The St. Vaul Globe

THE GLOBE CO., PUBLISHERS.

Entered at Postoffice at St. Paul, Minn. as Second-Class Matter.

TELEPHONE CALLS.

Northwestern— Business—1065 Main. Editorial—78 Main. Composing Room—1034 Main. Mississippi Valley— Business—1065. Editorial—78.

CITY SUBSCRIPTIONS.
1 mo	6 mos	12 mo
.40 .50 .15	$2.25 2.75 .75	$4.0 5.0 1.0
	1 mo .40 .50	1 mo 6 mos .40 $2.25 .50 2.75

By Mail. | 1 mo | 6 mos | 12 mos

BRANCH OFFICES. New York, 10 Spruce St., Chas. H. Eddy in Charge. Chicago, No. 87 Washington St., The F. S. Webb Company in Charge.

WEATHER FOR TODAY.

Minnesota—Fair; warmer Tuesday. Wednesday fair; cooler in west portion; variable winds, becoming south and fresh. Wisconsin—Fair; warmer Tuesday. Wednesday fair; warmer in east portion; fresh northwest winds, becoming variable. Iowa—Fair; warmer Tuesday. Wednesday fair.

Iowa—Fair; warmer Tuesday. Wednes-day fair. Upper Michigan—Fair Tuesday, preced-ed by rain or snow in extreme east pered by rain or snow in extreme east por-tion. Wednesday fair; warmer; fresh to brisk west winds, becoming variable and brisk west winds, becoming variable and diminishing.

North and South Dakota—Fair; warmer Tuesday. Wednesday fair; cooler.

Montana—Fair Tuesday; warmer in southeast portion. Wednesday fair; cooler in north central and east portions.

St. Paul — Yesterday's temperatures, taken by the United States weather bureau, St. Paul, P. F. Lyons, observer, for the twenty-four hours ended at 7 o'clock last night—Barometer corrected for temperature and elevation: Highest temperature, 41; lowest temperature, 35; average temperature, 38; daily range, 6; barometer, 29.91; humidity, 3; precipitation, 30; 7 p. m., temperature, 40; 7 p. m., wind; northwest; weather, cloudy.

Yesterday's Temperatures—

*8pmHigh

*8pmHigh

*Rise -- Fall *Washington time (7 p. m. St. Paul.)

TUESDAY, OCT. 14, 1902.

was at any time noted for its good

BULLETIN VERSUS ORGAN.

Gov. Van Sant's press bulletin, published in the editorial columns of the faithful 80, charged Leonard A. Ros ing a week or so ago with spending the time of the extra session in lobbying against the tax code and with being responsible for its defeat.

Mr. Rosing in his speeches admitted the charge and claimed credit for it. The Winona Republican and Herald, the personal organ of Gov. Van Sant. at his -Winona home, now comes out with the criticism:

"Mr. Rosing indorsed the action of

Now it is plain that Gov. Van Sant should get his bulletin and his organ

They are as badly mixed as the governor and his correspondent on the coal strike question.

The good Lord and good devil policy does not always make good politics. If the Republican candidate for governor wants to take to himself credit for the defeat of the tax code, the passage of which he advocated in a special press bureau peddled all over the country districts of the state the campaign document which begins:

"It remains for the people of Minnebusiness to lobby against the tax bill. * * * This is what Mr. Rosing, hostelry bearing the number 13 unless code which he himself as governor advocated by special message, why does he now boast through his organ of regular coach. "the action of the Republican legislature in defeating the tax code," which Mr. Rosing indorsed?

audiences?

Has he one howl for the country and the opposite for the city?

Has he one song for the bulletin which stands for editorial in the columns of the faithful 80 rural hand organs, and another for the city organ which has exclusively a city circula-

The Van Sant habit of blow-hot and blow-cold is becoming tiresome. Voters and taxpayers now know full well that, first, Gov. Van Sant advocated the tax code in a special message to the legislature; second, that Leoninfluence, advocating in its stead a constitutional amendment providing for franchise taxation and an income tax; third, that the legislature would not have the tax code, and that it did submit a constitutional amendment, er man yesterday. And it nearly which, although not all one could wish. does permit of progress in the direction of the tax reforms advocated by Mr. Rosing, and that the latter in his speeches advocates the passage of said amendment.

thousand copies of his St. Paul speech, but their morals are higher than those to hear him. Do the people of Minne- Boris' testimony is valuable, as he they excel in strength and gracefulness. sota want for governor a man of cleanand places, or a man who is pro-tax shift responsibility whenever and to grind, Boris pays the highest possi- formed like dragon flies. Dr. Joseph wherever he thought it would get him office?

