SHE LONGS FOR HOME

CENTURY OLD WOMAN WANDERS AWAY AND WALKS FIVE MILES

Mrs. Pryble, who has celebrated her 100 birthday, wants to see her son and grandsons across the city in the rain to her grandson.

Utterly exhausted, cold and hungry, and her scant clothing dripping wet, Mrs. Mary Pryble landed at her grandson's home, at Milton and Van Buren streets, late Saturday night. The old lady, who has passed her hundredth birthday, wandered from the home of the Little Sisters of the Poor, on Wilkins street, to her former residence, a distance of five miles. When she arrived, she was unable to talk or to tell how or why she left the institution. Michael Pryble, the grandson, returned the old lady to the home for the aged yesterday, and the sisters last night said that she would recover from the effect of her journey.

Saturday morning Mrs. Pryble, with the other inmates of the institution, was allowed to walk in the large garden adjacent to the home. When not watched she slipped from the yard and was absent fully two hours before she was missed.

Wanted to Go Home.

Mrs. Pryble at once started in the direction of her grandson's home. She did not know his address, but knew that he lived somewhere near the House of the Good Shepherds. Somehow the woman reached her destination, but it was after 11 o'clock Saturday night when she arrived at her grandson's door.

It was shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning when she left the sisters' home, and during the night, fifteen hours on the road, the woman had nothing to eat or drink.

During the heavy showers Saturday afternoon and evening the centurion failed to seek shelter. She crept along and her light house garments were soaked through. Mrs. Pryble was unable to tell a connected story of her wanderings yesterday when questioned. The woman, who was born in Poland, cannot speak English, and to all questions asked by an interviewer she replied that she had "covered the earth before reaching her grandson's home."

Born 100 Years Ago.

Mrs. Pryble was born near Wausau, Poland, Aug. 13, 1802. She came to America fifteen years ago with her son, who cared for her until his death, in 1898. Her guardian then sent her to the Little Sisters' home, thinking that she would be better cared for there.

Up to a few months ago the woman was contented with the institution, but early in the spring she began to grumble. Her grandson called upon her several times and to hear the reports visits only made her more discontented.

Recently the woman became very childish and continually talked of Mr. Pryble. She was watched closely by the sisters, but when she made no effort to escape she was again allowed to walk in the garden with the other inmates. It is supposed that the mania to return home came upon Saturday, and when she saw an opportunity to leave unnoticed she decided to do so.

WAITER GIRLS MAY JOIN STRIKERS TODAY

Declare that the Climax Will Arrive While Fair Crowds Are Demanding Food.

"Tomorrow is the day," exclaimed a bevy of waitresses last night, as they left a Robert street restaurant. "And tomorrow we strike unless the union scale is signed."

The walk-out fever is contagious, and is rapidly spreading among St. Paul waitresses. Employees of the Woman's Exchange won't strike until the girls in the other downtown lunch rooms are preparing to follow their example.

It was said last night that the girls in the Acme and Spencer restaurants would go out today.

"Wait until tomorrow, and it will all be settled," say the girls, for they feel confident that if they make their demands during the rush incidental to fair week they will win out.

The Spencer lunch rooms pay union wages, but refuse to sign the scale. The girls hope to force the proprietors into accepting their terms and making the restaurants "union shops."

COMMERCIAL CLUB FITS OUT INFORMATION BOOTH

Bureau Established at Union Station for Benefit of Visitors.

One of the happy thoughts of the Commercial club for promoting the success of the fair and enhancing the comfort of visitors is the establishment of an information booth at Union station.

The bureau is located in the building at the corner of Third and Jackson streets, and is under the management of Miss Emerson, of Stillwater.

Ever Lawson has been entertaining Will Conley, of St. Paul.

Mrs. O. E. Chaple, of St. Paul, is the guest of Mrs. E. C. Eshelby.

Injured in Railroad Yards

Ed Waneley fell while at work in the Northern Pacific yards yesterday afternoon and strained his back. He was taken to his home, 1239 Arkwright street, in the St. Joseph's hospital ambulance.

Pioneer Women Will Meet.

A meeting of the Territorial Pioneer Women's club will be held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the "Log Cabin" at the fair grounds for the purpose of electing a treasurer. Pioneers and their friends have the privilege of the cabin during the week.

LABOR HAS DAY OFF

PREPARATION FOR DEMONSTRATION OF WORKERS IS COMPLETED BY MANAGERS

GREAT PARADE WILL MOVE PROMPTLY AT 10 O'CLOCK

Union Floats Will Represent Eight Organizations — Women Members of Associations to Ride in Carriages — Programme for Harriet Island Gathering Includes Notable Sporting Features.

It is Labor day and all union men of St. Paul and their friends will celebrate in appropriate fashion. It is expected that at least 10,000 men will be in line and a feature of the parade will be the eight union floats that have been constructed for the occasion.

The Labor day committee held special meetings yesterday forenoon and afternoon to make the final arrangements for the celebration.

Owing to the death of a niece of Senator Clapp's, the committee has made arrangements with Daniel W. Lawler to make the Labor day oration at Harriet Island.

The parade will start promptly at 10 o'clock this morning and all of the divisions must be in their places at 9:30 o'clock.

Location of Divisions.

The Trades and Labor assembly will head the first division which will gather at Cedar street, corner of Summit.

The second division will form on

MISS ANNA ROBINSON,

Miss Anna Robinson, an American claimant to a California bonanza King's and Automobile Victim's Fortunes Sinks Out of Sight in Minneapolis After Leaving the Ryan, Where She Had Been in Strict Seclusion.

