STORIES OF THE COURTS

Sues for Loss of Sight—Adam C. Leyk has brought suit in the district court to recover $15,000 damages from the American Can company for the loss of his sight. The plaintiff was employed by the defendant to operate a trimming machine, and on Nov. 19, 1901, as he alleges, was struck in the right eye by a piece of flying tin. He charges that the accident was due to the defective condition of the machine, of which he was ignorant when he was put at the work. The sight of his right eye was completely destroyed, while that of the other has been permanently impaired.

Northern Securities Cases—Frederick G. Ingersoll, as special examiner to take testimony in the action of the United States against the Northern Securities et al., will begin his hearings in St. Paul tomorrow morning in the district court room at the federal building. Mr. Ingersoll has also been appointed special examiner in the suit of the state against the same companies. His next taking evidence here in that case.

Jurors Fail to Agree—In the suit of John O. Anderson against the city to recover $10,000 damages for injuries sustained by his right arm against the Continental Casualty company, an Illinois corporation, to collect $170 on his policy for injuries sustained by him last May while working on the city hospital extension. He claims to have been disabled from work for seventeen weeks, and claims indemnity at $10 per week.

Will Mr. Lowry Pay It?—The City of St. Paul has begun an action against the St. Paul City Railway company for $995.95, the amount of a judgment obtained against the city by Catherine Conway for damages for personal injuries. Mrs. Conway was thrown from her buggy while

A GOOD DEAL OF NONSENSE

About "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics." Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is, from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease or that other fallacy that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack, and unless the deficiency of these is attempted to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics," "pills" and "cathartics" which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 4,000 grains of meat, eggs and similar foods, and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but of course are much more effective in the stomach. There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of the food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well, prevention is better than cure, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

crossing Rice street bridge. The testimony on the trial showed that the wheel of her vehicle was caught by a bent and upturned plate between the tracks of the railway. The city alleges that the company was responsible for this loss, place, and sues to recover the sum named, together with $50 as expenses incurred in its unsuccessful defense of the case in the district court.

As to Summit Avenue Flats—The mandamus proceedings to compel the city building inspector, L. W. Rundlett, to issue a permit for C. F. Arroll's apartment house in Summit avenue, was on the special term calendar yesterday, but upon the application of the petitioner, Judge Jaggard continued the hearing to Nov. 8, in the district court.

Patterson Not Punished for Contempt—Judge Bunn yesterday had George W. Patterson before him on an order to show cause why he should not be punished for failing to pay alimony to his former wife, Maria King, who obtained a divorce from him last spring. Patterson's attorney proved that his client was receiving only $60 per month as a pension on the private car of the superintendent of the Chicago Great Western railway, together with $3 as "prerequisites," and that the expenses of his present domestic establishment, including the education of his fourteen-year-old stepdaughter at a hair dressing school in Chicago, consumed the whole income. On this uncontroverted evidence, the court decided that Patterson could not be sent to jail for contempt, but called attention to the fact that the judgment for alimony still remained in force.

Dividends for His Creditors—Judge Otis yesterday allowed the report of C. W. Farnum, receiver of the St. Paul Park Improvement company. The amount on hand is $19,696.25, after deducting $1,099.65 for expenses still unpaid. The court ordered $800 paid the receiver for his services, $1,000 to Ambrose Tigue and Stiles W. Burr as attorneys' fees, and $1,000 reserved for future expenses. The balance is to be divided among the creditors, who will receive about 25 cents on the dollar of their claims.

Miss Sullivan's Insurance—The Prudential Insurance company of America has been sued by Andrew Sullivan as administrator of Bridget Sullivan, deceased, to recover $155 on a policy held by the young woman. She was a working girl, and prior to her death had been paying 10 cents per week to the company to keep the insurance in force. The company, however, has declined to pay, alleging a default in four weekly premiums.

Mrs. Oliver Would Be Free—Mrs. Bertha E. Oliver has begun suit for divorce from Charles Oliver on the grounds of cruelty. The marriage took place at Preston, Wis., in 1892, and there are two children. The wife alleges that while they were living at Brainerd her husband beat her into insensibility, and that his drunkenness and cruelty continued after their removal to Benditt, where his conduct was often of a character which she begs to be excused from describing in her complaint. Divorce is asked for an absolute divorce and the custody of his children.

City Railway Sued by Musclian Benz—Otto P. Benz has brought an action against the city railway for $25,000 damages for the injuries that he claims to have sustained Sept. 2 in the collision between two of the company's cars on the Port Snelling line. The plaintiff alleges that he was thrown violently upon the floor of the car and that his right leg was broken and his entire body covered with bruises. His injuries, he avers, have incapacitated him from pursuing his calling as a musician, by which he formerly earned $30 per week.

President Won't Register, Yet Vote. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—While President Roosevelt was unable to go to Oyster Bay to register his vote for the November election, he will go home to vote. The president is progressing finely toward complete recovery and now is able to move about without crutches or even a cane, but his physicians have advised him not to travel any distance for at least two weeks.

RIVER PIRATES STEAL GOVERNOR'S LUMBER

Show Little Respect for Van Sant's Property When Rich Haul Is In Prospect.

Four piratically inclined rivermen attempted to rob Gov. S. R. Van Sant of 12,000 feet of sawed lumber Friday night at the Cassville slough, several miles below the confluence of the Wisconsin and Mississippi rivers. The lumber was afterward recovered, but the men escaped.

