

IS EASY FOR BRIDES

THEY MONOPOLIZE "SHOWERS" TO DETRIMENT OF FRIENDS.

All Bachelor Girls Should Announce Their Intentions and Receive the Benefit of Friendly Showers Before the Nuptials Take Place—An Informal Dinner is the Best Medium.

"There is no reason," remarked the girl who writes "bachelor" after her name, "why brides should monopolize showers. They are not the only ones who set up their Lares and Penates in suites, apartment houses or flats. The bachelor girl as soon as she receives a salary deserving the name deserts the boarding house. She, too, seeks to establish her Lares and Penates in a home of her own! But you know household gods are not furniture and the chief virtue of those books which tell you how to evolve tables and chairs out of two tomato cans is a few tacks is good intentions. When a girl becomes engaged her engagement is announced. And the announcement is guests. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. H. K. Fowler and Mrs. Harnish.

Mrs. J. Warren Thurston, of West Central avenue, will entertain the members of Unity Hive, Ladies of the Maccabees, Monday evening. The hive will give an outing Aug. 21 on Harriet island. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the picnic includes Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Thurston and Mrs. Johnson.

The Hamline Women's Christian Temperance union will hold its annual outing today at Como. A picnic supper will follow a meeting to be held in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Blomberg, of Beaumont avenue, entertained the members of the First Swedish M. E. church last evening at a social. Mrs. Blomberg was assisted by the members of the Ladies Aid society of the church.

Banner Hive, Ladies of the Maccabees, will give a card party this evening in Bowly hall.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ware, of Laur-

APRICOT ICE CREAM.

Peel and mash one pint of fresh apricots, add one and one-half cups of sugar and let stand for an hour. Then rub through a fine strainer, add one pint of cream and a very little red coloring to give a pink tint. Freeze and serve in fancy paper cases on lace paper doilies with a spray of green rose leaves beside each cup.

rows of petals cut from pink crepe paper are pasted out the outside, the lower row being the largest. Line with a circle of waxed paper. A peach ice cream is also made by the above rule. It is better to rub the fruit to a pulp when it is to be frozen, than to cut it in pieces which freeze hard and are unpleasant to the taste. An extra amount of flavoring is required for frozen mixtures, as it loses its strength in freezing. Ice cream will keep in the freezer for an hour without being repacked, if covered with several thicknesses of old blankets or carpets. Otherwise drain off the salt water and pack again with ice and salt.

el avenue, have gone to Mackinac island. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gribben, of Summit avenue, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kurtz, of Pittsburg, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark, of Portland avenue, have returned from a trip to Yellowstone park. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ware have taken apartments at the Aberdeen for the winter. Miss Emma Beckland, of Holly avenue, has gone to Denver, Col., to spend several weeks. Miss Michaud, of St. Peter street, has gone to Lake Minnetonka. Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Bigelow, of Iglehart street, are visiting at Sault Ste. Marie. Miss Halsey, of Summit avenue, has returned from Sioux City, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cochran, of Western avenue, have gone to Duluth. Miss Gertrude Gottschammer, of the Kenilworth, will leave tomorrow for a visit in La Crosse, Wis. Miss Emma Clark, of Woodward avenue, is entertaining Miss Clark, of Chicago. Mrs. J. L. Chisham, of Holly avenue, has gone to New York. Miss Colmary, of Selby avenue, is entertaining Miss Palmer, of Boston. Miss M. J. Dayton, of Summit avenue, has gone to Lakeville for a few weeks. Miss Fryer, of Kent street, has returned from Lake Minnetonka, where she has been spending several weeks. Miss Nyquist, of Iglehart street, who has been in Waconia, has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, of Laurel avenue, have returned from Geneva beach. Mrs. William Lindeke, of Summit avenue, is spending a week at Duluth. J. G. Callahan and his sister, Miss Della Callahan, have gone to Seattle and San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. George P. Stout, of Aurora avenue, have returned from their visit at Pine Island.

