WAIT FOR VAN SANT

Brief Lull in Storm Brewing Over Red Wing Training School Case

BROWN'S FRIENDS MOVE

Bare Possibility That Board May Stand by Saperintendent Rather Than Give in and Appoint Governor's Candidate.

Pending the return of Gov. Van Sant from Rock Island, the board of control is having a most acceptable rest from the strenuous agitation anent the Red Wing training school situation.

When the governor returns he will find himself again besieged in behalf of the candidacy of Vernon M. Smith, and it is expected that within a day or two the fight between the board of control and the executive will be settled one way or

A new element in the situation has entered, in the sudden and active interest of Red Wing citizens in the retention of Supt. Brown. As related in yesterday's Globe the board has received a resolution from the Red Wing Commercial club denying that the sentiment of Red Wins is antagonistic to the present superin tendent and favorable to his removal This would not ordinarily cut any figure, but under the present strained conditions existing it may mean much. It may offer the board of control a sophole of escape from knuckling down to the governor by appointing Smith. If the board is not inclined to give in to his excellency, it can as a last resort, if it does not wish to go to the extreme of appointing Whittier against the governor's protest, decide to retain Supt. Brown. The board could do this consistently inasmuch as it has not as yet officially promulgated any statement concerning the Red Wing sit uation, and could not be accused of hav-ing attacked Brown in any way.

Brown Defends Himself. The Red Wing activity brings to light a little incident not heretofore published It seems that when the board decided to supersade Supt. Brown in obedience to a very general criticism of the Red Wing school, it called Mr. Brown in conference and tried to make the news somewhat easier by telling Mr. Brown that there was a general sentiment in Red Wing that he should be removed. The board enumerated instances when the Red Wing school had been criticised. Mr. Brown, it is said, became somewhat nettled and declared emphatically to the board that it had apparently failed to note that the major portion of criticism of the school major portion of criticism of the school was directed not at Mr. Brown, but at the board of control. Mr. Brown went home the same day, and the Red Wing citizens got busy to express themselves as not favoring Mr. Brown's removal.

At the discussion in Red Wing the atatitude of Mr. Brown's friends was clearly indicated. It was directly charge.

clearly indicated. It was directly charg that the trouble at the Red Wing school was owing to the fact that the board had tied the superintendent's hands in the matter of discipline, so that when one of the inmates was told to do a thing he could stick out his tongue at the authorities and direct them to an un-

SLOW RECOVERY IN ASIATIC TRAFFIC

J. B. Baird, of Northern Pacific, Says Silver Has Been Too Cheap to Promote Chinese Trade.

J. B. Baird, assistant general freight agent of the Northern Pacific road, says the Asiatic export trade is recovering from the effects of the Chinese war, but that the recovery is slow on account of the low price of silver, the continuance of local disturbances and the naturally leisurely recovery of the people from the revolution of the last year. Mr. Baird

At the annual commencement of the University of Minnesota which is to be held June 1 to 5, 460 men and women will be graduated from the several departments, of which number 185 will receive the degree of bachelor of arts, 9 said:

"It is difficult to trace the development of the Asiatic trade from year to year. In considering its relative growth one has to take into consideration longer periods of time than would naturally be thought of in this country. The reason for this is that everything there is bought on a silver basis. When silver is low in price the money of the Orient buys less goods because the prices of the commodities imported are higher to the people in China. This perhaps is something that is not always considered when one discusses

This congress, which comprises delegates from all parts of the United States west from the Mississippi river, will bring to this city from 1,200 to 1,500 business men from the territory mentioned, and many of them will be accompanied by members of their families. Preparations are being made to entertain them in a manner befitting the reputation of St. Paul in that line.

Brimhall Draws Sixty Days. Edward Brimhall, the old man who was arrested Wednesday night while carrying some lingerie that had recently come from the clothes line, was yesterday sentenced to sixty days in the workhouse. the growth of the Asiatic traffic. This condition has existed against the Asiatic trade of late. Silver has been too cheap to promote trade with China.

