MONEY FOR CREDITORS FIVE PER CENT DIVIDEND DECLARED BY SAVINGS BANK

Makes Total of 45 Per Cent, Amounting to Nearly Half a Million Dollars—Receiver Hopes to Pay 50 Per Cent More—Statement of Accounts.

Judge Lewis yesterday signed an order approving the payment of a 5 per cent dividend to the creditors of the Savings Bank of St. Paul.

The receiver, Edmund J. Hodgson, applied to the district court for leave to pay a 5 per cent dividend to the creditors of that institution, whose proved claims amount to $1,667,948.82.

Mr. Hodgson's statement shows that from Sept. 1, 1901, to June 1, 1902, the total receipts have been $63,133.55, and the disbursements $15,315.82. The disbursements are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Salaries, rental commissions and general expenses $4,518.65; Taxes and assessments 6,579.49; Insurance and water rents 881.55; Repairs 2,966.46; Abstracts and other legal expenses 363.71. Total $15,315.82.

The receiver attaches a short statement of account from the beginning of the receivership from which it appears that the total receipts have been $559,423.50, and the total disbursements $497,624.80, leaving a balance of $61,798.70, of which the present dividend will be paid.

This dividend, which is the fifth that has been declared, will make a total of 45 per cent paid to the creditors, and the receiver hopes to pay from 25 to 30 per cent more.

So far the income from rents and interest have been sufficient to pay all taxes and assessments, insurance, repairs and the numerous small expenses, and also all the receiver's expenses proper, such as salaries, etc., and the receiver's statement shows a credit to his account after paying all the foregoing of $22,938.95.

SEARLE IS SHELVED Senator Daugherty Has Call On the Anti-Bede Support

FRIENDS PRESSING HIM Adam Bede Pays His Respects to Searle, and Hopes He Will Try for Nomination.

The opposition to J. Adam Bede in the Eighth district, instead of assuming definite shape and systematic form, as promised, is apparently becoming more mixed and less likely to materialize in effective resistance.

Frank Searle's efforts to be coo' seem likely to shelve his candidacy. When first selected as the Duluth candidate he pretended to be averse to accepting. Later he manifested a willingness to surrender to the pressure of my friends. This decision may be too late. According to Duluth citizens in town yesterday a meeting of prominent citizens was held Saturday afternoon to discuss the congressional situation, and the result of it may be that F. B. Daugherty will be brought out.

The meeting was called to determine which of three men was the strongest and most likely candidate—Frank E. Searle, Leon E. Lum and W. E. Calkin. Somewhat to the surprise of those that were responsible for getting the citizens together in mass meeting F. B. Daugherty's name developed considerable strength.

A test vote was taken, just as an experiment. There were fourteen present, and Mr. Searle got eight votes and Mr. Daugherty six.

Daugherty Has the Call. This showing led to an animated discussion. There were some that thought Mr. Searle was the proper man to run, but the others were vehemently opposed to him, saying that he was the weakest man that had been named, and it was impossible for him to be nominated, or to be elected if he were nominated.

Neither Mr. Searle nor Mr. Daugherty were present. The question arose as to whether Mr. Daugherty would consent to run or not. His friends stated that he did not care particularly about it, but if Duluth insisted on a Duluth man running, and would back him up, he might consent to take it. He was, however, somewhat much improved, is not in such shape yet, they said, that he could undertake to make a hard fight for the nomination.

Both men were sent for and both came. They took part in the talk for some little time. Mr. Daugherty could not be induced to say that he was a candidate, but Mr. Searle's attitude was much more on the Banks' order.

Later there was more discussion, and the effect of it was to resolve the question before the meeting into the probability of either or not Senator Daugherty would run.