Twelfth street, the Third division on College avenue, the Fourth division on Eleventh street, the Fifth division on Tenth street, the Sixth division on Exchange street and the Seventh division on Ninth street, all near Cedar street.

A platoon of mounted police, in charge of Lieut. Budy, will head the procession, and following the police will be Gov. Van Sant, Henry G. Haas, acting mayor, and A. C. Heidecker, chairman of the Labor day committee.

The second carriage will contain Daniel W. Lawler, the orator of the day; J. J. Leighton, who will also deliver a address, and C. E. James, president of the Trades and Labor assembly.

Women in the Line.

At the end of the first division the Waitresses', Garmentmakers', Lady Shoe Cutters' and Dressmakers' unions will ride in carriages.

The Carpenters' union expect to have 100 men in line, the Printers' union 250, the Trades and Labor assembly 250, the Cigar-makers' union 400 and the Team Owners' and Team Drivers' about 500 in line. The team owners and team drivers will all be on horseback and this part of the parade will be a feature.

Behind these unions, there will be about sixty other unions in the line of parade, and all of these unions will average at least 100 men. Ten bands will head the several divisions, and it is predicted that the parade today will be the banner one.

Harriet Island Picnic.

The programme at the public baths, or "Harriet island," will commence at 1 o'clock. C. E. James will be master of ceremonies. Music for the dancing will be furnished by the Citizen's band and orchestra.

An excellent programme of twenty events has been prepared, and besides this there will be several other special features. The grounds will be lit up during the evening with 1,000 Chinese lanterns, donated by Dr. Ohage, and the doctor is willing to pains to assist the committee in every way possible.

PRIZE BUTTER IS POORER THAN USUAL

Judges at State Fair Report That Much of the Product is Sullied With a "Weedy" Flavor.

B. D. White, who has charge of the dairy exhibit at the state fair, reports that the judges who are scoring the butter exhibit find the quality of the butter not as high as usual. This is accounted for by the fact that the heavy rains have caused a rank growth of weeds in the pastures. The cows eat the weeds, and the butter is given a weedy flavor. This detracts from the scoring percentage of the judges and will be apparent when the judges make their report.

The judges have no way of determining the particular state or locality from which the samples the score are from, and it is not known whether the butter which has the "weedy" flavor is from Minnesota or the other states which have exhibits in the department.

REFUSED A DRINK, HE BEATS SALOONKEEPER

Philip Dziminski Disgraced With Joseph Jungworth That He Was Already Sufficiently With Liquor.

Because he refused to sell liquor to an apparently intoxicated man, Joseph Jungworth was assaulted in his saloon at St. Albans and Blair streets late last night by Philip Dziminski. Jungworth's head was badly beaten and his face battered. He also received a deep gash over the left ear, where he was hit with a beer glass.

Dziminski spent several hours around Jungworth's saloon with a party of friends. He left about 6 o'clock, and did not return until shortly after 10 o'clock. He then demanded a drink, but Jungworth said that he had had enough, and told him to go home.

Dziminski became enraged and threw a beer glass at the saloonkeeper. Jungworth was rendered unconscious by the blow, and his assailant jumped on him. Before the others in the saloon could interfere Dziminski had hit the saloonkeeper several times. He was then overpowered and turned over to the police. Dr. Nippert dressed Jungworth's injuries.

LOG ROLLING A FEATURE.

A feature of the sporting programme will be the log rolling contest for the medal offered by Gov. Van Sant, and this part of the programme promises to be a feature, as there are already seven entries.

The parade will start at the corner of Summit avenue and Cedar streets; move on Cedar street to Eighth; Eighth to Broadway; Broadway to Third; Third to Sibley; Sibley to Sixth; Sixth to Washington, where the procession will disband.

The Labor day committee in charge of the general arrangements is composed of the following: A. C. Heidecker, chairman; E. B. Lott, treasurer; A. E. Donaldson, secretary; Charles W. Douglas, M. T. O'Connell, E. J. Curry, J. Puerner, J. Geary, T. J. Cavanaugh and S. W. Manning.

Most of the stores in the city will be closed at least part of the day and it is expected that all of the leading places of business will close at noon.

The city hall and court house, the federal building and the capitol will all be closed all day, and, taken as a whole, the day will be generally observed as a holiday throughout the entire city.

MRS. FAIR LEAVES CITY

FOLLOWING COURT'S DECISION AGAINST HER IN PERJURY CASE SHE DEPARTS

Claimant to California Bonanza King's and Automobile Victim's Fortunes Sinks Out of Sight in Minneapolis After Leaving the Ryan, Where She Had Been in Strict Seclusion.

Mrs. Nettie R. Craven Fair, a sensational interview with whom appeared in the Sunday Globe, cut her visit in St. Paul suddenly short yesterday afternoon and left the Ryan hotel for Minneapolis. At least that was the word she left behind her at the Ryan, although she could not be found at any of the hotels in Minneapolis.

When interviewed Saturday, Mrs. Fair declared she was on her way east by easy stages, and would not proceed on her journey until the weather became cooler.

Her mission in New York, she said, was in connection with the settlement of the estate of the late Charles Fair, as the widow of her father, the late California bonanza King, she had been trying to establish herself for years. She repeated the curse she says Senator Fair pronounced upon his son should he fail in his promise to treat her equitably in the matter of the division of the Fair millions.

When seen Saturday Mrs. Fair did not know of the California supreme court's decision upholding the charge of perjury against her and making her liable for criminally falsifying in connection with the litigation over the Fair fortune, and it is thought her hurried departure may have followed the receipt of this information.