WOMEN MAY NOW VOTE.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 14.—The woman's franchise bill has passed both houses of the New South Wales legislature.

SOCIAL.

The Misses Martha and Inna Scherfer, of New York, who are the guests of their sister, Mrs. William Hamm, were the guests of honor at a progressive euchre party given yesterday afternoon by Miss Maud Freeman, of Summit avenue. The guests were entertained at Miss Freeman's summer home at Birch lake.

When loss of hair occurs under middle age, it often may be traced to the practice of wearing a hard, nonventilating hat, or to habitual smoking, late hours, or a disordered stomach. If you are not perfectly well, consult a physician; expose the hair to light and wear a hat only when absolutely necessary; many men are foolish enough to wear their hats the greater part of the day; give up the use of barax; although good occasionally it

CLUBS AND CHARITIES.

A social will be given this evening at the home of Mrs. J. M. Lang, on South Exchange street, for the benefit of the Central Christian church. Independent Lodge No. 112, Degree of Honor, gave a dancing party last night at the home of Mrs. Lowe, on East Ninth street. Mrs. Lowe was assisted by Mesdames Stover, Boncher, Feehan, Bowers, Schroeder and Weber.

Legs and Rocking Chairs. Since the invasion of London by the American chorus girls, English girls have grown wise in regard to the merits of the American leg. An English scientist, who, presumably, has observed his zeal to lead him even to the bald head row, announces gravely that Americans have the most symmetrical legs in the world, not only has he come to this flattering conclusion, but he has formulated a theory to account for the phenomenon. Nature, so the scientist believes, has not debarted discriminated in favor of the American. Americans have not been born with shapely legs. They have not had shapely legs thrust upon them. They have achieved shapely legs. The rocking chair is responsible. The pressure of the toes, which keeps the rocking chair in motion, arches the instep and gives it height, works surplus flesh from the ankle and develops the calf. In the light of such revelation, the furniture dealers' statement that the rocking chair is declining in favor indicates a direct flying in the face of a beneficent Providence. There was a time when Europeans noted at the nervous Americans and their rocking chair habit. Even the Americans themselves grew ashamed of their rocking, studied Delaware, sawed the rockers from their chairs, and went in for divine repose. The verdict of science should change all that, revive a waning custom here, encourage the adoption of the rocking chair abroad, make it a feature of all stage training, and send the price of sawdust below par.

CARE OF THE HAIR.

When loss of hair occurs under middle age, it often may be traced to the practice of wearing a hard, nonventilating hat, or to habitual smoking, late hours, or a disordered stomach. If you are not perfectly well, consult a physician; expose the hair to light and wear a hat only when absolutely necessary; many men are foolish enough to wear their hats the greater part of the day; give up the use of barax; although good occasionally it

