GETS PURSE INSTEAD OF 60 DAY SENTENCE

King of Beggars Is Given Cash to Travel Far From St. Paul.

George Illingsworth, the chronic beggar, who Judge Finehout on Friday declared had spent more time in the workhouse than any other man in the city, has left town for a six months' outing. When he came up for sentence yesterday morning on two charges of vagrancy and begging, the court surprised him.

"George," said his honor, "I have decided that the only thing I can do with you is to send you to the works for thirty days on each complaint. How do you like that?"

"Why, judge, it would interfere sadly with a little trip I had planned to take to Inver Grove."

The court smiled. George's little trips to the suburbs were an old story with the judge, who had been called upon to contribute towards the expenses of many of them.

"The trouble with you," continued the tall young man on the bench, "is that you don't get enough country air. You need a change and a good long one. The atmosphere of St. Paul is not suited to your constitution."

"That's true, your honor, and I'd like to get away."

"Well, George, here is some money which the officers of this court have contributed to give you a little send off. But before I give it to you I want you to understand that these charges are not dropped, and that if you are caught within the city limits inside of six months you will get full time on each of them. That will be sixty days for you. Now get out of town and stay out."

"Judge, your honor," said Illingsworth, when he had recovered his astonishment, "I'll skeddadle from this ere town to Inver Grove just as fast as me game leg will let me."

"That judge is the easiest I ever seen," he continued, as he hobbled out of court.

JOHN RODNEY FORD GOES TO THE METROPOLIS

Funny Story of the Experiences in the East of a Montana Man.

A clever thing in the advertising line is the little pamphlet that has just been issued by Browning, King & Co. It purports to be the diary of a Montana rancher written during a one week's stay in New York. John Rodney Ford, from the Skopa ranch, Montana, goes to the metropolis with a rather scant wardrobe, which he replenishes from time to time as various social occasions demand.

The pamphlet is written in the style Billie Baxter made popular, and, like Billie Baxter's stuff, is decidedly funny throughout.

Mr. Ford meets with a number of funny experiences that he narrates with skill. The pictures in the book serve to call attention to the varied line of men's clothing carried by Browning, King & Co., but they also illustrate in interesting fashion the story told in the book.

Beats Off Women Robbers.

J. T. Bethea, a ranchman from Butte, Mont., reported to the police at the Central station early this morning that he had had a battle with two negro women in West Third street, who attempted to rob him. He successfully beat them off and lost nothing.

Bethea said he was walking along the street, when the women set upon him and attempted to throw him down. Both were powerful and gave their intended victim a lively tussle before he managed to free himself. Barring a few scratches and sore spots, Bethea came out of the experience all right.

Ask Aid of Courts.

The Dowling men think they can have the Grant county vote thrown out by the courts without the formality of a recount. If the reported irregularity is verified, they will appeal to the circuit court for an order invalidating the vote in the affected precincts, basing their claim for the order on that provision of the primary election law for the alteration of the names of candidates when two or more are contesting for the same office.

They think they may find that the ballots used through the entire county may be irregular and will indicate to their minds only a mistake. If the Renville Man Thinks Opponent's Vote In Two Grant County Precincts Is Invalidated Through Error or Fraud—Substitution of the Claim Will Give Dowling the Place.

An alleged irregularity in the form of the official ballot in Grant county may yet give the Seventh district Republican nomination to congress to M. J. Dowling.

Dowling left last night for the Seventh district personally to investigate the alleged irregularity, and if the reports which he received yesterday are confirmed, he will at once protest the vote and petition the courts for an order invalidating it.

Dowling waited in St. Paul patiently all day yesterday for the official returns from his district, hoping against hope that something would turn up to wipe out the small lead the canvass gave Volstead, of Granite Falls. Figures came, but they brought no relief, and Dowling was about ready to give up. Volstead's lead of fifty-nine had not been diminished by a vote and this looked dark to the man from Renville.

A Windsor hotel attendant woke him from his reverie of despond to answer a telephone call. Five minutes later hope ran rampant in Dowling and the telegrams were flying to his supporters in the Seventh district. That telephone message intimated a way to shove Volstead into the political discard without the formality and expense of a recount of the vote of the district.

Irregular in Two Precincts.

