

Tell Me Who Needs Help

Just a Postal—That is all.

No money is wanted—not from you nor from him. I ask only a postal card, and I ask it as an act of humanity.

Then I will do this—I will send the sick one an order—good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And the sick one's mere word shall decide it.

Could I meet you—for even ten minutes—I would forever convince you that I have what these sick ones need. More than that, they must have it, for most of them can never get well without it.

But I can meet only a few, so I take this means to convince you. I let you take it a month to prove what it can do; and you can pay, or I will pay, just as you decide.

I have found the cured ones fair. In the past 12 years I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands on these terms, and 30 out of each 40 have never got well without it.

My Restorative is the result of my life time's work in learning how to strengthen the inside nerves.

I don't doctor the organs, but I bring back the nerve power which alone operates every vital organ. I give the weak organ power to do its duty, as you would give a weak engine more steam.

My way never fails, save when a cause—like cancer—makes a cure impossible. No case is too difficult, for I have watched the remedy succeed in the most desperate cases that physicians ever meet.

You know some sick one who would be well with my help. Won't you let me furnish that help?

Simply state which book is wanted and address Dr. Shoop, Box 761, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is sold by all druggists.

SEVEN IS MAGICAL

CHURCH IS BEING ERRECTED BY CONTRIBUTIONS ON THIS BASIC UNIT

THOUSANDS ARE RAISED BY NOVEL INSPIRATION

Scheme of "Arrests" and Seven-Cent "Fines" Inaugurated at Stock Yards by W. E. Rogers Spreads Until Edifice Is Being Reared Without Debt—Number a Holy One.

With a "craps" combination as a basis of acquiring money a church is being built in St. Paul. The magic number seven, which can "make or break" a "craps" player, but to the holiness of the Bible, attests in many passages, is being used by the principal spirit of the church erection scheme as a unit of contribution.

MISS GRACE VAN STUDDIFORD.

The executive committee declines or neglects to accede to this demand. "The question presented is covered by section 1 of the civil service act, which provides: (Here the law forbidding congressional members from soliciting or receiving political contributions is quoted). Whatever the particular form of words adopted in such circulars in order to show a request rather than a demand and to give to responses a quasi voluntary character, the explicit and comprehensive words of the statute unquestionably condemn all such circulars. They should not be sent to federal officials, or else they should not bear the names of the public officers and employers designated in the act.

"Your power to direct, by appropriate order, under the mandates of these sections, persons in the executive service of the United States is clear."

"I hereby call the attention of all officers and employes in the federal service to the foregoing opinion and warn them that the provisions of law as therein contained are to be by them strictly observed. Any official in the federal service may without jeopardy to his official standing conduct the business of the government, provided he obeys the sections of the civil service act above referred to."

BOSTONIANS SLEEP IN THEATER. Novel Makeshift in an Ohio Town Crowded With Masons. The Bostonians have had experience they are not likely to forget in many months. Their troubles were brought to the city of Dayton, Ohio. When the seventy odd members of the Bostonians, organized in Dayton about 10 p. m. yesterday afternoon after a weary journey from Wheeling, W. Va., they found that 3,000 strong of the citizens were in the city.

At the eleventh hour (there is always an eleventh hour in cases of this kind) and this happened just as the town clock was striking 11 and the curtain was falling on the play, the theater came to the scene. He suggested that every dressing room should be cleared of the trunks and coats installed for the ladies, and that the stage should be set with a drawing table and a table for the orchestra, and fixed up as the theater was. The telephone was set to work and various furniture dealers of the city were solicited for the requisite number of chairs, so that everybody was made happy.

The novel of the situation was shown to the place of despatch, W. H. MacDonald was called and he was ordered to bring his car to the door about midnight. He was just about to do so when he noticed that the theater was full of people. He went to the door and found the theater packed with people. WON'T BEAR INSPECTION, BUT YOU'D BETTER INSPECT IT. New Counterfeit $10 Note Is Floating Around the Country. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—A Buffalo physician has detected a new counterfeit of the United States note of the series of 1901. This counterfeit is a paper, between which two pieces of photographic production, one of which is a picture of the president of the United States, and the other of the picture of the Buffalo and the note is very bad. All the "lathes" work is very bad.

COLDS. Cold feet and hands indicate poor circulation of the blood and a nervous predisposition to take cold. Most Colds start with checked circulation, known by a chill or shiver, cold feet and hands. The use of "77" starts the blood coursing through the veins, the extremities warm up, and the cold is broken. Dr. Humphreys' "77" consists of a small vial of pleasant pellets—fits the vest pocket.

went to work and began negotiations with the widow of Senator Davis for the purchase of the corner lot at McBoal and Leech streets. At first an effort was made to secure the property as a donation, but this falling arrangement was made for the outright purchase at the cost of $900. This was about the first of May. It required nearly a month to perfect the abstract and when this was ready—May 26—the trustees were on hand with $900, which Mr. Rogers and his fellow churchmen had raised among the members of the congregation and their friends.