Bede Talks Bluntly. Adam Bede is not at all backward about discussing the candidacy of Mr. Searle. "My speech is candid," he says, "I've read about it. Well, while I don't want any opposition at all, if I've got to have it, I'd rather have Mr. Searle's than any other that I know of. Trouble between us? Oh, Mr. Searle, while acting as chairman of the congressional district committee two years ago, cut out three of my district in the county. I had it in for Judge Morris, I was stumping the state for the party and was under control of the state central committee. I was assigned to assign three speeches to St. Louis county during the campaign. These three dates got lost with Mr. Searle in some way. One of the speeches was to be given at the hotel at Great Eastern hall. But here's an advance copy of the last issue of my Budget. That'll tell about it."

Bede's Budget gives a few additional particulars that indicate its editor's feeling toward Mr. Searle: "F. E. Searle, the last candidate to be mentioned, is recently from St. Cloud, once a part of this district, but now cut out. He has not a very wide acquaintance over the present district. He recently interviewed himself in St. Paul to the effect that he demanded a base man's candidate, and tendered his personal services in that capacity. This reminds us—but let it pass. Two years ago when the Budget editor was stumping the state under the auspices of the state committee, three dates were made for him in St. Louis county at the request of the county chairman, but before the time came around to fill them, Mr. Searle as chairman of the congressional committee, had them out out. Still the old command to love one another should be obeyed, and little things like this should never ruffle the feelings of a gentleman. Mr. Searle would make an excellent candidate, as he would make an excellent candidate, as he would make an excellent candidate. He has made something in iron lately."

DOG CAUSED CONSTERNATION. West Seventh St. Residents Frenzied He Had Rabies.

Residents of West Seventh street in the vicinity of Walnut, had an exciting time yesterday afternoon and evening with a dog that was supposed to be suffering from rabies. The dog entered the house of Otto Kemp, 278 West Seventh street, and started to fight with a spaniel. When the dogs were separated the spaniel tore the dress from his eight-year-old daughter. Mrs. Kemp had her hand cut in the scuffle, but does not believe the dog bit her.

Officer Puges was called and shot the dog two or three times out into a crowd of children, where the officer could not use his gun. The officer chased the dog several blocks and finally shot him when it was crouched under a back porch. So far as known the dog bit no person.

WORKMAN IS BADLY INJURED Slipped on Plank and Fell Twenty Feet into Basement.

John Christianson, employed in the new building at the Hamm Brewery company, fell from the second story to the basement yesterday afternoon and sustained serious injuries about the back. Christianson was walking along a plank, when from rabbits the dog entered between the joists on the ground floor and landed on his back a crotch of braces in the basement. The man was twenty feet from the edge of the plank when he fell. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where at first it was thought that his back was broken. Christianson had been in the city but a short time.

FRED WAYMAN IS NOW PAST DANGER POINT

Coroner's Jury Secured to Hold Inquest Over Remains of Dell Robert Today.

Fred Wayman, who shot by Tony Senora and Louis Ventrella on the West side Sunday afternoon, is improving rapidly at the city hospital, and has passed the danger point.

Joseph St. Dore, the Italian who was badly beaten, is improving as well as can be expected. It is likely that he will be able to use his left eye. No deposition has been taken from him yet.

The coroner's inquest over the remains of Dell Robert, who died as the result of the fight, will take place this evening. Acting Coroner Whitcomb has empaneled the following jury: Joseph Peters, S. G. Peters, Charles Hogen, Charles Hogen, Hans Mattson and Fritz Lehman.

Dr. Whitcomb took the jury to the scene of the shooting yesterday afternoon to allow them to become familiar with the details so that the testimony which will be given will be intelligible to them. They were also taken to the undertaker's establishment where the remains of Dell Robert lay. All the jurymen are representative citizens of the West side.

The statement in the evening that the Italians who were arrested and inhumanely treated and beaten is without the slightest foundation. With the exception of St. Dore, there was not one of the men who were arrested who had been a single mark or scratch. At no time did the police allow the mob that congregated around to interfere. St. Dore was beaten before the arrival of Lieut. Sexton, who took him into his charge at once.