"Still, considering all the unfavorable conditions arising from the war and handicap of cheap silver, the export trade from the West coast has been good. Flour exports have fallen off largely, probably because, of the effect of the Oriental money market. I suppose that the Orient is able to buy in Australia, which is a wheat exporting country, when it is impossible to import from here at an advantage.

"The principal articles of export to Asiatic countries in addition to flour and coast lumber are cotton manufactures and iron manufactures. Japan imports cotton and manufactures it herself. She does not raise the raw material. China, however, imports the finished cotton goods, which, I presume, are largely of a light texture and cheap grade.

SPIRITUALISM AS A CAUSE FOR DIVORCE

Nels Nelson's Wife Said to Have Been Carried Away by the Doctrine.

The divorce case of Augusta Swanson Nelson against Nels Nelson, will be on trial in the district court today. Cruel and inhuman treatment is alleged in the complaint of the defendant.

The Nelsons were married in St. Paul in 1891, Mr. Nelson was a bartender for a number of years, and a few years ago opened up a saloon at 644 West Mississippi street.

Nelson is reported to claim that his wife is carried away with religion, and that they had lived together until a body of Spiritualists called at his house one day, and that since that time his wife had been so busy with Spiritualism that she has not had time to attend to the duties of her humand.

She is said to have even informed him that he had better give up the saloon business, and that she would make coin by practicing Spiritualism. He did not seem to take kindly to the proposition, however, and a family quarrel was the result.

Mrs. Nelson deserted her husband on result.

Mrs. Nelson deserted her husband on the evening of Feb. 3, and when Nelson went home that hight he found that his wife had gone and taken all her personal effects with her. He has not seen her Probst Must Pay Costs. Probst Must Pay Costs.

The jury having the case of John W. Probst against George W. Heaton under advisement brought inva verdict of $1 in favor of the plaintiff, which obliges the defendant to stand the costs of the action. The case grew out of a slight neighborhood quarrel, in which several families on Dayton's bluff were interested. Heaton, it is alleged, assaulted the Probst boy without provocation and while the latter was attending to his own business.

Mrs. Webber Must Take, $6,000. Mrs. Webber Must Take, $6,000.

The petition of Mrs. Harriet Webber, praying to be allowed to come in under the law in sharing in the estate of her husband rather than accepting the portion allotted to her in the will, was before Judge Bazille in the probate court yesterday. The court denied the petition. The William Webber estate consisted of $30,000, and in the will $6,000 was left in trust for his wife and the remainder was willed to his son, W. W. Webber Jr. Mrs. Webber contends that the division was an unfair one, and asks that she be allowed $8,000, or the one-third prescribed by law where no provision has been made.

LODGES WILL TURN OUT

On Designated Evenings, Members of Secret and Fraternal Organizations Will Have Seats Reserved at the Met.

When the general seat sale for the Coliseum benefit of next week opened yes-terday morning, the demand for tickets was such as to greatly encourage and gratify the newspaper men's committee, which has this branch of the great Collseum project in charge. The theater management had already expressed the conviction that the business of next week would be surprisingly large, owing to the excellent character of the programme offered and the popularity of the object to which the proceeds of the entertainment are to be devoted. Since the programme was originally made up, two new features have been added. One of these is furnished by Brackett and Gerard, who sing with stereopticon illustrations, and the other by Brandon and Martini, who appear in a comedy sketch. The idea of having specially designated nights for each of the lodges to attend, and reserving their seats in blocks, has proved popular, and every night a por-tion of the house will be occupied by some of the lodges. The schedule as arranged is as follows: Monday night, Elks and Mystic Surine; Tuesday, Modern Woodmen and Foresters; Wednesday, Workmen, Royal Arcanum and Catholic orders; Thursday, Odd Fellows and Knig.:ts of Pythias; Friday, German soieties; Saturday, Eagles.