The raft was in charge of the Van Sant steamer Gen. Musser. At Cassville slough, owing to the low stage of water, the raft was split in order to tow it through. The first section had gone down and a lonely watchman was left in charge of the second until the steamer should return. A short time after the steamer had gone the watchman discovered four men engaged in pulling off a "crib" of lumber which had been detached from the raft. The crib, it is reported, ran to the crib crying:

"Where are you going with that lumber. That belongs to Gov. Van Sant." "Blow Gov. Van Sant. We live in Wisconsin," replied the men. When the watchman attempted to board the crib they stood him off with their guns. The lumber was afterward found near Glennhaven, Wis., tied up in a slough. No trace of the men could be found.

ARION SOCIETY WILL GIVE UNIQUE FEAST

Wine Festival to Be Offered by a St. Paul Singing Association.

The Arion Singing society will present in connection with its dance of Friday evening next at the Metropolitan (Pfeifer's) hall, corner Eighth and Wabasha, a novel entertainment new in this country and partaking of the nature of a wine feast.

The hall will be decorated throughout with grape vines to which are fastened alluring bunches of grapes, pears and other fruit. Following a grand march of the mayor, watchmen, singers, the public generally, the mayor, in a speech, will open the vineyard to the public.

If any person yielding to the temptation is caught taking any of the rich fruit he or she is forthwith brought before the mayor and fined a small sum for this offense against the laws of the vineyard.

The humorous decisions of the judge, the antics of the watchmen, together with the efforts of the people to avoid detection will furnish much amusement. Solo selections and songs by the society suitable to the occasion will be rendered at intervals.

GEN. DAVIS SUCCEEDS HIM IN PHILIPPINE COMMAND

Gen. Davis will have on his staff Brigadier Generals James F. Wade, Samuel S. Sumner, Frank D. Baldwin, T. J. Wint, Jesse M. Lee and W. P. Sanger. It is probable that the next general officer to be detached from duty in the Philippines will be Brigadier General James F. Wade.

Brigadier General Frederick D. Grant is now on his way to the Department of Texas, where he will assume command. Brigadier Franklin J. Bell, who has recently been relieved from duty in the Philippines has been assigned to the command of the recently established army school at Fort Riley.

MAJ. JAMES E. POND.

Order of War Department Establishing Scheme of Education Creates General Interest in Army Circles. Army officers are to be given post graduate courses. An order recently issued by the war department provides a scheme of education and training for officers of the army. All lieutenants and captains of less than ten years' service will be required to attend a course each year covering at least ninety days. During the months from April to November the officers will be given practical instruction and training in technical drill regulations, guard duty, target practice, service with troops in camp, military law and other branches of knowledge indispensable to military men.

OFFICERS TO RECEIVE SPECIAL TRAINING

Order of War Department Establishing Scheme of Education Creates General Interest in Army Circles.

The order is attracting much attention in military circles, and it is generally regarded as a wise provision, and it is expected will be conducive to many good results. The officers will in this practical experience be kept in touch with the advance in military science, and the training will be valuable, as rendering them fit for actual service. The system has long been in use in the armies of the European nations. Germany, particularly, is noted for the religious discipline and training imposed upon the officers of the army. The result is that the officers are as able to fight as the men. No aspersion is intended by this remark, but it is natural that officers confined at garrison duty with only the meager duties attending the drills and exercises, are likely to become rusty in their art of war. The system is well calculated to bring about many improvements in the military service of the government.

M'ARTHUR PRAISES SOLDIERS.

One War at Least That Had Nothing but Good Results.

The great mimic warfare that was waged between the army and the navy had many beneficial results, not the least among them being the mutual feeling of good will that was brought forth in both branches of the service. Maj. Gen. McArthur has issued the following statement, expressing his appreciation of the work of the regulars and national guard. He says: "The attitude of all concerned has been exceedingly gratifying, and the earnestness and zeal displayed have made the maneuvers exceedingly inspiring and instructive. It is believed that every officer and enlisted man in the army and national guard who took part in the maneuvers entertains a feeling of admiration for the splendid manner in which the naval part of the programme was conducted, whereby our confidence in and affection for the sister branch of the service, ever constant, have been renewed and emphasized by this exceedingly interesting agreeable association in prosecuting professional work of great importance for the nation."

IS STILL ON THE DOCKET.

Mrs. Rebecca J. Taylor Files Demurrer to Root's Answer.

The case of Miss Rebecca J. Taylor, which attracted so much attention when insuring at Fort Meade, will be remembered that she was removed from her position as clerk in the war department on account of her published criticism of the administration. She sought a writ of mandamus to compel her restoration on the ground that no head of an executive department has authority to relieve a subordinate in violation of the laws of congress or the rules of the president. Her demurrer to the answer was opened yesterday. The bids are as follows: Construction—Burns & Schum-

DID NOT KNOW SHE HAD KIDNEY TROUBLE Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Gertrude Warner Scott Cured by the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root.

DR. KILMER & CO., Binghamton, N. Y. Vinton, Iowa, July 15th, 1901.

GENTLEMEN:—My trouble began with pain in my stomach and back, so severe that it seemed as if knives were cutting me. I was treated by two of the best physicians in the county, and consulted another. None of them suspected that the cause of my trouble was kidney disease. They all told me that I had cancer of the stomach, and would die. I grew so weak that I could not walk any more than a child a month old, and I only weighed ninety pounds. One day my brother saw in a paper your advertisement of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. He bought me a bottle at our drug store and I took it. My family could see a change in me, for the better, so they obtained more and I continued the use of Swamp-Root regularly. I was so weak and run down that it took considerable time to build me up again. I am now well, thanks to Swamp-Root, and weigh 148 pounds, and am keeping house for my husband and brother. Swamp-Root cured me after the doctors had failed to do me a particle of good.

It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. A trial will convince anyone—and you may have a sample bottle sent free, by mail.