The latest returns from the anthracite region in connection with the presence of a big military force have not resulted in proving the operators to be prophets.

SOMEWHAT OF A FROST.

It is apparent that the first big Rethe Fairbanks meeting at the Exposiurday evening, partook of the nature of a frost.

In the same auditorium where, the only 2,000.

of the Minnesota delegation in con- is the prettiest. gress or intended to be sarcastic when he gave out as his main text: "We want a house of representa-

Roosevelt!" of Minnesota congressmen this year. for Boris. We can forgive the drinking then by all means no Republican should of champagne out of a slipper and the be re-elected, because every mother's fondness for the poetry of Ella Wheelson of them voted and worked dead er Wilcox in a man who talks so sensi-

of the session which specially repre- visited. sented the president's views. On the other hand, three-fourths of the Democratic members of the recent to the inevitable. The rapid automocongress voted for the president's reciprocity programme: and every Democrat nominated for congress in the nine congressional districts of Minnesota THE PARTY WHIP LASH FALLS. this fall stands for reciprocity with bines. Senator Fairbanks was wise in dodgduty which the Republican tariff gives ticket. the operators' trust.

The demand of Minnesota Democrats that the tariff shall be taken from trusts, the Indiana spell-binder dis-Representative J. A. Armstrong by misses as a demand for "free trade." That is the way the attorneys of the protected interests are accustomed to meet any and all demands for tariff revision. But this bugaboo no longer terrifies.

With a coal famine in the land, with protected trusts dominating the coun-The Apaches out in Arizona are said try, and the party in power sustainto be getting ugly. This is not to be ing and protecting the trust power in taken as an intimation that the race its gigantic exploitations—the American people, at least the clear-headed and thorough-going yeomanry of this out bugaboo.

> It behooves Correspondent Cavilier or Candidate Van Sant, one of the two, to be getting out that "unlimited supply of wood" right lively.

SUPERSTITION IS INSANITY.

The theory recently advanced that fully 80 per cent of the American people are insane to a certain degree is days by the Chicago Tribune, which set a tall ladder against a building on the Republican législature in defeating a busy street and watched the people as they walked under or around it. Five hundred were carefully counted and notes made as to whether they walked straight ahead or side-stepped the ladder. Of the 500, 366 walked to the outer edge of the sidewalk to avoid passing under the ladder, and this solely because they were superstitious. because they believed it had luck to pass under a ladder.

The ladder is only an instance of the scores of things that people regard with suspicion. The figures 13 give a message to the legislature, why has his good many a cold chill every time they see them. Not infrequently one sees a person hurriedly leave a street car because it is numbered 13 or there is a 13 somewhere in the combination of sota to say if they want as governor figures which mark it. The same cona man who during the extra session of dition of things exists in hotels and to the legislature made it his exclusive such a degree that nowadays one seldom finds a room in any first-class the Democratic candidate for governor, it is a closet or ante-room. In the railway sleepers it is much the same. On the other hand, if Gov. Van Sant It is almost a daily occurrence for a criticises Rosing for defeating the tax passenger assigned to No. 13 to get the conductor to assign him to some other, or, failing in this, sit up all night in a

And the women, heaven bless themthey go around all day picking up pins head toward them and pat themselves Is it the Van Sant programme to on the back, figuratively speaking, of claim for the Republicans the credit of course, over the good luck that is just the tax code's defeat when speaking over the hills for them. But if they to city audiences, and to charge Rosing get the pins point toward them they with its defeat when talking to country lie awake nights thinking of the burglars they are going to find under the bed, the balloons they are going to fall out of or the horrid men they are going to marry only to regret it ever after. All these superstitions are solely a species of insanity. Every reasoning man knows that it doesn't matter whether one sees the moon over the right or left shoulder, whether one meets one two or five funerals or none whether one has a rabbit's foot or a horseshoe. These things have nothing whatever to do with the sunshine and shadow of life. Let all those who can ard A. Rosing opposed it with all his forget the ladders, the thirteens, the rabbits' feet and the moonshine. This at least would be great good luck to any man.

"Hail to King Coal!" said the weath-

BORIS HAS A GOOD EYE.

