

CHILD LAW IS VOID

IOWA'S UNIQUE STATUTE FATHERED BY SOCIALISTS DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

IS FAULTY BECAUSE IT DENIES TRIAL BY JURY

Working Woman's Successful Effort to Secure Possession of Her Child—Case Excited Interest Among Scientific Sociologists Everywhere—Law Was Wholly New in American Jurisprudence.

KEOKUK, Iowa, Aug. 26.—A new law passed by the last legislature, at the instance of advanced Socialists, was declared unconstitutional here in court today at the end of the trial of the first case in Iowa brought under it. The new law provided for taking children from incompetent mothers and placing them in better homes. The court held that the act has not the proper title and does not give the right of trial by jury, as proceedings may be brought before the mayor of a city, who has summary jurisdiction. Notice of appeal was given and the case will go to the supreme court for further determination of the constitutionality of the law and several legal points.

The trial of the case lasted two days. The case was that of a poor working woman with a baby less than a year old, which the philanthropic society and club women and secretary of the Associated Charities attempted to put under better auspices. They secured the child while the mother was away and it has been in the custody of the police since. It was found by the mother and proceedings were begun in court.

The case excited interest all over the state and among scientific sociologists everywhere. The new Iowa law was passed last winter and is entirely new in American jurisprudence. Lawyers consider it very broad and radical.

PASSED GRAVEL STONE AS LARGE AS A PEA

Royersford, Pa., April 19th, 1902. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Gentlemen: I had been a sufferer from kidney trouble for about eight years, with pain in side, back and head, about six or eight months ago I concluded to try a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. To my surprise I experienced a decided relief before I had taken half of the bottle, and one morning passed a gravel stone as large as a pea, which I still have in my possession, and will be pleased to show to any one who doubts the efficacy of this wonderful remedy. One month ago, finding some of the old symptoms returning, I purchased a 50c bottle of Swamp-Root at Dr. Morey's drug store, and before I had taken one-fourth of it I found in the vessel which I had voided during the night a teaspoonful of small gravel stones and sand, the passing of which was immediately followed by relief.

POST'S BALLOON TRIP

To Break the World's Record for Long Distance Ballooning. In the interest of science and in the hopes of breaking the world's record for a long distance balloon trip, the Denver Post will send up the balloon, Big Glory, from Elitch's Gardens in Denver, Colo., on Sunday, Aug. 31. The ballooning party consists of Captain Baldwin, brother of the Arctic explorer; Captain Hudson, the well known aeronaut, and C. L. Sherman, a member of the Post's art staff.

The Parachute and Message Bottle to Be Thrown From Balloon.

The world's record for long distance ballooning is held by Count Henry De La Vaulx. It was made on a trip from Paris to Korostichev, Russia, a distance of 1,166 miles. His balloon was in the air for thirty-five and three-quarter hours. Both Captains Baldwin and Hudson are confident that the advantages offered in an ascent from a high point, such as Denver, less than 200 feet of a mile, will give them a great advantage over the French aeronaut. The winds in the Rocky Mountain region, especially at this time of the year, will be another advantage.

The balloon is fully equipped with scientific instruments that will be of advantage in securing data of an interesting trip from a scientific point of view. In order that the progress of the aeronauts and of their balloon and their experiences may be known, it has been arranged for them to drop messages at stated intervals to the earth. The messages will be enclosed in small glass vials attached to an ingenious parachute. The parachute and the bottles have been labeled with requests that wherever found they will be conveyed to the nearest telegraph station. It will be only in this way that definite news can be obtained, and a great deal of the success of this effort depends upon the generosity of the finders of the messages and their haste in conveying them to telegraph offices.