A Grant county man had whispered over the wires that in two precincts in Grant county the names of the congressional candidates on the official ballot did not alternate as provided by law. Volstead's name was first on all of them.

Dowling's right-hand man, C. C. Whitney, was at in two precincts and the important news conveyed to his gratified ear. A ray of light had entered their political dark hole. Dowling was saved. If the report could be confirmed the entire vote of the precincts would be invalidated. Volstead ran would be invalidated. Volstead ran in Grant county and the invalidation of the vote of only two precincts would save the pegs of the Basswood gentleman.

Grant county went heavily for Volstead. On the face of the returns he led by the margin of about 750 to Dowling's 250. If the ballots were wrong in two precincts, might they not be wrong in all the precincts of the county? If only two precincts were wrong the advantage gained by throwing out the vote would more than overcome the small lead which the returns certainly give Volstead.

Buck's Hot Blast Heaters Are the 20th Century Wonder in Stoves.

They burn soft coal without making clinkers, smoke or soot. 1 1/4 tons of soft coal in a Buck's Hot Blast Heater does the work of one ton of hard coal used in a Base Burner.

HERE'S THE STORY.

Government tests show that there is within 6 per cent as much heating power in soft coal as there is in hard coal.

Hard coal contains 6 per cent gas	Soft coal contains 38 per cent gas
And.....82 per cent coke.	And.....47 per cent coke.
Making a total of 88 per cent heating power.	Making a total of 82 per cent heating power.

The same statistics show that it has always required an average of 2 1/4 tons of soft coal to go as far in all underdraft stoves as one ton of hard coal will go in heating power. This loss in soft coal has been caused by the gases in the soft coal going out with the smoke and up the chimney in stoves of this class.

Now by this wonderful, yet simple application of Hot Air through the Hot Blast feature is consumed this 38 per cent of gas in soft coal, converting it into heating power. We not only utilize the gases for heat, but with this application of Hot Air, coming, as it does, through the slots of the frepout into the top of the coal where the gases come through, cause perfect combustion, no matter whether the coal is in large or small lumps, or slack; it cokes the coal as the gases are consumed, giving you a steady, even fire from 8 to 10 hours, as against 2 to 2 1/2 hours in underdraft stoves. IT HOLDS FIRE OVER NIGHT EQUAL TO ANY SELF-FEEDING BASE BURNER.

SOLD ON THIRTY DAYS TRIAL.

To prove the above claim for Buck's Hot Blast Heaters we will sell them on thirty days' trial. If at the end of thirty days you don't find it exactly as represented the use of the stove will cost you absolutely nothing.

WE ARE BURNING ONE IN OUR STORE.

Every day this week we will operate one of these stoves in our stove department, burning nothing but soft coal. Come in and see a soft coal heater the equal of any hard coal heater manufactured. Sold on Easiest Terms.

There is none of us so hardened but that when we have been able to aid our fellow creatures by conferring a benefit or bringing a little comfort into their lives we like to have appreciation shown. This generally affords more pleasure than the performance of the act itself, and in this connection the following letter from a Paris, Texas, lady is of more than usual interest:

"Dear Friends: I address you as such, for you have been such to me. I suffered for three years off and on with piles. I was treated at the hospital, and the new and elegant hospital of Memphis; they only gave me temporary relief. I came West, thinking the change of air and water would benefit me; five months ago the bleeding piles came back on me, and bled so much that I thought I would die. I have had four of the finest doctors in this section of Texas; and all they did was to finally nearly let me go to my grave; all they wanted was a big sum of money from me and operate on me. I said no, no surgeon's knife would enter me; if it was my time to die, God knew it, and when I died I would die all together. I began hearing about your medicine. I had no faith in you, but I sent and got a box of your Pyramid Pile Cure; in two days the blood flow had slackened to one-half the amount, and in one week I felt so much better I walked four blocks and did a little housework. I was not bleeding then; in three weeks I was well. God bless you for putting such a wonderful medicine within the reach of suffering men and women. I shall never cease to recommend your medicine, or be without it; also I used your Pyramid Pills. Sallie A. Hearndon." Testimony like this should be more convincing than all claims and assertions, and should leave no doubt in the mind of the reader as to the merit of the remedy. Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price. Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their book on cause and cure of piles.