There was some good in the Grand Paris, on his way home to the realm Leonard A. Rosing proclaims his of the czar, he said: "American womwherein he stated his opposition to the of the women of any European countax code and his reasons therefor, have try." To which every manly American been given to the voters outside of this will give a hearty second, Henry Watcity, who were not fortunate enough | terson to the contrary notwithstanding. | and women in intelligence and that cut views and convictions, and who from a long-distance view of the girls stands by his convictions at all times of San Francisco to drinking chamcode today and anti tomorrow, blows | Chicago and attending all sorts of men of earth. Flammarion is sure hot in the country and blows cold in functions of the "400" at Newport. With there are men and women on Mars, but the city, and has never hesitated to all this before him, and having no ax he inclines to the belief that they are ble tribute to the women of Yankee land.

The grand duke adds that American girls are the most graceful in the world as man, but are fiery red and about eight and that many of them are intellectual feet tall. He says they are hideous from a critical examination that the hair on their heads. story started in St. Louis that Chicago | All of this talk is entertaining, but girls have the largest feet of any in the world is grossly untrue. He says, reality we are not in telescopic, teleon the contrary, that the feet of the publican event of the state campaign, Windy City girls are exceptionally with the Martians. We do not see small and shapely. For this every them, hear them or hear from them. tion building in Minneapolis on Sat- sensitive young woman in Chicago Whether they are there or not is largewould have a photograph of the grand duke in her library, except for a side have air such as ours animal life could remark that he throws in at closing Monday evening before, John Lind to the effect that Mrs. Hobart and Mayoralty Candidate Haynes drew | Chatfield-Taylor is the most beautiful an audience of 4,000, Senator Fairbanks | woman of the 1,000,000 in the big, bustand Congressman Fletcher and orators ling town. Remarks like that almost the men of earth, their lungs so dif-Peterson and Hay brought together cause a riot on the Lake Shore drive, ferently constructed that they could Michigan avenue and Drexel boulevard. not only live but thrive without oxy-It is not known whether Senator Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor is pretty, but the Fairbanks was ignorant of the stand others are not going to admit that she

And, in passing, it should not be forgotten that Boris says complimentary things of the men of America. He astives which will sustain President serts that "American men's existence is a life-long devotion to their women." If that is the issue in the election | Let's all chalk up a big credit mark against the president on the one bill bly about a great people whom he has

> Two more aeronauts have yielded bile as a deadly machine is in danger of losing its laurels.

There are few more rock-ribbed Re-Cuba and Canada as against the Re- publican counties on record than Faripublican delegation's stand for the bault county in Southwestern Minnebeet sugar and pine stumpage com- sota. It went 2,761 to 986 against the Democrats for the office of state treasurer in the last election, and in much ing the coal issue with the 67-cent the same proportion for the entire > Faribault county comprises the Twelfth legislative district of Minnesota, and in the last election elected 1,000 majority.

> Rasmus Mork, a Norwegian farmer, came out for the Republican nomination at the primary election last month against Representative Armstrong, who was a candidate for the customary reelection.

Representative Armstrong's committee brought out the charge against Mork that he was not a true-blue Republican, that in the past three campaigns he voted and worked for John Lind, the Democratic-People's candi-North Star state, are not to be scared date for governor, and that in so doing from their duty by a cheap and worn- he worked in harmony with Leonard A. Rosing, John Lind's campaign manager and this time candidate for governor.

Rasmus Mork admitted the charge. He did vote and work for John Lind. He did harmonize with Leonard A. Rosing, Lind's manager and now himself the Democratic nominee for gover-

So the issue was joined, and on that issue the Republican voters of this Reborne out by a test made the past few publican county, which goes two or three to one for the Republican ticket, went to the primary election polls and cast their ballots.

Rasmus Mork, who confessed his vote for Lind and worked with Rosing, was nominated.

Representative Armstrong who waved the party lash was defeated. Daylight is breaking on hidebound partisanship. The whip of the party boss has lost its power to control the 3,000 Republican voters of Faribault county. And why should Republican voters stand and be herded and voted like cattle any longer when their bosses have turned traitor to every interest of the people and to every pledge of the party?

Why should they be voted for the trusts that are protected by Republican tariffs which rob every Republican producer and consumer in the state? Why should they stand and be lashed into voting for the lumber tariff which according even to the admissions of the Republican press-between campaigns -taxes every builder of a home and granary $8 per thousand for lumber? Why should they stand and be lashed into supporting the duty for the protection of the coal trust which threatens every home in the land?

Why should they stand and be voted for a state administration which increases the taxable valuation of farm property over $100,000,000 this year, while letting off the Twin City Rapid Transit company with an assessment of only $5,572,000 for $23,000,000 of actual market value? No wonder they rebel, and no wonder Rasmus Mork, who has the courage to snap the party whip into shreds, has the support of his fellow Republicans against the candidate who places party above country and home.

The Cavilier way of disposing of a thing is not always the true way.