The death of Dell Robert recalls the fact that his uncle killed a man named Rogers eight years ago in South St. Paul. Rogers and Rogers had some trouble over some cattle. Rogers locked Rogers' cattle up, and refused to give them to Rogers when he called. After an argument Rogers started to walk into his house, when Rogers threw an ax at him. Rogers was injured and Rogers ran a few inches from Rogers' house.

Rogers then went up stairs and secured a shotgun and shot Rogers from an upstairs window. Rogers was taken away and Rogers then went out into the barn, lay down on the floor and shot the top of his head off. Rogers succumbed to his wound a short time afterward.

WILL SURVEY LANDS FOR STATE FORESTRY Gift of Gov. Pillsbury Will Be Planted With Spruce or Pine Trees.

Gen. C. C. Andrews and Prof. Green, representing the executive committee of the State Forestry association, will leave this morning for Cass county to supervise the survey of the pine lands granted the state for forestry purposes by the late John S. Pillsbury. The object of the survey is to determine the kind of timber with which the lands shall be stocked as an experiment. Mr. Wertheim, the most experienced timber man on the board, advises that spruce, rather than pine, be planted, because the former becomes marketable much earlier.

Gen. Andrews yesterday called attention to the fact that an erroneous impression has been spread by certain papers by giving circulation to the statement that spruce grows much more rapidly than pine and matures in half the time. This is not true, as spruce grows but one inch in diameter in five years. But it becomes merchantable much sooner than pine, and its rate of growth in diameter would be of no use on the market.

Gen. Andrews is very enthusiastic and hopeful over the Pillsbury gift. He believes it means the planting of a number of gifts of a similar character. He remarked: "I know of no way in which a man could perform a better service for mankind or insure himself a more permanent monument than by giving to the state a tract of land for forestry purposes, the forest to be named after him. The first tract will probably be called Pillsbury forest, and will remain for all time a monument to the memory of a public-spirited citizen."

ELLERY'S BAND WILL BE HERE ON SUNDAY Famous Italian Organization to Perform for Coliseum Benefit.

On Sunday Ellery's famous Italian band will once more greet its many friends in St. Paul, when it opens a week's performance for the benefit of the Coliseum.

Since the last appearance of Ellery's Royal Italian band in St. Paul Mr. Ellery has added to his forces not only the greatest of his kind, but also the services of Sgr. Sotora, the wonderful harp soloist. Sgr. Sotora has created a furor wherever he has appeared, and his playing was one of the features of the recent St. Louis concert. Sotora was called out five or six times after each solo.

With his new leader and wonderful soloists, Ellery's band has a rare treat in store for St. Paul's music loving public next week. The Sunday afternoon program at the Coliseum will consist largely of Wagner's music.

An active campaign is promised for the fall election.

STATE ODD FELLOWS Grand Lodge of Minnesota Convenes in St. Paul This Morning

ORDER IS PROSPEROUS Important Questions to Be Settled. Among Them Advisability of Reducing Fees—Rebekah Assembly Meets Also.

There are several important questions to be considered at the forty-ninth annual meeting of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Minnesota which convenes in the representatives hall at the state capitol at 9 o'clock this morning. The master and grand warden received the required one-third of the total vote cast in the subordinate lodges. According to the present law of the grand lodge, the three candidates for each office receiving the largest amount of votes are voted for at the session of the grand lodge following the election, and the ones receiving the highest number of votes are declared elected. The candidates to be voted for at this session of the grand lodge are as follows:

For grand master, Prof. S. A. Farnsworth, St. Paul; Col. C. R. Wilkinson, St. Paul Park; W. A. Gosner, Montevideo.

For deputy grand master, Winn Powers, St. Paul; G. S. McCulloch, Brainerd; and E. G. Covell, Kerkshovon, Minn. There were sixteen candidates for the office at the January election and Mr. Powers came out with the highest number of votes, but lacked enough to make the necessary one-third. For grand warden, W. S. Elliott, St. Cloud; E. B. Hale, Redwood Falls; and A. T. Dunn, Le Roy.