When loss of hair occurs under middle age, it often may be traced to the practice of wearing a hard, nonventilating hat, or to habitual smoking, late hours, or a disordered stomach. If you are not perfectly well, consult a physician; expose the hair to light and wear a hat only when absolutely necessary; many men are foolish enough to wear their hats the greater part of the day; give up the use of barax; although good occasionally it makes the hair dry. Every time you wash your face, which I suppose is at least twice a day, night and morning, wash your hair also, and not the hair alone, but the head. Use cold water, and give the head a thorough rubbing. Once in two weeks wash the hair with warm water, and the soap you mention, rinsing with clear, cold water. After rubbing the scalp until it glows, which gives a stimulus to the circulation and makes the scalp more absorbent and more sensitive to the action of the hair. The little fellow generally remains outside. When you hear the cleverness of a woman constantly praised, take for granted that she is not beautiful. If she were, you would hear of it first. Marriage is an institution which enables a man and a woman who love each other to multiply their pleasures and their happiness by two and to reduce their sorrows by half. Marriage is also an institution which makes a man and a woman one being only. That's why they often feel so lonely. The tongue of a woman ought to be made to go seven times around her mouth before being allowed to utter a sound. There are moments in the life of a woman when she ceases to have control over herself, and when she commits mistakes which cause irremediable unhappiness to her husband and to herself. Miss Gould's Puff Wagon. Miss Helen Gould is one of the latest converts to the automobile. She recently purchased a two-seated electric affair, which she has learned to operate. It is a car with a chauffeur, and seldom, if ever, takes any risks, but for all that she can manage a rapid spin, and can hold her own in a race for speed if it need be. Miss Gould has made several long trips up and down the Hudson, and scarcely a day passes but that her light blue car can be seen among the trees not many miles from her own home. St. Paul Girl's Success. Miss Minnie Bronson has carved out a unique place for a woman to fill. She has just been appointed superintendent of elementary and secondary education for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This will be the third position of this kind for her to occupy. She was first assistant in the department of education and social economy of the United States at the Paris exposition. She transferred the exhibit to the Pan-American, and had charge of it there, being at the same time assistant superintendent of the department of liberal arts. Before becoming an expert in Exposition work Miss Bronson taught mathematics in the high school of St. Paul. To Keep the Hands White. A certain little housekeeper who does all her own work, and yet gets her white hands that one reads about, tells thus how she keeps her hands in such good condition. Tomatoes will take off any stain. You know paring apples makes your hands frightfully black. I discovered that the tomato can be used to take off this stain, and since I have found it out I keep one on my kitchen table, and apply it always after paring fruit. In winter I use tinned tomatoes. Rather a queer cosmetic, isn't it? "Then I am careful to wear gloves filled with cold water, thus cracking the enamel. Fine tablecloths dried on windy days and allowed to fly to pieces. Left over neglected until the refrigerator becomes musty.

THE MERMAID AND I.

A mermaid sat in the crystal sea. And I noticed her waving her hand at me. And I said, "O dear, O dear, she's a flirt, I fear. And I'm glad that no one has seen me here." Then I smiled at the maid in the crystal sea. And the dream of a smile came back to me. So I launched my hat (It was large and flat). And I sailed to the place where the mermaid sat. And the Thornback Skate shot under the high. And the Eyeed Torpedo caught my eye. There the Sunfish tarried a while to bid. And the Rays slow swimming, shuddered by. There were wimpling waves and dashing spray. As the sea breeze bore me along my way. And we talked all day, in a quiet way. And she said such things as mermaids say. When to grant her wish, With a whirl and swish, We both flew away on a flying fish. She said to the fish, "Fly high, fly high. There's a place that I know in the starlit sky. We'll sit and spoon On a horn of the moon Till the factory whistles blow for noon. When I said "Good night," and left her there. A tear-drop gleamed like a solitaire. And I said, "O dear, you're a flirt, I fear. And I'm hoping nobody saw me here."

REARDON MUST PUT THE FOUNDATIONS IN SCHOOL.

Legal Department, in an Opinion, Settles Difficulty of McKinley School. As far as the board of education is concerned, the carrying out of the contract for the installation of the heating and ventilating plant at the McKinley school devolves upon the contractor, Timothy Reardon. The contract was let to Mr. Reardon, and the corporation attorney yesterday, in an opinion, holds that Mr. Reardon will have to do the entire work. Mr. Reardon sublet a portion of the work to William Foelson, and between the two a difference arose as to who should put in the foundation for the boilers. The board finally referred the matter to the legal department, with the above result. The board does not recognize Mr. Foelson in the contract. High School Examination. The examination for pupils who desire to enter the high schools will be held at the Central high school Aug. 23 and 24. The examination is open to those who failed to pass the examination in June from the graded schools, as well as to any others who present themselves. Usually the applicants who take the examinations number less than 100, and a majority of those who failed in the June examination are able to pass after studying up. Many Hearings Called. The board of public works yesterday ordered hearings on sixty-two preliminary applications for building permits.

Is a Worthy Candidate.

James Middleton, who filed yesterday for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner, is one of the best residents of the city. He came to St. Paul from Washington county twenty-one years ago. He was sergeant-at-arms in the territorial legislature in 1854-55. He served two Picture Puzzle.