WHAT ARE THE MEN OF MARS?

That men talk most about those things of which they know the least was never more fully shown than on the question of whether or not Mars is inhabited. Prof. George W. Hough had no sooner stated that the planet is inhabited, but there was no probability that anybody on earth would ever know to a certainty, than the astronomical bright lights of the world began to get garrulous to an astounding degree. Prof. Lowell says if a Martian were on earth he would weigh twenty-seven Duke Boris after all. Stopping in times as much as a man. Sir Francis Galton asserts with positiveness that the inhabitants of Mars are communiviews to the world. One hundred en love to dance and sing and be merry, cating with the earth in signals that per cent.

are something like telegraphic charac-ters and that they are of a high order of intelligence. Prof. Hoeckel believes the Martians far surpass ordinary men made a close study of the situation Prof. Chandler also thinks they are heavier and stronger than ourselves, with much thicker skins and eyes and pagne from chorus girls' slippers in ears quite different from those of the Charles Street talks like a comedian, but he is serious when he says the Martians are of the same general shape

Martians are of the same general shape

Martians are of the same general shape

Martians are of the same general shape marvels. He takes pains to assert and have no beards or eyebrows and no > at the same time unsatisfying. In Ferguson, and is one of the strongest dramatic organizations ever seen in phonic or telegraphic communcation ly a question of atmosphere. If they exist there, but if there atmosphere has no oxygen or nitrogen in it such beings as we are would perish. Then, again, they may be so different from gen and nitrogen. The question broadens, but how little real light is thrown upon it.

The policy of the one beet sugar company of Minnesota in fleecing the farmers by deductions of 10 per cent to 30 per cent from the proceeds of the beets for alleged "tare" became so notorious that President Theden and two of the other directors of the company resigned rather than be parties to the mulcting regime. The farmers have had to appeal to the courts ers have had to appeal to the courts for their rights, and in a recent suit were successful in obtaining a favor-able decision. Is this the industry for which the Minnesota delegation in congress deserted the interests of Minnesota in commercial relations with Cuba?

Senator Fairbanks insists that the Republicans can be trusted to revise the tariff. Well, they were intrusted with that job in 1888; and what did they give us?—the McKinley tariff. They were intrusted again in 1896, and they give us the Discleration of which they gave us the Dingley tariff which gives protection to 206 trusts, capitalized at $6,000,000,000. Do we want any more of this kind of "revision?"

The divine right of kings has a re vival in two directions; as witness the announcement of Baer in regard to himself and God running the coal sup-ply of the country, and the speech of Senator Fairbanks in which the G. O. P. is pictured as a part of "the loom of the Almighty."

Republican orators should take pains to look up the facts before they dilate on the untariffed trusts of Great Britain. All the so-called trusts and corporate consolidations of Great Britain combined have less than half the capitalization of the United States Steel though the lack of orchestral or corporation alone.

By substituting the name of Baer for that of Mitchell, Correspondent Cavilier would have given Gov. Van Sant credit for sound judgment. The it would not be difficult to arbitrate.' oal-carrying roads having to submit to a proposal from Mr. Morgan to arbitrate should prove fatal, it is highly improbable that this occasion for prayer and fasting. Indianapolis to anticipate the day of judgment, when the grave gives up its dead. The Indiana capital, until lately, was not one of the American cities which were supposed to be ready to discount eternity.

people would observe the event as an

It is now announced that Russell Sage is about to take a rest at the age of eighty-eight. Judging from the influence of activity on the health of influence of activity on the health of Mr. Sage, he has discarded the most requirement to continued long life.

How deeply Mayor Maybury, of De troit must be regretting just about this time that he is not a citizen of New York or Ohio, in which case he might have the uncommon experience of being struck by lightning.

Admiral Casey is expected to bring about peace in the pending strife down in Panama. Let us hope he will have better luck than a certain celebrated namesake of his, of whom great things were expected when he went to bat.

Holding the mirror up to nature is all very well in its way, but it evidently does not impress that Omaha pedagogue favorably, at least when view.

For complete and detailed refuta-tions of Senator Fairbanks' tariff arguments of Saturday evening see the editorial columns of the Republic-an evening organs of the Twin Cities for six months past.

While the big bosses of Eastern polities and business are casting about for a settlement of the coal strike, let them not forget John Mitchell's plain and simple proposition to arbitrate.

Why does the president send all his petitions to John Mitchell? Why not do a little Baer-baiting in the Al-leghanies, instead of restricting his prowess to the Rockies?