Order is Prosperous. There are 256 Odd Fellow lodges in the state with a membership of nearly 15,000. During the past year the order made a net gain of 500 in this state, and the reports of the secretary and treasurer will show that it is in a flourishing condition.

As a result of the fact that under the present system of electing the grand lodge officers, one or more have failed to receive the necessary number of votes to be elected to the office sought for, at every election, the question of amending the election law so that the grand lodge will elect its own officers will come up for discussion, and will be one of the most important questions to be considered. The friends of the present system contend that it saves an extra day at the session of the grand lodge, thus saving the lodge between $50 and $100 annually. On the other hand the opponents of the present system assert that there is no way of knowing who are candidates or finding out anything about them.

Reduction of Fees. Another important question to be considered will be the advisability of reducing the fee for membership. A number of states surrounding Minnesota have recently reduced the fees for membership, and there is a growing feeling among the Minnesota members that it should be reduced. On the other hand the opposition contends that if the present fee is lowered it will reduce the standard of the order.

The Grand Masters and Past Grand Masters association will be entertained at the Merchants' hotel this evening by Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann, who is a member of this association. The election of officers for this body will also take place this evening. The election of officers of the grand lodge will take place tomorrow and the annual excursion to the Odd Fellows' home at Northfield, will take place on Friday. Special trains will be run over the Great Western and Milwaukee roads. The home is the pride of Odd Fellowship in this state and was built at a cost of nearly $50,000.

Ladies Will Meet Also. The annual Rebekah assembly will also hold sessions at the capitol today and tomorrow. The grand officers of this branch are: President Mrs. May Johnson, Appleton; vice president, Mrs. May Davis, Minneapolis; warden, Miss Olive Tait, St. Paul; secretary, Mrs. Eunice Melville, Minneapolis; and Mrs. Bertha Leber, Minneapolis, treasurer.

The officers of the entertainment will be the exemplification of the work of the Rebekah branch at the capitol this evening. The Rebekah degree team of Hutchinson, Minn.

An informal reception was given by the local lodges of the Rebekahs at the Windsor hotel to the visiting delegates last night. A large number of the delegates attended and a good time was enjoyed by all present. During the evening a number of the standing committees of both branches also held meetings to prepare their annual reports to be presented at the opening session this morning. The es are called to order this morning there will be about 400 delegates in attendance at the grand lodge and about 250 at the meeting of the Rebekah assembly.

The present officers of the grand lodge are as follows: William McGregor, Minneapolis, grand master; Col. C. R. Wilkinson, St. Paul Park, deputy grand master; Winn Powers, St. Paul, grand warden; A. L. Bolton, St. Paul, grand secretary; C. M. Sprague, Sauk Center, grand treasurer; William McGregor, Minneapolis, and W. G. Nye, Minneapolis, grand representatives.

At the general election for grand officers held last January none of the candidates for grand master, deputy grand

Why Don't They Go? A Way to Push Off the "Hang On's." Perhaps some day you will wake up to the fact that coffee is quickly and surely doing the business for you. You wonder why the symptoms of disease which grow more and more pronounced do not disappear, but hang on in spite of all the medicines you can take.

Fixed organic disease may result if you keep up your present course, and yet it is an easy thing to give up coffee and get well. Have your cook make Postum Food Coffee strictly according to directions, and that is easy. Use enough of it and you will find that the famous food drink will satisfy your coffee taste and the old troubles gradually disappear.

There are hundreds of thousands of cases in America that prove the truth of this statement. A gentleman from Columbus, Ga., says: "My wife had been an invalid for some time and did not seem to yield to any sort of medicine. She could not eat anything without distress, and naturally was badly run down in every way. Finally we concluded that perhaps it was the coffee that hurt her, so she quit more and more pronounced do not disappear, but hang on in spite of all the medicines you can take.

committee in charge of the reception last night was composed of the following: Miss Anna H. Milne, chairman; Mrs. George McGuire and Mrs. H. W. Phillips. The lobby of the Windsor hotel was crowded last night with the several candidates who are running for office, and the fight promises to be a hard one.