These girls are waiting for two companions. Where are the missing ones? Solution for yesterday's puzzle: A young man is under the man's hat, and a young lady above the table top.

Change Party Designation.

Certificate of nomination of Jay E. Nash, of Robbinsdale, Hennepin county, as candidate for governor, and Michael A. Battland, of Ada, as candidate for lieutenant governor, of the Socialist Democratic party were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. The certificates were accompanied by a notice stating that the name of the party has been changed to Socialist party, and the political designation of the party in the future could be "Socialist."

Building Permits.

Dayton Avenue Presbyterian church—Addition to edifice on Carroll, between Fisk and Victoria, cost $1,000. O. A. R. ston—Addition to frame dwelling, north side Peoria, between Lynn and Bremer, cost $400. Two minor permits. Cost $50. Total $1,450.

Household Leaks.

Withered lemons. Musty bread. Neglected vegetables. Moldy cheese. Spices left uncovered. Fruit forgotten until over-ripened. Rice and sugar wasted in the handling. Too much thickening or starch made and thrown out. Brooms left standing when wet instead of being hung up. Scrubbing brushes turned bristle side down to dry. Kettles allowed to boil dry, then

SUES FOR WAGES

WEEK BY WEEK

E. R. Meyers Things Horejs Bros. Have Violated the Terms of Their Contract.

Twenty-six suits, each to recover one week's salary, will be brought by Ernest R. Meyers against the Horejs Bros. Baking company. Already three suits have been instituted. Two are in Justice Blackwell's and the third in Justice Hoyt's court. The first case, which was tried by Justice Blackwell a week ago Tuesday, was decided in favor of the plaintiff. Joseph Horejs, president of the company, has appealed from the decision. The other cases will come to trial next week.

Every week the Horejs for the next twenty-three weeks a new suit will be brought. Meyers, who was formerly employed at the company's View street plant, claims that he was discharged without cause three weeks ago, in spite of a contract with the company, by which it was agreed that Meyers was to remain in its employ for at least one year.

Meyers was given the position of superintendent of the View street bakery Tuesday. He was to receive a salary of $25 a week for one year. Four weeks ago, according to the plaintiff's story, he visited in Milwaukee. When he returned he was informed by Joseph Horejs that his place had been filled, and that if he wished to remain in the company's employ he must accept the position as foreman of a bench. This Meyers refused to do. He was paid off and since then has not worked at the bakery.

Three weeks ago he sued the Horejs Bros. Baking company for one week's salary and was given a verdict by Justice Blackwell. The following Monday he began another suit in the same court, but the defendants secured a change of venue and that case will be tried Aug. 19 in Justice Hoyt's court by the plaintiff's attorney. The third case was commenced yesterday in Justice Blackwell's court, but as the papers were not served it was continued until Monday, Aug. 18. Next week the fourth suit is expected to be instituted.

Mr. Meyers last night said that he would continue bringing the suits each week as his wages fall due. "I cannot afford to wait until the suits expire to get my money," said he. "I am a poor man, dependent upon my salary, and must have it weekly. I have won the first case. I am confident that the others will be decided favorable to me. Although Horejs has appealed I am not at all afraid of the final outcome of the suits."

When last night Joseph Horejs said: "We did not discharge Mr. Meyers. He quit of his own accord. Four weeks ago when he returned from Milwaukee he told my brother, John, that he was going to throw up his job, as he had secured more desirable employment in Milwaukee. My brother at once accepted the resignation and secured the cashier make out a check paying Meyers in full, all that he had coming. Four weeks he remained away from the bakery. When he returned he informed me that he had decided not to go to Milwaukee. He wished to return to work, but I refused to hire him, having made arrangements for filling his position."

"At that time he said nothing about bringing suit, but a few days later I was served with summons. He appeared in Justice Blackwell's court at the time stated, but there was on one else present. When about ready to leave Mr. Blackwell appeared. I inquired when the case was to come up and he replied that it had already been tried at his home. He also informed me that he had rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff because I was not present when the case was called. Of course we appealed."