The operators refuse to recognize the Miners' union or the president of the United States. They may be compelled to recognize the American people fore the latter are through with them

NOT GOOD TO BURN.

Oh, what care I for diamonds, And rubies, rich and rare,
And rosy cheeks and laughing eyes
And wavy chestnut hair?
What care I for the beauties
Which poets may discern?
They're well enough when wanted,
But they aren't good to burn.

And what care I for reasons,
Propounded with much care,
To show just why we cannot cook
Tomorrow's bill of fare?
For statesmanlike deductions
My spirit does not yearn—
They are mentally inspiring,
But they aren't good to burn.
—Washington Star.

How the Cities Grow The calendar year 1901, according to a recent report of the United States geological survey, was the greatest in the history of the country in city building. Forty-two cities submitted reports to the department in response to inquiries and these showed that the total number of permits issued in those cities was 85.571 as these showed that the total number of permits issued in those cities was $8,571 as against 68,417 for 1900, a gain of 17,154, or 25,07 per cent. The value of the buildings erected on these permits in 1901 was $372,173,631, compared with $247,561,535 in 1900, a gain of $130,657,046, or 54

AT ST. PAUL l heatres

Lewis Morrison, in "Faust," is playing to good business at the Metropolitan this week. He is surrounded by an excellent supporting company, and the performance is, in many respects, the best "Faust" ever seen in this city. Morrison's Mephisto is identified with himself, and it would be difficult to establish another in his place. This is his twenty-first season in this role, agagement will close with two performances tomorrow, the matinee being played at popular prices.

"A Modern Magdalen" opens a halfweek engagement at the Metropolitan Thursday evening. The company is headed by Roselle Knott and W. J. the Northwest.

An audience enthusiastic to a deand especially well dressed, fill-ed every point of vantage in the large auditorium of the Grand opera house last evening, and if vociferous and continued applause be taken as a cri-terion, thoroughly enjoyed every mo-ment of the four acts of Blaney's big military melodrams. "Across the Pamilitary melodrama, "Across the Pa-

When Ward and Vokes show us neir second edition of "The Head their second edition of "The Head Waiters," at the Grand the coming week, it is promised that an all-new entertainment will be found. New in every sense—music, songs, fun, ward-robe, scenery—all have been unstint-ingly provided to maintain the trade-mark of these favorite comedians. The seat sale opens Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

Eight sweet-voiced boy choristers and half a dozen men singers, all from London, entertained an audience that was largely Anglo-Saxon and correspondingly enthusiastic last night at the Auditorium. But, though patriotism may have prompted the presence of the 300 or more people last night, it was merit only that inspired the frequent and hearty applause which followed each chorus or solo number of the Coronation choir. The eight lads who comprise the boy choir possess voices of unusual sweetness. Not all of the voices are robust in quality, two or three of them are noticeably frail, but not one voice has a hint of the shrillness that mars the voices of so many boy sopranos. The chorus has no great carrying power. Indeed, no great carrying power. Indeed, against the background of deeper male voices their melody was etched in delicate rather than in deep lines, but these lines were the gold of pure mel-ody. Master Percy Phillips and Mas-ter George Forsythe were heard in solos last night, the former singing "The Bird and the Rose," and the lat-ter, "Orpheus and His Lute," by Sullivan. Henry Leslie's "Swallow" was sung by the boy choir alone. The vocal work of the men of the party was quite as satisfactory as that of the boys. Edward Branscombe, a tenor; Percy Coward, a baritone, and Charles Ackerman and Albert Archdeacon, bassos, did some excellent solo work. The programme was made up largely of English ballads, old and new, with the exception of three patriotic songs. For an encore number the choir sang the Coronation ode song at the coronation in Westminster Abbey. Although the lack of orchestral or organ party was quite as satisfactory as that support was noticeable, that lack did not altogether destroy the impressiveness of the rendition. The programme concluded last night with the singing of "God Save the King" by the Coronation choir party.

Mme. Marie Hooton, the contralto, who accompanies the choir, has a clear sentence would then have read: "If who accompanies the choir, has a clear Mr. Baer would resign, I assume that and vigorous voice of much sweetness." it would not be difficult to arbitrate."

If the shock to the presidents of the coal-carrying roads resulting from singers Mre. Her crisp enunciation contrasts refreshingly with the slip-shod English one is, accustomed to hear from the majority of concert singers Mre. Heaton sometimes and vigorous voice of much sweetness and power. Her crisp enunciation contrasts refreshingly with the slip-shod English one is, accustomed to hear from the majority of concert singers Mre. Mme. Hooton sang two songs "Daffodils a-Blowing," by Edward German, and the old English ballad, "Barbara Allen."

