive committee, said that he believed the gentlemen who had made protests were actuated by proper motives. The executive committee, however, he said, had considered every objection that had been raised, and had come to the conclusion that the interests of the corporation would be served by carrying out the proposition to be voted on. He said that the protesters represented only a very small minority of the stockholders, and that the management had received proxies representing 80 per cent of the common stock, and 75 per cent of the preferred stock, and 75 per cent of the common in favor of the proposition. He believed, therefore that the bond conversion should be made in justice to the wishes of the majority.

Chairman George W. Perkins, of the finance committee, made this statement: "When we found it necessary to raise more money to complete and perfect our plant at West Point, we proposed two plans. Both involved a loss.

The third scheme was then considered, namely, the issue of bonds and $20,000,000 of such bonds for cash. The interest at 7 per cent on $20,000,000 of preferred stock for an equal amount of 5 per cent stock would be $1,000,000 per year. The interest on $20,000,000 second mortgage bonds at 5 per cent would equal the $1,000,000 per year. To carry out this plan commissions of 4 per cent would be required by the syndicate. This would mean an initial expense of $800,000, but the third plan provides for a sinking fund which would wipe out the $10,000,000 cost in less than ten years and would provide for the payment of the entire bond issue in six years.