"Last Monday I was served with papers in the second suit, but secured a change of venue to Justice Hoyt's court. I wanted to have the case tried in the city of St. Paul, but Mr. Blackwell refused to do so. He sent the case to Justice Hoyt, who holds court in Rose township. I know nothing of the third suit, as I have not yet been served with summons. I believe Mr. Horejs denied that Meyers was ever superintendent of the plant. He also said that the man was incompetent."

Made No Misstatements.

"You told our summer boarders that we never skim any of our milk," said Farmer Corbush's wife in a tone of gentle reproof. "I told 'em the truth," answered Farmer Corbush. "We buy it already skimmed from the dairyman."—Exchange.

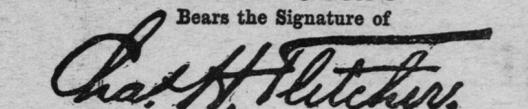

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, 27 NUNN STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

"FORBID A FOOL A THING, AND THAT HE WILL DO." DON'T USE

SAPOLIO

DRUGGIST TURNED TO FIND WOMAN IN FAINT

Unknown Lady Picked Up Unconscious in a Selby Avenue Drug Store.

A woman, well dressed and between thirty and thirty-five years of age, was taken to the city hospital last night from Frost's drug store at Selby and Western avenues. The woman, whose name could not be learned, came into the drug store and asked for something for a headache. Mr. Frost turned to the shelves to get a remedy for her, and when he again turned she was lying on the floor in a cataleptic condition. Three or four physicians who were called into the store tried to revive her, but could not, and she was sent to the city hospital. She was in an unconscious condition the last night and the authorities at the hospital had been unable to identify her. She is rather stout, apparently between thirty and thirty-five years old, and had about $2 in money in her purse, but there were no cards or marks of identification on her clothing. She will probably recover.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL

SUFFERING FROM CHLORAL

Peculiar Condition of James Pooler, in Jail on a Charge of Drunk.

James H. Pooler was taken from the county jail to the city hospital yesterday morning just before noon suffering from the effects of chloral poisoning. He was unconscious when taken to the hospital and had been so at the jail for some time. Pooler, whose parents live at 1027 Bayless avenue, St. Anthony park, is in jail on a charge of drunk and it is supposed that he took the chloral with suicidal intent, but the authorities do not know how he obtained the drug. He was resting easily at a late hour last night, having recovered consciousness and will recover.

Made No Misstatements.

"You told our summer boarders that we never skim any of our milk," said Farmer Corbush's wife in a tone of gentle reproof. "I told 'em the truth," answered Farmer Corbush. "We buy it already skimmed from the dairyman."—Exchange.

The Globe's Daily Short Story

Black Jim's Lone Hand.

By ARTHUR STANLEY RIGGS.

Black Jim Davoust was not black; neither was he the wealthy rancher, Harold Billings, as he claimed, though the round, fleshy face of Billings' ready-made name and occupation at times one of the most useful parts of his equipment. In all the great Southwest there was no cooler, nerver man than Jim. Had he not been taught his trade by Black Jack, the inimitable? Nothing better could be said of the man than that. In person he was a trifle above medium height, and built on a generous plan, save for weight. Gray-haired, keen-eyed, with a cruel mouth hidden by a drooping mustache, which he rarely cut, Black Jim was a perfect type of the Western desperado whose chief aim in life was to do as much damage as possible to express faces, stages, messengers, banks and similar persons and institutions, while receiving as little damage in return as possible. Though never shrinking from danger in any form. The Trinidad stage had carried a heavy express box, a lot of registered mail, and other valuables down Broadway to Smith avenue, a distance of over a mile. Certificate of nomination of Jay E. Nash, of Robbinsdale, Hennepin county, as candidate for governor, and Michael A. Battland, of Ada, as candidate for lieutenant governor, of the Socialist Democratic party were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. The certificates were accompanied by a notice stating that the name of the party has been changed to Socialist party, and the political designation of the party in the future could be "Socialist."