Everything done by Beaters," the attraction at the Star theater this week, is first-class. There will be afternoon and evening performances all the week.

SUFFOCATED ON THE STILLWATER LEVEE

Adolph Sprich, an Old Resident, Loses His Life in a Building Which Is Burned

Adolph Sprich, a well known resi dent of Stillwater for many years, lost his life yesterday morning by being suffocated in the old warehouse on the levee belonging to the estate of A. T. Jenks, deceased, which was almost to tally destroyed by fire. Mr. Sprich, who was a contractor and builder, occupied the two upper floors of the building, and was on hand yesterday morning to start the gasoline engine. He had been working about the shop an hour or more before the fire started, and had left his brother Emil on the up-per floor about ten minutes before the fire was discovered. Just how he lost his life will never be known, but the presumption is that he was at work in the inner room and that the flames prevented him from getting out through the door on the west side. There is a door on the north side of the building, and after the flames had been subdued his body was found beside the door and close to the wall. While the fire was raging it was supposed that he was in the building, and the firemen worked with might and main to locate him, but the smoke so dense that they could do nothing until the fire in that part of the building had been extinguished. As soon as he was discovered he was carried to the front end of the building, and it was said that life was not extinct, but all efforts at resuscitation proved fruitless. Deceased was forty-four years of age and unmarried. He leaves a number of brothers and sisters. He was a member of the Sons of mann, the Knights of Honor, the Still water Maennerchor and other organizations, and was a popular fellow among the German-Americans of this

The warehouse is practically a total loss, only the walls and a few burnt beams remaining. It was an old landmark, having been built in the days of freight traffic by water between Stillwater and St. Louis. The loss on the building is estimated at $1,500, partially covered by an insurance of $1,000. Mr. Sprich had considerable machinery and building material in the building, the loss on which can be estimated. He carried a small in-surance on his property.

Albert LaRue, who conducts a gro-

Albert LaRue, who conducts a grocery store in the Mower block on Chestnut street, had a cerebral hemorrhage in P. H. Christiansen's barber shop yesterday forenoon, and reports from his hone last evening were not of an enouraging nature. He had not been in very good health for several days, and the collapse came very suddenly. His condition in the afternoon was so serious that it was afternoon was so serious that it was considered advisable to telegraph for his daughter, Mrs. Harry Orff, of Glyndon, Minn.

The fire department responded to a call from the Minnesota Flouring Mill company's plant at midnight Sunday, flames having broken out in a pile of edgings, adjoining the engine room. The outer walls of the mill were scorched a little, but the damage was cleared Sunday with logs for C. Lamb & Sons, Clinton, Iowa; the Juniata and Clyde cleared yesterday with logs for Zimmerman & Ives, Guttenburg, and lumber for P. J. Seipples, Ott, Muser & Co., and others, of Dubuque. The Columbia cleared with logs for Charles Boettcher, Red Wing.

Miss Temple Clark, a sister of Matt Clark, of St. Paul, who has been very ill with heart disease for more the week, was much weaker yesterday. a week, was much weaker yesterday, and it was stated last evening that the attending physicians did not expect her to live throughout the night.

pect her to live throughout the night. The death of Mrs. Sarah Raiter, residing on South Harriett street, occurred Sunday afternoon. She was the widow of Gustav Raiter and had resided here for many years.

A small strike occurred yesterday among the carpenters employed in construction work by the Northwest Thresher company. The men struck for advanced wage and a nine-hour schedule. Four of the men went out, but the rest of them remained at work. but the rest of them remained at work officers of the company are of the opinion that the strike will be settled without difficulty and that all of the men will be at work again today.

Judge Williston, of the district court, will hold a special term of court at the court bouse today.

at the court house today CROWN PRINCE OF SIAM SEES OUR FUTURE DEWEYS

Visits Naval Academy and Attends Washington Theater.

washington Theater.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—The crown prince of Siam spent the whole forenoon today in visiting the capitol and congressional library. He was given an opportunity to examine into all details of both buildings.

At 1 o'clock he left here in a special train for Annapolis to inspect the United States naval academy, and returned to Washington at 6 o'clock. He attended the theater after dinner. He attended the theater after dinner.
His brother, Prince Chakarabongse, who is an officer in the imperial Russian Hussars, was given a private dinner tonight by Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 13.-Chowfa

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 13.—Chowfa Maha Vajiravudh, crown prince of Siam, and suite, accompanied by a number of prominent government officials from Washington, arrived here today and was received at the station by Lieut, F. L. Sawyer, of the navy, and an aide to Supt. Wainwright, of the naval academy. The battation of marines was paraded outside the inclosure at the station.