Gets "Seven" Inspiration. With the site acquired they began at once to negotiate with a contractor and an architect for the erection of an edifice in spite of the depleted condition of the exchequer. By July 1 they had amassed enough to order the breaking of ground to begin. Mr. Rogers contributed $150 and Mrs. Julia Lang added another hundred. It was estimated that the building would cost $4,000, and the necessity of getting that amount together was apparent from the fact that blasting was already in progress, the basement of the church being dug out of solid stone.

This was the condition of affairs when one evening Mr. Rogers was homeward bound from the stock yards on a Great Western train, in company with one of his shippers. Mr. Rogers had a commutator's ticket and this he handed to the conductor, instructing him to punch for two. The fare was 7 cents. This amount the shipper held in his hand, ready to pass to the collector when Mr. Rogers instructed the brethren. Their preference is for something on the "John" order. The announcement that Miss Van Studdiford intends to star in comic operas is something of a surprise to those who have watched her professional career and who, after the remarkable hit she made as Micaela in New York two years ago, were informed that it was her ambition to enter grand opera.

latter to punch his ticket twice. He insisted on Mr. Rogers taking the money, but the latter laughingly declined. "You must take it. I insist on your acceptance of this 7 cents." When Mr. Rogers continued to decline the offer, Mr. Rogers said: "Well, take it and help build your church with it."

"I thought of the passage in Revelations 1-3—'John's' vision—which reads: 'The mystery here is for stars which thou sawest in my right hand and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.'" is an Omen of Good. "When I arose next morning I determined that the little matter of seven cents contained an omen which pointed to the solution of our financial problem. Gradually the thing worked on my mind until by the time I arrived at the office I had taken the four cents from my pocket.

Not the least interesting part of the "Ayer's Hair Vigor" is the fact that it restores color to your gray hair. Keep young. Why not? No need growing old so fast. No excuse now that you know how Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color.

spirit of the thing at once and walked up and added cents to the purse. Then remembering the passage from Revelations concerning the seven angels and the seven golden candlesticks called upon seven young women to impersonate the angels and presented each with a little book, on the first leaf of which was written the scriptural quotation I have mentioned. Then things certainly started in earnest, and before the next Sunday the entire community had become acquainted with the system of seven and one who was approached responded. Some gave $7 and some gave $5 or $3, but even these added cents in order to make the figure seven appear in their contribution.

Cattlemen Are Serious. "Especially liberal have been the cattlemen in their contributions. Every day by some person who laughingly hands me a contribution. The girls at the office of Swift & Co. are constantly dropping 7 cents into my leather bag. I always walk around with it in my hand—never in my pocket. It opens easily and always has room in it for 7 cents.

Is Solidly Constructed. The firm of John Nevin & Son is at work on the church. The excavation has been blasted to a depth of ten feet, leaving a solid stone floor three feet in thickness. The foundation walls are in and the superstructure is rearing itself in red stone blocks to a height of five feet above the ground level. Thence upward the walls will be of brick. The structure is 55 by 40 feet, and the auditorium will have a seating capacity of 400.

ST. PAUL MUSICAL. The strength of the musical clubs of the Twin Cities in the Minnesota State Federation of Women's clubs was amply demonstrated Thursday morning at the convention, when, after a debate in which the club women, brilliant, the club women rejected the per capita tax plan for financing the organization. Mrs. Norman Nash, of St. Paul, and the Ladies' Thursday Musical club, of Minneapolis, were the two most vigorous opponents of this plan. Mrs. Russell R. Dorr, the Schubert club's representative, announced positively that her club would be forced to withdraw from the federation if the per capita tax was adopted. The representatives of the Ladies' Thursday musicale intimated that her club would do the same. During the course of the debate a club woman, very evidently, had no musical affiliations, asked pertinently of what use to the federation were the musical clubs, since they did not even pay the expenses of their delegates to the state federation.

MISS EVA M. ALCOTT. Miss Alcott, who has been soprano soloist at the First Baptist church for a number of years, has removed to Morris, Minn. She will spend the winter in Morris, and in the spring will go abroad for an extended visit.

MUSICAL NOTES. Miss Eva M. Alcott, who has been prominent in musical circles in St. Paul for the last eight years, returned from Morris last week, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. O. Pomroy. Miss Alcott has decided to return to Morris and take charge of a vocal class there during the winter. Her departure will leave a vacancy in the St. Paul musical circles, and early in the spring will call for Europe in company with six pupils who will continue their musical studies abroad.

STOP COUGHING

You must stop that coughing at once, or before you know it your lungs will be affected and your life endangered by pneumonia or consumption. At this time of the year you must be particularly careful, as throat and lung troubles are hovering around, and often times nearer than you can possibly imagine. Only last week a strong, robust young man, in the prime of life, who lived in White Plains and did business in New York City, had a slight cough. It was so slight that he paid no attention to it and in a spirit of bravado continued his office work. In four days it went to his lungs, and he died from pneumonia within a week. Many such cases are happening every day, and every one of them can easily be cured by
