Indianapolis at St. Paul, Louisville at Minneapolis, Columbus at Kansas City, Toledo at Milwaukee.

Young Mr. Bartos, just in from Winnipeg, had a bad time with his sights for a few moments yesterday afternoon.

The suggestion was acted on, and the Washingtons, on their way to Washington, bravely crossed the Delaware river in triumph.

"Courage!" sternly admonished the leader. "You forget I am with you. I have it! A tugboat—we will hire one."

"Yes," said Larry. "I don't think I'll say today."

"The visiting clubs are now beginning to appreciate the danger attending the accident feature, and J. Suthoff tried to help out by hurling himself recklessly in front of a fast one started by P. Dillard.

While the Indian delegation treated the bumped part to a massage Kellum understood for Suthoff.

Slump Was Not Expected. Young Mr. Bartos' bad time came as a surprise to the select gathering in the stands.

FREEDMAN AND BRUSH

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 29.—The weather conditions over the last day of circuit racing under the auspices of the Lake Yacht Racing association held off Ontario Beach today, were favorable with light winds, but not at any time exceed five knots and gradually died away during the afternoon.

The course today was an equilateral triangle, three and one-third nautical miles to a side. The forty-five, forty-foot class Jarvis Mery, second, twice around this course, while the thirty, twenty-five and knockabout classes went around but once.

It was learned that the Canadian one of the challengers for the Canadian cup, was to try conclusions with the 30-foot class Jarvis Mery. The Canadian is a freak in its shape and appearance, is styled the "Reddy". It was designed by Father O'Brien, of Toronto. Following are the results: Toronto, first; Perth's Mery, second; Selma, third; Canada fourth, Aggie fifth, 40-foot class; Hamilton, second; Weir's Clyde, Hamilton, second; did not finish.

Knockabouts: Petral first, Veritas second, only two starters.

TO DODGE THE COURTS

Lajoie and Bernhard are compelled to make long trip to Atlantic City to avoid threatened arrest for contempt and then hire tugboat to get across the Delaware—Ride Train from Wilmington.

A supreme court injunction looks small change when the fanatics read in the daily baseball reports that Lajoie and Bernhard, though restrained by a properly sealed and filed order, are playing with the Cleveland American League team, but these players are having their troubles.

When Cleveland went to Philadelphia from Boston Bernhard and Lajoie were taken to Atlantic City to avoid threatened arrest for contempt of the Pennsylvania supreme court in playing with Cleveland. They registered at a prominent hotel and enjoyed a vacation while their comrades were being trounced by the Athletics.

But a rude awakening came on Tuesday. "Report at Washington tomorrow," said a telegram from Manager Armour.

"Report at Washington," echoed Larry, "but how? If we go to Philadelphia to take the Washington train we get arrested."

Hold Council of War. A council of war was held, the two players made a circuit of the railroad stations and appropriated all the maps they could lay hands on. Then with the deliberation of field marshals they planned to pass the enemy's lines and descend on Washington.

"Ah!" said Lajoie, throwing a map of New Jersey on the floor, and trying to look like the great general for whom he is named, "I have it. We'll elude Benders yet. Follow me and all will be well."

So the trustful Bernhard followed the gallant "Larry" and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the two players crept stealthily to the railroad station and bought tickets for Woodbury.

At 5:15 they reached the little Jersey town, which, ignorant of the honor suddenly thrust upon it, had no band at the station to meet the athletes, and let them walk about unnoticed. After a masterly sally under cover of the trees and bushes, a hotel was reached without detection and the enjoined ones locked the door and hid in their room.

Start Off Early. At 6:15 yesterday morning their blissful dreams of managers tendering contracts at the railroad station into the seven figures were rudely broken by a thunderous rap at the door.

"The colonel!" shrieked Bernhard, as he dived under the bed.

"Nonsense," answered the cooler Lajoie; "It's the bellboy come to awaken you."

The two unique ball tossers went down to the rustic pump and performed their ablutions.

"I never was up so early in my life before," said Lajoie, shivering.

"Nor I," answered the truthful Bernhard.

At 8:15 they left Woodbury. At 7:30 they reached Pennrose and gazed across the broad bosom of the Delaware at Wilmington, dimly visible in the rising sunlight.

"If we can get across we are safe," whispered Lajoie, hoarse with excitement. But to get over was the problem.