After being received at the station the party took carriages and were driven into the grounds of the naval academy, where they were formally welcomed by Supt. Wainwright and the heads of the departments at the academy. A salute of twenty-one guns was then fired in honor of the nation's guest, who reviewed the battalion of midshipmen. Subsequently the prince and his party were taken through the academy buildings. The party returned to Washington this evening.

FINNS KICKING VAINLY AGAINST THE PRICKS

They Will State Some of Their Desires to the Russian Government.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.-Several members of the Finnish court of appeals have been removed because they opposed the application of the new military conscription law in their jurisdictions. The members of the diet representing the rural population are preparing to present to the authorities at St. Petersburg, through the land marshal, who is president of the diet, a petition in behalf of the entire Finnish people for the limitation of the imperial manifestoes relating to Finnish laws and also for the postponement or modification of the introduction of the Russian language in official procedure.

STANFORD NEWEL WILL

No Foundation for the Report That Jackson Will Displace Him. BERLIN, Oct. 13.—The authorities at Washington have asked Secretary Jackson if he would accept a ministry in South America and he replied that he would if it were offered, though he preferred a ministry in Europe. There s no other basis for the widely circulated report that Mr. Jackson is going to The Hague. Minister Newel has not resigned, and it is learned that he does not intend an early withdrawal from

GERMAN GOVERNMENT'S TARIFF

It Is Assured of the Support of the National Liberal Party.

BERLIN, Oct. 13. — The National Liberal party has decided in convention at Eisenach to stand by the gov-ernment's tariff bill. This declaration, coming immediately before the resumption of the sittings of the reich-stag, and taken in connection with the yielding attitude of the Conservatives, puts the ministry in a much better position for the session.

Though parliament reassembles tomorrow the tariff bill will not come up for several days.

GERMANY STRONGEST RIVAL IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

Competition Shows in Supplying Machin ery and in New Inventions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.—Germany is the greatest competitor of the United States in the field of electrical engineering, according to a long report made public at the state department today from United States Consular Agent Harris, at Eithenstock He says that the German competition He says that the German competition shows not only in supplying electrical machinery to the different nations of the world, but also in devising new inventions in both weak and strong current electrology. The Germans, he says, attained their leading position through profound scientific training.

SOLDIERS ARRESTED FOR A POLITICAL DEMONSTRATION

Strange Incident in Connection With the Pan-German Movement. VIENNA, Oct. 13 .- A newspaper of Tarnew, Galicia, reports a curious incident in connection with the Pan-German movement. Fifty dragoons iving in German Bohemia returned to their homes recently on the comple tion of their military service in Galicia, when they were all placed under military arrest for a political demonstration. When the soldiers entered the train to go home they hung Prussian flags out of the car windows and sang "The Watch on the Rhine."

WILL PRICES OF LAUNDRY WORK BE ADVANCED?

This May Be Among the Consequences of the Coal Famine.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.—The, nineteenth annual convention of the Laundrymen's National association began here today, with President Henry S. Porter, of Dorchester, Mass., in the chair. More than 600 delegates were present.

present. The convention may consider the question of a raise of prices for laundry work on account of coal shortage. association discussed several technical topics of interest to the organiza-

Window Glass Factories Start. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 13. Practically all of the window glass fac-tories in the country will be started to-morrow for the season. The starting of the factories in Indiana alone means the employment of nearly 20,000 men and boys. The men in all branches of the trade will receive higher wages

SIR MICHAEL PRESENTED

BRITISH AMBASSADOR NEW MEETS ROOSEVELT

The Two Are Personal Friends of Ten Years' Standing, and After the Formalities They Sit and Have a Chat at the Temporary White House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.-Acording to appointment made Saturday Sir Michael Herbert, the new British ambassador, was presented to the president today by Secretary Hay. The presentation took place at the "temporary White house" on Jackson Place, and this was probably the first occasion since the White house has been occupied as the presidential mansion that the credentials of an ambassador or minister have been received outside of its doors.

Instead of calling at the state department first, which is the usual course, the ambassador proceeded directly to the temporary White house with the full staff of the embassy, in their diplomatic uniforms. Secretary Hay, meeting him at this point, presented his to President Roosevelt in the parlor on the second floor of the house. The presentation was made in the usual form, with the important exception that the president, though rapidly progressing toward recovery, heeded his physician's warning, remaining seated. The ceremony was brief, consisting in the presentation of the new ambassador by Secretary Hay, delivery by the ambassador of his credentials and a felicitious speech by the ambassador expressive of the pleasure it gave him to return to Washington and an appropriate response by the president,

President and Ambassador Old Friends. That was all of the ceremony, and when it was over Sir Michael, who is a long-time friend of the president, their acquaintance dating back more than ten years, accepted Mr. Rooseveit's invitation to be seated, and the two had a long personal chat. The new ambassador will take rank next after Signor Mayor Des Planches, the Italian ambassador. The foreign embassies here now rank in this order: Germany, Russia, Mexico, Italy and Great Britain, with Austria-Hungary next, as Mr. Hengelmuller probably will present his credentials as ambassador before the new representative from France arrives and is presented. However, there have been persistent ru-mors that Mr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, who is now dean of the corps, soon will relinquish his post here for another one on the continent, and there have also been intimations that Comte Cassini, the Russian ambassador, who has been at Washington since June, 1898, will be transferred to another post.

If these two prospective changes materialize Senor Aspiroz, the Mexican ambassador, will become dean of the corps, with Signor Mayor Des Planches, of Italy, ranking next, and Sir Michael Herbert standing third in the list of foreign ambassadors at Washington

CONFLICT AMONG CHOCTAWS AVERTED

REMAIN AT THE HAGUE Federal Troops Take a Hand and Do the Peacemaker

, Act. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.—A serious conflict between partisans of rival candidates for the governorship Territory, has been averted by the presence of federal troops, according to dispatches received at the interio department.

Gov. Dukes, the outgoing governor, who is said to be a partisan of Hunter, one of the candidates, took charge of the capitol building, assisted by armed horsemen, and, according to Indian Agent Schoenfeld, arbitrarily permitted persons to enter and sit as members of the Choctaw council upon commissions issued by himself, and POSITION IS STRENGTHENED refused to admit members having certificates from regularly constituted au-thorities. Agent Schoenfeld appealed to Washington for troops. On their arrival the Choctaw council was permitted to enter the building and resume its sessions. The official dispatches received today show that the vote of the council for the office of principal chief (governor) was counted yesterday. Green McCurtain had a majority of 689 and was duly sworn in. Agent Schoenfeld wires that the presence of the troops prevented a clash between contending factions, and that he now anticipated no further trouble. All the armed men in the Choctaw capital or capital grounds have been disarmed or removed by the troops. Gov. Dukes made a determined fight, as shown by the following telegram he sent to the secretary of the interior.

terior: "Agent Schoenfeld has considered disarming my peace officers and directing my procedure. I am proceed-ing strictly within our constitution and laws, and the election will be setfled by our legislature fairly and just ly between the contending factions. It will be done peaceably Schoenfeld does not go beyond keeping schoenfeld does not go beyond keeping the peace. My peace officers are directed to not even resent insults, but simply to stand at their post of duty and not permit my government to be overthrown. I wash my hands of the fatal results that may occur if Agent Schoenfeld insists on usurping any Schoenfeld insists on usurping any authority as chief executive."

McCurtain also wired that by in-McCurtain also white structions of Dukes, the latter's armed light horsemen posted in the capital ordered many members and council at the capital ordered many members are capital ordered many members and council at the capital ordered many members and council at the cap officers from the building. "The horsemen," he added, "are appointees and bitter partisans of Dukes, with whom Marshal Hackett and dep-uties are co-operating. It is openly stated that Dukes' purpose is to continue these conditions and prevent the counting of votes for chief until the expiration of time fixed by law, and thus continue himself in office.' WE'LL WAIT FOR AUSTRIA AS PATIENTLY AS POSSIBLE

Delay in Raising the Legation at Washington to an Embassy.

vients to an Embassy.
VIENNA, Oct. 13.—In its issue of today the Neues Weiner Tageblatt says the foreign office feels called upon to explain why the Austro-Hungarian legation at Washington has not been raised to an embassy. The explanation made is that the money voted by the delegations for the purpose will not be available before 1903 and, although the change has been decided upon, formal announcement of it must be deferred until then.

It was announced from Vienna last March It was announced from Vienna last shared that the Austro-Hungarian legation at Washington would be raised to an embassy next year as an evidence of the cordial relations existing between Augtria-Hungary and the United States. The United States minister to Austria-Hungary was made an ambassador last summer and presented his credentials in this role to Emperor Francis Joseph June 26.

Porte Says It Isn't So. LONDON, Oct. 13.—The porte denies the report that private negotiations were proceeding between Russia and Turkey, which, if successful, would result in an agreement to close the Dardanelles to all but Russian warships.